Holding the President Accountable. Special to the Globe.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.--To the close observer of things political there are to be seen some curious results of the Ohio election. One of the most interesting of these is the opportunity it gives the gossamers to grumble. It brings to the surface anew all of the feeling that exists against the administration. If a fellow gets into trouble he is always glad to have some other fellow to accuse of being the cause. So the people who have been inclined to criticize President Cleveland and his course, come from the front now and say it was the fault of the administration. Just how they make it out is pretty difficult to understand; some of them say it is because of his unsatisfactory method of distributing the offices; because of his too close adherence to what they are pleased to call civil service humbug. To these, however, it is suggested in response that the president has done more for Ohio in the way of distributing offices than for almost any other state. Then there are others who say it was the president's fault in not sending a sufficient number of troops to the front. They again who are inclined to criticize because the president didn't take a greater interest in the Ohio campaign than he did. The fact seems to be that there is a good deal of quiet general dissatisfaction everywhere with the president and his course. There goes a man," said an active politician of this city, pointing to a prominent Democrat going up Pennsylvania avenue a day or two ago, "who certainly has a faculty of telling some whoopery, either in public or in private. He was talking to me only a few days ago privately, and the way he attacked Cleveland and his administration was something remarkable. He couldn't find words to express how strongly his disapproval of the president and his methods. To my surprise, however, in less than a week from that time he made a speech in Virginia loudly commending President Cleveland's course, civil service and all."

Disgusted With the President. Special to the Globe.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.--R. W. Daniels, ex-collector of Buffalo, who is at the Fifth Avenue hotel here, said to-day that President Cleveland's publishing the account that he had intended to go home to vote would have no weight. "No single vote will be changed by it for the Democracy," said he. "We know him so well in our city that whatever he does in the way of endorsing Mr. Hill will have no influence. He is a selfish man and has never voted any ticket but the straight Democratic. If his brother would vote for Mr. Hill, he would not vote for him. Circumstances have aided him singularly by breaking up of party lines. In the case of the voters he fully availed himself of the fact that Cleveland refused to give any more office until an objectionable man was named in the ticket. He knew well that his race for governorship. He knew well Hill's record, and yet he did not refuse to run with him. He saw that Hill would carry with certain voters in every body in the section is for Davenport. I could name some very prominent Democrats who will vote for Hill. The revolution in the Republican ranks here has gained many votes from the better elements of the Democracy. The whole of Western New York is enthusiastic in its support of Cleveland. I am sure pretty well the feelings of the people."

Prosecuting the Offenders. CINCINNATI, Oct. 16.--The executive committee of the Citizens' One Hundred to-day sent a letter to the president of the common pleas judges, asking him to examine into the violation of the election laws of Ohio committed in Hamilton county, and to indict all persons against whom a reasonable amount of evidence shall be adduced. The committee, discouraged about getting warrants faithfully served by the present police force, have determined to move against election officers through warrants sworn out before magistrates and served by constables. Money is being subscribed freely to the committee, about $1,000 having already been received.

Two Editors Disgruntled. Special to the Globe.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.--The Democrats here who were loyal adherents of President Cleveland are beginning to cordially hate him for slighting them. Fresh evidence of this fact accumulates constantly. The president in two instances disregarded small favors asked by two metropolitan Democratic editors. The World treats the president lukewarmly and almost ridiculous some of his appointments. Its feelings to some extent are smothered by an open revolt. The latest proof of the ungratefulness of the president is the case of Hon. Benjamin Wood, editor of the New York Daily News, one of Cleveland's electors. He had refrained from asking a favor of the administration until the consulship to Egypt came up. When he asked the appointment of Gen. Long, who formerly occupied that post, and who distinguished himself in the Egyptian war. The selection was so good that Hon. S. S. Cox, Samuel Randall and other equally prominent statesmen indorsed it. For a time it was foregone conclusion that Long would be appointed. Secretary Manning assured Editor Wood that the matter was virtually settled, when, without warning, the president appointed an unknown man. Editor Wood feels the disappointment keenly, and all the more because he was the first and only favor he had asked. He does not hesitate to express indignation privately, but smother his feelings in the editorials of the Daily News.

