Mayor Pillsbury Still Insists That He is Not a Candidate for More Mayorality Honors.

THE WHIRL OF POLITICS.

Matters General and Particular, Preceding the Nominations.

As will be seen below, Mayor Pillsbury once more affirms his repeatedly expressed determination to withdraw from politics, and yet the statement given yesterday morning, came straight from a Republican undoubted standing. Before Mayor Pillsbury had been heard from, this gentleman said yesterday:

"There is a certain clique which runs and controls the Republican party in Minneapolis, and at least has some influence in it. I shall not be so no longer. Well, this clique brought Pillsbury out two years ago and got the idea it could do anything. The other day I was moving in a certain back office on Nicollet avenue and the availability of certain candidates was discussed. George Brackett was named and discussed, it being argued that I could be defeated. Capt. S. P. Sluder was the favorite because he is a thorough-going gentleman and has a 'hard' besides. But he could not be induced to make the canvass hard as those gentlemen labored with him. Then Maj. Hoeffelinger was agreed upon. He was a good soldier, it was thought that he would put his barrel on top if necessary. He was waited upon and agreed to accept the nomination if tendered him, the manipulators being the thought that this was the best. Well, everything was arranged and the back-office gentlemen rubbed their hands with satisfaction, but then came a thunderbolt in the consideration of Mayor Pillsbury. The caucus was knocked out on the first round, but rallied and put its hands together. It was solemnly decided that as Mr. Pillsbury had declined he could not come back and they would support Hoeffelinger. This they will do and a jolly row is now in prospect.

Later in the day came the mayor's ultimatum and the next morning the caucus of the Republican party. It looks now as though Maj. Hoeffelinger will be the Republican nominee.

State Makers Iterate Again. The "back-office" state makers again rejoice. They had fixed upon Maj. Hoeffelinger as their choice for mayor, and just as that conclusion had been amicably arrived at, the state makers were dismayed by the announcement that Mayor Pillsbury had been induced to again enter the lists. But the announcement was of the grapevine telegraph order, and the grapevine, while it is not a very reliable messenger of truth, is sometimes in error, and the rumor that Mayor Pillsbury had reconsidered his declination was one of the sometimes. A GLOBE reporter was most courteously received by his honor the mayor yesterday, and given one of the large comfortable office chairs.

"Rumor has it, Mr. Mayor, that you have been induced to reconsider your declination and that you are about to be nominated. Is it unambiguously tendered. Is there anything in it?" queried the reporter.

"Nothing whatever," replied his honor with emphasis. "It is not a matter of great deal as being said but there is no ground for it."

"Then you have held no conference with any of the Republicans who are so anxious to keep you in official harness?"

"There has been no conference, and I don't know any has been contemplated. I will simply assure you that my first declination was final. I am not a candidate for mayor, and cannot conceive any combination of circumstances which could arise in the campaign that would induce me to consent to accept a nomination or any other nomination. With the second Tuesday in April I will retire from office and from politics, and the mayor's sight will be put on his great coat and prepared to close up shop for the day.

Applicatory to the above is the manifestly well-founded theory, at the prominent reason for the strenuous effort to induce Mayor Pillsbury to head the spring ticket is his wealth, and his well-known liberality. The campaign of two years ago was an expensive one to him and this is a certain resume that the pending election would be less expensive. Once in the Pillsbury family would spare no money or labor to carry the day. The tricksters and sharper wire-pullers would carry off the spoils, and that, to them, is the great political desideratum. Mayor Pillsbury evidently appreciates the situation.

Johnson and Tousey. Only by inference is it publicly known that Ald. E. M. Johnson is a candidate for re-election to the city council from the Second ward. When he stated at the last meeting of the council that he was about to retire from office his colors looked up with manifest surprise. But they promptly concluded that Mr. Johnson had read Browne's lines:

True fame is ever likened to our shade; He scowls missest her that most hath made To overtake her. Who takes his wing Regardless of her, she'll be following; Her true property she'll not give away; Loves her contentments and contents her lovers.

