The class of color described themselves to entertain the visitors, offering them the hospitality of their homes last night, and spreading both dinner and supper in the church parlors.

The grand jury was in session all day yesterday, and at 6 o'clock, and after returning a number of indictments, adjourned.

No arrests on the indictments had been sprang up. This is not strictly accurate, but it is true that the class of '85 took the small, neglected brook, walled it up with solid masonry and converted it into a pool, cool and shady as that of Siloam. Each the memorial of the class of '85, taking the

IN THE COLLEGE CHAPEL it 2:30 o'clock. A ringing melody by the quisition, picturing the correct ideas that should fill the mind of a student at the end of his college career when he looks for the life niche in which he shall place himself. The time has gone by, in the history even of the West, he said, when mere education will win in the race with merit, energy and individuality, but must be united with them to reach a high goal. In the language of the class motto, "Work Wins," and in the realities of life this will be found true. The class statistics were given by Miss Mable Smith. She certainly made the most of a part in which originality and ingenuity play leading roles. Her paper showed she and gathered all possible statistics of the class and put them together amusingly. For instance, she mobilized the class into a monster, not of ugliness, but, perhaps, of intelligence and learning—a hydra-headed monster, with one head for each member of the class, starting with fifty in 1881, and ending with fifteen in 1885, the other thirtyive rubbed away in the course of four years. Then she proceeded: "The dome of the Coliseum building is eighty-eight feet high, but the verticle length of the class would be only five feet less. The monster is 460 years old, and with all its heads now wears No. 105 hat and a 97½ boot. Its eyes are chameleon-like, presenting blue, hazel, sea green and black. Its hair is black, bright ed, hay color and white. None of the heads wear false teeth, but several do bangs. Freckles are common, and four have delicate mustaches. Its glove is 109. During its college day it has put in fortyave and a half hours. Twenty-two thousand two hundred and thirty dollars have been expended in toto for the monster's education, and so on.

The Cassandra of the class was Miss Ida Mann, who was gifted with prophecy. In a fanciful composition she supposed her-self taken by the witches and carried to Hecate, who, by a horrible insitiation touched her tongue with the fatal gift. She then proceeded to give a humorous outline of the lot fate held in store for each nember of the class.

Miss Bertha Brown was the class Macau-

The chapel exercises closed with the formal transfer of the "class jack-knife." Eight years ago the seniors procured a not a scalping knife or a "knife to cut our love in two"-which was to descend from class to class. C. L. Greenwood, the president of the class of '85, turned this historic "Barlow" over to Frank Johnson, president of '86, with the injunction to keep it bright and spotless.

AT THE SPRING.
This ended the exercises in the chapel, and after another ringing song by the Glee club, the class and audience climbed down the green bank and surrounded the class pring. A cup of pure water was passed around as a libation to the sylvan and intellectual deities to whom the spring was dedicated, after which the spring oration was delivered by A. J. Reed. It consisted principally of a history of the spring and the substitution of the spring idea for the old plan, and ended with an eulogium on the class for its forethought.

Not down on the program, but the next exercise was an amusing affair, imported from an Eastern college. H. S. Abbott, in ludicrously tearful style, presented jouvenirs to each member of the class. Each article conveyed a joke, generally a hit at ome well-known weakness or peculiarity of the recipient, and, as the best of feeling prevailed, the affair was quite interesting.

The exercises ended with the reading of an Ode to Spring, written by H. S. Abbott, and read by Mr. Greenwood. The writer, to save himself from instant and terrible death, hurridly explained that he did not refer to the sweet vernal season, the ethereal spring, but to the spring sacred to the class of 1885. It was a sprightly, rhythmic production and fittingly closed the day's

The Weddings Among Minneapolis Society People in One Day. An exceedingly happy wedding took place last evening at the Church of Christ, corner Portland avenue and Eleventh street, the parties to it being Walter S. Brann, chief clerk at the freight office of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, and Miss Lammie M. Singleton, a popular young society lady. The church was handsomely dressed with flowers, over the altar being suspended a Maltese cross of red and white camelias, Mr. Brann being a knight of the Red Cross. At 8 o'clock, four ushers led the way up the aisles of the church and were followed by the single pair of attendants, Mr. Nash and Miss Josie Birdwell. The bride and groom came up the side aisles and met at the altar, where Rev. Enos mpbell was in waiting. Prof. Wale presided at the organ and played the Mendelssohn wedding march, with a cornet accompaniment. The bride wore white silk, trimmed with rare lace, with the customary veil and without jewels, her only ornaments being natural flowers, which looped the veil and a bouquet of which she carried in her hand. The words were spoken which made them man and wife, and the usual congratulations Upon leaving the church the followed. bridal party repaired to the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. PURCHASE OF A SITE

For the Catholic Orphan Asylum-Building to Begin at Once.

