The convention being ready for nominations Dr. Ames moved the nomination of Maj. Charles McC. Reeve for the office of treasurer. Mr. Lally wanted to know if he would accept it, to which Dr. Ames replied that he would, whereupon the motion to nominate by acclamation prevailed. Pending its adoption H. F. Heatherington said he did not consider the nomination a good one, as "there were stories he told his men under him," but this man was evidently alone in his opinion, and when Isaac McNair said be would guarantee Mr. Reeve would accept the nomination, it was tendered him with unanimity and with great applause. A motion to appoint a committee to wait on him and bring him here was withdrawn, as Mai.

THE PARK COMMISSION. The next order being the nomination of four candidates for park commissioners, Dr. Ames moved the appointment of a committee of five to select the names. J. W. Lawrence moved to amend by appointing a committee of nine to confer with the Republican party to make up a non-partisan ticket. He dwelt at some length on the beauties and benefits of non-partisan boards. Mr. Lally moved as a substitute that each ward dele gation appoint its own committeeman. Dr. Ames said he had no objection to this Ames said he had no objection to this method, but he knew it was useless, as the affairs would shift about again so as to bring stated that his friends in the opposi-Republicans would secure a majority on the them back to their present condition. On this several further speeches were made, pro and con, and Mr. McNair made the point of order that the question was now only as to the manner of choosing the committee, which was Mr. Lally's substitute. A. H. Shadrick moved to lay the whole matter on the table, as a test. which was lost by a vote of 38 to 33. A vote was then had on the Ames amendment, to strike out the proposition to confer, which was carried by a vote of 55 to 31. The original motion was then adopted, and the convention took a recess to allow the several delegations to select their committeemen. In ten minutes the convention reassembled and the following committees were announced: First ward. Matthew Bredimus; Second ward, Baldwin Brown; Third ward, C: F. Baxter; Fourth ward, J. W. Lawrence; Fifth ward, R. P. Dunnington; Sixth ward, Benjamin Davenport: Seventh ward, H. F. Heatherington; Eighth ward, M. Siater; at large, Matthew Walsh. The committee was confirmed and the convention took a recess to allow the committee to retire and select its candidates. Before the committee was ready the con vention reassembled and Dr. Ames moved to authorize the chair to appoint, at its leisure, the city committee. Mr. Rinehart moved to amend by having each ward name its man. A long discussion as to precedence in each case was had, and finally the amendment prevailed by a vote of 46 to 31.

The committee then reported the following nominations for park commissioners: F. B. Noerenberg, M. Bredimus, J. G. McFarlane and E. W. Couroy. Mr. McFarlane declined to stand, and the nomination for the place was left to the Third and Fourth wards.

Prof. Moore moved the appointment of a committee of nine to confer with the Repubican committee in the selection of candidates for school board. Mr. Shadrick moved to strike out the word "confer" and the same old fight was before the convention with the self same orators on the floor. The amendment was carried by a vote of 44 to 36, and the convention voted to authorize the chair to appoint a committee of nine to select two candidates for the school board. The chair appointed the following committee: First ward, E. P. Chessley; Second, Baldwin Brown; Third, William McArdle; Fourth. Frank Morse; Fifth, F. C. Barlow; Sixth, Matt Walsh; Seventh, J. J. McGregor; Eighth, M. Lawrence; at large, J. W. Law-

Charles McC. Reeve is one of the best known young Democrats in the city. He was for years connected with the City bank, of which he was cashier. He resigned months since the position some to accept the appointment as manager of the Hall & Dunn Barrel company. THE ENDS OF SOCIALISM.

Laber, Says Prof. Bemis, Must Look to Trades Unions for its Welfare.

