Richly Malnourished. Special to the Globe.

LAKE CITY, Minn., Sept. 28.—A report comes from West Albany of a terrible tragedy. It is said that a daughter of Frank Ruter has been in a criminal intercourse with several men, although she has been married twice and has a child by each husband. One of these men is Pete Baker, who gives his age as 24 years, and has been working in that locality for some time past. On last Friday night he went to see her. He says he had some $40 in money, which she claimed he owed her, and which she took away from him. He remonstrated against this, and she, becoming alarmed, sent one of the children to her father's place a distance of about thirty rods. Baker, in turn becoming alarmed, took to his heels and ran into a barbed-wire fence, where he was head fast. While in this position, Mr. Ruter, his son-in-law and several women came up with a grain-saw, corn-knife, butcher-knife, spade and several clubs and beat him to unconsciousness, and dragged him into a piece of timber, where they let him lie all night in the rain. The next morning Mr. Ruter was informed of the particulars, and went into the timber to hunt for the injured man. He found him unconscious, but covered with blood and unable to move. He was removed to the school house, and the county attorney, Sheriff and Dr. Morgan were summoned. It was found that one leg was broken and the other all backed to pieces, and not a square inch of that was cut or beaten black and blue. Yesterday he was removed to Wabasha. He is in a critical condition.

It was that no member of a secret society could become a member of the church. It was also determined to establish a Danish theological seminary, either at Lena, Wis., or Cedar Falls, Ia. Rev. Theo. Helvege, of Lena, was chosen president of the proposed seminary and professor of theology.

Spreading the Electric. Special to the Globe.

HARTY CITY, Dak., Sept. 28.—The Rapid City Electric Light company awarded yesterday to the Thompson Houston company of Chicago a contract for putting in this city a small electric light plant. Only about fifty lights will be used at first, but if the venture proves to be paying one the plant will be enlarged. Both the arc and incandescent lights will be put on the circuit, and a lamp furnished for about 70 cents a night. Heretofore the only electric light system in the Black Hills has been at Deadwood, which has for several years possessed an excellent service, out one which has never paid. The power can be obtained very cheaply, and the men who are backing this are confident that this venture will prove a paying one from the start.

RED LAKE FALLS. Center of One of the Finest Wheat Belts in the Northwest.

The town of Red Lake Falls, Minn., is at present, and with good reason, attracting no little attention as a probable coming city. It is situated at the junction of the Red Lake and Clearwater rivers, in the eastern part of Polk county, on a town site containing all the requisites for a beautiful as well as a prosperous city. The water powers at this place are second only to those at Minneapolis and can be easily and cheaply utilized. No better location can be found north of St. Paul for mills and manufacturing of all kinds. The powers (nine in all) are situated on both rivers and have each a fall of from twelve to twenty-five feet and in addition to the number are inexhaustible. The recent opening for sale of the pine lands on the Red Lake reservation (on which at a moderate estimate are 2,000,000,000 feet) affords a fine chance here for one or more large saw mills, as the pine must be driven by one of the two rivers which unite at this point. The lumber trade at no distant day will be one of Red Lake Falls largest industries. The Red Lake and Clearwater rivers both above and below this point, are fringed with hardwood timber which will furnish abundance of fuel for every purpose. Two railroads are now building and will reach here this fall. The Duluth & Manitoba, building from the Northern Pacific at Sawyer, and the twenty-two mile graded Red Lake Falls and the rails laid to Twin Valley, forty-five miles from here, iron is being laid at the rate of two miles per day, and the cars will be in the town in three weeks. The St. Paul, Minneapolis & Northern Pacific are making active preparations for coming here this fall. The preliminary surveys have been made into town, and the grading is partially completed between Red Lake Falls and Pelican Rapids, or some point on the main line. The surrounding country is one of the finest wheat belts in the Northwest, and will market 500,000 bushels of No. 1 hard from the immediate country. A daily stage runs between here and Crookston, twenty-two miles distant, carrying the mail and passengers. The present population is about six hundred, and rapidly increasing. Upon a division of Polk county, which must soon take place, Red Lake Falls, in all probability, will become the county seat of a new county, which will materially aid its growth. The center of the finest wheat belt in the Northwest, the natural market for the fine forests of this city, and the great water powers, will not fail to make Red Lake Falls the best point in Northwestern Minnesota.

