The Mankato Postoffice Continues to Attract Attention—Who is Legal Postmaster?

Sparks Writes Strait a Letter on Supplementary Entry of Lands by Widows.

A Razor's Deadly Work. Special to the Globe.

OMAHA, Neb., April 2.—Early this morning the body of a man was discovered on the bank of the river near Body's packing house with his throat cut from ear to ear. Beside him was found a razor. It is supposed the man died by his own hand. Several papers were found on the person of the victim, which would indicate that his name was A. J. Anderson, and that he had come from Minnesota. One was a naturalization certificate which he had just taken out in Carver county, Minnesota, while still another was a railroad ticket to Scandia, Republic county, Kan. A letter was found addressed to Miss Annie Anderson, 102 Fourth street, Minneapolis, from which it is to be presumed that he had relatives living in that city. Another letter was addressed to Miss Jennie Lott, 325 First avenue south, Minneapolis. Still another letter, written by the man himself in the Swedish language, was addressed to A. P. Aspiroren, Scandia, Kan. In it the writer says he will leave on March 29 for Scandia and expects to arrive there April 2. No other papers which would throw any light upon the case were found upon the person of the dead man. He was evidently a workman and probably about 35 years of age. He was dressed in a suit of dark jeans with a heavy blue jacket overcoat. The remains are in the hands of the coroner.

Who is Postmaster of Mankato?

WASHINGTON, April 2.—A good deal of interest is felt now in the next step in the Mankato postoffice matter. The query now arises, since the objection of the recently-appointed postmaster, whether or not the former official who was suspended when this one was nominated, will resume the duties of the office. This is a question which has never yet been fully determined. If the old official does not resume and if one drops out of the race, the question arises who will conduct the business of the office until a successor shall be appointed. The department will probably wrestle with this problem next week unless the president sends in another nomination at once. Nothing is known here now as to what course will probably be pursued.

WHAT WIDOWS MAY DO

In Making Additions to Entries Made by Husbands.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Congressman Strait has received the following letter from the general land office bearing upon rights to make second entries or additional entries within railroad limits. It is written in reply to an inquiry as to whether a widow whose late husband had taken rights in lands within the railroad limits might take another eighty acres. It is as follows: A letter from D. M. Taylor, Esq., of Marshall, Minn., dated March 4, 1886, is received by you, in returned herewith. In reply you are informed that additional homestead entries under the act of March 3, 1879, can be made only for lands contiguous to the lands embraced in the original entry. Persons entitled to the privileges of said act who have not received patent for the land embraced in the original entries may relinquish their original homestead and thereafter make new entries anywhere that lands subject to homestead entry are to be found. The homestead act of March 3, 1879, may make a new or additional entry on the same conditions that her husband might have made had he been living. The widow's original entry, the widow may make an additional entry in her own right for 160 acres. New or additional entries under the act mentioned may be made without payment of fees and commissions. [The act of July 1, 1878, 21 statute, 46.] The law of July 1879, which you refer to, is not applicable to Minnesota. Very respectfully, WILLIAM J. SPARKS, Commissioner.

PRISON CITY PIETY.

Sixteen Churches Necessary to Furnish the Spiritual Food of the Flourishing Suburb.

Sketches of the Different Edifices Which Have Contributed to Stillwater's Prosperity.

St. Michael's, Catholic, the Wealthiest and the First Presbyterian the Oldest of the Churches.

Something About the Other Organizations, Their History and Their Pastors.

Stillwater has 16 church societies, 15 of which own houses of worship. The total valuation of these is $315,000; in other words, $19,687.50 for each church. The average attendance, 2,400. The Globe has obtained a history of each, which is appended below. The statistics presented are accurate, having been obtained from the pastors or leaders. The figures are given to Stillwater, which is acknowledged to have more church-going people than any city of the size in the West. The most complete and valuable church in St. Michael's (Catholic), which is worth $130,000. The second is the St. Mary's (German Catholic), worth $55,000, and the third is the Presbyterian, worth $45,000.

ST. MICHAEL'S.

