NEW YORK. How the Day Was Passed by Voters of the Metropolis.

Special to the Globe. NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Although the sky threatened rain all day, only a few drops fell and these were not enough to keep the people out of the streets. There was a slight flurry of snow just after noon. A brisk and cold wind blew all day, and the workers at the polls had hard work to keep warm. The arrests for illegal voting were confined to a few districts, and there were only petty disturbances on the streets, and a few of them.

assured. He secured that majority and the 11,000 majority from Kings county added to his hopes in his party. His majority in New York and Kings counties would indicate his election unless the interior should give some unusual surprises not to be predicted by previous experiences on the average state elections. Carr made a few hundred ahead of his ticket and must attempt to justify that while the Republicans might not elect their governor, they might elect their lieutenant governor with the same candidate who had been elected secretary of the state when there was otherwise a Democratic state victory. Intense local interest was manifested in the contest on sheriff. The returns began early to show that the issue would be between Hugh J. Grant, the Tammany candidate, and John W. Jacobs, Republican. Andrew J. White, the County Democracy candidate, was as usual on the election night, the headquarters of every political organization in the city were crowded with people who were anxious to learn the latest news. The County Democrats gathered in Cheltenham hall, the many braves of the Irving hall, the Irving hall Democrats at Irving hall, and the Republicans at the Grand opera house. In each place the returns were read as fast as they were received. The largest crowd assembled at Tammany hall and the Grand opera house. The Tammany candidate, Hugh J. Grant, had carried New York city by such a majority as to make his election almost certain were read at Tammany hall the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. The shouting and hurrahs could be heard for several blocks distant. The Republicans early conceded the fact that the City had gone Democratic, but maintained until a late hour that the state had gone for Davenport.

Special to the Globe. NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The Sun says: The election in this state yesterday resulted in a sweeping Democratic victory. Gov. Hill was elected by about 14,000 plurality. The City of New York was elected, although Gov. Jones ran sadly behind his ticket. Gov. Hill's majority in his own county exceeded that given to Mr. Cleveland by about 1,500. There were large Democratic gains in Albany, Monroe and other interior counties. In this city Gov. Hill's majority is about 45,000, and in Kings county about 12,000. The largest Democratic gains were made in the county districts. The Democrats carried the majority in the state senate. There were some Democratic gains in the assembly elections, but at this hour the Republicans appear to have a majority in both branches of the legislature. In an editorial headed 'The President Holds his Own State,' the Tribune says: The Democrats retain New York. Gov. Hill has been elected by a figure so handsome as to make the begrudging praise which the state gave President Cleveland almost invisible. The return of voters whom Mr. Blaine's candidacy alienated did not make good to the Republican party the vote of the voters whom that candidacy attracted. In fact the gain does not seem to have equaled one-third or one-fourth of the vote which the Democrats gained in the matter. The vote was light, but the Republicans who did not take the trouble to vote outnumbered the Democrats. A very much smaller vote for Mr. Blaine would have sufficed to bury Mr. Hill, but the Republicans were not aroused to such a vote. But the Republican platform is neither suited to the times nor to the people. The idea shows, it is more heartily united than it has been at any other time for many years, and though beaten on the state ticket, the Democratic branches of the legislature by strong majorities. The severe storm in the interior which made the vote lighter did not cost the Republicans any seats in the legislature. The public trusts seem to be that the Republican voters did not expect to succeed this year against the concentration of power by administering the government, and therefore did not make the efforts necessary to success.

entering wedge to a yet greater division of the negro vote. Democratic gains are reported in Delaware county, and the election of Gen. Fitz Lee by a large majority, with both branches of the legislature, is conceded by the Republicans. Gen. Mahone will be succeeded in the United States senate by a Democrat.

Special to the Globe. RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 3.—Mr. John S. Wise, the Republican candidate for governor, has been in the city all day. He visited several of the large colored preachers to-day to look after his interests. To-night he is at the office of the Whig, Mahone's organ here. He says: If the returns received are correct I am defeated. Gen. Lee, though he has resigned his place as member of the board of visitors of West Point military academy, a federal office, he is ineligible to hold the place of governor. The Mahonites all alluded to this point early to-day and seemed to be saving it in reserve until the returns were made. It is thought by the Democrats and laughed at by them. At the Whig office to-night all hope is abandoned. It is quite certain that the Democrats have 59 or 60 of the 100 members of the lower house of the legislature on joint ballot by at least twenty or twenty-five. The Democrats fix Lee's majority at something over 20,000.

Special to the Globe. PETERSBURG, Va., Nov. 3.—The election here and throughout the state to-day has been one of unexampled quiet and good order. Last evening Mayor Jarrett, as a precautionary measure, swore in a strong force of extra policemen to do duty at the polls, but there was but little need for their services, as they had nothing to do but look on like other spectators. Very little has been done to-day in a mercantile way, and business has gone almost entirely to election. This afternoon Plummer Mackin, a colored Democrat, was arrested on the charge of attempting to vote more than once at the Fifth Ward precinct. He was lodged in jail, but was subsequently released on bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance in the mayor's court to-morrow morning. Early to-day the Republicans carried the majority in the state senate, and sixty out of 100 members of the house. Hon. John C. Wise concedes a Democratic victory.

Special to the Globe. PETERSBURG, Va., Nov. 3.—Gen. Mahone has received the following from Richmond, Va.: "City gone Democratic by 600 majority. Norfolk 300 Democratic. Big chance for a contest."

He was lodged in jail, but was subsequently released on bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance in the mayor's court to-morrow morning. Early to-day the Republicans carried the majority in the state senate, and sixty out of 100 members of the house. Hon. John C. Wise concedes a Democratic victory.

Special to the Globe. PETERSBURG, Va., Nov. 3.—The election here and throughout the state to-day has been one of unexampled quiet and good order. Last evening Mayor Jarrett, as a precautionary measure, swore in a strong force of extra policemen to do duty at the polls, but there was but little need for their services, as they had nothing to do but look on like other spectators.
