

A HAPPY HONEYMOON.

The President and His Bride Enjoying Themselves in Secluded and Sober Fashion.

The Days Spent in Driving and Walking, Interspersed With Receiving Calls.

A Corps of Detectives Still on Guard To Keep Away from the President's Personal Friends.

Mr. Cleveland Turns for a While from Pleasure to the Consideration of Official Business.

At Deer Park.

DEER PARK, Md., June 4.—The population of Deer Park has been increased about one cent since the arrival of the president and his bride. The president and his bride arrived at the cottages, but half a dozen newspaper correspondents have arrived, and this evening an amateur photographer put in an appearance. He has plates enough to take a couple of weeks, and began work by photographing a view of the "executive mansion pro tem." The weather is beautiful and just enough breeze is blowing to make it pleasant. The president is evidently enjoying himself. The first thing he did this morning was to come out on the piazza with Mrs. Cleveland. It is just a little walk from the president's cottage to the home of ex-senator Davis, and about noon the president and Mrs. Cleveland came out on the piazza and met Mr. Davis. After talking a few moments the party walked toward the home of ex-senator Davis. The president and Mrs. Cleveland were accompanied by a number of gentlemen, while the gentlemen talked and seemed to be in very good spirits. She moved aside to watch the antics of a number of her countrymen. The president and Mrs. Cleveland were accompanied by a number of gentlemen, while the gentlemen talked and seemed to be in very good spirits.

THE WEDDING PRESENTS.

They are Said to be Worth at Least $100,000.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—They tell this story of Attorney-General Garland, who did not attend the wedding. When he received his invitation he went to the president and told him he did not desire to be present unless he wore the costume that is conventional on such occasions, and that he had determined never to appear in that garb. The president laughed and told the attorney general that it made no difference and insisted on his being present, swallow tail or not. A day or two after Mr. Garland's refusal to attend, the president and Mrs. Cleveland were in the White house with the wedding presents. The president and Mrs. Cleveland were in the White house with the wedding presents. The president and Mrs. Cleveland were in the White house with the wedding presents.

PAPEES FROM THE WHITE HOUSE.

and the president spent some time this afternoon in looking over the envelope in which the papers were sent. The envelope was marked with the seal of the state department and contained the treaties between the United States and the Canadian government. The president and Mrs. Cleveland were in the White house with the wedding presents. The president and Mrs. Cleveland were in the White house with the wedding presents.

GUARDED BY THE DETECTIVES.

although there is little for them to do. The servants of the cottage keep out of the way of reporters. Early this morning, before any one about the village was stirring, the governor to the children of Mr. Elkins called at the cottage and was met by a big bunch of large mountain boys, which were sent by Dr. J. Lee McComas, who is a brother of Congressman McComas. Dr. McComas called at the executive mansion last evening and was very much pleased with the president and his bride. He had a very pleasant talk with the president and was invited to call again. The town of Deer Park is excited over the action of the Methodist convention yesterday. The president and Mrs. Cleveland were in the White house with the wedding presents. The president and Mrs. Cleveland were in the White house with the wedding presents.

Another Account.

DEER PARK, Md., June 4.—The president and Mrs. Cleveland did not make their appearance until noon to-day, when they were met by a number of reporters. The president and Mrs. Cleveland were in the White house with the wedding presents. The president and Mrs. Cleveland were in the White house with the wedding presents.

MANING WILL STAY.

The Secretary of the Treasury Sent His Resignation to the President a Fortnight Ago.

But Mr. Cleveland Refuses to Accept It at Present, and Gives Daniel a Short Vacation.

The Chinese Indemnity Bill at Last Passes the Senate—It Appropriates $150,000.

Congress Sat Upon During the Debate on the Diplomatic Bill—The Fisheries Question.

