WILL NOMINATE RICE. Hon P. H. Kelly Says That is What the Congressional Convention Will Do To-Day.

P. H. Kelly was busy head-deep reading telegrams and correspondence in his store yesterday afternoon. Between glancing over dispatches he remarked: We are going up to Minneapolis to nominate Edmund Rice, and we'll do it unless we run against a snag which we are going to have. We are going to have everything run as harmoniously as it was in the state convention. I want to stop out of the county convention if I can, but the boys have got to be careful and make a strong ticket. It won't do to do anything which will hurt the county. We are going to have a good deal of influence, you men bet you have. The boys must be careful.

These last expressions were brought out in reference to the laboringmen's endorsement of Ald. M. F. Kain for the candidacy for clerk of court. Mr. Kelly did not say that Mr. Kain ought to have H. A. Allen, though he did assert that Ald. R. T. O'Connor had been a candidate, and that he would take a good deal to induce him to withdraw. When Mr. O'Connor's name was suggested in connection with the nomination of Rice, Mr. Kelly ventured to say that that office required about the strongest candidate on the ticket. When Mr. O'Connor's name was mentioned in connection with the nomination of George Allen's name being referred to at the same time, Mr. Kelly hinted that George Allen was the only candidate in the field for sheriff, had always been named in this connection, and ought to be nominated.

In view of these things, some combinations which have been attempted by Mr. O'Connor to capture delegations, are seemingly strange. He promises, so say district persons, to return with a full contingent, his support for register of deeds, and make a similar promise to John McCauley, and again to William Berland, of the Sixth ward. In addition to this, Nick Hardy, of the Fourth ward, has been brought out as a candidate for sheriff. Such combinations would be disastrous to R. W. Bell, who is the recognized candidate for register of deeds, and George Allen, who is prominent in the sheriff's race. It would amount simply to traps to catch the friends of Giesen, Berland, McCauley and Nick Hardy, in consideration of their assistance in the slaughter of M. F. Kain, the labor candidate for clerk of court.

GOING FOR AMES. Judge Baxter Thinks the Farmers of the Fifth Will Go That Way.

Judge L. B. Baxter, of Fergus Falls, was at the Merchants yesterday afternoon. Judge Baxter was a candidate against Knute Nelson for the Democratic ticket, and polled nearly a thousand more votes than C. F. Kindred, Republican, did in his fight against Mr. Nelson in 1882. He is the choice of the bar of the Seventh judicial district for district judge, and he feels confident of his election. If the Republicans choose to make a political matter of it and nominate against him, it is generally conceded that the legal fraternity will carry Judge Baxter through. Speaking of Fifth district politics, Judge Baxter said that he was favorable for Dr. Ames, and that the Fifth will roll up a large round vote for him. He said further: The farmers have got to do it—they've got to vote for Ames. There is no way out of it now. Why, they have the Millers' association to fight, and how are they going to get out of it. Of course if John Gibbs had been nominated the Farmers' alliance in a body could have given him their unanimous support, but with McGill—well, it's quite different.

OPINIONS. Survivor General Mart Chandler said: "It is not a queer campaign. I don't believe that many Republicans are going over to Ames." Dr. A. Guernon, of St. Vincent—Kittitas county is a Republican county but I think it will give a majority to Dr. Ames.

MR. CASTLE'S MOVEMENTS. He Says He is Satisfied for the Present—He Discourses on "The Deal."

When Capt. Henry A. Castle, late chairman of the Republican state central committee, was purchasing a meal ticket at the Merchants yesterday evening he indulged in these interesting remarks: I am satisfied. Quite a number of my votes came from McGill men. If the Gilman men had stuck by me, I think I could have been nominated. I don't lose much, anyhow, and I had a pleasant little campaign, with lots of fun. I don't think about it. It was my duty to run, and I did. I was not according to my wish to have Dr. Gibbs put in as chairman. He always has been a good friend, and I would like to see him in that position. I would like to see him in that position. I would like to see him in that position.