Presion. Special to the Globe.

FRANZES, Sept. 28.—The new Fillmore County bank, by Clemons & Todd, will be open for business early this week. They have a five thousand pound proof improved fire, burglar and diamond-robust time safe, together with the finest and most complete banking outfit in Southern Minnesota. The business will be managed by Mr. Todd, who has taken up his residence here. The fair record of the bank is the greatest financial success in the history of the association. The officers say that all bills and premiums will be paid in full. Posters are out announcing that John A. Lovely will address the people of Presion and vicinity at the court house on the evening of the 30th. Steps are being taken to immediately organize a Democratic club. A Democratic paper at this place in the near future is much talked of, but what arrangements have been made in that direction is not known. Aside from the lively dissatisfaction manifest in the Republican ranks, and the position and attitude of the soldiers to Lovely, politics are generally quiet. Out of nine Republican business men, five were found who expressed their intention to support Judge Wilson for congress, and members of the G. A. R. post, almost to a man, say they will vote for the Democratic nominee rather than a rebel sympathizer.

Shakoape. Special to the Globe.

SHAKOPE, Sept. 28.—The common council met in regular session this evening. The liquor ordinance fails to confer the power of revoking licenses on the mayor or council, and will be amended so as to cure this defect. Up to the present time there are eight candidates for the legislature in the county. From all indications Judge Macdonald will be the unanimous nominee of the Cassia convention to be held Sept. 30. Judge Macdonald has two years left of his term as judge of this district. Attorney L. H. Hawkins, of this city, will leave in a short time to take the attorneyship of a Mexican railroad, with headquarters at New York city. The English letters will close at restaurant and previous to its coming the advance agent of the show made arrangements with E. Vosburg & Co., to display in their windows the receipt of $100,000 for their diamond, alleged $7,000 worth. The jeweler, alive to their own advertising interest, announced in all the newspapers that the display would be made, and arranged their windows for the reception of the diamonds. A large crowd thronged the window, front and store, but the "jewels" failed to appear. Finally, to stop the numerous inquiries, a juvenile clerk put a card in the window, reading: "Dear Sir, we regret to inform you that the diamonds were not in the window as they failed to show up." When Mr. Vosburg came from supper he ordered the card out, but David, hearing of it, gave Vosburg & Co. a piece of his mind from the stage before his audience of 1,200 people. Yesterday David's attorneys brought suit for $50,000 damages against Vosburg.

The Fisheries Question. BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 28.—The members of the sub-committee of the committee on foreign relations of the United States senate, gathered at the Tremont house at noon today to confer on the preliminaries of the investigation into the fishery question, in accordance with the resolution passed at the last session. Senator George F. Edwards, chairman, presided. The other members of the committee are Senators John F. Morgan, New York, and Eli Salisbury, Delaware. Senator Edmunds said:

We shall consider the fishery question in general, but we have not yet decided whether the order of procedure. Whether our hearing shall be public or private is a matter for consideration. I desire to state here that I can give on the subject at present.

An Application Denied. NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Judge Churchill, of the supreme court, today denied the application of the 250 bondholders secured by the $300,000 divisional mortgage held by the Farmers' Loan and Trust company, between this city and Washington, for leave to be made parties defendant in the action pending to the foreclosure of the mortgage in which an appeal is to be taken upon the judgment of foreclosure and sale entered in July last.

The charges were neglect to provide, extreme cruelty, intemperance and desertion.

PLEURO-PNEUMONIA. The Situation at Chicago—An Outbreak Reported in the East.

Two Fish Roads. ALL roads in the state but the Northern Pacific and the Manitoba have agreed to reduce their passenger rates to 3 cents a mile.

Since telegraphing you I have had the watch strengthened at the infected stables to prevent animals from being removed. There are twenty-nine men now employed, making an expense of nearly $100,000. It is necessary in order to give the state board time to decide what disposition could be made of the cattle. It is very important to have an early inspection of some districts in this vicinity.

A list of names of six experienced veterinary surgeons is inclosed in the letter, with a request that they be appointed for inspection service. Dr. Salmon says with his force, which need not be employed more than three or four weeks, can very soon determine the extent of the infection.