But it seems quite likely that Mr. Johnson is anxious for something. He says he is not fighting for the mayorality nomination and as to the other he says nothing. He has a record of which he is proud--or he is proud of part of it. The much-mooted patrol-limit ordinance he now studiously shrugs, although it is not apparent how it could in any way hamper his prospects in the Second. The stone-arch bridge resolution is the one particular thing that swells to magnificent proportions in his political eye. He says it must and will be built, and his encouragement and hearty approval is said "Amen." Ald. Johnson's last coup d'etat, or stroke of policy, was his refusal to sign the order giving Prof. Tousey his salary during the time the professor was absent from the city enjoying a tour in the East. The amount voted by the board of education to Prof. Tousey for the time mentioned is $360, and Ald. Johnson, who is secretary of the board of education, realizing that it is a misappropriation of the school fund, will stop the payment by withholding his official signature. Bravo.

A Sixth warder criticised the wisdom and justice of the ruling of the Democratic central city committee in the matter of the appointment of ward representation in the city convention, by basing it on the presidential election instead of upon a municipal election. He states that the ballot for president in his ward was overwhelmingly for Blaine, whereas the ward representation in the municipal election is based on the presidential vote the Sixth ward will, consequently, receive a fifth representation.

Political Pointers. A meeting of the French Independent club of the Thirtieth will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon, at Germania hall, on Main street northeast. All the candidates for aldermen will address the meeting, and a talk will be given by J. B. A. Paradis, editor of Le Progres.

The executive committee has called a convention of the workmen of the Third ward to meet at Hunt's hall, 309 Plymouth avenue, on Saturday evening, March 13, for the purpose of nominating an alderman, and considering such other business as may arise.

A. H. Mitchell says other workmen can't pull him into politics. He intends to have a loop attached to the electric light in front of his residence so he can stay at home evenings and read the GLOBE.

A. H. Perry says he's got three precincts solid in the Sixth ward, the balance of the candidates feel safe in denying his assertion.

A workingman of the Third ward says there are so many candidates that it will be difficult to get any one to act as chairman at the caucuses.

The Democratic committee of the Eighth ward is composed of Dr. H. N. Avery, chairman; Charles Miller and R. P. Russell.

All the Republicans are asking, "Who can we get to run?" and here's Col. Clark standing with outstretched arms.

The first election of the season takes place to-day--the Press club holds its annual meeting.

C. P. Shay of the Sixth ward denies that he has aldermanic aspirations.

A MELTED FLAKE. Mysterious Disappearance of the Janitor of the Hennepin Block.

William Flake, the janitor of the Hennepin block, has added his name to the list of those who have "turned up missing." He left his home, 213 Thirteenth avenue south, on Friday afternoon, and that evening attended the Fraternity lodge of Odd Fellows, since which time he has not been heard of. The occupants of the block say they have remarked symptoms of aberration of mind for the past two weeks. A wife and four young children mourn his departure and are left utterly unprovided for. The wife said, yesterday:

"I have no notion where he is, and I can't conceive what made him go away. He was as pleasant yesterday as a man could be, but I see now he was thinking about seeing for some time. He collected every cent that was coming to him and took his clothes. And he told the folks at the block he was going off for six weeks, and he told the men at the lodge, too, last night, and told them not to tell. He left all the bills unpaid and not without a cent, and the children.

THE DISTRICT COURT. Yesterday's Special Term Calendar--

Ernest De la Walle vs. Will. Yesterday's special term of the district court was decidedly uninteresting. Of the thirty-two cases, seven were continued. The suits of Cox Bros. vs. P. B. Broughton, C. W. Shatto vs. W. J. Abernethy & Co., were stricken from the calendar. Denunciations were sustained in the suits of John Bostard vs. Gilson F. Farrington, Michael Sullivan vs. Charles Chandler and P. H. Sullivan, guardians, P. E. Lockwood vs. C. E. Mabie; a partition of certain real estate between Fastina M. Roberts et al. was allowed; Peter Anderson was allowed to change his name to Peter G. Anderson; Wilson & Bradbury vs. Norman B. Harwood, referee's report examined; Wolverson & Lewis vs. A. C. Houghton, motion granted; Henry Blaise vs. C. F. Davis, et al., tried and judgment entered in plaintiff's favor; Farnum vs. Robert W. Jordan, defendant, H. N. Peck, assigned, judgment for plaintiff. Only one divorce case came up for trial, it being the suit of David M. N. Prince vs. Nancy A. Prince, in which adultery is alleged as a cause of action. There was no appearance of the defendant. On the testimony of the plaintiff and V. G. Bryant, it developed that the plaintiff resides in McLeod county and the court doubted his jurisdiction, but took the case under advisement.

