

SAINT PAUL MATTERS.

H. C. Johns, Alias Stahl, Arrested on a Charge of Perpetrating a Fraud Through the Mails.

Citizens Appear Before the Board of Public Works and Discuss Street Openings.

Maj. Edwards, the Fat Editor From Fargo, a Guest in St. Paul—Rotunda Gossip.

Contractors and Builders' Association—Boycotters Arrested—Gilmore To-Night.

COME TO GRIFF.

A Young Man Who Deal in Old Postage Stamps.

On a warrant for the apprehension of Horace C. Jones, Maj. Brackett yesterday arrested Frederick Stahl, Jr., who has been employed in the jewelry store of Henry Boelckstruck, No. 11 East Seventh street. The charge preferred against the young man, who is only 18 years of age, is "devising a scheme to defraud by the use of United States stamps. The prisoner was brought before United States Commissioner Corozoa and his examination postponed until today. Meanwhile he languishes in jail. The most important of Stahl or Jones (the former his correct name) was, if the complaint is not in error, such as to prove him an expert swindler. He carried on a traffic in postage stamps, both foreign and domestic, and dealt not only with other dealers in the same materials, but also with those people who have a mania for collecting that useless sort of trinket, called stamps. He did a dual business also, one being in St. Paul under his true name and as far as ascertained perfectly straight and legitimate, and the other through the name of Horace C. Jones and which was fraudulent. He secured stamps from all the dealers he could induce to send them on promise to remit but never remitted for any of them. He advertised in all the philatelic publications of the country offering to sell all kinds of stamps, foreign and domestic at very low prices, and when remittance came to him he pocketed the money and did not send the stamps. He used this method to secure stamps which he sold in his business carried on under his own name. He also started to publish a philatelic journal in St. Paul, a quarterly journal in the interest of stamp collectors, two numbers of which have been used the last bearing date of April this year. In the first column of this paper were these words: "Philatelic publications are becoming too numerous just now. The publishers are 'E. Stahl & Co., 77 West Seventh street, St. Paul, Minn., United States of America.' The fraudulent use of the mails was ferreted out by George B. Kidder, postoffice inspector of Chicago. Some one who had been swindled informed the postoffice department and Mr. Kidder, to whom the matter was given, went to Minneapolis to look up Jones. He found that Jones had a box at the postoffice, but invariably got his mail nights so that no one knew him. However, he had cashed some money orders and secured one registered letter, for which he was obliged to go the office in the day time. Large quantities of mail came to the office for him, and Mr. Kidder waited two days to get a sight of him, but was obliged to return to Chicago without it. This was three weeks ago, and Mr. Kidder requested Postmaster Larraway to have Jones shakedown the next time he came to the office, either cashed or to take a good look at him for subsequent identification. The next night Jones got his mail, and a day or two afterward applied for the cash on an order. He was spotted, and all the clerks took a good look at him. The man appointed to shadow him was laid a hard case of two hours, and was finally ejected, Jones evidently having caught on. Mr. Kidder was afraid he would have to give him up, but secured the addresses of many parties who had been swindled and also got a large number of letters written by Jones, some of which are obscure enough to make the sender guilty of circulating obscene literature. All the parties who had been swindled stated that although Jones' letters were dated at Minneapolis, they were written at St. Paul. This was a new clue, which led to the discovery of the fact that Stahl was in the stamp business. Mr. Kidder called on Stahl to buy stamps, and his description of him; then got Postmaster Larraway to come down and take a look at him. The letter identified Stahl as Jones. When arrested yesterday Stahl was taken to the Minneapolis postoffice, where his name was placed on a list of persons who employ immediately identified him as Horace C. Jones, with whom they had either done business or whom they had looked over the last time he called on for identification. Stahl insisted he never had been in Minneapolis but once in his life, and denied everything. At the time of his arrest a quantity of stamps was found and a set of books of the stamp business, but Stahl said these books were written up by his partner, "Jones" used a very seductive letter-head, printed in gilt, as follows:

AMUSEMENTS.

Barlow, Wilson and Rankin's Minstrels—Gilmore To-Night.