LOOKING OUT FOR "PLEURO." The State Board of Health Desires to Guard Against the Cattle Plague. The state board of health held a meeting yesterday afternoon at Dr. Hand's office on upper Third street. There were present George Hubbard, Dr. Hand, of St. Paul; Dr. Leonard, of Minneapolis; Dr. Smith, of Duluth; Dr. Davis, of Marquette; Dr. Grover, of Duluth county, and Hewitt, of Red Wing. A good part of the meeting was taken up with the consideration of those bills made in various parts of the state in 1885, during the small-pox or varioloid scourge. The attention of the board was directed to the attention of the board to its duty under the act in regard to contagious diseases in cattle, especially in regard to pleuro-pneumonia, and the matter was discussed, the governor participating. The secretary called the attention of the board to obtain all the information possible from other states, and from boards of health. The governor promised his cooperation. The secretary was appointed to report on the meeting of the American Public Health association, at Toronto, Canada, next Monday. The secretary and Drs. Hand and Leonard were appointed a committee to consider what shall be done to secure better instruction in practical hygiene in the state university and the normal schools, and the public schools of the city.

KNOCKING OUT CHICAGO. Margus de Mores in His Dressed Beef Trade in the Markets of the East. Margus de Mores, of New York, F. D. Foster, of Medora, and A. C. Foster, of Chicago, arrived at the Ryan last evening. The secretary of the company was encountered some boycotting in New York from the retail meat men, who were backed by the Armour & Co. Armour does not like the idea of the National Consumers' company making inroads into his business. The "Northwestern" called the attention of the company to the fact that the company was boycotting him in St. Paul for eighteen months, and after a hard struggle were eventually driven out. It was Armour that did it. The Margus de Mores admits, but he says that the secretary of the company is selling as much meat in St. Paul as ever, while in New York he has a market, he says, for fifteen carloads per day. He explains a new scheme, which he regards as much better than the former method of business,

Her hair was combed low down upon her forehead, and could be seen from under the rim of a black bonnet, fastened under her chin with ribbon of the same color as her other clothing. All she wanted from the commission was the establishment of a station near her house, a sidetrack changed to run away from a certain piece of timber, an order requiring all accommodation trains to stop at the flag station and a few other general orders. The commission of the train on the division that passed her premises. She came from some place on the Minneapolis & St. Louis road. Gen. Becker at once had to make an abstract of the railroad law and Mr. Murdoch at once buried himself in a bundle of communications from elevator men. So Gen. Baker, whose temper has been softened by long years in the service, conducted the interview. "This sidetrack track runs straight through my wood lot," said the woman, at a certain pitch, "and I find I can't sell them a stick of cord wood. I've been offering them tea and soda dollars by that, and if I'd known how pesky men they were going to be, I'd never set my foot on that ground. I'll look over the facts in this complaint," said Gen. Baker. "An 'I want a flag station put right there," said the woman, "and I'll give you a township map, and with her forefinger pointing to something that looked like a flycatcher's nest, she could be made to change her side track over to here?" asked the woman in black, indicating with her skinny finger a line drawn, as she said, "on the other side of the platform from here it is now."

"I cannot say as to that, madam," replied the general, while Mr. Murdoch at once saw a joke in the railroad law he was reading, and smiled. "What is your name, sir?" asked the woman. "Never mind," said Gen. Baker, "we are the board of railroad commissioners." Then Gen. Becker looked up and read aloud: "You will attend to all these things, wout you?" "We will," said Gen. Baker. "And make them put back the boundary stake?" "I'll see it looked into," said Gen. Baker. "And make them stop their trains here?" "We will consider the matter." "And see if it can't be fixed so I can sell my cord wood?" "I'll see it looked into," said Gen. Baker. "I assure you we will consider this matter," said Gen. Baker, "is that all?" "I am surprised," said Gen. Baker, "you should put the request for one in writing." "Thank you; good-bye, sir." "Good-bye, madam." "Now you won't forget about the flag station?" "I have made a note on that point," said Gen. Baker. "Oh, thank you." "Good-bye, madam." "Good-bye, sir. Thank you for your courtesy. I will be glad to see you at my black bracelet that wanted the earth gathered up a traveling-bag, a parasol, two bundles and some other things, and was gone. "Murdoch, you'll have to take the next one of that kind that comes," said Gen. Baker, and Gen. Becker smiled.