The regular monthly meeting of the Catholic Orphan Asylum association was held last evening at the residence of Rev. James McGolrick and was well attended. The important feature of the meeting was the announcement and ratification of the purchase of the site for the new orphan asylum for boys. The ground is forty acres in extent and is described as the north-east quarter of the northwest quarter of section 14, township 28, range 24. This is on the extension of Chicago avenue, just adjacent to the Catholic cemetery, and was purchased of James Stanchfield for $10,000. Just as soon as possible the work of erecting the building will begin and the expectation is to put up a $20,000 structure. The number of boys in the present building is seventy-four. In a short time the postponed annual meeting will be held, at which Bishop Ireland will preside and will urge the necessity of get-ting up a fair to raise the funds to pay for the building.

Father Daly of the Dominican church has purchased the old Gethsemane church building and will have it removed to the church in South Minneapolis for use as a young men's hall.

The right-of-way would cost $1,000,000, and it would be too long before there would be any return that would make it anything like a paying investment. Our motor line has been in existence just six years. I think it was May 29, 1879, that we began operations. Then property has was cheap, and people were willing to give just now got to the point where we are paying expenses and can make a little money. Our franchise is worth $1,000,000, to nothing of the track or the rolling stock. To get a right of way now would be a different thing. MINNESOTA BAPTISTS.

The thirty-fourth annual session of the Minnesota Baptist association began yester day, at the Fourth Baptist church, corner Eighteenth avenue north and Tenth street, and continued throughout the day and evening. The association evers many of the important cities and towns, but not the whole state, and delegates to the number of 174 were present from Minneapolis, St.

Miss Rosa Guillotte, who was employed at the house as a seamstress at the time of the Jamboree, was a witness in the case, and her frank testimony greatly incensed the May family. Yesterday Lewis May had the girl arrested upon a warrant charging her with purloining two silk dress patterns and a number of lace collars. The officer who served the papers found no dress goods, but did find several lace collars. Miss Guillotte states that the collars are her presonal property. She will be arraigned a continued throughout the day and evening. The grand jury was in session all day yesterday, and at 6 o'clock, and after remade up to last evening, and for this reaespecial care that no particulars should

The proceedings were afterward dismissed and the attachment dissolved. Scott now sues for $5,000 damages, claiming his business has been ruined and his credit destroyed.

The "Con" Man Still Mere.

A city of the size of Minneapolis is incomplete without the presence of the irrepressible confidence man. The most successful of the "con" species is scrupulously attired in a fashionable suit, has a facile address, intelligent and educated, and always assumes a becoming, nonchalant air. But they are not all of this particular type, and it was a "con" man of quite different at-tributes who got in his work in this city yesterday. He is described as only ordinarily dressed and characteristically bluff in his speech and unpolished in his manners. The game was played at the union One had made the acquaintance of a bucolic countryman with a plethoric pocketbook, and was engrossed in an interesting conversation, presumably upon the prospects of the crop, the price of pork, the probabilities of a grasshopper epidemic, or perhaps the prevalence of the potato bug. when he was approached by his fellow "con" man with the exclamation: "Here, Mr. --- I have got a bill against you which must be paid now, as I need the money at once."

"Oh, what is your hurry? You know I am good for fifty times that amount any day

'But, my dear sir, I must take this train, and I cannot do it without the $50."
"Well, all I can do is to go to the bank and get it, or else I can give you a check."
"The check won't do, and I can't wait, for it is nearly train time."

"Oh, botheration; you are a crank," and turning to his newly-formed acquaintance, he continued, "Have you got $50 with you? I suppose I must let this fellow get cashed," and he exhibited the check. The granger handed over the desired sum, and in looking to see the man who took it run for his train, he took his eyes off Mr. "con" man No. 1 long enough for him to disappear.

Some Other Robert.