Manning Will Take a Vacation.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The following correspondence, which has just been given out, explains itself: WASHINGTON, D. C., May 20.—My dear Sir: I have declined to accept of your resignation of the office which you did me the honor to ask me to accept fifteen months ago. My reasons for this decision are both public and personal. Since the partial recovery of my health permitted me to reflect upon the demands of the public service, which I had given, perhaps too freely, all my strength, and upon the conditions of resuming my labor at your side, I have not for a moment questioned what must be my present duty. The full recovery of my health is pronounced an affair of weeks and a longer period of months, is prescribed, or at least advised as a prudent regime thereafter. The completion of my duties, which I have not been able to resume upon the general direction of the treasury department, even if I were to do so, would require a first year of my work. Supervision at a distance would be of little benefit to the acting secretary; but it is a help to the department to have the services of its chief officer, and it is a help to the department to have the services of its chief officer, and it is a help to the department to have the services of its chief officer.

THE CHINESE INDEMNITY BILL.

It Appropriates $150,000.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The bill for the Chinese indemnity, which was passed by the Senate yesterday, appropriates $150,000 for the purpose of paying the claims of Chinese citizens against the United States government. The bill was passed by a vote of 75 yeas and 15 nays. The bill was introduced by Senator Stanford of California. The bill was passed by the Senate yesterday.

THE FISHERIES QUESTION.

The Senate Debated It Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The Senate today debated the fisheries question. The bill for the fisheries was introduced by Senator Stanford of California. The bill was passed by the Senate yesterday. The bill was passed by the Senate yesterday.

THE FISHERIES QUESTION.

The Senate Debated It Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The Senate today debated the fisheries question. The bill for the fisheries was introduced by Senator Stanford of California. The bill was passed by the Senate yesterday. The bill was passed by the Senate yesterday.

TO VISIT NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Will Go to the White Mountains.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The rumors that President and Mrs. Cleveland would visit New Hampshire during the summer have been confirmed by investigations. The president and Mrs. Cleveland were in the White house with the wedding presents. The president and Mrs. Cleveland were in the White house with the wedding presents.

THE WEDDING CARDS.

They Are Sent out to Lots of People.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—About a thousand cards announcing the marriage of the president were sent out by mail messengers and otherwise. The cards are exceedingly simple and elegant. The president and Mrs. Cleveland were in the White house with the wedding presents. The president and Mrs. Cleveland were in the White house with the wedding presents.

HE WOULD NOT YIELD.

A Texas Desperado Fights His Pursuers Until He is Riddled With Bullets.

Death of a Strangely-Deformed Negro Child Caused by the Brutal Treatment of Its Father.

Two Africans Hanged at Winchester, Va., for the Murder of a White Man.

Ford Ward Said to be Pining Away in His Domicile—The Maxwell Case.

Game to the Last.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 4.—Last evening, fifteen miles northwest of this city, two officers had a deadly encounter with Joe Brannan, the noted desperado, who died one hour after the encounter. Brannan belonged to the band of outlaws and stage robbers who murdered the late United States marshal, Hal Gosling, on the cars, near this city, over a year ago. Brannan was on the train when the convicts opened fire on Gosling and his deputies but it could not be proven that he did the shooting. His lawless acts would fill volumes. With a desperado named Pitts he robbed the hostess at Double Horn, Burnett county, escaping to Missouri, his native land. He attempted to kill a man and was riddled with bullets. To the surprise of the country, he was recently returned to Texas, going to the ranch of his brother on the Leon. Deputy United States Marshal William and Ed Van Ripen, hearing of Brannan's presence in the vicinity, went out yesterday to capture him, dead or alive. Knowing the character of the man, they concealed themselves in a thicket and waited until he had passed. He was then fired upon by the two marshals. He was wounded in his left arm and shoulder. He did not surrender but shifted his revolver to his left hand and steadied it with the bleeding right. In this position he fired four shots, which struck two of the marshals. William Van Ripen now ordered the thicket and opened fire on Brannan, who had risen and was about to fire his bullet when he fell, shot through the neck. The desperado was taken to the last and persistently refused to make disclosures implicating other members of the gang or tell where they kept their hide-out. He died at 10 o'clock this morning. He was 35 years of age and had a long record of crimes against him.

TWO NEGROES HANGED.

Although Brutal Murderers, They Had Hope of Heaven.