The St. Michael's church was organized in 1853, the first services being held by Rev. Father Pezragosa, a missionary. The first edifice erected was on Fourth and Mulberry streets, measuring 34x50 feet, and Rev. Father Fisher was the first clergyman stationed here. Rev. Father Murray succeeded Father Fisher and had the edifice enlarged and improved at a cost of $3,000 in 1857. Rev. Father McManus succeeded Rev. Murray, who went to Hastings and returned in 1860. He was succeeded by the Rev. Father M. E. Murphy, the present pastor. The population of Stillwater was then only 3,500, and there were about 400 in the society, and the property was valued at $5,000. The present church, on Kasota trimming, and is of the composite order. The tower stands 200 feet in height, and can be seen for miles. The cross at the top is illuminated with electric light at several places in New York city. The church has a seating capacity of 1,200, and is the best in the state. There are eight chime bells of the Mosheim and Feltz make, valued at $1,000. The church was organized in 1854 and the edifice was erected the same year. The two bells of 700 lbs. weight and the organ, valued at $1,000, were purchased by Mr. Ross, filling the pulpit temporarily. A permanent pastor will probably be called the coming spring.

ST. JOSEPH'S.

The St. Joseph church was organized by the present pastor, Rev. Father E. Roe, in 1852 with seventeen members, which has since been increased to eighty families. A new frame edifice was erected in 1859, with a seating capacity of 400, costing about $8,000, corner of Olive and Greeley streets. The church property is valued at $10,000. The present pastor is Rev. Father E. Roe, who has been in charge since 1878. The church is in a flourishing condition. The congregation is increasing, and the pastor is well liked by the people.

THE CONGREGATIONAL.

The Congregational church is one of the earliest in the state. It is a brick structure of the Gothic architecture on the corner of Laurel and Fifth streets, and cost $4,000. The society was organized in 1854 and the edifice was erected the same year. The two bells of 700 lbs. weight and the organ, valued at $1,000, were purchased by Mr. Ross, filling the pulpit temporarily. A permanent pastor will probably be called the coming spring.

THE BAPTIST.

The Baptist church, corner Fourth and Pine streets, Rev. D. H. Simpson, pastor, was organized in 1851, and owns a house of worship and parsonage valued at $4,000, and a debt. Both buildings are frame. The deacons are Dr. G. E. Clark, Luther Morse and J. N. Seales, and the clerk W. H. Beardsley. The membership is 140. St. Vincent de Paul conference, membership 30; Ladies' society, membership 140; St. Vincent de Paul conference, membership 140; and Children of the Home, membership 140. The church is in a flourishing condition. The congregation is increasing, and the pastor is well liked by the people.

FIRST GERMAN LUTHERAN.

The First German Lutheran church was organized in 1871 with twenty-five families. The edifice and parsonage are on Third street, near Olive, and cost $10,000. The church is in a flourishing condition. The congregation is increasing, and the pastor is well liked by the people.

ST. MARY'S.

The St. Mary's church, on P. Alphonse Kruske, O. S. B., pastor, was organized in 1855 and owns a church edifice costing about $25,000, on Fifth street, near Pine. The church is in a flourishing condition. The congregation is increasing, and the pastor is well liked by the people.

SHIP OF 200. F. H. Ewing is the efficient superintendent and has a large corps of excellent teachers. The average attendance is 125 to 150. Usually every seat in the prayer room is taken and extra chairs are required. The church has a thriving class meeting each Sabbath at noon, also an interesting class meeting every evening. The ladies of the church have a regular prayer meeting every Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Dunn has been the pastor over a year. The debt is $1,000.

EPISCOPAL ASCENSION.

The Episcopal Ascension church took its first beginning in the labors of Rev. E. A. Greenleaf, a missionary to the West. The first services were held in the house of Miss Phoebe Greeley, on Ascension day, in 1851 the corner stone of the Episcopal church, now used as a blacksmith shop, near Dr. Carr's, was laid by Rev. E. A. Greenleaf. The first pastor was Rev. Joseph A. Russell, in 1853, with nineteen communicants. In 1873 the corner stone of the edifice, now used as a blacksmith shop, was laid by Rev. E. A. Greenleaf. The building was finished in 1875 at a cost of $16,000 and consecrated by thirteen clergymen, and is free from debt. The congregation numbers ninety members and has no permanent pastor at present, but one will be called as soon as a pipe organ is purchased and the edifice is ready for service. Rev. Langlois is filling the pulpit temporarily.

THE UNIVERSALIST.

The Universalist church society was incorporated June 8, 1858, and the first preaching was by Rev. E. H. Johnson of St. Anthony, in 1858. The edifice is on Third street south. It is a splendid brick structure with a tower and the second best bell in the city and cost about $15,000. The last payment was $2,500, which was made a few days ago. The edifice was commenced in 1870, but was not completed till 1880 for lack of funds. The church is at present without a pastor and has a membership and average attendance of fifty. A pastor will probably be called in the spring.