Robert L. Kelly of Minneapolis was very numerously congratulated yesterday over his appointment as marshal of Montana, as announced in the morning papers. Robert had hurriedly left home and had not familiarized himself with the contents of the GLOBE, so that when he met a friend he was taken aback when the friend remarked: "My dear fellow, a thousand congratu-you before you leave," and rushed away. Another friend said: "I'm mighty glad you got there, old fellow. But I didn't know you were after a Montana plum," and off he rushed. Mr. Kelly went down street and re ceived 200 congratulations en route, and on arriving at his office read the Asso-ciated Press dispatch. All he said was: "It's some other Robert."

A Nearly Fatal Burning. A fire resulted from the explosion of a lamp in South Minneapolis yesterday morning, narrowly missing a fatal result. John Collins owns a small frame dwelling at 1620 Eleventh street north, and on Monday evening left the city, leaving his wife and four children in the house. When Mrs. Collins retired for the night she placed a lamp, turned low, on the kitchen table. About 4 o'clock vesterday morning it exploded, setting fire to the room, the flames soon enveloping the entire house. The fire department responded promptly to the call, but the building was nearly destroyed when the first engine arrived. Mrs. Collins had a narrow escape with her children, getting out of the burning building just in time.
The loss on the building and furniture will reach $800. Collins had insurance to the amount of $500, half each on furniture and building, with Jones & Co. It Will be a Fine Boulevard.

The council committee went over the ground again yesterday, and practically decided upon a route to the state fair grounds. The legislature provided for the issuance of bonds amounting to $5,000 to defray the cost of converting the route into a beautiful boulevard. It is not likely that the boulevard system, however, will begin until after leaving University avenue, somewhere in the vicinity of Snelling avenue. It will be continued from that point through St. Anthony Park to the border of the state fair grounds. The route selected will make a most delightful drive, and the parkway to be built by St. Paul from the fair grounds to that city will connect the two cities with a beautiful driveway that will undoubtedly be largely appreciated by both cities. The matter will come up for action at the meeting of the council to-night.

M FUICAL.

37 Third St. S. Minneapolis, Minn. Treat all Chronic, Nervous Diseases of Men and Women.

DR. SPINNEY, Well known as the founder of the Montreal (C. E.) MEDICAL INSTITUTE, and having given his entire attention for the past twenty years to the treatment of chronic and special diseases incident to both sexes, his success has produced astonishing results. By his method of treatment, the suffering are fully restored to original health. He would call the attention of the afflicted to the fact of his longstanding and well-earned reputation, as a sufficient assurance of his skill and success. Thousands who have been under his treatment have felt and expressed emotions of gratitude welling up from hearts touched for the first time by the silken chord that whis-pers of returning health. Those suffering from Catarrh or Bronchitis can be assured of a perfect cure by his new method of treatment.

DR. SPINNEY can detect the slightest disease of the Chest. Lungs or any internal organ, and guarantees a cure in every case he undertakes. It matters not what your troubles may be, come and let the Doctor examine your case. IF IT IS CURABLE HE WILL TELL YOU SO; IF NOT HE WILL TELL YOU THAT; for he will not undertake a case unless he is confident of effeeting a cure. It will cost you nothing for consultation; so please call and satisfy your-self whether the Doctor understands your

YOUNG MEN Who may be suffering from nervous debility will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the alter of suffering humanity. DR. SPINNEY WILL GUARANTEE TO FORFEIT FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS for every case of weakness or disease of any kind or character, which he andertakes and fails to cure. He would therefore say to the unfortunate sufferer who may read this notice, that you are treading on dangerous grounds when you longer delay in seeking the proper remedy for your complaint. You may be in the first stage—Remember that you are approaching the last. If you are bordering on the last and are suffering some or all of its ill effects, remember that if you obstinately persist in procrastination the time must come when the most skillful physician can render you no assistance; when the door of hope will be closed against you: when no angel of mercy can which he undertakes and fails to cure. against you; when no angel of mercy can bring you relief. In no case has the Doctor failed of success. Then let not despair work

MIDDLE-AGED MEN There are many at the age from 30 to 60 who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and weakening the system in a manner the patient can-not account for. On examining the urinary leposits a ropy sediment will often be found. and sometimes small particles of albumen wil appear, or the color will be of a thin, or milk-ish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of weakness of the vital organs. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of these organs.

Only one interview required in the majority of cases. Balance of treatment can be taken at home without any interruption to business.

All letters or communications strictly confidential. Medicines packed so as not to excite curiosity and sent by express, if full description of case is given, but a personal interview in all cases preferred.