Almost a Riot. COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 16.--Great excitement was created in front of the Democratic headquarters on Broad street at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and a riot narrowly averted. Soon after noon some one about the headquarters caused to be strung across the street in large form a bloody shirt, with the inscription, "New North, New South, New Deal. The Law of the Bloody Shirt." It is stated that a G. A. R. member called and gave the committee a hour call to have the shirt taken down, and by orders of a number of the committee it was being done, when a man from the Republican headquarters rushed in, shouting, "The shirt is soaked in with kerosene" returned and burned it in front of the Democratic headquarters. A crowd of several hundred gathered, and the greatest excitement prevailed. The counsels of cooler heads prevailed, and after much long talk and threats the crowd dispersed. The yelling caused the people to leave their business, while many locked their doors. The Republicans denounce it as an insult, and both sides are contemned by better citizens for participating in a move which, in the present political fever heat, might have led to great loss of life and property.

Springer on the Vincent Affair. Special to the Globe.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.--This being the former home of Chief Justice Vincent of New Mexico, recently suspended from his duties pending an investigation into his official conduct, great interest is felt here in the final outcome of the matter. Congressman Springer, who was one of those who recommended the suspension, is now in the city. He is expected to make a speech to the people, and to give an account of his own part in the matter. It is believed that he will defend the action of the committee, and will urge the removal of Vincent from office. It is also believed that he will urge the removal of Vincent from office. It is also believed that he will urge the removal of Vincent from office.

Of Interest to Customs Collectors. WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.--The treasury department recently received information that certain collectors of customs on the northern frontier were in the habit of permitting goods, ostensibly intended for export, but really intended to be transported from one United States port to another by way of Canada, to be carried in Canadian bottoms, certifying at the same time that the goods were of domestic production. The matter was referred to the attorney general by his decision. By article 90 of the treaty of Washington, goods intended for such transportation, the latter being carried either by Canadian or United States vessels, but since the abrogation of that article and by virtue of section 3006, revised statutes, which gives the secretary of the treasury authority to prescribe the method of transportation, the goods are now carried in Canadian bottoms. The attorney general holds that the shipments allowed by the custom officers were not bona fide exports, and that the issue of the certificates was illegal.

Mr. Manning and the G. A. R. Special to the Globe.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.--At an interview had by representatives of the Grand Army of the Republic to-day with the secretary of the treasury, the latter declined to make any disparaging remarks about the Grand Army, recently published and attributed to him. He gave them a cordial reception and substantial proof of his good will. Capt. Burke, senior vice commander and chairman of the G. A. R., who is in charge of this department, testifies to the cordial reception on all occasions and the secretary's evident sympathy with his committee in their efforts to procure employment for their veterans and competent ex-Union soldiers among the new army and navy appointments made by the secretary.

What One Rascal Did. Special to the Globe.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.--An old steal was recalled to-day by a discovery in the Indian office. One of the new officials found a large number of bottles containing a greasy compound, and his curiosity being naturally excited, he began an investigation and learned they were a part of an invoice of 5,000 bottles of a quack medicine that was bought some years ago by the Indian agent for the use of the Indians. An analysis shows that the medicine is nothing but sweet oil and cloves. The bottles hold about one ounce and did not really cost more than 8 cents a piece, yet the receipt of the office show that Smith paid $5,000 for 5,000 bottles. The medicine was examined by Surgeon Gen. Barnes and condemned as absolutely worthless. A congressional investigation was begun and developed the rascal's name and details, and the report was suppressed. The matter was finally forgotten.

A Just Bounty Decision. WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.--Second Comptroller Maynard has made a decision in the case of Maj. L. Middleton, late fireman U. S. X., that upon his discharge in August, 1855, because the government no longer required his services. When paid off the paymaster deducted from his pay $150, being one-half of the local bounty received. The comptroller holds that this deduction was made in violation of the law, and that the amount of the bounty belonged to him by virtue of a contract made with the municipality paying it, and that the United States could not lawfully appropriate any part of it to its own use.