CAME INTO COURT. Opening of the September Term of the District Court. Judge Brill sat on the bench at 10 o'clock yesterday, when the September term of the Ramsey county district court was opened in his courtroom. The room was crowded with lawyers clear back beyond the railing, and all the space usually occupied by spectators was wholly filled by the expounders of the law. The first business transacted by the court was to call the names of the members of the grand jury, all of whom answered to their names as follows: John B. St. Aubin, Charles G. Schmidt, R. L. Shackford, E. V. Smalley, Kingsland Smith, J. H. Burwell, John A. Sabin, W. S. Timberlake, John B. Schmitt, John N. Saunders, A. B. Savare, Charles T. Mahler, Emil Mannheim, H. Sahlgard, Casper Sawyer, D. C. Shepard, Edward Sawyer. The judge was very brief in his instructions to the jury. There was nothing special to be brought to the attention of the jury, and the court adjourned for the part of the statute usually read on such occasions, excused John A. Sabin, Casper Sawyer and D. C. Shepard and appointed Edward Sawyer foreman. The members then retired to deliberate. As there was no business for them to take up yesterday they adjourned till 10 o'clock this morning when it is expected they will commence work in good earnest. After disposing of the grand jury Judge Brill made an informal call of the list of civil cases and in the afternoon set for a hearing. No civil case will be taken up before next week, but motions will in the meantime be heard and argued.

NEW CASES. Thomas Powers commenced a suit yesterday in the district court against the city of St. Paul to recover $11,482 for injuries caused to his wife, Ann Powers, in consequence of a defective sidewalk. In his complaint he sets forth that his wife was struck and thrown from a sidewalk on the corner of Third and Main streets, where she fell into an opening and seriously injured herself. The dwelling house at 69 East Twelfth street was destroyed by fire last evening to the extent of $300. The building is owned by J. A. Sabin, whose loss covered by insurance. Fifteen household goods were damaged by smoke and water, and were not insured. When the Great Western land, of St. Paul, returned from St. Louis, where it went with the Masons, it stopped in Milwaukee and, uniting with Bach's band, gave a grand concert at Schiller hall, Monday evening. The members being directed by Mr. Bach and some of them by Mr. Schmitt. The two bands made an aggregation of seventy-five pieces.

PERSONAL. George G. Howe was at the Merchants last night. S. F. Holbrook, of Manitoa, was a guest at the Ryan. D. E. Morgan, of Albert Lea, is at the Merchants. R. R. Briggs, of Sioux Falls, Dak., is at the Clarendon. William Russell, of Chicago, is at the Clarendon. Mr. and Mrs. John Frazer, of St. Louis, were in the city. C. Davis, a merchant of Lake Crystal, was in the city. H. R. Wells, of Preston, was at the Merchants yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Eyster, of Duluth, are at the Clarendon. A. G. Maxwell and H. S. Potts, of St. Peter, are at the Clarendon. A. J. Whipple, of Devil's Lake was in the city yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Myers, of Milwaukee, were guests at the Ryan. J. W. Hoise, and George Bradford, of Spring Valley, are at the Merchants. J. L. Chase, a Sioux Falls real estate and stone dealer, was in the city yesterday. Mrs. Eugene L. Kenyon and Miss Lucretia Kenyon, of Milwaukee, were registered at the Ryan. Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Knobloch and Mrs. B. S. Cook, of Owatonna, are registered at the Merchants. W. A. Evans, of Leveeport, Eng., and E. B. Fairchild, Jr., of Grand Haven, Mich., dined at the Clarendon yesterday. Arthur G. Otis, who has been out to Salt Lake City for several weeks on business, has returned to St. Paul. J. W. Smith, of Shellville county, with Deputy Sheriff Olson, of the same county, were called at the capitol yesterday. William B. McConnell, of Fargo, and George W. McConnell, of Angola, dined together at the Merchants yesterday. A. S. Penoyer, agent for Kiralfy's company, which will be at the Grand next week, is in the city in the interests of the company.

