THE SHORT LINE LIMITED.

How the Royal Route Will Run Its Fast Trains.

The only tickets to be sold for these trains are those reading to or through stations named in time card. Neither will these trains stop at any other stations, either to receive or deliver passengers. No extra passage fare will be charged, but only the following classes of tickets will be accepted on these trains: Regular first-class tickets limited or unlimited, including round trip, either local or coupon, and commercial trip; one-thousand-mile tickets, both regular and commercial; clergy annual half-fare permits and theatrical half-fare permits; theatrical tickets, unless stamped, "not good on limited," and annual passes. The following tickets will not be honored on limited trains: Second-class, third-class, emigrant tickets, tickets marked "military," "employee" or "special," trip or season half-fare permits, unless bearing official endorsement or stamp, "good on limited," United States government requisitions for transportation.

The regular sleeping-car fare will be charged, but no one person will be permitted to occupy a whole section without presenting an additional passenger ticket or paying an additional fare. The trains will be composed of new and elegant sleeping cars especially constructed for this service, with smoking compartment, and equipped with all the latest appliances for comfort and safety; also superb day coaches, and baggage cars of the latest standard.

The following is the train and time of the first "short line limited train" that leaves St. Paul and Minneapolis, Sunday night, May 2, over the Royal Route: Engineer, W. C. Ryan, conductor, William Edgar, passenger conductor, J. T. Fredericks, baggage man, J. H. Pierce, brakemen, Robert Alexander and J. S. Smith, engine No. 225, baggage car No. 225, coaches Nos. 26 and 27, and the sleeping car Triumph, which was exhibited by the Pullman company at the World's exposition this spring in New Orleans.

Trains over the Royal Route, Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha and the Chicago & Northwestern railways will leave and arrive St. Paul and Minneapolis, commencing to-day, as follows:

THE RUMORS WERE FALSE.

Mr. W. T. Farwell's Partner Explains the Former's Absence.

Mr. Frederick Stewart, the business partner of W. T. Farwell, says that there is no foundation for the rumor that Mr. Farwell had left the city under peculiar circumstances. On the contrary, Mr. Farwell went away on business connected with a real estate firm and expected to be gone two or three weeks, intending to go to Chicago and to visit several points in Canada before his return. His business affairs here are in most satisfactory condition. So far as leaving his family in straightened circumstances, he left a bank account of from $6,000 to $7,000 and $20,000 to $30,000 worth of valuable real estate unencumbered. Mr. Stewart says that he will pay all Mr. Farwell's indebtedness upon presentation of the bills at his office. Ada Leonard is a young Irish girl 17 or 18 years old and possessed of no special attractions. She desired to go to Milwaukee to school, and, having been employed for some months in Mr. Farwell's family, asked the privilege of accompanying him that far on his way to Chicago. "That is all there is of the story, according to Mr. Stewart's statement. He expresses the opinion that the story was put into circulation by a malicious person who is an enemy of Mr. Farwell's."

The Royal Arcanum.

Amongst the secret, beneficiary orders of the United States, very few, if any, surpass the Royal Arcanum. It was organized in Boston, Mass., on June 23, 1877, to meet the growing demand for beneficiary order founded on business principles and incorporating the improvements which modern experience and study had suggested. The supreme council of this order was chartered under the general law of Massachusetts by a certificate of incorporation dated Nov. 5, 1877. The objects of the order are to unite fraternal all while men of sound bodily health and good moral character, who are socially acceptable and between 21 and 55 years of age; to relieve sick and distressed members and to establish a widows' and orphans' benefit fund, from which, on the death of a member, a sum of $3,000 is paid to his family or those dependent on him, as he may direct. The success which has attended the operations of this order is almost unparalleled in the history of benefit societies. At the present time it has a membership of 65,000, the average number of assessments per year since its organization being nine, and the average amount of an assessment per member only $1.38, one assessment amounting to over $130,000. This success and the low assessments are due solely to the rigid medical examination to which all applicants are subjected and the restricting of the operations of the order to territory free from epidemics, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, South Carolina, and a portion of Tennessee, Kentucky and Georgia being excluded on that account.

GRAND GILMORE JUBILEE.

The Veteran Leader is Coming With His Band and Artists.