WINCHESTER, Va., June 4.—Wes Honeysuckle and Taylor Banks were hanged this morning. The criminals walked to the scaffold. Banks began to tremble violently, but Honeysuckle stood firm on the trap door. The Moody hymn, "There is a light in the Valley," was then sung by request, both joining in loudly. Honeysuckle said: "I thank God I am not guilty of what is put on me. I want to meet all my friends in heaven." Their arms were then plucked, the black cap drawn over their heads and in a loud voice both cried out "Good bye! good bye!" They were then sprung, and the chime for which Honeysuckle and Banks were hanged was the murder of a white man, November 14, 1884. A large Democratic procession took place here on that night, and the prisoners were taken to the gallows. The execution was a public one. The prisoners were taken to the gallows. The execution was a public one. The prisoners were taken to the gallows. The execution was a public one.

HE KILLED A WOMAN.

And Was Hanged for His Foul Deed Yesterday.

LEBANON, Tenn., June 4.—The crime for which Jim Baxter was executed this morning was committed on the 5th of last September. About dusk on that evening, Mrs. Lane, an old lady, was found lying on the floor of her room unconscious, with a large stone on her head, evidently inflicted with her own hands. She was taken to the hospital but died. The police were called and a search was made for the murderer. An appeal was taken but the supreme court affirmed the sentence. Gov. Bate granted a respite which expired to-day.

KILLED HIS CHILD.

Because It Was a Monstrosity, and Couldn't Walk.

MACON, Ga., June 4.—A strange case came to light in East Macon. Henrietta Cook, a negro woman, well known on the east side of the river, appeared before Judge Sargent for the purpose of swearing out a warrant against her son-in-law, one Joe Kitchens, who had threatened her life. Joe married Henrietta's daughter in 1880. In that year he found a negro man named Gus Johnson talking to his wife, and without knowing who she was, he struck her with a stick. The child was born to the mother and father, and was a monstrosity and a prodigy, being half human and half frog, and withal exceedingly bright in mind. The child was shortly misnamed by the mother and did not like to keep it, and it was taken by the grandmother, who became very much attached to it. The child grew to be nearly 6 years old, but never walked. His hands and feet were triflingly deformed. He was killed by the mother, who was hanged for the crime.

FOOLED BY A FAIR ONE.

A Young Man Attempts Suicide Because His Inamorata Gives Him the Cold Shoulder.

Too Much Beer and Too Poor a Gun Prevent the Consummation of His Purpose.

And a Cold-Hearted Justice of the Peace Fines Him $20 for Raising a Row.

His Savings Wasted on the Faithless One, Who Says She'll Keep All She's Got.

He Wants to Die.

CHICAGO, June 4.—For two years Ernest Zindler, a young man ambitious to marry, had been paying assiduous attention to Miss Laura Zerkow. She was a grand piano player, and a rather attractive young woman. Zindler had continued to save from his earnings as a glass stainer considerable money, all of which he lavished on presents he purchased for her. One day he was invited to her house for a party. He was there for some time, but she was evidently much more muscular than he was. Waiting all the couple came ashore, he was for her infidelity. She was not until her shrieks had aroused the neighborhood and attracted the police patrol to the scene. Arrived at the station it was found that Zindler's clothes were badly burned. One of his legs was badly injured. He was taken to the hospital. He was there for some time, but she was evidently much more muscular than he was. Waiting all the couple came ashore, he was for her infidelity. She was not until her shrieks had aroused the neighborhood and attracted the police patrol to the scene. Arrived at the station it was found that Zindler's clothes were badly burned. One of his legs was badly injured. He was taken to the hospital. He was there for some time, but she was evidently much more muscular than he was.

HEAVY DEFALCATION.

OMAHA, Neb., June 4.—D. W. Simpson, ex-treasurer of Otoe county, this state, was arrested here to-night for defalcation. He was arrested here to-night for defalcation. He was arrested here to-night for defalcation.