A small audience greeted the opening performance of Barlow, Wilson & Rankin's Minstrels at the Grand opera house last night. The limited number in attendance was treated to an evening's entertainment of more than usual excellence and variety. It introduced the company in the first part, which was subdivided into editions, the first presenting Jerry Hart and C. Gooden as the end men, while the second George Wilson and Carl Rankin take their places on the ends. The musical number of this part most worthy of notice was "Write for Me" by George Wilson and his monologue sketch, Carl Rankin in his musical absurdity and William Muldoon in representation of Roman statuary. The new features are "Fanny and Wayne" their acrobatic song and dance, Adams and Casey in their musical meze and the Lenton brothers in their tumbling and hat specialties. The concluding piece was a burlesque on the "Milkmaid" taken as a whole the performance was most meritorious.

GILMORE TO-NIGHT.

To-night at the Exposition rink will occur the first of the Gilmore concerts, which will be the last of the series of grand jubilees this season. Mlle Zelle de Lussan, who has captivated St. Paul audiences on her two appearances with the Boston Idols the past winter, will sing a grand number. The program for to-night's concert is as follows: Overture—"Rue Blast".....Mendelssohn Euphonium Solo—Variations on a Popular German Air.....Mlle Zelle de Lussan Signor Raffayolo. Nocturne Religieuse—"The Last Hope".....Mlle Zelle de Lussan. Air and Variations for Voice—"Le Carnaval de Venise".....Benedict Gilmore's Band. Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 2.....Liszt Solo for Saxophone—"Reverie".....Sagayr Mr. E. A. Lefebvre. Grand Fantasia for Clarinet and Flute.....Gilmore's Band. Grand Cavatina from Barber of Seville—"Una Voce Poco Fa".....Rossini Mlle Zelle de Lussan. Rondo Capriccioso.....Mendelssohn Piceolo Solo—Fantasia on a Favorite Theme—"The Drinking Song"—From Luzzetta Borgia.....Donizetti Signor De Carlo. Patrol March—"The Irish Brigade".....Puerrner Gilmore's Band.

MINOR LAW BREAKERS.

Whose Cases Were Disposed of by Judge Cory. In the municipal court yesterday the case of John J. Murphy, the alleged wholesale forger, was again continued. This was done with a view of bringing the matter before the grand jury in session. The question of identity is not yet positively settled. The case against C. Schroeder, charged with forging the name of Mrs. Lippy to an order for a pair of $4.50 shoes, was continued until tomorrow. Max Greenwood, charged with attempted larceny, was arraigned and the hearing continued until to-morrow, as was also the case of David Buckheart, accused of assault and battery. Katie Mitchell and Joseph Egan, arrested on the charge of assault and battery, and inaugurating a lively row, were assessed $25 each. The seduction case against Alexander Lovensky was again continued. Blum, charged with selling liquor without license, will be given a hearing to-day. Frank and Alfred Gobias, assault and battery, will be tried to-day. Emil Selzer was fined $2 for larceny. Harry J. Owens, the night watchman at the St. Anthony hill street barn, received a fine of $25 for an assault with a dangerous weapon upon S. A. McGlasson several nights ago. The latter was fined $15 for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The case against James O'Donnell for assault and battery was continued until to-morrow.

IN THE CORRIDORS.

People at the Hotels—What They Have to Say.

Judge I. B. West Fargo, who at the Merchants, He is secretary of the Dakota railway and warehouse commission, has served in that capacity since the abolition of that board, and is well up on the railroad affairs of the territory. He said that the commission would shortly investigate the case of a destruction of a large field of growing wheat by a passing locomotive, and the railroad company maintaining that it was not his responsibility. He said that the prospects were most flattering for the construction of many miles of railroads—branch lines of existing roads in the territory—during the coming summer season.

Frank A. Day, Fairmont, was about the hotels. He is editor of the Fairmont Sentinel and is one of the most energetic Republicans of that part of the state. He gave it out as the general impression of the congressional district that Wakefield, the present representative, would be succeeded by John Lynd of New Ulm. He said that he was a lawyer and a Scandinavian, two characteristics that made him remarkably strong as a candidate.