A petition to prove will was filed yesterday in the estate of Leonard Day in the probate court. The will bequeaths to Lorenza D. Day, John W. Day, Augustine A. Day, William H. H. Day, Emily Brown, Lena Ann, Harriett, children by his first wife, $3,000; to Laura A. Day, his wife, and infant son, Leonard Day, Jr., the balance of the estate is left, which the petition states will not exceed $500,000.

Alders C. Mendon and Martina Primeau, Tom Stawarski and Nictory Nowak, Albin Segolson and Tilda Jansen, Howard S. Webber and Hilda Peterson, Simon Swanson and Mary Henderson, Peter Euschad and Bertha Wagner, Alonzo Keegan and Lena Zrauba yesterday obtained marriage licenses.

Charles Gravel yesterday commenced an action against Henry B. Beard to recover $3,648.30.

Forty-nine warranty deeds were yesterday filed with the register of deeds, the considerations of which amounted to $80,355.

The report of M. F. Bowen, the referee appointed to examine the showing of ex-Sheriff Thompson in regard to the moneys handled by him in connection with the failure of N. J. Harwood, was made yesterday. The court found that the report of the referee was correct, and it was approved, after deducting about $600 which Mr. Thompson had paid on an execution that the referee had not allowed.

A HAPPY SURPRISE. Conductor Sibley of the Milwaukee Road Pleasantly Remembered.

About a hundred friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Sibley gave them a very pleasant surprise at their home in Union Park, Friday evening, the occasion so pleasantly celebrated being the forty-third birthday of Mr. Sibley. John McMillan, in a felicitous little speech, presented Mr. and Mrs. Sibley with an elegant French clock and three sets of bronze statuary. Notwithstanding the presentation was a complete surprise, Mr. Sibley found words to express his thanks in a very happy manner. A most enjoyable time followed, refreshments being served by Dorner, and at 1 p. m. the party returned to Minneapolis on a special train over the Milwaukee road. Mr. Sibley, who was made the recipient of this happy remembrance, has been a conductor on the road for the past twenty-three years. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Dorner, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Honessy, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. Daley, Mr. and Mrs. Rieker, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Bergstade, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Downey, Mr. and Mrs. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Pulford, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Ramsdell, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Patton, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Breyer, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. G. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lobdel, Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wiggins, Mr. and Mrs. L. Shepley, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Morse, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Yerxa, Mr. and Mrs. Smith Jones, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. H. Seelye, Mr. and Mrs. D. Goodrich, Misses Maggie Nahn, Bertha Collin, Kittie Christian, Minnie Churchill, Mamma Wiggins, Mamie Bean, Messrs. William Mowder, Charles Lavelle, Joe Trussone, William Pulford, Nat Thompson, Ed Johnson, Ned Hess, Charles Goshorn, Dr. McCollum, E. W. Raeholder and others.

ABOUT THE CITY. People acquainted with the way in which street car drivers have to work, fifteen hours or over a day, will appreciate the following: The wife of a street car driver recently complained to the district court for divorce, alleging infidelity and charging that for several months he had lived with another woman, whom she, however, exculpates from any intention of wrong-doing. It appears that the driver seduced the woman, and she was the result in a suit for divorce instead of an arrest for bigamy.

"If of Pillsbury speaks for it, go tar agin Doc Ames," soliloquized a sabbie-toned artist the other day in a Washington avenue barber shop, "yo' ken jus' bet he'll have ter spend a powah of money, a powah of monee. Yo' heah me--I'll take de ole stuff to pull him through."

"Johnson," said a dignified gentleman in the chair, who by the way is a member of a fashionable church as well as the Union League club, "Johnson, do you know that that's all nonsense your talking? No money will be spent by the Republicans but for legitimate campaign expenses."