AN UNNATURAL MOTHER.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 4.—Mrs. Lizzie Bateman was arrested here to-day for causing the death of her step daughter, aged about 13 years. According to the testimony of the coroner, she was also charged with the murder of her step daughter. She was arrested here to-day for causing the death of her step daughter. She was arrested here to-day for causing the death of her step daughter.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

READING, Pa., June 4.—Frank and Charles Seible, brothers, aged 19 and 21 years respectively, had a quarrel at their home here this evening, when Frank fired three shots into his brother's stomach and lungs and then shot himself in the head. Both are unconscious and will die. The coroner has issued a warrant for the arrest of Frank's brother, who is charged with interfering with his affairs.

THE CHICAGO ANARCHISTS.

OMAHA, Neb., June 4.—Baltazzar Rau, the Chicago anarchist, is still in custody here awaiting the arrival of an officer. He has got over his fright and talks freely about the riots. He attended two socialist meetings the night of the explosion, but did not speak at either. He says he did not go near the Haymarket because the bullets were flying too thick for him.

THE MAXWELL CASE.

ST. LOUIS, June 4.—When the criminal court this morning continued the hearing of the case of the state vs. Hugh M. Brooks alias W. H. L. Maxwell, John I. Martin, counsel for the defense, resumed his plea for the prisoner. He was followed by Mr. Clover, who made the closing address for the prosecution. When this is ended the case will go to the jury. It is probably to be returned before late to-morrow afternoon.

KILLED BY A FELLOW CONVICT.

JOLIET, Ill., June 4.—Soon after the dinner hour to-day, John O'Brien, a three-year convict from Deatur, made an attack upon Asa R. Parks, another convict, with an iron shod, killing him. There was no known cause for the affray.

THE OLEOMARGARINE BILL.

Its Prospects in the Senate Said to be Good.

NEW YORK, June 4.—United States Senator Warner Miller, chairman of the senate committee on agriculture, held a conference this morning with several representatives of the New York butter and cheese trade who are interested in the oleomargarine bill. Joseph H. Hall, president of the National Oleomargarine Association, John L. Martin, W. T. French, Jr., and others were present. The bill contains a provision for the payment of $100,000 to the manufacturer of oleomargarine. The bill is expected to pass the senate. The bill is expected to pass the senate.

THE OLEOMARGARINE BILL.

Its Prospects in the Senate Said to be Good.

NEW YORK, June 4.—United States Senator Warner Miller, chairman of the senate committee on agriculture, held a conference this morning with several representatives of the New York butter and cheese trade who are interested in the oleomargarine bill. Joseph H. Hall, president of the National Oleomargarine Association, John L. Martin, W. T. French, Jr., and others were present. The bill contains a provision for the payment of $100,000 to the manufacturer of oleomargarine. The bill is expected to pass the senate. The bill is expected to pass the senate.

THE OLEOMARGARINE BILL.

Its Prospects in the Senate Said to be Good.

NEW YORK, June 4.—United States Senator Warner Miller, chairman of the senate committee on agriculture, held a conference this morning with several representatives of the New York butter and cheese trade who are interested in the oleomargarine bill. Joseph H. Hall, president of the National Oleomargarine Association, John L. Martin, W. T. French, Jr., and others were present. The bill contains a provision for the payment of $100,000 to the manufacturer of oleomargarine. The bill is expected to pass the senate. The bill is expected to pass the senate.

THE OLEOMARGARINE BILL.

Its Prospects in the Senate Said to be Good.

NEW YORK, June 4.—United States Senator Warner Miller, chairman of the senate committee on agriculture, held a conference this morning with several representatives of the New York butter and cheese trade who are interested in the oleomargarine bill. Joseph H. Hall, president of the National Oleomargarine Association, John L. Martin, W. T. French, Jr., and others were present. The bill contains a provision for the payment of $100,000 to the manufacturer of oleomargarine. The bill is expected to pass the senate. The bill is expected to pass the senate.

HE WOULD NOT YIELD.

A Texas Desperado Fights His Pursuers Until He is Riddled With Bullets.

Death of a Strangely-Deformed Negro Child Caused by the Brutal Treatment of Its Father.

