

MINNEAPOLIS NEWS.

Something of the New House of the Sisterhood of Bethany, the Home for Fallen Women.

Hennepin District Court to Open To-Day - Routine Work of the County Commissioners.

Numerous Cases in the Minor Courts the Result of Sunday's Harvest.

Opening of the Catholic Orphans' Fair - General Gossip - Local Matters.

A New Home.

The Sisterhood of Bethany, that philanthropic organization which has performed a noble mission in aiding falling women by giving them a home when in sickness and trouble, and by finding honorable employment for them when health has been recovered, have outgrown their old quarters.

COUNTY AFFAIRS.

Full Term of Court-Commissioners on the Text Book Question.

The full term of the district court will begin to-day, and for some time to come the numerous officials who have to do with the county litigation will find their hands full.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to James R. Coyne and Annie M. Hall, John O'Brien and Helan Sullivan, James N. Vaughn and Annie H. Bonfoy, Andrew G. Anderson and Ellen Sorenson, William Post and Annie Kuzen, Cornelius Rogers and Ellen Riley, Frank A. Calkins and Clara Nelson, John Engelhart and Gustav Alkman.

Nils Peterson has been discharged from the prison at Stillwater by order of Gov. Hubbard. Peterson was convicted of forgery March 23, 1885, in the Hennepin county district court, and sentenced to two years imprisonment.

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

At the regular monthly meeting of the county commissioners yesterday, postponed until the afternoon, every commissioner was in his seat. The following matters were referred to appropriate committees: Petition of S. Green and others for a highway in section 1, township 117, range 22; four remonstrances against granting the petition for a highway in the towns of Champlin and Dayton; a communication from the supervisors of Cook County, asking an appropriation of $140, half of the cost of building a bridge over Elm creek, afterward allowed.

Since the city has perfected a lease for four additional mill powers from the Minneapolis Mill company, the question of the result of a comprehensive and scientific investigation and measurement of water used by the city water works, conducted by D. W. Waters, there is a likelihood of further measurements to be prosecuted in the interests of the manufacturers and others leasing water power from the mill company at the platform. The lessee, it is rumored, express unfeigned surprise that the river measurement conducted by Mr. Waters showed such a small actual consumption of water, and basing their calculations upon the amount of water used by the city they deduce that they are paying for more water than they really use.

MINNEAPOLIS SPORTS.

"Toke" Broderick learned last evening that Whistler, the athlete, intends to visit Minneapolis next week. In that event "Toke" will endeavor to arrange a wrestling match between Whistler and Mervine Thompson, catch-as-catch-can style. It has been suggested that Patsy Cardiff and Billy Wilson give a sparring exhibition at the same time.

THE CATHOLIC FAIR.

A Success From the Start-The Women's Fair at the Fairgrounds.

The Catholic orphans' fair received a tremendous boom last night for the opening. Harmonia hall was crowded to almost suffocation, and the attendance was all that could be desired. The evening opened with a dramatic performance, the play being "A Limerick Boy," in which Inspector Jim Smith took the leading role of Paddy Miles.

Yesterday's Criminal Grind.

When Sergt. Burns called the municipal court to order yesterday morning there was a motley array of prisoners who had taken seats in the pen. The thirteen first arraigned were for imbibing Sunday whisky. They came Ole Dahl and O. Peterson. They were charged with disorderly conduct. They had been on the lambo which reached his height at midnight Saturday. Officer Collins attempted to arrest them, and they resisted so vigorously that the aid of citizens was called, and in the tussle the officer shot Dahl through the right thigh, inflicting a ugly wound. Dahl and Peterson each paid a fine of $17.50, and their associates, John Gilstron and John Peterson paid $7.50 each.

LEWD AND OBSCENE.

Every seat in the Grand was filled last evening, making up an intelligent and fashionable audience, and giving a warm and enthusiastic greeting to Lawrence Barrett.

Tragedy and Melody.

The first of the star course of entertainments under the auspices of the Young People's society, was given at Westminster church last evening. Madame Camilla

Uro, the renowned violinist, gave a recital and Miss Helen Foster, the elocutionist, several recitations. The attendance was good, and the audience was fairly carried away by the genius of the celebrated lady violinist. The star course promises to be of unusual interest this winter and fall, as special care has been taken in the selection of material.