St. Paul Real Estate. The following transfers were made yesterday: M. J. Riley to George H. Nelson, et al., $11,000. B. N. Davis to N. Dellinger, et al., $2,000.

He handles cattle at the Montana ranges by giving the producer a surplus of 10 per cent over the decline, the producer to do all the work of driving in the cattle, so that the business is done without loss. De Mores' company will have the meat sent direct through to the New York and Baltimore markets, where the meat is retailed by the company in the different shops, thus doing away with the middlemen. Chicago, the whole of the Chicago men inspired the boycott against De Mores in New York. The company, being buyer, shipper, slaughterer, storer, wholesaler and retailer, all in one, is enabled to deliver to the consumer in the East at 30 per cent cheaper. The Margus had just come in from Marquette, and will close up at Medora for the winter, and then proceed to build up his city at Marquette. The company will kill and pack corned cattle and hogs. He says that by spring they will have 20 shops in New York, 10 in Brooklyn and 12 in Baltimore, and will have in employment over five hundred men. He predicts that A. B. Stickney's project for slaughter yards here must inevitably materialize, and the Margus says he himself will soon establish another plant in St. Paul.

Knights Coming Home. Some of the Knights who went to St. Louis returned by rail. The bulk of the commandery, however, will reach the foot of Jackson street by steamer at 9 o'clock this morning, where they will be met by that part of the commandery that is in St. Paul. The Knights of the East, who were escorted in proper form to the asylum on Wabasha street. The Knights Templar from St. Paul attracted very general attention at the great gathering at St. Louis, and were the most popular of the order. They were in the headquarters on the boat, and all the leading commanderies that were in attendance called upon them.

Funeral of Mrs. John X. Davidson. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the remains of the late Mrs. John X. Davidson were buried from the family residence on Eleventh street. A large number of the relations and friends of the deceased were present. Rev. Mr. Gardner, of the Central Presbyterian church, officiated. A quartette from the Central Presbyterian church, kindly assisted by R. C. Mungler, rendered two beautiful hymns, one of which was a special favorite of the deceased. The floral offerings were numerous and the ceremony, though very simple, was exceedingly impressive. The remains were interred in Oakland cemetery.

A Children's Party. A pleasant children's party was given last evening, between the hours of 4 and 8 p. m., by Mrs. William L. Banning, corner of Wilkin and Meador streets, in honor of her granddaughter, Miss Louise L. Ayer, daughter of the late Mr. Ayer, of Lowell, Mass., who is here on a visit to her grandmother. The time was passed most enjoyably with a programme of amusements and music.

Reserved Seats for Booth. The sale of reserved seats, which began yesterday, for Edwin Booth is still in progress. The sale of seats yesterday amounted to $3,500, with the prospect of a still larger sale to-day. A number of parties from the country and towns out along the various railroads have written and telegraphed to the opera house management asking that seats be reserved for them.

The Mayor Vetoes It. The ordinance vacating Greenbrier avenue passed by the city by a vote of 12 to 1 at the meeting of that body, has been vetoed by the mayor. The question as to whether the ordinance shall be passed over the veto will be voted on at the next meeting of the council.

GLOBULES. Two deaths and five births were reported at the health office yesterday. The Farmers' Advocate and The Farmer consolidated yesterday. Capt. Castle, of the Army, is in the city. J. B. Polk's company served up another dish of "Mixed Pickles" at the Grand opera house last night. The grand opera house is now under the management of the Assistant Superintendent of Public Instruction. The Interior Department is informed by a report of Capt. Price, of the Fifth cavalry camp, on Chillicothe creek, Indian Territory, received through the war department, that the part of the Indian Territory between the Red and White water country, is free from intruding whites and cattle, that the "Boomers" have generally gone to work on the railroads now building on that state line and through the Indian Territory, and that their recognized leaders, including Capt. Conz, have assured Capt. Price that no further attempts will be made to occupy Oklahoma in opposition to the present policy of the government, and that they will await the decision of congress.