Two Africans Hanged at Winchester, Va., for the Murder of a White Man.

Ford Ward Said to be Pining Away in His Domicile—The Maxwell Case.

Game to the Last.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 4.—Last evening, fifteen miles northwest of this city, two officers had a deadly encounter with Joe Brannan, the noted desperado, who died one hour after the encounter. Brannan belonged to the band of outlaws and stage robbers who murdered the late United States marshal, Hal Gosling, on the cars, near this city, over a year ago. Brannan was on the train when the convicts opened fire on Gosling and his deputies but it could not be proven that he did the shooting. His lawless acts would fill volumes. With a desperado named Pitts he robbed the hostess at Double Horn, Burnett county, escaping to Missouri, his native land. He attempted to kill a man and was riddled with bullets. To the surprise of the country, he was recently returned to Texas, going to the ranch of his brother on the Leon. Deputy United States Marshal William and Ed Van Ripen, hearing of Brannan's presence in the vicinity, went out yesterday to capture him, dead or alive. Knowing the character of the man, they concealed themselves in a thicket and waited until he had passed. He was then fired upon by the two marshals. He was wounded in his left arm and shoulder. He did not surrender but shifted his revolver to his left hand and steadied it with the bleeding right. In this position he fired four shots, which struck two of the marshals. William Van Ripen now ordered the thicket and opened fire on Brannan, who had risen and was about to fire his bullet when he fell, shot through the neck. The desperado was taken to the last and persistently refused to make disclosures implicating other members of the gang or tell where they kept their hide-out. He died at 10 o'clock this morning. He was 35 years of age and had a long record of crimes against him.

TWO NEGROES HANGED.

Although Brutal Murderers, They Had Hope of Heaven.

WINCHESTER, Va., June 4.—Wes Honeysuckle and Taylor Banks were hanged this morning. The criminals walked to the scaffold. Banks began to tremble violently, but Honeysuckle stood firm on the trap door. The Moody hymn, "There is a light in the Valley," was then sung by request, both joining in loudly. Honeysuckle said: "I thank God I am not guilty of what is put on me. I want to meet all my friends in heaven." Their arms were then plucked, the black cap drawn over their heads and in a loud voice both cried out "Good bye! good bye!" They were then sprung, and the chime for which Honeysuckle and Banks were hanged was the murder of a white man, November 14, 1884. A large Democratic procession took place here on that night, and the prisoners were taken to the gallows. The execution was a public one. The prisoners were taken to the gallows. The execution was a public one. The prisoners were taken to the gallows. The execution was a public one.

HE KILLED A WOMAN.

And Was Hanged for His Foul Deed Yesterday.

LEBANON, Tenn., June 4.—The crime for which Jim Baxter was executed this morning was committed on the 5th of last September. About dusk on that evening, Mrs. Lane, an old lady, was found lying on the floor of her room unconscious, with a large stone on her head, evidently inflicted with her own hands. She was taken to the hospital but died. The police were called and a search was made for the murderer. An appeal was taken but the supreme court affirmed the sentence. Gov. Bate granted a respite which expired to-day.

KILLED HIS CHILD.

Because It Was a Monstrosity, and Couldn't Walk.

MACON, Ga., June 4.—A strange case came to light in East Macon. Henrietta Cook, a negro woman, well known on the east side of the river, appeared before Judge Sargent for the purpose of swearing out a warrant against her son-in-law, one Joe Kitchens, who had threatened her life. Joe married Henrietta's daughter in 1880. In that year he found a negro man named Gus Johnson talking to his wife, and without knowing who she was, he struck her with a stick. The child was born to the mother and father, and was a monstrosity and a prodigy, being half human and half frog, and withal exceedingly bright in mind. The child was shortly misnamed by the mother and did not like to keep it, and it was taken by the grandmother, who became very much attached to it. The child grew to be nearly 6 years old, but never walked. His hands and feet were triflingly deformed. He was killed by the mother, who was hanged for the crime.

FOOLED BY A FAIR ONE.

A Young Man Attempts Suicide Because His Inamorata Gives Him the Cold Shoulder.