CURRENT COMMENT.

A prominent dry goods merchant, and he was staunch supporter of George A. Pillsbury's candidacy in the spring of '84, was met by a Globe emissary in front of his place of business yesterday afternoon. He was in an apparent genial mood, and chatted freely about the prospects of the fair and the matters, and he finally touched upon municipal politics. He said with an air that must convince the listener that he meant every word he said:

"I hope Bill King will accept the Republican nomination for mayor in the spring. I have almost unbounded confidence in the colonel's ability to satisfy the people and to conduct a prosperous administration. He is a broad-gauge man, and that is what Minneapolis wants for mayor. This city cannot afford to be run on narrow principles any longer. I opposed Dr. Ames because I thought a conservative administration would have good results, but, although too late, I have learned my mistake. While Dr. Ames was mayor the city increased in population with phenomenal rapidity. Minneapolis became famous throughout the land, but it is almost at a standstill, comparatively speaking, now."

Unlike that of most metropolitan cities the police department still religiously adheres to its narrow policy, conceived during its primitive days when this was only a provincial town. Strange as it may seem, it is none the less true that the long-explored theory that as soon as a crime that has been committed finds publication in the papers, the chances of apprehending the criminal become greatly lessened or absolutely lost. Consequently, every possible effort is exercised to keep the reporters from learning anything concerning a burglary, robbery or anything of that character. This enlightened age it is pretty generally conceded, especially in Eastern and more advanced cities, that the press is an almost invaluable aid to detectives in hunting down criminals. It is a perverted idea that because the newspapers do not publish the fact that "John Jones was robbed of $500 by a thug," that the thug should believe that the police had not been informed of the robbery, and was searching for him. Every crook in the city knows that the very first victim does is to report at the police headquarters. John Jones knows that he was robbed by a thug, and the thug knows that he was guilty of the act, and he furthermore knows, whether the same be published or not, that John Jones has promptly reported the matter to the chief of police or to the detectives.

Methodist Conference.

The Methodist district conference of the Methodist church in this section last night at the Thirtieth Avenue M. E. church, corner of Tenth street and Thirtieth avenue south, Rev. Dr. Chaffee presiding. About fifty delegates, including clergymen and lay delegates, are expected, and the regular work of the session will not begin until to-day. Last night Rev. R. M. Carter of Wasceca preached an interesting sermon. This morning's session will include devotional exercises, general conference business, and essays by Rev. M. B. Smith and Rev. James Door. In the afternoon Rev. J. L. Pitt will read an essay and the business of the session will be concluded. A platform meeting will be held at night.

The City Workhouse.

The committee on workhouse met at the city hall yesterday and opened bids for putting in the steam-heating fixtures at the city workhouse. It was an executive session and reporters were barred out, but it was stated last night by the chairman of the committee that the proposals were all highly satisfactory and surprisingly close. Two only varied $3 in gross amounts. Owing to the committee being unfamiliar with steam-heating apparatus, the proposals were referred to A. S. Dyer, Jr., and the city engineer to investigate and determine what system is the most practical and advantageous.

Minneapolis Globules.

The proceedings of the board of trade will be found on the ninth page. A little boy named Avery fell from a tree yesterday afternoon, and was quite badly but not dangerously injured.

Capt. Chase had a lively tussle with a disorderly fellow in front of the city hall yesterday afternoon, but the arrest was effected.

The female minstrel, headed by Billy Arnold, attracted a deal of attention parading the streets yesterday in carriages behind a brass band.

Yesterday's building permits show an estimated cost of $46,000, which is considered quite large, considering that the building season is so far advanced.

This afternoon will be laid the corner stone of the new home for children and aged women, in the corner of Thirty-second street and Stevens avenue.

The new chemical engine No. 3 has arrived and will do duty on the East side, being stationed at Cataract engine house. It has a capacity of eighty gallons.

Minneapolisians who visited the fair yesterday express their unqualified pleasure at the arrangements and speak in glorious praise of the exhibits so far as they are in readiness.

Mrs. Bertha Pancoast died yesterday morning of typhoid fever. The deceased was aged 29 years, the daughter of Charles A. Ebert, Esq., and leaves a husband and seven children.