Frank Pettigrew, Sioux Falls, Dak., registers at the hotel. He is quite a prominent figure in Dakota politics and has more than once represented his district in the territorial legislature, and while at Yankton and Bismarck has made himself heard. He represented the territory at Washington during one session and was succeeded by the late John W. Raymond. He is engaged in real estate, milling and politics, and has made more of a success of the latter than either of the former. For twenty years he has resided in the territory.

CONTRACTORS AND BUILDERS.

A Committee on Arbitration Appointed—New Members.

A large attendance was present at the monthly meeting of the Contractors and Builders' association, that has headquarters in the Ryan hotel, yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Fourteen new members were admitted, making the total membership eighty-eight. The most important business transacted was the election of a committee on arbitration, the following members, representing the various trades interested, being unanimously chosen: John Nevin, stonemason; B. A. Cox, bricklayer; F. J. Rosner, carpenter; James Burris, brick merchant; J. H. Moore, steam fitter; P. V. Dwyer, plumber; J. D. Moran, excavator; C. M. Power, iron works; G. M. Brock, painter; Phil Riley, painter; E. Sander, stonemason; J. B. Chapman, sash, blinds and blinds; Matt Brecht, stonecutter; M. N. Craig, carpenter.

The executive committee was instructed to take steps for the immediate incorporation of the association. Some minor matters in the way of putting in a telephone, letter boxes for the accommodation of members, etc., were attended to, and the meeting adjourned.

POLICE COMMITTEE.

They Favor a Contract for Four Additional Patrol Vans.

The police committee of the council held a short session in the council chamber last night. In addition to the discussion of several matters of minor importance, the committee reported favorably the confirmation of recent appointments on the force by the mayor. A communication was received from Mast, Buford & Burwell Co., agreeing to build four additional patrol vans for $600. The firm of Roberts & Leinhardt, of Minneapolis, agreed to construct four patrol vans at the same price, and the committee recommended that the contract be closed with the latter firm. It was moved and adopted that the police stations throughout the city be changed in name, so as to conform with the streets upon which they are located. The new names will be as follows: Margaret street station, Duca street station, Hondo street station, and Union Park station.

AMUSEMENTS.

Barlow, Wilson and Rankin's Minstrels—Gilmore To-Night.

A small audience greeted the opening performance of Barlow, Wilson & Rankin's Minstrels at the Grand opera house last night. The limited number in attendance was treated to an evening's entertainment of more than usual excellence and variety. It introduced the company in the first part, which was subdivided into editions, the first presenting Jerry Hart and C. Gooden as the end men, while the second George Wilson and Carl Rankin take their places on the ends. The musical number of this part most worthy of notice was "Write for Me" by George Wilson and his monologue sketch, Carl Rankin in his musical absurdity and William Muldoon in representation of Roman statuary. The new features are "Fanny and Wayne" their acrobatic song and dance, Adams and Casey in their musical meze and the Lenton brothers in their tumbling and hat specialties. The concluding piece was a burlesque on the "Milkmaid" taken as a whole the performance was most meritorious.

GILMORE TO-NIGHT.

To-night at the Exposition rink will occur the first of the Gilmore concerts, which will be the last of the series of grand jubilees this season. Mlle Zelle de Lussan, who has captivated St. Paul audiences on her two appearances with the Boston Idols the past winter, will sing a grand number. The program for to-night's concert is as follows: Overture—"Rue Blast".....Mendelssohn Euphonium Solo—Variations on a Popular German Air.....Mlle Zelle de Lussan Signor Raffayolo. Nocturne Religieuse—"The Last Hope".....Mlle Zelle de Lussan. Air and Variations for Voice—"Le Carnaval de Venise".....Benedict Gilmore's Band. Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 2.....Liszt Solo for Saxophone—"Reverie".....Sagayr Mr. E. A. Lefebvre. Grand Fantasia for Clarinet and Flute.....Gilmore's Band. Grand Cavatina from Barber of Seville—"Una Voce Poco Fa".....Rossini Mlle Zelle de Lussan. Rondo Capriccioso.....Mendelssohn Piceolo Solo—Fantasia on a Favorite Theme—"The Drinking Song"—From Luzzetta Borgia.....Donizetti Signor De Carlo. Patrol March—"The Irish Brigade".....Puerrner Gilmore's Band.

MINOR LAW BREAKERS.