Too Much Beer and Too Poor a Gun Prevent the Consummation of His Purpose.

And a Cold-Hearted Justice of the Peace Fines Him $20 for Raising a Row.

His Savings Wasted on the Faithless One, Who Says She'll Keep All She's Got.

He Wants to Die.

CHICAGO, June 4.—For two years Ernest Zindler, a young man ambitious to marry, had been paying assiduous attention to Miss Laura Zerkow. She was a grand piano player, and a rather attractive young woman. Zindler had continued to save from his earnings as a glass stainer considerable money, all of which he lavished on presents he purchased for her. One day he was invited to her house for a party. He was there for some time, but she was evidently much more muscular than he was. Waiting all the couple came ashore, he was for her infidelity. She was not until her shrieks had aroused the neighborhood and attracted the police patrol to the scene. Arrived at the station it was found that Zindler's clothes were badly burned. One of his legs was badly injured. He was taken to the hospital. He was there for some time, but she was evidently much more muscular than he was. Waiting all the couple came ashore, he was for her infidelity. She was not until her shrieks had aroused the neighborhood and attracted the police patrol to the scene. Arrived at the station it was found that Zindler's clothes were badly burned. One of his legs was badly injured. He was taken to the hospital. He was there for some time, but she was evidently much more muscular than he was.

HEAVY DEFALCATION.

OMAHA, Neb., June 4.—D. W. Simpson, ex-treasurer of Otoe county, this state, was arrested here to-night for defalcation. He was arrested here to-night for defalcation. He was arrested here to-night for defalcation.

AN UNNATURAL MOTHER.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 4.—Mrs. Lizzie Bateman was arrested here to-day for causing the death of her step daughter, aged about 13 years. According to the testimony of the coroner, she was also charged with the murder of her step daughter. She was arrested here to-day for causing the death of her step daughter. She was arrested here to-day for causing the death of her step daughter.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

READING, Pa., June 4.—Frank and Charles Seible, brothers, aged 19 and 21 years respectively, had a quarrel at their home here this evening, when Frank fired three shots into his brother's stomach and lungs and then shot himself in the head. Both are unconscious and will die. The coroner has issued a warrant for the arrest of Frank's brother, who is charged with interfering with his affairs.

THE CHICAGO ANARCHISTS.

OMAHA, Neb., June 4.—Baltazzar Rau, the Chicago anarchist, is still in custody here awaiting the arrival of an officer. He has got over his fright and talks freely about the riots. He attended two socialist meetings the night of the explosion, but did not speak at either. He says he did not go near the Haymarket because the bullets were flying too thick for him.

THE MAXWELL CASE.

ST. LOUIS, June 4.—When the criminal court this morning continued the hearing of the case of the state vs. Hugh M. Brooks alias W. H. L. Maxwell, John I. Martin, counsel for the defense, resumed his plea for the prisoner. He was followed by Mr. Clover, who made the closing address for the prosecution. When this is ended the case will go to the jury. It is probably to be returned before late to-morrow afternoon.

KILLED BY A FELLOW CONVICT.

JOLIET, Ill., June 4.—Soon after the dinner hour to-day, John O'Brien, a three-year convict from Deatur, made an attack upon Asa R. Parks, another convict, with an iron shod, killing him. There was no known cause for the affray.

THE OLEOMARGARINE BILL.

Its Prospects in the Senate Said to be Good.

NEW YORK, June 4.—United States Senator Warner Miller, chairman of the senate committee on agriculture, held a conference this morning with several representatives of the New York butter and cheese trade who are interested in the oleomargarine bill. Joseph H. Hall, president of the National Oleomargarine Association, John L. Martin, W. T. French, Jr., and others were present. The bill contains a provision for the payment of $100,000 to the manufacturer of oleomargarine. The bill is expected to pass the senate. The bill is expected to pass the senate.

THE OLEOMARGARINE BILL.

Its Prospects in the Senate Said to be Good.