Asked to Resign. WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.--The secretary of the treasury has requested the resignation of Mr. Benjamin P. Davis, deputy fourth clerk of the treasury, and has selected his successor, Mr. J. M. McLaughlin, for the present. The request for Mr. Davis' resignation was made over a week ago, but has not been complied with. It is said at the treasury department to-day that changes will be made gradually in a number of other offices of a similar grade.

Presidential Prerogatives. WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.--The president made the following appointments to-day: to be consul general at the United States, Benjamin F. Boulton of Oregon at Calcutta; to be United States consul, A. M. A. Garesche of Missouri at Martinique; Charles Forster of Indiana at Elberfeld; N. J. Arbelly of Tennessee at Jerusalem; Ernest P. Baldwin of Missouri to be deputy first auditor of the treasury.

Mexican Prisoners Pardoned. CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 16.--The president has granted full pardon to all political prisoners except Chivarrí of the Monitor Republican, and Editor Carrillo of the Correo de Mexico. The prisoners pardoned include newspaper editors and students. This action is hailed with great satisfaction by the people. The Gonzales newspapers are now cordially supporting the administration, and the hopes of the Church party that the Liberal party would go to pieces are not realized.

A Horrible Crime. HAZLETON, Pa., Oct. 16.--Between 8 and 9 o'clock last night a terrible tragedy was committed at Seybertsville, a small village nine miles from here. Four tramps entered a small house, some distance back from the main road, in which lived two bachelor brothers, John and William Kester, aged, respectively, 36 and 35 years, and demanded a large sum of money which was known to be secreted in the house. The Kesters refused to reveal where their money was hidden, and the tramps then bound them hand and foot and beat their brains out with a heavy club. After committing the murder they fled and have not yet been arrested. The two brothers had lived in a frame shanty about one mile from Seybertsville for thirty years. They gained a livelihood by cultivating a small patch of ground, and doing odd jobs for the neighboring farms, and by economy managed to accumulate several thousand dollars, which was generally supposed to be secreted in the house. With them lived John Kester, Jr., an illegitimate son of the elder of the two brothers. When the young man returned to the house about 9 o'clock last night, he was horrified to discover the dead bodies of his father and uncle lying on the floor. He quickly alarmed the neighbors, who hurried to the scene of the tragedy, and an examination showed that John and William had been beaten to death with a heavy club, his head being horribly crushed by repeated blows. Several times yesterday four tramps were noticed lurking in the vicinity, and the police authorities say that they have convincing evidence that they are the persons who committed the crime. Search is now being made for them. The drawers and trunks in the house had been ransacked, showing that the money was not hidden there. Young Kester says the money was robbery outside the house, and that the murderers did not secure it.

Burglars Make a Big Fight. DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 16.--Last night the Astor restaurant, a thieves' resort, was the scene of a desperate fight between the police and a gang of burglars they were after. The place has long been under surveillance, and last night officers were detailed to raid the place and capture all who should be found. Over the saloon is a poker room, and several burglars were seen to enter the room. The door was burst in, but the officers were driven back. With the help of part of the force who were without the building, the men were finally forced out of the room. They carried off a large amount of money, but were recovered, and burglars' tools found.

The Detroit Church Row. DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 16.--The police have arrested five men on a charge of having invaded the parochial residence of St. Joseph's parish Tuesday night. The priest, Michael Gallagher, and several young men were present at the time. The priest, Michael Gallagher, and several young men were present at the time. SCORCHED A MICHIGAN TOWN.

OWASSO, Mich., Oct. 16.--A destructive fire broke out at Owasso last night in the dry goods store of Brown & Mahoney, which was consumed, together with H. L. Lewis produce store and Henry Woodward's furniture factory. The latter was only saved by desperate efforts. Monday night when Howell & Cassett's engine works burned, Mrs. Barnes' residence and the Knights of Labor hall, over Brown & Mahoney's store, were included in the destruction. The losses will aggregate $75,000; insurance unknown.

