

"AT HOME."

With the Late Autumn Frosts the Social World is Actively Rousing Itself for Winter.

Cupid Has Been Gunning and Has Succeeded in Lodging His Missiles in Many Hearts.

A Long List of Events That Brought Out the Society People in Full Evening Dress.

Personal Pointers on Our Citizens and the Stranger That is Within Our Gates.

Parlor Pastimes.

SOCIETY tends this winter to more domestic pleasures than in the past. Once it was the habit of the women of making to the young men, and the drama upon a young fellow's faculties was exhaustive if pleasant. Now the beneficiaries and the young men have taken the thing in hand, and now it is the rule to open the doors of one's home and give the parlor to pleasant acquaintance and modest merriment. A step in this direction were the numerous ladies' receptions started up this fall. The long evenings of winter will give the young people of both sexes ample opportunity to call from home to home and remind the married people of the gayeties of youth.

Orange Blossoms.

HERE was another ripple of matrimonial interest in last week. The long anticipated wedding of W. A. Hardenbergh and Miss Ella G. Stout took place at St. Mary's church Thursday morning at 10 a. m., with all the elaborate ceremony of the Catholic church. Rev. Louis Calliet celebrating the mass and linking the twain together. The church was crowded with relatives and friends of the contracting parties, along with a full list of whom was published in Friday's GLOBE. The Misses English, of Columbus, O., Mamie Kelley, Beaumont, McQuillan and Farrington were the bridesmaids. Stanley Proudfoot was the best man, and Messrs. Boyle, Dawson, D. Leonard, Beaumont and Wright were the ushers. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Stone, at 220 East Ninth street, was enjoyed, and the young couple departed for the East to spend their honeymoon.

SHAW-RILEY.

A pleasant informal occasion was the marriage of Miss Nettie F. Riley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Riley, No. 291 Laurel avenue, to J. Frank Shaw, Jr., of New Orleans, last Thursday afternoon. Rev. Maurice D. Edwards legalized the contract. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Riley gave a hospitable reception to numerous friends. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw took their departure at night for New Orleans, their home for the future. There was made the reception of a party of friends.

KAHN-RICE.

The wedding of Isaac Kahn, of this city, and Miss Hattie Rice, of Milwaukee, was a very brilliant occasion at the residence of J. H. Rice, 600 Marshall street, Milwaukee. Rabbi Moses officiated. Misses Natalie Rice, Bertha Fernberg and Rose Rice were the bridesmaids, and Messrs. Ludwig Kahn, Henry Rice and Hugo Kahn groomsmen. A banquet and dancing were the subsequent festivities.

THEIR FIRST YEAR.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Barrows celebrated the first anniversary of their wedding at the residence corner Oakland and Grand avenues, Thursday evening. The occasion was a very informal one, only the immediate friends of Mr. and Mrs. Barrows and the baby being present. Among others were:

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Peabody, Mr. and Mrs. Sibley, Mr. and Mrs. C. Wall, Dr. Haupt, Miss Haupt, M. N. Williams, Miss Florence Williams, Dr. Wetmore, Dr. W. H. Niles, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnston and Miss Thurston.

HYMNICAL HAPPENINGS.

Thomas B. Holmes, of this city, and Miss Florence S. Adams, of Winona, will be married at the residence of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. Van Anden, corner of First and Wabasha, Wednesday, Nov. 14, at 8:30 p. m. Rev. Mr. Crum will officiate. Mr. Holmes and bride will be at home in this city after Dec. 15.

William H. Coleman, of this city, and Miss Catherine H. Baker, daughter of N. B. Baker, of Brockport, N. Y., were married in Brockport Thursday, Nov. 7. They have been enjoying their honeymoon in New York and Washington, and will make this city their home.

Father Calliet united Miss Katie Van Dusen, of Athens, Pa., and James E. Dore, of Watertown, Dak., at St. Mary's church Wednesday. P. Feeling was groomsmen and Miss Hannah Egan bridesmaid. A brief wedding trip east was taken.

