The New Collector.

Special to the Globe. June 20.—The President to-day appointed Adolph Biermann of Minnesota collector of internal revenue for that state.

In connection with the appointment of Mr. Biermann it may be interesting to relate that he left Washington several days ago very much disgruntled.

PICKED UP HIS TRIPACK and took his way to the grins. "I am not accustomed to this sort of treatment. I did not come here to be disgraced, but to do my duty as a collector for the party, and my Democrat in our state will tell you that I am entitled to the small favor that has been asked for me by the leading Democrats of the state.

SKETCH OF THE NEW COLLECTOR. Adolph Biermann was born at Christiansa, the capital of Norway, in the year 1842, and is therefore 43 years of age.

When Mr. Kelly was shown this appointment he merely said: "That's all right, isn't it? Mr. Biermann received the recommendation of Mr. Doran and myself, and the only one that received that endorsement. I don't see anything the matter with that appointment."

The Daily News betrays its disquietude by declaring that the haughty people are trampling upon the rights of the people and offering a deliberate insult to the country.

Bradstreet's Reports on Iron, Coal and Wheat. NEW YORK, June 20.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's from larger cities throughout the United States continue the record of almost uniform midsummer dullness.

The practical dissolution of the iron strike crop lock-out on the West, by means of mutual concessions is a credit to both employes and employers and most of the idle Pittsburg mills are or soon will be busy.

The mills further West cannot afford to continue the struggle now a long time past, though the iron and steel industries show no signs of improvement and prices are unchanged.

The sale of 8,000 tons of old iron rails at Philadelphia at $12.25, when the nominal quotation has been $7.60, is a long time past shows that the old rail market is not as bad as has been reported.

The anthracite coal trade is duller than previously and side tracks along the lines of the coal roads are filling up with loaded cars. The bituminous trade is quite demoralized so far as prices are concerned, owing to the competition from newly developed fields. The wheat market is dull and dragging, and it is becoming more evident daily that the winter wheat crop is to be a very short one.

The damage since May 1 has exceeded all precedent. Just how short the crop will be it would be hazardous to predict when the margin between the various reliable reports thereon is 80,000,000 bushels, the total ranging from 600,000,000 bushels. It is also likely that the stocks on hand, visible and invisible, have been overestimated.

If the reports of the storage are two-thirds verified the United States is likely to have only its present surplus (visible and invisible) for export. This, with light stocks in England, with shortages in Australia and New Zealand, an under average in Austria and Russia, and no grain in India, and with 4,000,000 bushels of a deficiency in France and the United Kingdom likely to push wheat prices well up before July, 1885.

I will then close the door. When I step again the lady will have vanished without leaving a trace behind. Gentleman (in the front seat, aside to his wife)—I say, old woman, do me a favor and step up!
