Rochester & St. Paul Railway. The St. Paul jobbers have a scheme on foot to build a line from St. Paul to Rochester, Minn.

The first board of directors are: D. H. Moon, W. B. Deane, W. Lindelke, G. R. Finch, E. F. Drake, E. F. Lindelke, T. C. Deane, Jr., of St. Paul, and D. H. Williams, W. D. Harbut, T. L. Fishback, M. J. Daniels, C. C. Willson, C. E. Marvin, A. T. Stephens, J. R. Cook and W. Harbut of Rochester.

On their visit to Rochester, during fair week the jobbers were impressed with the fact that Southern Minnesota was a rich soil, and that Chicago was reaping its entire harvest. While but eighty miles distant, St. Paul has no intercourse with it.

The jobbers claim that the line will be from the beginning an independent one, and will continue as such; but the improbability of this is appallingly, as with other strong lines, such as the Milwaukee & St. Paul, Chicago & Northwestern, to compete against it, cannot but help falling into other hands.

What company will take it is a very question to answer. The Chicago & Northwestern has no outlet to St. Paul from Rochester, and it is understood has been looking for one the past two years.

More Silver Discussion. To the Editor of the Globe: In your issue of 18 Mr. W. W. Williams says "there was a decline of 8 cents per ounce on the value of silver during the year 1885."

her repeat it with the following variation: "Give us this day our daily bread, or biscuit and honey, if you please."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE The Church and Workingsmen. To the Editor of the Globe: Being present at Plymouth church on Sunday evening, both as a church member and as a workman, and consequently as an interested party on both sides of the question at issue, I was somewhat surprised, as well as disappointed, at not hearing

Some are interested; the congregation grows larger, but the very thing which we are so anxious to reach fails to come in, and it is not surprising. If they go to the "Fashionable church," with its gilding, its cushioned seats, organ, paid choir, elegantly attired congregation, and highly polished, elegant preacher, they don't feel at home. Very thing is very nice, but they feel like intruders, and if they go to the poor man's church with its bare walls, bare seats, poor organ, no choir and low-priced minister, there they fall to get what they want. When men go to church they expect to find the spirit of Christ, but as a rule that spirit is not very manifest.

The coming year the car company will turn out 800 separate, 500 portable engines and 500 tractors, not saying anything about special orders. The force of men is being increased in every department.

Yesterday while Mr. James Roney was walking leisurely up Main street, he was severely bitten on the right arm by a horse attached to a street car. The driver, E. A. Phinney's store.

Ministers and laymen have discussed the question over and over again. "How are we to reach the masses?" The answer is simple. Pay less heed to the popular questions of the day. Be less anxious about financial affairs. Study more carefully the moral teachings of our Lord. Then get into your people, and in the name and spirit of Christ talk to them quietly and earnestly about their souls.

What I have written applies to no church or minister in particular. There are true men among the clergy, and among our cities, both rich and poor, but we know there are too many inconsistencies in our churches, and the sooner they are swept away the better. Dr. Dana has commenced a noble work, and I trust that it will not cease until its purpose is accomplished.

READY-MADE ROMANCES. A Pretty Sweetheart and a Pointer Pappy--Cupid's Regalities. J. M. Richardson of Lumpkin, Stewart county, was united in marriage to Miss S. E. George of Baker county at the home of the bride's mother, Sunday, the groom went from Lumpkin to visit J. T. Kidd, an old friend, at whose house at the midday meal he met for the first time his future bride.

Legal Advice. Ex-Governor Roberts, of Texas, is at present a professor at the University of Texas, and has charge of the law department. He is very particular in requiring the attendance of all the law students, before beginning his lecture a few days ago, he asked one of the students: "How did you come to miss my lecture yesterday afternoon?"

The Awful Verb. "You ignoramus, why do you say: 'I see him?'" "What should I say?" "Why, you have saw him," and have some style about you.

STILLWATER SIFTINGS. Property on the C. B. & N. R. Condemned and Assessed. Tobogganing all the Rage--Court Cullings--Gossip.

Messrs. E. S. Brown, Thomas P. Kamsden and J. H. Crandall, the commissioners appointed some time ago to condemn certain lands for the Chicago, Burlington & Northern road, have completed their labors and reported yesterday. Damages were assessed on twenty-eight pieces as follows: John A. Ford, three pieces, at $100, $300 and $400; Charles E. Draperman, two pieces, at $350 and $700; Samuel Fullerton, two pieces, at $250 and $375; J. O. Kemp, four pieces, at $30, $25, $50 and $175, and the following parties each one piece: Frank Hone, $2,800; Emily Parker, $250; David Tibbetts, $900; George Woodward, $50; Joseph Irish, $75; George Edward, $2; George W. Campbell, $400, and John W. Coffman, $200.

The general term of the district court met yesterday, Judge William M. McCluer presiding. The testimony in cases 46, 47 and 48, all three car company cases, was taken. These three cases were tried together, and tried in a lump. They are the claims of J. A. Tay & Co., J. H. Woolsey and the Union Foundry and Machine works, represented by Warner, Stephens & Laurence. J. N. Castle represents the car company. It is not known what cases will come up today.

Tobogganing is all the rage here. A boy so enthused over the sport that he could not wait until the slide is put up on South Second street, tried coming down the bluff on a small sled yesterday. Once was sufficient for him. He placed himself up with his face and hands scratched and started off on one foot, looking far worse than Sport did after the explosion in the "Rag Baby."

The grand jury reconvened yesterday at 10 a. m. and adjourned in the evening till this morning. The cases up for investigation are those of Fritz Becking and Louis Hefner charged with murder; Charles A. Anderson, grand larceny; J. H. Dolch, adultery; Peter Dolstrom, threatening the life and property of Warden Reed, and one or two others. The session may last several days.

Mr. H. F. Williams, state secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was in the city yesterday. The concert for the benefit of the city hospital will begin at 8:15 and close at 10. If Duluth will send 1,000 persons to the carnival Stillwater will send 1,500. The Stillwater Ski club will take a run to Hudson on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. J. M. Pace is the richest man in the city, his wealth being estimated at between $1,500,000 and $1,750,000. He is president of the Planters' National bank and president of the Memphis, Birmingham & Atlantic railroad. He owns a large ranch in the "Pan-handle" of Texas, the net selling interest in large coal and iron enterprises in Alabama, a great deal of real estate in Richmond, and is a partner in a number of Richmond's prosperous mercantile houses. Mr. Pace is 48 years old and is brimful of nervous energy. His office is in the Planters' bank, where his secretary, Mr. S. C. Weisiger, has a desk. He is a brisk walker and walks from his palatial home on Frank street to the bank every day during the fall and winter seasons, reaching his office at 10 o'clock. Four or five people are generally waiting for him at the bank door, some "talk business," others to commend some object of charity.

$15 FOR $11. Naturally enough, some lines of Overcoats did not sell as well as some others this winter. It may have been that the color, fit or style did not suit; it may have been that our salesmen did not show some styles as much as others. But whatever the reason, the fact remains that we have more Overcoats of some lines left than we should have at this season of the year. One style in particular is Lot 2415. We have about twenty of these Overcoats left. Why they did not all sell before this we do not understand. Certainly the price ($15) was low enough for such a handsome Overcoat as this one is, being made from an All-Wool Dark Brown Chinchilla Beaver, with a silk velvet collar, and cut extra long; but in order to make every one of these Overcoats go AT ONCE, we have marked them to sell for $11 (eleven dollars). At this price there won't be one left by Saturday. Ask for Lot 2415.