READING, Pa., Sept. 28.—Pleuro-pneumonia is raging with unprecedented violence among the cattle in Montgomery county and the great west of the district. Many have died. Dr. Gilbert reported to the state board of health eighteen cases in Limerick alone and the farmers find that the only remedy is to kill the cattle, leaving no one to be left.

ROYAL ARCH MASONS. They Meet in Twenty-Sixth Triennial Convention at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The twenty-sixth triennial convention of the General Grand Chapter for the United States of the Royal Arch Masons opened at the Masonic temple this afternoon, with a large number of delegates from the various state grand chapters, as well as the grand high priests of the grand chapter, who are ex-officio members of the body. The proceedings today began with a parade of the local commanderies of Knights Templars and Masonic organizations. Arriving at the temple the general grand chapter was formally received by the grand chapter of the District of Columbia. Commissioner Webb delivered an address of welcome on behalf of the citizens of the District. After some other reception ceremonies the general grand chapter began its session with closed doors. The business of the present session will be of a routine character. An overtime will be made to have the Royal Arch Masons of the province of Quebec, in Canada, represented in the general grand chapter. John P. Noyes, of Waterloo, Quebec, is to make the address. There will also be an election of officers. A banquet will be given the general grand chapter by the president to-morrow afternoon.

DAVIS' "DIAMONDS." BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Charles L. Davis and his "Alvin Jostyn" company appeared in this city Saturday. Previous to its coming the advance agent of the show made arrangements with E. Vosburg & Co., to display in their windows the receipt of $100,000 for their diamond, alleged $7,000 worth. The jeweler, alive to their own advertising interest, announced in all the newspapers that the display would be made, and arranged their windows for the reception of the diamonds. Teasdale and the Sun Glass. It is reported that T. W. Teasdale, general passenger agent of the Omaha road, is to take a vacation to brace up his health, which has been somewhat impaired by constant attention to business. There is no doubt a "warfare" connected with Northwest men circles who can enjoy a joke more than can Mr. Teasdale. It is said of him that several years ago he went down the river in August for a month's vacation. While on the steamer he was troubled a great deal with mosquitoes and flies, and while on deck he was constantly fighting them. One afternoon he sat near the pilot house and old John Green, one of the oldest captains on the river, came up. Just as he came in sight Teasdale made a frantic dive at a cloud of mosquitoes that were hovering around him.

"What's the matter with you, Teas?" inquired the captain. "What is the matter?" repeated the railroad man; "why, these confounded flies and mosquitoes will eat at my head and my neck."

"Oh, pshaw!" said the captain, laughing, "you'll get used to them. I don't mind 'em now. Why, yer see, I habnt got no spear or hair on my top of my head an' I'll bet I can set down there in ther sun without a hat on fifteen minutes an' not brush 'er off or mosquito any more."

"I'll bet you $50 you can't," replied Teasdale. "It's go on," said the captain, and both men produced their money.

The passengers had become interested by this time and a crowd gathered around the men. Everything was made ready and the steamer started on its way. In two minutes the bald head of the old captain was black with flies and mosquitoes, but he didn't show any signs of uneasiness. Ten minutes slipped by and the old man sat coolly chewing his tobacco. Eleven and twelve minutes went by and still the old man was cool, calm and collected. Teasdale began to get nervous and knew if something wasn't done he would lose his $50. When the steamer had passed he had passed he reached down in his vest pocket, and bringing out a sun-glass, he adjusted it and got a focus in the center of the captain's bald scalp. A half a minute went by and the captain began to show signs of uneasiness. He chewed harder and spit oftener than he had been doing. A half a minute more and he asked if the time wasn't up. "No," said Teasdale. "You've got another minute on your head."

Women Responsible for War. Ruskin: I for one would fain join in the cadence of hammer-strokes that should beat swords into plowshares, and that this cannot be is not the fault of us men. It is the fault of woman. You fancy that you are your command or your permission can any contest take place among us. And the real reason for all the poverty, misery and rage of battle throughout Europe is simply this, that you women, who are, however religious, however self-sacrificing for those whom you love, are too selfish and too thoughtless to take pains for any creature outside of your own immediate circles. You fancy that you are sorry for the pains of others. Now, I just tell you this, that if the usual course of war, instead of unroofing peasants' houses and ravaging peasants' fields, merely broke the china upon your own drawing-room tables, no war in civilized countries would last a week. I tell you more, that at whatever moment you chose to put a period to war, you could do it with less trouble than you take any day to go out to dinner. You know, or at least you ought to know, if you would think that every battle you hear of has made widows and orphans. We have none of us heart enough truly to mourn with them. But at least we might put on our mourning for the widows and orphans with these. Let but every Christian lady who has conscience toward God vow that she will mourn, at least outwardly, for his killed creatures. Your praying is useless, unless you deliver your children, your husband, your God, if you have not plain obedience enough in you for this. Let every lady in the upper class of civilized Europe simply vow that while any cruel war proceeds she will wear a plain dress, without jewels, no ornament, no excuse for, or evasion into, prettiness, and I tell you again, no war would last a week.