White and the Business of the Country is Not Dull, it is Not Pushing. Special to the Globe.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.--The more moderate movement of general merchandise reported throughout the country to Bradstreet's last week maintains the proportions then noted. The volume of business continues in excess of that reported at a corresponding period in 1884, though in some instances below that in October, 1883. Merchants in larger business centers are inclined to consider the situation as satisfactory, and in some instances the future of trade is regarded very hopefully. The government activity of the past few weeks, joined to evident increased requirements on their part, is believed to promise a fair amount of business, and with the coming of cold weather, renewed purchases are confidently looked for. At Boston there is a steady trade and the movement of the market is firm. At Philadelphia the business activity is said to be fair though less notable in several lines. The season being late, the dealers say they are well satisfied. However, it is a shade weaker at Philadelphia, but the movement of the movement has declined, but it is still good. There is a noticeable demand for New York bills and currency from the East has been ordered West, although exchange rates are not unfavorable. At St. Louis, currency and gold of the country are being free, but are declining. Mercantile discount demands are increasing. In Chicago the election excitement and stormy weather have checked business, though Cincinnati and Cleveland advance are not unfavorable. At St. Louis, notwithstanding a reaction following the close of the exposition, there is said to be a healthy demand for goods. The interior request for funds at that point is declining. The price of wheat is said to be declining, and the first half of the week, but a portion has been lost since. The foreign demand is no better, the large supplies at the chief markets on both sides of the Atlantic preventing the leading wheat-importing countries from getting the benefit of the crop shortage. Petroleum above and below the surface over four hundred thousand barrels in September and an advance of 6 cents has been made. The movement of grocery staples for the week has been only moderate. Cotton advanced 1 cent, and wool advanced 1 cent. The price of sugar has declined sharply on the late government report reporting a probable crop of 6,700,000 bales.

TELEGRAPHIC SPARKS. The premises in Kingston, Ont., occupied by Thomas Mills, furrier; Felix Shaw, dry goods merchant; and Messrs. photographer, were burned. Loss, $40,000; insurance, $30,000.

Iver Williams, aged 15, employed as door keeper in the Longwood mine of the Plymouth Coal company, fell down a shaft a distance of 600 feet, his body being crushed into a shapeless mass.

The business failure during the last seven days during the month of October, 1885, at St. Louis, Mo., was as follows: 1st day, 27; 2nd day, 27; 3rd day, 27; 4th day, 27; 5th day, 27; 6th day, 27; 7th day, 27; 8th day, 27; 9th day, 27; 10th day, 27; 11th day, 27; 12th day, 27; 13th day, 27; 14th day, 27; 15th day, 27; 16th day, 27; 17th day, 27; 18th day, 27; 19th day, 27; 20th day, 27; 21st day, 27; 22nd day, 27; 23rd day, 27; 24th day, 27; 25th day, 27; 26th day, 27; 27th day, 27; 28th day, 27; 29th day, 27; 30th day, 27.

St. Louis, Oct. 16.--The Browns won to-day's game from the Chicago in the first inning, when they scored five runs after two hands were out. A chance was given to retire the side without a run, but Darryl muffed Kosiskie's fly, and a base on balls, a single, a double and a three-base hit and several errors by the visitors yielded the home club the five tallies. The Chicago did some very brilliant and some very bad playing, while the Browns played an almost perfect game after the first inning. The weather was delightful and the attendance nearly 3,000.

Casting a Big Gun. Special to the Globe.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 16.--At the South Boston Iron works this afternoon the casting of a fifty-four-ton twelve-inch breech-loading gun took place, in the presence of a large concourse, which included many military men. It was the third attempt to cast this gun, two previous attempts having failed. At 12:44 Foreman Wood gave the order, and from two furnaces, holding over 40,000 tons of metal each, the molten iron began to flow, sending forth showers of sparks as it ran into the receiver and thence into the mold. A few minutes later the third furnace was tapped and for fifteen minutes the flow of metal went on without interruption. Suddenly a dense volume of flame shot up

The Servian Army Crosses the Bulgarian Frontier Eager for the Battle.

King Milan Commands His Troops, and Expects Shortly to Capture Sofia.

Residents of That Place in a Panic--Austria Issues a Warning.