Whose Cases Were Disposed of by Judge Cory. In the municipal court yesterday the case of John J. Murphy, the alleged wholesale forger, was again continued. This was done with a view of bringing the matter before the grand jury in session. The question of identity is not yet positively settled. The case against C. Schroeder, charged with forging the name of Mrs. Lippy to an order for a pair of $4.50 shoes, was continued until tomorrow. Max Greenwood, charged with attempted larceny, was arraigned and the hearing continued until to-morrow, as was also the case of David Buckheart, accused of assault and battery. Katie Mitchell and Joseph Egan, arrested on the charge of assault and battery, and inaugurating a lively row, were assessed $25 each. The seduction case against Alexander Lovensky was again continued. Blum, charged with selling liquor without license, will be given a hearing to-day. Frank and Alfred Gobias, assault and battery, will be tried to-day. Emil Selzer was fined $2 for larceny. Harry J. Owens, the night watchman at the St. Anthony hill street barn, received a fine of $25 for an assault with a dangerous weapon upon S. A. McGlasson several nights ago. The latter was fined $15 for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The case against James O'Donnell for assault and battery was continued until to-morrow.

IN THE CORRIDORS.

People at the Hotels—What They Have to Say.

Judge I. B. West Fargo, who at the Merchants, He is secretary of the Dakota railway and warehouse commission, has served in that capacity since the abolition of that board, and is well up on the railroad affairs of the territory. He said that the commission would shortly investigate the case of a destruction of a large field of growing wheat by a passing locomotive, and the railroad company maintaining that it was not his responsibility. He said that the prospects were most flattering for the construction of many miles of railroads—branch lines of existing roads in the territory—during the coming summer season.

Frank A. Day, Fairmont, was about the hotels. He is editor of the Fairmont Sentinel and is one of the most energetic Republicans of that part of the state. He gave it out as the general impression of the congressional district that Wakefield, the present representative, would be succeeded by John Lynd of New Ulm. He said that he was a lawyer and a Scandinavian, two characteristics that made him remarkably strong as a candidate.

Frank Pettigrew, Sioux Falls, Dak., registers at the hotel. He is quite a prominent figure in Dakota politics and has more than once represented his district in the territorial legislature, and while at Yankton and Bismarck has made himself heard. He represented the territory at Washington during one session and was succeeded by the late John W. Raymond. He is engaged in real estate, milling and politics, and has made more of a success of the latter than either of the former. For twenty years he has resided in the territory.

AT WORK AFTER PLEASURE.

Third Day of the A. O. H. Convention Devoted to Routine Business.

Delegates Highly Pleased With Their Entertainment in St. Paul. Half past 9 o'clock yesterday morning was the time set for reassembling of the biennial convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, but the festivities of the banquet had continued so late the night before that but few of the members put in an appearance and these adjourned the convention until 3 o'clock. At that hour business was resumed and the national secretary, E. J. McNelis, submitted the biennial report covering the period from May 1, 1884, to May 1, 1886. It gives as the total membership of the order in the United States 159,175, which is an increase since the report of 14,310 members of military companies, 35, with a membership of 2,355 men, worth $76,900; the order exists in thirty-two states and three territories in the United States, Maryland, Virginia and New Mexico; the states and territories in which the order does not exist are: Mississippi, Alabama, North Carolina, Florida and Vermont. Dakota, Wyoming, Idaho and Washington Territory; the order embraces 1,924 divisions, an increase of 222, mainly in Pennsylvania and the Western states, though there has been some increase in all the states, except New Jersey and Illinois; the number of members initiated was 27,815; amount of money now in the treasury, $230,000; amount paid for benefits, $232,500.15; amount paid for burial, $58,862.58; paid for other charitable purposes, $115,760; number of members relieved, 18,149; officers of the order, 610; secretary received a number of letters from departments concerning intelligence, perseverance and progress. The report was referred to the appropriate committees. The national treasurer, John McSorley, submitted his report, a summary of which is contained in the above.

THE AFTERNOON.

The afternoon session was a very short one, devoted to the receipt of reports and their reference, when an adjournment was taken to 9 o'clock this morning. The three most important committees were on constitution, grievances and resolutions, and the day will be devoted to disposing of the report on grievances before other business is taken up, and an evening session will be held in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

AT WORK AFTER PLEASURE.