The public of St. Paul will be rejoiced to know that Gilmore will be here again next week Friday and Saturday, and will give one of his distinctively and peculiarly Gilmorean jubilees with the aid of his wonderful band and all the eccentrics of canons, anvils and the like, and with the aid of such splendid prima donnas as Letitia Fritch, Zella de Lussan, the favorite of the Boston Ideal; Jules Lombard, the famous war-song singer, and George F. Root, the distinguished war-song composer. We need not add another word to the advertisement in another column. The festival is big with promise of such attractions as Gilmore only knows how to provide.

Snack Thieves at Work.

Yesterday some unknown person entered room No. 1 of the new block at the Seven corners, on Erie street, occupied by Michael O'Neil and E. J. Cooney, and took articles of wearing apparel to the value of $50. It is supposed the servant neglected to lock the door of the room after caring for it in the morning, and that the vigilant sneak thief responsible. O'Neil lost a suit of clothes and light overcoat valued at $50. From Cooney a valise and minor articles were stolen to the value of $20. The police were notified.

Work of the Rice Street Gang.

Several of the Rice street gang secured a keg of beer Friday night and proceeded to get very full thereon in a shanty in the rear of the Steinkamp's store, on La Fond street, between Western avenue and Arundel street. At about 11 o'clock they drew so annoying in their orgies that Mrs. Connolly, an old lady living near by, ventured forth to beg them to desist. The youthful desperados assaulted her, knocking her down and hurting her severely. Afterwards they broke several windows in the house of Mrs. McMahon. The gang occupied the officers.

W. A. Wilson's Death.

Mr. W. A. Wilson, formerly a commercial traveler for a Milwaukee firm and well known in St. Paul, died at his home in Milwaukee on Thursday after a long and painful illness. Until the first of this year Mr. Wilson was on the road and in that capacity he has become well known throughout the Northwest. The news of his death, while not unexpected, will be a sad shock to a very large circle of friends, by whom he was esteemed for his honorable business qualities and generous and genial character. Mr. Wilson was 37 years of age and leaves a wife.

A WISE MAN

Studies economy in his expenditures, which is only another way of saying that when a wise man wants to get a new Spring Overcoat, or a good Suit, or some Clothing for his boys, he comes to the Great

Manhattan Clothing Co.

And makes his selection there, in preference to going anywhere else.

WHY SO?

Well, the best way for you to understand the reason will be to pay a visit to our store and take a look at the stock and prices. Our goods are all new, fresh and desirable, and

SUPERIOR

Style, Quality and Workmanship, These prominent features are deserving of the consideration of purchasers. The place to trade is where you can get the most for your money, and that place is emphatically at

THE MANHATTAN.

The Manhattan exists as the IDEAL CLOTHING House, not only in St. Paul but in the different cities where it has branches, and this for the reasons that it

MANUFACTURES ITS OWN GOODS,

And by the large use of capital, by the employment of the best energy and skill, by sound principles continuously applied, the MANHATTAN keeps first in the trade of the entire country. This fact is recognized elsewhere and soon will be so here. Our position has been attained by the following facts:

BY COMPLETENESS!

Or, in other words, by vast and unapproachable stocks in every department.

BY ECONOMY!

We can only hold place and prestige, by giving the most for the least every time. Our position, as great manufacturers and operators on a large scale, makes this possible.

SUPERIORITY!

At present the best attainable; in future, better, if there is a better.

SQUARE DEALING!

The basis plank of our platform, the giving of an honest dollar's worth of value for a dollar, the guarantee that we give, that every article is as represented, that it will be exchanged if not satisfactory, or the money refunded if the customer so desires. We have therefore Prices that Talk!

Goods that Talk! Facts that Talk! The opening of the MANHATTAN One-Price Clothing Company in St Paul is the

Workingman's Best Chance and the Rich Man's Opportunity

To get better value in the way of Clothing, Furnishings and Hats than has been heretofore possible in St. Paul.

BOYS' CLOTHING!

Any boy can be quickly, properly and cheaply dressed out of our abundant stock. We are not experimenting with the difficult part of our business. We found out "long time ago" the kind of material that is safe to put into Boys' Clothing, so that their knees and elbows don't come through too soon. This is an important consideration to mothers with several boys.
