TESTIMONY OF A MICHIGAN ARCHITECT
SAGINAW, Mich., Aug. 19, 1886—I have used the
Hall's Sheathing Lath
In the construction of private dwellings and public buildings, with very satisfactory results, and cheerfully recommend its use where warmth and solidity of wall is desired. It is also entitled to merit on ceilings where the builder desires to deaden the upper floors, as it forms a floor for the material. Where extra warmth is required, it may be used as an outside sheathing, with grooves inward and plaster between the studs, affording also additional fire protection.
