OUT INTO THE STREAM.

AFTER being tumbled and whirled about a good deal she was hurled with great force against the arsenal, perpendicular bank just below the arsenal, badly battered and sunk. The transfer boat J. V. Bogs, lying near the arsenal, was struck with tremendous force, and great chunks of ice were piled against and rolled over her guards. The pressure was too great for her spars, which had been rigged to keep her off shore, and she was pushed partly on the bank and almost crushed in for about sixty feet.

THE COAL SYNDICATE

Gets Its Grip on Wall Street and Keeps Everybody on the Lookout for Its Movements.

Mr. Pierpont Morgan Assumes to do What He Likes With Any Securities in the Market.

Some of the Interested Parties Discover That They Cannot Purchase the Press.

The Recent Riots in London Contain a Valuable Lesson to Reckless Speculators.

A Drexel-Morgan Week. Special to the Globe.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The Sun will say to-morrow: The week was an exclusively Drexel-Morgan week. Values were utterly disregarded and reports of earnings were not even looked at. All that speculators wanted to know was what the "great coal deal" syndicate was going to do, and that meant practically what Mr. Pierpont Morgan was to invent or suggest. He has become the great mogul of the street since the famous West Shore deal, and he evidently thinks he can do whatever he likes with Wall street and the securities dealt in there. He calls in stocks and bonds of corporations that have nothing to do with coal, giving instead of these securities some "Drexel-Morgan certificates" at considerably reduced figures and everybody seems to be satisfied with these sealed down U. O. U.'s. How long will these affairs last? It is not easy to predict. The condition of the market is not so good as it was. The bankrupt condition of most of the roads and the cheapness of money. But Mr. Morgan is only mortal and may depart at any moment. What will then be the fate of the Morgan U. O. U.'s? Then again Mr. Chauncey Depew, probably the ablest corporation lawyer in the country, is at present one of the most friendly supporters of the famous and despotic syndicate, but that always remains so? He is the best informed legal authority on railroad affairs, and would be.

AN ENORMOUS LOSS.

AS yet no signs of his weakening, but it is not clear that the syndicate will be permanently interested in a scheme to bolster up the price of coal. Most people think that the Pennsylvania road will control the situation and it is scarcely likely that the New York Central can be permanently interested in a scheme to bolster up the price of coal. Most people think that the Pennsylvania road will control the situation and it is scarcely likely that the New York Central can be permanently interested in a scheme to bolster up the price of coal.

EX-GOV. SEYMOUR'S FUNERAL.

Simple Services to be Held on Tuesday Afternoon.

UTICA, N. Y., Feb. 14.—The funeral of ex-Gov. Seymour will be held at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from Trinity church. Bishop Huntington will conduct the services, which will be very simple. No public services will be held at the house, and the interment in Forest Hill cemetery will also be private.

REVEALED BY DAVIS' LETTERS.

Sherman's "Imbecility or Betrayal of Trust."

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The Sun prints for the first time six columns of letters written by Jeff Davis and several of his cabinet during the closing days of the Confederacy, and says editorially that the documents make it necessary to rewrite the history of the closing days of the Rebellion, and that for his compact with Johnston in North Carolina Sherman "must be held guilty of either gross imbecility or of scandalous betrayal of his trust." It says that not only Johnston but President Davis and the attendant members of his cabinet, far from being palsied by the stroke of irreparable defeat, were strong and full of life. Sherman was an unbiased and hopeless cause, and came within a hair's breadth of securing never amid the shock of shipwreck than had ever been conceded in the flush of their success. But for Stanton, the Sun declares, the rebels would have lost all it won by Grant at Richmond.

Fed $250 to His Hogs.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 14.—W. A. Goer fed his hogs yesterday morning, and came to town for the purpose of making purchases. He had a small party with him, and contained $250, and at once retraced his steps without stumbling across his treasure. At last he decided that he must have dropped the money while feeding his hogs, and immediately set to work to kill them, the result of which was that he had a number of hogs which he had not been killed. Mr. Hill will send the pulp to the treasury department for exchange.

A Strong Indian Protest.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 14.—Indian Territory officials say that the Cherokee, Choctaws, Chickasaws, Creeks and Seminoles are protesting against the bill introduced in congress by Mr. Peel of Arkansas, which provides that a United States court shall be established at Fayetteville, Ark., where cases from Indian Territory may be tried. The Indians demand that the court shall be established in the territory, claiming that the federal government pledged itself to provide a court there in 1836 and promised to do so every year since that period. They assert that Indians accused of crime have been taken to Fort Smith on false charges, while the promise of a court remains a dead letter. United States senators who are known to be friendly to Indian interests are urged to prevent the passage of the bill, and to locate the court in the United States court in the Indian Territory.

Canon Captured.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Feb. 14.—To-day Marshal Ireland went to Nevada to recover a certain George Q. Cannon from the Nevada sheriff at Winnemucca. The United States marshal had offered $500 for Cannon's arrest. He has been hiding nearly a year. Cannon was secretly put on the sleeping car Santa Clara, which was hooked on as a dead car to the regular train, and so it was hoped to get him away from the officers. Cannon is said to be the chief mind in the Mormon church and one whose authority from his retreat has caused the reported orders to the faithful to stand firm and uphold polygamy.

Miss Aldridge's Condition.

WINDSOR, Ill., Feb. 14.—Miss Georgia Aldridge, who so narrowly escaped being killed by unknown ruffians Friday night, regained consciousness to-day, but her statements throw no light upon the mystery. A neighbor's wife, who heard Miss Aldridge's cry of alarm Friday night, has been called in by the police to give her chances of recovery are now almost as bright as those of Miss Aldridge.

Large Parliamentary Fund.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 14.—At a meeting of the Catholic Total Abstinence union of Philadelphia held this afternoon the branch societies made responses to the recent circular calling for contributions for a Irish parliamentary fund. The returns aggregated $8,517. A cablegram was at once sent to Mr. Parnell announcing that over $1,700 had been contributed by the meeting. The contributions received by Mr. A. J. Drexel, treasurer of the citizens' committee, in aid of the Parnell fund amounts to $12,913.

Since the recent riots in London the Russian government has renewed negotiations with England, with the object of inducing people in London to contribute to a fund for the extradition of political criminals.