A talk on Socialism was delivered before the Liberal league Sunday night by Prof. Bemis. The audience was of the customary size and listened with marked attention to what the speaker had to say. He began by remarking that socialism, in the abstract, is the doctrine of providing for the laboring classes, in that it proposed to give them a larger and more equitable share in the profits of their labor. THE CONVENTION IN TATTERS. Interesting Details-Spats and Speeches

Inside Turner Hall. Yesterday's convention was extremely Democratic. It is one of the fundamental principles of the party to give to each and every member a chance for free and full expression of his preferences, and then submit to the conclusions of the majority. This was especially characteristic of the convention. Again, the Democrats would not have felt at home or natural had their been no contest, no storm. They are weather-beaten veterans and have a natural aptitude for sailing on a turbulent sea. They can fight with great vigor and after one or the other faction has demonstrated its supremacy, the weaker shake hands with the stronger and unite in the one common effort to elect the candidates placed in nomination. There is no doubt that this will be the ultimation of the coverst inaugurated yesterday. The first contest arose in deciding upon the question of selecting candidates for park commissioners.

Dr. Ames was opposed to holding conferences with the Republicans as had been done system had proven a failure, and challenged the Democrats to show a single instance in the history of Minneapolis wherein THE CANDIDATE FOR TREASURER. a majority of the board of education, and the commission as well. It took the mightiest efforts of the Democrats to defeat the partisan movement set on foot by the Republicans last spring, and he thought it now high time that the Democrats should place in nomination their best men, and without fear. The proposition was opposed with much spirit by James W. Lawrence, M. W. Glenn, Orville Rinebart and others. Mr. Lawrence spoke at some length, and argued eloquently to support his position. He said there had been a large influx of Democrats in the party the past few months, or since the national election, and he believed the Democrats could present names of candidates who would be elected at the polls this spring. Yet he thought it would be much better to hold a conference. In the event that the Republicans should act unfairly the Democrats should withdraw and place before the people straight nominees. He characterized the duty of the committee he wished to have appointed as being negative. It should say to the Republican committee, "Gentlemen, we have met you in a spirit of fairness. If you do not see fit to recognize our rights, we will exercise them by nominating candidates we deem fit for the office." He continued that it is due the interests of the schools of the city and the grand park system inaugurated last year that an effort at least be made to hold the proposed conference.

> Mr. Shadrick felt constrained to s ay that he was opposed to the principle of holding conferences. He said: "When nine Democrats and nine Republicans meet to select candidates, the people do not elect, but the eighteen men who hold the so-called conference elects the candidates. It puts before presented to them by the conference. I although it is doubtful whether he could have should make a fight for every office. There are some things in politics that are worse than defeat. I think Democrats stultify themselves when they say that offices should not be set up for competitive votes. I ask, which is the most important to the state of Minnesota, the school and park boards or the judiciary? Which is the most important to keep out of politics? Last fall the Republican judiciary convention nominated a partisan, and because the Democrats asked to meet with them in conference the

An Interesting Paper and Discussion of the Subject of Socialism.

The regular meeting of the city pastors one, the subject under discussion being "Socialism." Rev. Dr. Campbell read the paper of the day, treating the matter in a very conservative style as worthy the thoughtful attention of ministers as well as the pochild by the defendant's dog was opened litical economists of the age. Socialism is ranked by many as something like nihilism, because it is not understood, but Bismarck is adopting it as his policy in recognizing the rights' and demands of labor. Among socialists there are many unprincipled men, but those few should not be the condemnation of the masses. There are doubtless many wrongs suffered by the workingmenand the speaker cited the Hocking valley and the Gould railroad lines-and to right these wrongs is the object or principle of socialism. There was much reason in the cry of the so cialists that instead of governments controlling corporations, corporations control governments, and this should be reversed, at The city furnishes water-perhaps it might be better could it furnish gas and

THE REPUBLICAN ROW.