A Cabinet Meeting. WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The first meeting of the cabinet since the president's return was held this afternoon. There were present Secretary Lamar, Postmaster General Sherman, Secretary Fairbank, and Acting Attorney General Jenks. The other members of the cabinet were out of the city, but it is expected that all except Secretary Manning will be here on the 29th. The session lasted nearly three hours, and so far as can be learned, was devoted entirely to the consideration of routine questions pending before the departments respectively.

A Taper's Great Secret. Merchant Traveler. "Mr. Lushy, can you keep sober for one consecutive week?" inquired that gentleman's spouse, as he came into the house in his usual condition at that time of the night. "Sherly, my love, shertany." "I don't believe it, and neither does anyone else who knows you. Why don't you brace up and show people you know how to be decent?" "My—love, I'm a modish man, and I don't believe in 'goin' round makin' a display of all I know. I know how to keep sober, but I'm going to keep 'em from knowin' it."

The Maiden's Prayer. A mother had been teaching her infant daughter a little prayer, the refrain of which was "Prayer, my love, O Lord," and because of the little girl's forgetfulness her attention had been called to the flower of that name, in the hope that its association with the prayer would improve her memory. It was supposed the child had her lesson fully learned the mother one evening, in the presence of company, anxious to exhibit her daughter's piety, asked her to recite her little prayer, and she surprised the company by reciting the prayer in the following words: "The two flowers grow side by side in the family garden."

One Way to Avoid Trouble. Two friends after long separation met each other. "Well, how are you getting along, Tom?" "So, so, Jim; can't complain." "Do you have any trouble meeting your monthly bill?" "Oh, no, I meet them at every turn; but paying them might give me trouble."

THE DOOMED ANARCHISTS. The Arguments Advanced By Their Counsel in the Demand for a New Trial. CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The written motion for a new trial in behalf of the doomed anarchists and the several affidavits in support of it were taken to the state's attorney to-day. The motion cites the following to sustain the motion: 1. The verdict in said court is contrary to the law and evidence. 2. There is no evidence in the record supporting or justifying said verdict. 3. The court erred in giving the several instructions asked and given on behalf of the people. 4. The court erred in refusing to give the several instructions which were asked on behalf of the defendants and refused by the court. 5. The court erred in admitting improper, incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial testimony offered.

ON BEHALF OF THE PEOPLE. 6. The court erred in excluding certain testimony offered in behalf of said defendants. 7. The trial of the said cause was not held before, nor was the verdict rendered by an impartial jury. 8. There was misconduct on the part of the officers of the law in the summoning and selecting of jurors in said cause so that the persons summoned under the various special venire issued in said cause were not impartial jurors, but were chosen with special reference to their known or supposed prejudices against the defendants and for the purpose of insuring a conviction of the defendants. 9. There is newly discovered evidence touching the issues involved in the said cause. 10. The closing argument of the state's attorney was improper in its statement of substance and fact, and in its reference to appeals to the prejudices and passions of the jury, in its misstatements of the issues, and in its refusal to answer the questions asked in all having a natural tendency to mislead the jury and prevent a fair and impartial verdict.

