THE CRYING RACKET.

PHILADELPHIA Times.—"Poor little fellow," added the lady, commiseratingly, and she searched her reticule for a paper and handed it to me.

BOGUS REFORMERS.

The civil service law is being brought into disrepute and is being made unpopular by the action of the civil service commission. Part of this fact is due to the want of respect for the commissioners personally and a part of it to the disposition of the commission to constitute themselves into a trial tribunal.

ST. PAUL AND MINNEAPOLIS.

No American can see these two cities pushing on together without a feeling of pride in the country which makes such things possible. The two cities are full of life, energy and enterprise.

RISE AND FALL OF A MILLIONAIRE.