V. G. Rumpster was thrown from his carriage in a recent accident, and was injured in the corner of Sixth street and Twenty-first avenue south, and was painfully cut about the head and face.

The city council committee on police met yesterday and opened bids for building a stable for the Third precinct station. Cunningham and Cunningham being the lowest bidders, at $635, will be awarded the contract.

The streets showed that there were a great many strangers in the city last evening. It has been charged, but unjustly, however, that the fair would only benefit St. Paul. Minneapolis will certainly get her share.

Robert Maxley, the deaf mute who was found two months ago trying to drown himself in Bassett's creek, is now thought to be hopelessly insane, and will probably be sent to St. Peter. He was taken into custody by the police again yesterday.

Two new plays were filed yesterday. Richard Crosby, Edwin Blodgett, Robert Harvey and Matilda R. Hall filed Crosby & Harvey's addition. W. S. Washburn, by attorney, P. G. Lamoureux and Charles Leland filed the Washington Avenue addition.

Openings have been the rage the past week or so, if the expression is applicable. There have been several of them. The most notable were those of Mr. Silverstein on Washington avenue, between Second and Third south, Saturday night, and Al Shaefer's Jumbo last night.

The spiritualist opened their meetings Sunday, after a two months' vacation, occupying the Alcazar theater, corner First avenue south and Sixth. They have engaged Mrs. Lillie for the month of September. She is called one of the best of inspiration speakers. She is certainly a very interesting one. Her audience numbered about six hundred persons.

Julia McLean, who was arrested on Saturday night for stealing $10 from Mrs. Alexander Perry, as reported in these columns, was released yesterday on a nolle prosequi. Mrs. Perry had the money refunded, and she refused to prosecute the defendant. Mrs. McLean will now be furnished transportation to her home in Chicago.

Carl A. Anderson, proprietor of the handsome new building at the corner of First Avenue south and Second street, will build a fine, large addition to the hotel, to be finished sometime during the winter. The addition will be four stories in height and 40x24 feet. The first floor will be occupied as a store, while the balance will be fitted up for sleeping apartments. The addition will cost $9,000 and will be quite ornate.

The Columbia, Pillsbury A. Washburn A and C and Phoenix flour mills were running again yesterday. Several other mills are anxious to get started, and some complaint is made of the slow movement of the Water Power company. The Market Record says: It is generally thought that very little if anything can be done along the canal this week and some say the water will not be in the next week. Considerable patent flour is offered here at $3.35 delivered in New York and sales have been made all the way from $5.25 to $5.50 for January delivery in New York.

The Grand Opening

Of the Washington roller rink occurs this evening. The management have added every feature that will contribute to the comfort and convenience of its patrons.

The Magill Murder Case.

Special to the Globe. BISMARCK, Dak., Sept. 7.—The Magill murder case was resumed to-day, quite a number of ladies being among the listeners. The defense so far has only put two witnesses upon the stand, but the expert testimony by Thursday at the latest, Col. Magill took the stand this afternoon, and in giving his evidence had occasion to refer to his wife, the defendant's mother, who was lying ill at her home from excitement, which brought the tears to his eyes. The colonel will conclude to-morrow. Tom Magill has many friends, and Attorney Greene of Fargo is laboring hard in his behalf. The feeling against him has very materially died away.

Big Corn Crop.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—The Farmers' Review will print the following summary to-morrow on the corn crop outlook, based on its latest reports from its correspondents: "The cold, damp weather which has prevailed in the West has retarded the maturing of the corn crop. In spite of it, however, some progress has been made. Frosts have been experienced in many localities, but none of sufficient severity to do any injury to the corn. At this writing, Sept. 7, we judge that three-fourths of the corn of the entire country is past danger from frost. Of the remaining fourth fully half is so far advanced that a frost which simply cuts the leaves without freezing the stalks so as to burst it, would do no injury beyond the injury to the fodder. This leaves but an eighth of the crop in any real danger, and every day without a freeze lessens the danger. At this writing the danger of a freeze is no greater than it has been at any time in the past ten days, and the strong confidence of the full maturity of the largest crop of corn ever grown in this country."

At the Opening of

Washington rink to-night a varied program of excellent attractions is announced. See card in amusement column.