11. The court erred in its several rulings as to the qualifications of jurors and their competency and in refusing to allow defendants to ask of the jury certain questions proposed to be put to them, and also in allowing to the state more than twenty preemptory challenges in the motion of DeLoose, John S. Wabash, Fildon and Neefe for a separate trial. There were eight affidavits filed in support of the motion. John Powell made affidavit that he was not an anarchist, and that on one Sunday morning shortly following the 4th of May he had been arrested by the police, and taken to the jail, where he was held for several days. He was released by the police, and he was allowed to go to his home, where he was taken care of by his father, Fischer, Fildon, Parsons and others that they ought to be banded. The defendants themselves set forth jointly, that since their arrest they had been held in the jail of DeLoose and the opinions expressed by the jurors, has come to their knowledge and they will be better prepared to answer the questions asked in behalf of the defendants. 12. The court erred in modifying the instructions asked in behalf of the defendants. 13. The court erred in overruling the motion of DeLoose, John S. Wabash, Fildon and Neefe for a separate trial. There were eight affidavits filed in support of the motion. John Powell made affidavit that he was not an anarchist, and that on one Sunday morning shortly following the 4th of May he had been arrested by the police, and taken to the jail, where he was held for several days. From Alaska. WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Lieutenant Commander H. E. Nichols, commanding the United States steamship Pinta, in a report to the secretary of the navy, dated Sitka, Sept. 20, says the Pinta returned the day before a trip to Yakutat after the Schiwatka exploring expedition. The party was found at Yakutat and all its members were well. They were all able to ascend the mountain to the top of the mountain, and experienced the hardships which it is possible to reach the top. Commander Nichols says a special grand jury has been sitting during the past week. Attempts were made to procure indictments against the ringleaders of the Chinese trouble at Juneau, but no evidence could be obtained and no indictments were found. The captains and mates of the remaining English schooners were tried for the illegal taking of seal in Behling sea. They were found guilty and sentenced to a short imprisonment. All their vessels have been labelled. Appeals will probably be taken in all their cases.

Secretary Manning. WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Secretary Manning will not take his place at the head of the treasury department on the 1st of October, but it is thought by those who ought to know that he will be found at his desk as usual on that day. Secretary Manning's physicians have advised him not to return to Washington while there is a possibility of a hot spell, and he will follow their advice. When he does return to his office it is certain that he will find the most unfortunate war as hard as in the past. He will be relieved by his assistants as far as possible of the merely routine work, and he will find that the demand upon his strength will not be so great as formerly.

Oklahoma. WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The Interior department is informed by a report of Capt. Price, of the Fifth cavalry camp, on Chillicothe creek, Indian Territory, received through the war department, that the part of the Indian Territory between the Red and White water country, is free from intruding whites and cattle, that the "Boomers" have generally gone to work on the railroads now building on that state line and through the Indian Territory, and that their recognized leaders, including Capt. Conz, have assured Capt. Price that no further attempts will be made to occupy Oklahoma in opposition to the present policy of the government, and that they will await the decision of congress.

Killed at a Ball. St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 28.—A ball given by one Bill Owens, a negro, last night broke up in a row, which resulted in the death of George Shannon. At about 10 o'clock in the evening Owens proposed a collection be taken up among the male participants in the festivities to pay the musician. When the hat arrived at the door, he refused to contribute and a quarrel over the affair arose between him and Owens. The former reached into his pocket for a knife, but Owens anticipated him, drew a revolver, and fired a single shot into the chest of Shannon. Shannon died almost instantly. Owens was arrested this morning at 4 o'clock and locked up at the Four Courts. He said he did not intend to shoot Shannon but merely to frighten him, and that he was holding the revolver. The weapon exploded by mistake and the bullet struck Shannon.

A Farmer's Suit. PAOLA, Kan., Sept. 28.—J. Utley, a bachelor farmer, residing five miles from Oswatonna township, near the Franklin county line, aged about 65 years, and in his field Saturday morning between 9 and 11 o'clock cutting corn, was accosted by two masked men with pointed revolvers demanding his surrender and the handing over of his money. The man in the lead refused to tell where his money was kept, whereupon the would-be murderers began firing at the victim, sending five shots at him, only one taking effect, a fatal wound which inflicted the death of the man. A Light Sentence. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—Charles Archibald and Robert Hamilton were today put on trial in this city on a charge of murder in causing the death of John Hamilton on the 11th of May. It was testified that the deceased received a fatal injury in the head in a friendly sparring match with Archibald while they were both under the influence of liquor, and that Hamilton was struck a blow on the forehead with a fist which will doubtless be judged, as the greatest excitement already prevails over the affair.

Escaped From Jail. ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The jail at Genesee was found empty this morning. A hole had been cut through the wall. Squires, the alleged murderer of Emery Thayer, with White, Pressley and Launing, who were held for burglary, and Irwin, for larceny, all escaped. The indications are that the escape occurred early last night.