Third Day of the A. O. H. Convention Devoted to Routine Business.

Delegates Highly Pleased With Their Entertainment in St. Paul. Half past 9 o'clock yesterday morning was the time set for reassembling of the biennial convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, but the festivities of the banquet had continued so late the night before that but few of the members put in an appearance and these adjourned the convention until 3 o'clock. At that hour business was resumed and the national secretary, E. J. McNelis, submitted the biennial report covering the period from May 1, 1884, to May 1, 1886. It gives as the total membership of the order in the United States 159,175, which is an increase since the report of 14,310 members of military companies, 35, with a membership of 2,355 men, worth $76,900; the order exists in thirty-two states and three territories in the United States, Maryland, Virginia and New Mexico; the states and territories in which the order does not exist are: Mississippi, Alabama, North Carolina, Florida and Vermont. Dakota, Wyoming, Idaho and Washington Territory; the order embraces 1,924 divisions, an increase of 222, mainly in Pennsylvania and the Western states, though there has been some increase in all the states, except New Jersey and Illinois; the number of members initiated was 27,815; amount of money now in the treasury, $230,000; amount paid for benefits, $232,500.15; amount paid for burial, $58,862.58; paid for other charitable purposes, $115,760; number of members relieved, 18,149; officers of the order, 610; secretary received a number of letters from departments concerning intelligence, perseverance and progress. The report was referred to the appropriate committees. The national treasurer, John McSorley, submitted his report, a summary of which is contained in the above.

THE AFTERNOON.

The afternoon session was a very short one, devoted to the receipt of reports and their reference, when an adjournment was taken to 9 o'clock this morning. The three most important committees were on constitution, grievances and resolutions, and the day will be devoted to disposing of the report on grievances before other business is taken up, and an evening session will be held in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

AT WORK AFTER PLEASURE.

Third Day of the A. O. H. Convention Devoted to Routine Business.

Delegates Highly Pleased With Their Entertainment in St. Paul. Half past 9 o'clock yesterday morning was the time set for reassembling of the biennial convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, but the festivities of the banquet had continued so late the night before that but few of the members put in an appearance and these adjourned the convention until 3 o'clock. At that hour business was resumed and the national secretary, E. J. McNelis, submitted the biennial report covering the period from May 1, 1884, to May 1, 1886. It gives as the total membership of the order in the United States 159,175, which is an increase since the report of 14,310 members of military companies, 35, with a membership of 2,355 men, worth $76,900; the order exists in thirty-two states and three territories in the United States, Maryland, Virginia and New Mexico; the states and territories in which the order does not exist are: Mississippi, Alabama, North Carolina, Florida and Vermont. Dakota, Wyoming, Idaho and Washington Territory; the order embraces 1,924 divisions, an increase of 222, mainly in Pennsylvania and the Western states, though there has been some increase in all the states, except New Jersey and Illinois; the number of members initiated was 27,815; amount of money now in the treasury, $230,000; amount paid for benefits, $232,500.15; amount paid for burial, $58,862.58; paid for other charitable purposes, $115,760; number of members relieved, 18,149; officers of the order, 610; secretary received a number of letters from departments concerning intelligence, perseverance and progress. The report was referred to the appropriate committees. The national treasurer, John McSorley, submitted his report, a summary of which is contained in the above.

THE AFTERNOON.

The afternoon session was a very short one, devoted to the receipt of reports and their reference, when an adjournment was taken to 9 o'clock this morning. The three most important committees were on constitution, grievances and resolutions, and the day will be devoted to disposing of the report on grievances before other business is taken up, and an evening session will be held in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

THE AFTERNOON.

Last evening many of the committees were in session in the evening. The members desire to get home on or before Sunday. The election of officers will be about the last item of business to be transacted.

B. O. P. C. ST. PAUL.

Do you Hat yourself at the Boston's Hat Department? If you do, you are sensible and realize the fact that a dollar saved is a dollar earned. If you do not, take the first opportunity you have to examine our Hat stock and compare our prices; we can give you all the tone you want without the high prices. What a demand there is for PANT