Roumelia Orders Out all the Reserves, Preparing for the Conflict.

The Frontier Crossed. LONDON, Oct. 16.--The Servians crossed the Bulgarian frontier near Charkoi at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. They are advancing toward Sofia and are now near the Dragoman pass. King Milan is in command. A panic has broken out in Sofia. Four battalions of infantry have gone to defend the Dragoman pass. They have with them only two batteries of small field guns. There is no Bulgarian heavy artillery nearer to the scene of the disturbance than that at Siston and Tuschuk. It is expected that Sofia will be captured by a coup d'main. Austria has warned King Milan that whatever may be the issue of the present trouble it will be useless for her to expect support from Austria. The railway companies in Austria and Hungary have been notified to prepare for the transportation of troops and munitions of war. Delegates from the Servian Red Cross society have arrived at Pesth and Vienna. They are commissioned to purchase hospital wagons. It is reported that a Servian war declaration has been printed. The ambassadors of the powers have presented a collective note to the governments of Austria and Hungary, urging Bulgarians to refrain from hostility. It is held responsible if peace is disturbed through menacing attitude. Prince Alexander was given an ovation on his arrival at Sofia. Addressing a crowd of citizens, he promised to MAKE EVERY SACRIFICE in order to maintain the union. He afterwards presided at a meeting of the council to prepare an answer to the note of the powers. A Roumelian decree has been issued calling out all the reserves for active service. Prince Alexander has inspected the military works at Thessalonica and Sofia, and is now visiting the southern frontier. It is stated that Prince Bismarck has proposed to the powers that Prince Alexander remain prince of Bulgaria and be admitted as governor of Roumelia, and that the powers should be permitted to occupy the Balkans. The Montenegrin army has been supplied with ammunition and is in readiness for service. The ambassadors have presented a note to the powers, in which they say that further time will have to be afforded to them to obtain a complete European understanding and advise the sultan to continue his peace policy. They do not, however, dispute the port's right to send troops into Roumelia to assert his rights in that province. It is generally believed that the powers have advised Bulgaria, Serbia and Greece more strongly than ever to remain quiet. The port's note regarding the armaments of Greece and the Bulgarian frontier is expected to protest against their warlike attitude. The report that Greece had offered to FORM AN ALLIANCE with Turkey is unfounded. The ambassadors have advised the powers that they will have to be afforded further instructions from their respective governments in relation to a final decision. The port's note is the note of the ambassadors, but has not been submitted that he will not permit the ultimate result of the conference may be. A large force of Turkish troops have been ordered to advance in the direction of Nis. It is believed that the Servians and Turks is imminent. The report that Prince Alexander to-day, in commenting on the Bulgarian question, shows signs of impatience at the delay in settling the difficulty and says: "Russia is not submitting to the dictation of M. Karloff, the Bulgarian minister. If the warning of the ambassadors to Prince Alexander to pacify Roumelia at the risk of losing the union does not make Bulgaria return to reason, the fresh conference to assemble shortly will settle the difficulty on the same basis as the starting point in the present course of action."

Cardinal Newman's Opinion. LONDON, Oct. 16.--Cardinal Newman, in an address to-day, said that the Protestant church of England was the great bulwark of the country against atheism. He said that he had access to those defending the church, and that he and his friends would join in defending it. Cardinal Newman's views are important in connection with the forthcoming elections for members of parliament, and they will be likely to influence many votes in favor of the Conservative candidates.

Preparations at Calcutta. CALCUTTA, Oct. 16.--The gunboat Tigris is being fitted here with two heavy guns and four machine guns for service on the Irrawaddy river in Burma. The military officials at Madras are ready to dispatch troops to Rangoon on the receipt of orders. Advice from Mandalay state that the authorities at the arsenal there are busily engaged in issuing war material and supplies, and that 30,000 troops are marching to Minha and 30,000 to Toung.

Loyal to England. BOMBAY, Oct. 16.--The ameer of Afghanistan has rejected indirect overtures from Russia and remains loyal to England.

He was taken to the police station, where he gave his name as Timothy Detiniser. In his pocket was found a large stone.