Fine Goods for St. Paul. P. T. Kavanagh & Co., the auctioneers, of 422 Wabasha street, show us the following correspondence, which speaks for itself: CONSTANTINO, the 8th Sept. 1888.—Messrs. Kavanagh & Co., St. Paul, Minn. Dear Sirs: I am picking up the nicest things in the world. I hope to visit your city next fall and see you. Yours truly, ISKENDER BAY. The goods above referred to consist of fine Turkish rugs, and the advices are that the goods are of the highest quality. They will be remembered as the gentleman who was here several months ago with an elegant stock of similar goods.

Secretary Manning. WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Secretary Manning will not take his place at the head of the treasury department on the 1st of October, but it is thought by those who ought to know that he will be found at his desk as usual on that day. Secretary Manning's physicians have advised him not to return to Washington while there is a possibility of a hot spell, and he will follow their advice. When he does return to his office it is certain that he will find the most unfortunate war as hard as in the past. He will be relieved by his assistants as far as possible of the merely routine work, and he will find that the demand upon his strength will not be so great as formerly.

Oklahoma. WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The Interior department is informed by a report of Capt. Price, of the Fifth cavalry camp, on Chillicothe creek, Indian Territory, received through the war department, that the part of the Indian Territory between the Red and White water country, is free from intruding whites and cattle, that the "Boomers" have generally gone to work on the railroads now building on that state line and through the Indian Territory, and that their recognized leaders, including Capt. Conz, have assured Capt. Price that no further attempts will be made to occupy Oklahoma in opposition to the present policy of the government, and that they will await the decision of congress.

Killed at a Ball. St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 28.—A ball given by one Bill Owens, a negro, last night broke up in a row, which resulted in the death of George Shannon. At about 10 o'clock in the evening Owens proposed a collection be taken up among the male participants in the festivities to pay the musician. When the hat arrived at the door, he refused to contribute and a quarrel over the affair arose between him and Owens. The former reached into his pocket for a knife, but Owens anticipated him, drew a revolver, and fired a single shot into the chest of Shannon. Shannon died almost instantly. Owens was arrested this morning at 4 o'clock and locked up at the Four Courts. He said he did not intend to shoot Shannon but merely to frighten him, and that he was holding the revolver. The weapon exploded by mistake and the bullet struck Shannon.

A Farmer's Suit. PAOLA, Kan., Sept. 28.—J. Utley, a bachelor farmer, residing five miles from Oswatonna township, near the Franklin county line, aged about 65 years, and in his field Saturday morning between 9 and 11 o'clock cutting corn, was accosted by two masked men with pointed revolvers demanding his surrender and the handing over of his money. The man in the lead refused to tell where his money was kept, whereupon the would-be murderers began firing at the victim, sending five shots at him, only one taking effect, a fatal wound which inflicted the death of the man. The man in the lead refused to tell where his money was kept, whereupon the would-be murderers began firing at the victim, sending five shots at him, only one taking effect, a fatal wound which inflicted the death of the man.

A Light Sentence. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—Charles Archibald and Robert Hamilton were today put on trial in this city on a charge of murder in causing the death of John Hamilton on the 11th of May. It was testified that the deceased received a fatal injury in the head in a friendly sparring match with Archibald while they were both under the influence of liquor, and that Hamilton was struck a blow on the forehead with a fist which will doubtless be judged, as the greatest excitement already prevails over the affair.

Escaped From Jail. ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The jail at Genesee was found empty this morning. A hole had been cut through the wall. Squires, the alleged murderer of Emery Thayer, with White, Pressley and Launing, who were held for burglary, and Irwin, for larceny, all escaped. The indications are that the escape occurred early last night.

Cancer, Scrofula, Eczema, Blood Poison, Malaria, Measles, and all Diseases Caused from Impure Blood. Cancer of the Tongue. My wife, some three or four years ago, was troubled with an ulcer on the side of her tongue next to her throat. The pain was incessant, causing her to sleep and procure great nervous prostration. She was treated by the best physicians, but all in vain. She was finally cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. She is now well and strong, and she attributes her recovery to the use of these pills. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, 233 N. 2nd St., St. Paul, Minn.