The Second Warders are Going to Wash That Dirty Linen Over Again. Another exhibition of harmony was given last night by the Republicans of the Second ward. They met at the Cataract engine house for the purpose of hearing the reports from the precinct caucuses, and after the result was announced refused to abide by it because the man who received the most votes was distasteful in the past. He stated that the conference to the majority of these who happened to be on hand. They decided to throw out the whole vote and go through the motions of electing a "representative of the people" over again. Robert Jamison acted as chairman and appointed Peter Anderson, L. L. Longbrake, Thomas Reeves and Burke O'Brien as a committee to canvass the returns from the precinct caucuses. The com mittee withdrew and after an absence of about thirty minutes announced the vote as First Precinct-Coe 32, Gillette 91, Elwell 76, French, C. M. Way, C. C. Way, G. W. Knowlton, J. W. Hard, Ed Conway, C. S. White, S. Raymond, G. H. Elwell, M. Grimes and R. H. Prosser. This protest stated that the polls were closed before 8 o'clock and that a number of voters were disfranchised. In support of the affidavits were appended, signed by Chris Juno, P. Crossett, Henry Emond, George and Charles Dagnault, which stated that they were legal Republican voters, and that at five minutes before 8 o'clock their ballots were refused and they were told the polls had been closed. Ex-Ald. Camp moved to throw out the vote of the first precinct.

Mr. Gillette rose to protest against this saving that he had received the highest number of votes, and then went on to state how he had become a candidate at the solicitation of his friends; stating also that he had resigned his position in the employ of the Manitoba company. He was annoyed by yells of derision and smart sayings from the friends of the other candidates. One man made some allusion to "flat cars," which raised a howl, the voters but one ticket. The voters have and Mr. Gillette took the trouble no choice. There is only one thing left for to explain about that. He spoke at considthem to do, and that is to vote the ticket erable length and did not help his cause any, think the time has come when Democrats said anything that would have, as the crowd was against him.

C. H. Benton was opposed to throwing out one precinct and was keen enough to see that such manifest unfairness would ultimately aid rather than defeat Mr. Gillette. He therefore talked in a deep bass voice about "justice," and "giving every one a fair show," "protecting ballot box," etc. He finally amended the motion to the effect that the vote of all the precincts should be thrown out and NEW CAUCUSES CALLED.

F C. Barrows stated that he thought every body who wanted to vote had a good chance to avail himself of the privilege at the caucus held Saturday night in the First precinct. William Herzog made a vehement protest against the way in which Mr. Gillette was being cheated out of his nomination.

Mr. Gillette commenced to sav that he should insist upon his rights, not from personal reasons, but because of the friends who had asked him to run. He was interrupted by yells of "name 'em," and in answer proceeded to specify some magnani-that they urged bim to run. The erowd kept up a running fire of comments upon the names as he announced them and finally drove him

The amendment offered by Mr. Benton was then put and carried, and the ward committee instructed to call new precinct caucuses.

The action of the meeting last evening will not have a tendency to harmonize "grand old the factions of the party." To defraud Mr. Gillette of the nomination after he bad fairly earned it is an act which will doubtless bring him votes, and will put an end to any prospect of a compromise. Before the battle is over a good round majority of the voters of the ward will make up their minds to drop the whole crowd and support a good straight Democrat.

P. A. Dufour of Crookston was yesterday examined in the probate court and committed to the insane asylum at St. Peter. He has been an attorney of recognized ability, and is well known throughout the state and Southern Dakota. Last November he began to show signs of mental unsoundness; was troubled with insomnia, and inclined to be morbidly despondent. His memory appeared to fail him and he experienced difficulty in articulation. Mrs. Dufour stated to the physicians yesterdey that he has been en tirely out of his mind since the evening of March 18. At that time he was engaged in 168.42. dictating a legal paper to a member of the family and commenced talking at random, continuing for several hours. The action was to recover for 1,411 barrels of apples consigned to the defendants by the plaintiff for sale on commission, which, it was claimed, had never been paid for. Immediately after the conclusion of the case a jury was impaneled to try another suit growing out of the transactions between Peters and Wood, in which the S. H. Wood Fruit & Produce company sued Ex-Sheriff James Stoddart for $12,000 damages for attaching the stock and closing the place of business of the plaintiffs, the attachment having been issued in satisfaction of a claim of John G. Peters against S. H. Wood individually, for which the company think it should not be held responsible. The case was partially heard and continued until to-day.