Two Men of Strong Scents. The average railroad traveler can detect the average railroad hog at once glance as he passes down the aisle of the car. As a train stopped at Jackson the other day half a dozen fresh passengers detected one of the animals in one of the coaches, and five of them stood up rather than tackle him. The sixth one halted at the seat, removed a satchel from the end of the floor, and fresh passengers detected one of the animals in one of the coaches, and five of them stood up rather than tackle him. PLEURO-PNEUMONIA. The Situation at Chicago—An Outbreak Reported in the East.

Two Fish Roads. ALL roads in the state but the Northern Pacific and the Manitoba have agreed to reduce their passenger rates to 3 cents a mile.

Since telegraphing you I have had the watch strengthened at the infected stables to prevent animals from being removed. There are twenty-nine men now employed, making an expense of nearly $100,000. It is necessary in order to give the state board time to decide what disposition could be made of the cattle. It is very important to have an early inspection of some districts in this vicinity.

A list of names of six experienced veterinary surgeons is inclosed in the letter, with a request that they be appointed for inspection service. Dr. Salmon says with his force, which need not be employed more than three or four weeks, can very soon determine the extent of the infection.

READING, Pa., Sept. 28.—Pleuro-pneumonia is raging with unprecedented violence among the cattle in Montgomery county and the great west of the district. Many have died. Dr. Gilbert reported to the state board of health eighteen cases in Limerick alone and the farmers find that the only remedy is to kill the cattle, leaving no one to be left.

ROYAL ARCH MASONS. They Meet in Twenty-Sixth Triennial Convention at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The twenty-sixth triennial convention of the General Grand Chapter for the United States of the Royal Arch Masons opened at the Masonic temple this afternoon, with a large number of delegates from the various state grand chapters, as well as the grand high priests of the grand chapter, who are ex-officio members of the body. The proceedings today began with a parade of the local commanderies of Knights Templars and Masonic organizations. Arriving at the temple the general grand chapter was formally received by the grand chapter of the District of Columbia. Commissioner Webb delivered an address of welcome on behalf of the citizens of the District. After some other reception ceremonies the general grand chapter began its session with closed doors. The business of the present session will be of a routine character. An overtime will be made to have the Royal Arch Masons of the province of Quebec, in Canada, represented in the general grand chapter. John P. Noyes, of Waterloo, Quebec, is to make the address. There will also be an election of officers. A banquet will be given the general grand chapter by the president to-morrow afternoon.

DAVIS' "DIAMONDS." BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Charles L. Davis and his "Alvin Jostyn" company appeared in this city Saturday. Previous to its coming the advance agent of the show made arrangements with E. Vosburg & Co., to display in their windows the receipt of $100,000 for their diamond, alleged $7,000 worth. The jeweler, alive to their own advertising interest, announced in all the newspapers that the display would be made, and arranged their windows for the reception of the diamonds. A large crowd thronged the window, front and store, but the "jewels" failed to appear. Finally, to stop the numerous inquiries, a juvenile clerk put a card in the window, reading: "Dear Sir, we regret to inform you that the diamonds were not in the window as they failed to show up."

Teasdale and the Sun Glass. It is reported that T. W. Teasdale, general passenger agent of the Omaha road, is to take a vacation to brace up his health, which has been somewhat impaired by constant attention to business. There is no doubt a "warfare" connected with Northwest men circles who can enjoy a joke more than can Mr. Teasdale. It is said of him that several years ago he went down the river in August for a month's vacation. While on the steamer he was troubled a great deal with mosquitoes and flies, and while on deck he was constantly fighting them. One afternoon he sat near the pilot house and old John Green, one of the oldest captains on the river, came up. Just as he came in sight Teasdale made a