NEW YORK, June 4.—United States Senator Warner Miller, chairman of the senate committee on agriculture, held a conference this morning with several representatives of the New York butter and cheese trade who are interested in the oleomargarine bill. Joseph H. Hall, president of the National Oleomargarine Association, John L. Martin, W. T. French, Jr., and others were present. The bill contains a provision for the payment of $100,000 to the manufacturer of oleomargarine. The bill is expected to pass the senate. The bill is expected to pass the senate.

THE OLEOMARGARINE BILL.

Its Prospects in the Senate Said to be Good.

NEW YORK, June 4.—United States Senator Warner Miller, chairman of the senate committee on agriculture, held a conference this morning with several representatives of the New York butter and cheese trade who are interested in the oleomargarine bill. Joseph H. Hall, president of the National Oleomargarine Association, John L. Martin, W. T. French, Jr., and others were present. The bill contains a provision for the payment of $100,000 to the manufacturer of oleomargarine. The bill is expected to pass the senate. The bill is expected to pass the senate.

THE OLEOMARGARINE BILL.

Its Prospects in the Senate Said to be Good.

NEW YORK, June 4.—United States Senator Warner Miller, chairman of the senate committee on agriculture, held a conference this morning with several representatives of the New York butter and cheese trade who are interested in the oleomargarine bill. Joseph H. Hall, president of the National Oleomargarine Association, John L. Martin, W. T. French, Jr., and others were present. The bill contains a provision for the payment of $100,000 to the manufacturer of oleomargarine. The bill is expected to pass the senate. The bill is expected to pass the senate.

HE WOULD NOT YIELD.

A Texas Desperado Fights His Pursuers Until He is Riddled With Bullets.

Death of a Strangely-Deformed Negro Child Caused by the Brutal Treatment of Its Father.

Two Africans Hanged at Winchester, Va., for the Murder of a White Man.

Ford Ward Said to be Pining Away in His Domicile—The Maxwell Case.

Game to the Last.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 4.—Last evening, fifteen miles northwest of this city, two officers had a deadly encounter with Joe Brannan, the noted desperado, who died one hour after the encounter. Brannan belonged to the band of outlaws and stage robbers who murdered the late United States marshal, Hal Gosling, on the cars, near this city, over a year ago. Brannan was on the train when the convicts opened fire on Gosling and his deputies but it could not be proven that he did the shooting. His lawless acts would fill volumes. With a desperado named Pitts he robbed the hostess at Double Horn, Burnett county, escaping to Missouri, his native land. He attempted to kill a man and was riddled with bullets. To the surprise of the country, he was recently returned to Texas, going to the ranch of his brother on the Leon. Deputy United States Marshal William and Ed Van Ripen, hearing of Brannan's presence in the vicinity, went out yesterday to capture him, dead or alive. Knowing the character of the man, they concealed themselves in a thicket and waited until he had passed. He was then fired upon by the two marshals. He was wounded in his left arm and shoulder. He did not surrender but shifted his revolver to his left hand and steadied it with the bleeding right. In this position he fired four shots, which struck two of the marshals. William Van Ripen now ordered the thicket and opened fire on Brannan, who had risen and was about to fire his bullet when he fell, shot through the neck. The desperado was taken to the last and persistently refused to make disclosures implicating other members of the gang or tell where they kept their hide-out. He died at 10 o'clock this morning. He was 35 years of age and had a long record of crimes against him.

TWO NEGROES HANGED.

Although Brutal Murderers, They Had Hope of Heaven.

WINCHESTER, Va., June 4.—Wes Honeysuckle and Taylor Banks were hanged this morning. The criminals walked to the scaffold. Banks began to tremble violently, but Honeysuckle stood firm on the trap door. The Moody hymn, "There is a light in the Valley," was then sung by request, both joining in loudly. Honeysuckle said: "I thank God I am not guilty of what is put on me. I want to meet all my friends in heaven." Their arms were then plucked, the black cap drawn over their heads and in a loud voice both cried out "Good bye! good bye!" They were then sprung, and the chime for which Honeysuckle and Banks were hanged was the murder of a white man, November 14, 1884. A large Democratic procession took place here on that night, and the prisoners were taken to