"No, sir," responded the gentleman severely, "and another thing, Johnson, this talk of Pillsbury's spending so much money when he ran for mayor is entirely untrue. I know myself that only a few hundred dollars was expended, and Mr. Pillsbury wouldn't authorize any such proceeding."

"Yah! yah!" shrieked Mr. Johnson, who seemed to be bursting with suppressed laughter.

"Johnson, that is the truth," said the member of the G. O. P.

"'Fo' de Lawd, of dat ain't a good 'un," responded the skeptical Mr. Johnson.

"What 'o' glibben me? 'Fo' jis see heah. I'm a coach, 'I'm a lawyer, 'I'm a doctor, but las' time I got $60--an' I'm nothin'! Wha' do yo' 'spose de big guns got? Wha' d'yo' 'spose 'at yo' 'representative 'Publicans' muns' had got, when I got sixty, an' I'se nothin'?"

Mr. Johnson's argument was convincing and the disciple of Nettletonism had nothing more to say.

The GLOBE's suggestion that an illuminated clock should be placed in the tower of the Metropolitan building is not generally approved. The railroad company should not mind a little thing like that when it is striving for popular favor.

PASTORS AND PAPERS. The city pastors meet to-morrow to decide how a newspaper should be run. As this is a comparatively harmless amusement no one will feel like denying the right of the clergy to indulge in it, for like other mortals they must have their recreations and pastimes. Some of the brethren, however, have a different way of looking upon it. To hit the paper and the religious snafu of captiousness somewhat. This, however, is called candor. "I am speaking candidly, and do not wish to be harsh," said one reverend gentleman, as he buffeted about the lines of the average newspaper man in his mind's eye. If this candor is to continue, why should it not be reciprocal? and why shouldn't the reporters be candid?

For instance, the Monday morning reports of sermons are generally written in a laudatory vein, and are invariably preceded by the introduction that "Rev. So-and-so last evening preached an exceedingly interesting discourse upon Popular Amusements." So convincing was his logic and well-timed was his remarks that those who listened to his remarks must have been convinced of the evil tendency of the many so-called amusements of the day, etc., and follows a column or so of the minister's opinions about matters in general.

Suppose that the newspapers should be candid and undertake to report the Sunday pulpit, as candidly as the reporters are supposed to be instructed to give their impartial opinions of the sermons they are sent to listen to. The report would in many instances read something like this: "Rev. So-and-so preached a congregation consisting of about 100 people last evening. His theme, Popular Amusements, was handled in a manner indicating profound ignorance of the subject, and that the gentleman's laudatory expressions and doleful denunciations, it must have been apparent to all that it is impossible to understand or appreciate. In the slightest degree, what amusements are. The gist of his discourse can be summed up in a few words--dancing, card-playing, theatres, music, and those are devices of the devil. Prayer meetings and church festivals are the only healthful and safe recreations for the young."

Without further enlargement upon the subject it can be readily understood what a

The annual meeting of the Press club, which occurs this afternoon, will be of unusual interest and importance. The election of officers will take place and the annual reports will be submitted. This will be the final meeting of the club in the syndicate block, as the new room in Winslow block will be opened, probably with a housewarming, within ten days.

The annual masquerade of the West Side Turner society will take place at their hall on Tuesday next. Grand preparations are being made in the shape of decorating the hall for the occasion and a program of the funniest amusements will be shown on the stage, after which Prince and Princess Carnival will appear by magic and lead the grand march. All friends of the society wishing to take part should see a committee in time, as there will be no tickets sold at the door.

PERSONALS. George R. Robinson is in California. W. E. Steele and wife are at Washington. Rev. P. H. Haley of Chicago is at the West. Frank A. Shoemaker yesterday returned from the East.