Musical Matinee.

The first Danz musical matinee was given at the Grand yesterday and was rather experimental in its character. The result though not altogether what might have been wished for was still satisfactory and the continuance of the matinees is assured. About 800 peo-ple were present and whatever else may be said the music was magnificent. Danz' full orchestra was assisted by Seibert's of St. Paul, making 42 instruments. The orchestra was grand and the solo artists were lavishly applauded. Prof. Ernest Lachmund with the cello, and Miss Fannie Wacks, a new soprano, were exceedingly well received. These musical matinees with anything like the proper encouragement will become notable features and the lovers of good music are anxious for their success.

Civil Service Reform. To the Editor of the Globe:

The reply of the GLOBE to my communication of the 24th, "boiled down," amounts simply to this, that any administration sdould fill the offices at its disposal with those who helped to put it in power. Those who favor civil service reform insist that the sole test to be applied in selecting an officer for a subordinate position should be his fitness for the place, that his political affiliation should not be considered at all. I fail to see what the postmaster of New York has to do with shaping or carrying out any policy more than any other citizen. He is appointed and paid to perform certain duties, and I contend that to perform certain duties, and the same states of the perform should not be disturbed.

To do otherwise would be to serve notice on all officeholders that in order to hold their places they must use the proposes, and that destroys the very essence of civil service reform. If President Cleveland is in any serious quandary as to what is best to be done about the New York postoffice why can he not say to the New York chamber of commerce, for Instance, York "Gentlemen, select the man whom you want for postmaster and I will appoint him, no matter what his politics are." seems to me no reasonable man could object to this solution of the difficulty. I am very confident the civil service reformers would gladly accept this plan and that the country at large would approve of it. The Democratic party should not lose sight of the fact that in all probability the next of the fact that in all probability the next national Republican convention will select as its candidate for the presidency a civil service been under his treatment have felt and expressed reformer of the highest type, in the hope of regaining the strength which it lost in the last campaign. If it does this, and in the meantime President Cleveland does not carry out in a large measure their views upon this question, nine-tenths of the Republicans who voted against Blaine will return to their party allegiance. The quesion presented to the Democracy now is whether they wish to retain or repel this aid. and the action of President Cleveland in the matter of the New York postoffice will go far toward indicating which horn of this dilemma the Democratic party chooses. We make no threats, but we give you notice of the terms upon which you can have our help hereafter. It is for you to accept or reject them. We insist that the public service shall be made non-partisan, and on that line we are going to fight this battle out if it takes a hundred summers. Do not make the mistake of thinking that we are not in earnest.

Albert Lea, March 27. The Overworked Woman.

Household work and care of several small children pulled her down and almost made a wreck of her health. Brown's Iron Bitters brings her up and vitalizes her blood, giving her new life. Ladies who have become dys-peptic and depressed in spirit may take a hint from the case of Mrs. Baker, of 415 Oak street, Louisville, Ky. She says, "I obtained complete relief from dyspepsia and depression by using Brown's Iron Bitters."

How the Chinese Get Small Fect. Cassell's Family Magazine. The process of binding is a gradual sone.

From first to last bands are wound around the tender feet to prevent their growth, but at first shoes are worn nearly as large as the natural size. In a year or so the shoes will have to be smaller, and as the feet decrease in size till they attain to three or two and a half inches in length, so shoes are made to fit the lessened foot. But oh ! the suffering that goes with it. This never has been exaggerated on any account. Many a time have I heard my cousins groan with pain as the tortures of binding were being undergone. Yet, strange to say, those girls would not have had exemption from the process on any account. To be ranked as servants, workinggirls ? Not they. The Chinese young lady chooses to be fashionable even though she women on the school board in an Eastern undergo torture for several years and incur helplessness for life.

There are many at the age from thirty to sixty who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for.