Bismarck, Dak., $55.00; Billings, Mont., $117.00; Dickinson, " " 55.00; Park City, " 120.00; Medora, " " 60.00; Stillwater, " 122.00; Minnetonka, " " 60.00; Mankato, " 124.00; Mingo Lake, Minn., 72.00; Grey Cliff, " 127.00; Glenview, " " 84.00; Big Timber, " 130.00; Fallon, " " 80.00; Springfield, " 131.00; Rapid, " " 88.00; Livingston, " 132.00; Afton, " " 92.00; Bozeman, " 150.00; Miles City, " " 93.00; Moreland, " 155.00; Rosebud, " " 101.00; Gallatin, " 158.00; Forsyth, " " 105.00; Townsend, " 155.00; Howard, " " 112.00; Helena, " 160.00; Custer, " " 112.00.

Taking effect at once the following rates will apply on cattle, horses or sheep, car-loads, O. R. from the same points to the following points:

Table with columns: Point, Rate. Drummond, " $165; Spokane Falls, " $200; Missoula, " " 170; Coeur d'Alene, " 200; Horse Plains, " 177; Sprague, " 200; Thompson Falls, " 180; Lind, " 200; Heron, " 183; Palouse, " 200; Ferry, " 186; N. Y. Yakima, " 200; Rathdrum, " 200; Wallula, " 200.

When double decks are used for sheep, the additional cost of the sheep by ship, at their own expense and risk, and without injury to the cars. These rates do not apply to stallions. Shipments to points between Drummond and the Dalles, and between Pasco and N. Yakima, not named above, will take the same rates as those beyond, and must be prepaid to stations where there are no agents.

Rates Merely Nominal. LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 6.--The excitement in the passenger rate war here was intense to-day when it was announced that the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific were cutting into one another with the fiercest array. The rates now ruling are: Limited to Kansas City $4, Chicago $8, New York $20. Immigrant tickets are sold at a dollar or two less, and much business is being done.

The Southern Pacific kept lowering rates until they reached $1 to Kansas City, and to Chicago $7 for limited tickets. After quite a number of tickets had been sold at these rates prices were advanced to those maintained by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe's system, viz.: Kansas City, limited, $10; emigrant, $3; Chicago, limited, $15; emigrant, $13; New York, limited, $28; emigrant, $25.

ANOTHER BIG CUT. SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.--Limited tickets underwent another decided cut this morning. The following open rates are made by all roads: Chicago $20, New York $35, Boston $37. Round-trip tickets to New York, allowing thirty days stop over, were sold this morning at $92.35. Similar tickets to Chicago $62.50.

CHICAGO, March 6.--The announcement was made to-day that California roads out of Kansas City and Omaha are offering round-trip tickets from those points to San Francisco for $75, good for fifteen days in going and ninety days for returning.

NEW YORK, March 6.--It is stated by well-informed persons that negotiations are in progress among the transcontinental roads looking to the settlement of their war in the near future, that peace may be expected about March 15. The cutting in the meantime continues, the rates to-day being 75 and 50 cents per 100 pounds from New York to San Francisco. There seems little likelihood of lower passenger rates.

RAILWAY EARNINGS. NEW YORK, March 6.--The statement of the Louisville and Nashville railroad for the month of February shows gross earnings of $1,060,460, a decrease compared with the same month last year of $19,547.

The gross earnings of the Omaha railroad for the same month were $385,000, an increase over the same month last year of $7,300.

The gross earnings of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad for the month of February were $122,818, an increase over the same month of last year of $25,000.

The Oregon Railway & Navigation earnings for February were $205,000, an increase over the same month of last year of $66,117.

CHANGED GRAIN RATES. A meeting of the general and district freight agents of the Milwaukee & St. Paul, Chicago & Northwestern, Omaha, Minneapolis & St. Louis and Rock Island roads was held at Milwaukee on Friday to discuss the grain rates for the coming season. The following rates were agreed upon to Chicago, Milwaukee and common points: Northfield, Dundas, Cannon Falls, 20 cents; Faribault, 21 cents; Owatonna to Austin, 21 cents; 21 cents; Waseca, 21 cents; Albert Lea, 23 cents; Wells and Mankato, 23 cents.

Notes. G. M. Cumming, formerly assistant land commissioner of the Northern Pacific road, is in the city from Duluth.

The forty-two coinists from Vermont who arrived in Minneapolis Friday, did not come over the Rock Island, but the Milwaukee & St. Paul road.

The Northern Pacific has already booked several excursion parties for the Yellowstone National park.