Mr. Ernest Wasmus, chief clerk of the adjutant general's office at Fort Snelling, and Miss Correll, were married at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wasmus, at 1000 Broadway, Wednesday evening. A reception to the young people of this city. From 8 until 12 p. m. the parlors of Dr. and Mrs. St. Paul, No. 301 Summit avenue, presented a picture of splendor and beauty, as youth and maiden whirled among flowers and evergreens to Selbert's best music. Mrs. Stone was assisted to receive her guests by Mr. and Mrs. John A. Berkey, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seymour and Mr. and Mrs. H. Sahlgren. Among those who enjoyed her hospitality were:

Misses Anna, Augusta, Rice, Vance, English, Stickney, Greve, Beaumont, McQuillan, Banning, Mann, Perin, Batties, Gozian, Wedelstaedt, Palmes, Aldrich, Gilman, Dawson, Dutton, McGill, Lindke, Horn, Hall, Alden, Harding, of Minneapolis, Wheaton and Pratt, and Messrs. W. T. MacNeil, Will Thurston, Fitzgerald, Boates, Yancy, Rankin, and Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Rice, of St. Paul, recently married, are enjoying their honeymoon in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Miss Annie B. Napier, daughter of Colin Napier, at New Richmond, Wis., Rev. S. A. Abbott, officiating.

Mrs. P. R. L. Hardenbergh, entertained at tea Tuesday evening the bridesmaids and ushers of the Stone-Hardenbergh wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Fossenden and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hughes celebrated their wedding.

On the Carpet.

IT will be long before the pleasures of the dance will grow less. It seems a bit mysterious that the same routine which which partook of refreshment, quadrille, waltz, and schottische should afford such exciting enjoyment. To take a girl to a dance, to compliment her, to do not forget, and this is frequently the first step toward matrimony.

each damsel has the opportunity of displaying a graceful form and pretty step, and each adores her best to be a genuine ladies' man. The dance is now an essential part of the private reception programme, and parlor carpets suffer correspondingly.

The ball of the Standard club will occur Thursday evening at Standard hall.

Past and Future.

"UN, you bet," she said, and then the maiden gave one of those sou-l-thrilling bursts of laughter, frank and hearty. She was taking her measure for a toboggan suit, and the conversation between herself and her dressmaker naturally turned upon coming events.

It was not so much the thought of the grand parade under myriads of lighted gas jets, or the idea of turning out with one of her suitors in a splendid equipage like all the other belles and beaux, as it was the anticipation of the fact that many of the tobogganers, which touched the strings of maidenly merriment and caused them to vibrate with musical laughter. This young miss has grown tired of balls, concerts and receptions, and her one object of living left is to dress in diamonds and drop down a steek glass slide aboard a toboggan and clinging to some heroic young man in similar garments.

YOUNG PEOPLE AT MISS STONE'S.

Dr. Alexander J. Stone, whose ability as a toastmaster has frequently been in evidence, gave a grand continental slide party, a reception to the young people of this city. From 8 until 12 p. m. the parlors of Dr. and Mrs. St. Paul, No. 301 Summit avenue, presented a picture of splendor and beauty, as youth and maiden whirled among flowers and evergreens to Selbert's best music. Mrs. Stone was assisted to receive her guests by Mr. and Mrs. John A. Berkey, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seymour and Mr. and Mrs. H. Sahlgren. Among those who enjoyed her hospitality were:

son, Mr. George Hand Miss Nettie Treasura. Appropriate floral decorations were distributed about the church. It is intended to commence the erection of a beautiful church edifice next spring on the lot adjoining corner of Selby avenue and Arundel street.

FOR THE HEATHEN.

Something both unique and amusing was the jug-breaking at the residence of Col. and Mrs. Newport, corner Selby and Summit avenues, Monday evening, which was attended by Messrs. C. H. Bigelow, W. D. Kirk, H. B. Bigelow, Henry A. Boardman, Dr. Boardman, Driscoll, Wheelock and Robbins. The ladies of the House of Hope Presbyterian Church Missionary society, distributed, six months ago, 130 little earthen jugs, whose only opening was a small aperture, just large enough to admit a coin. Into these miniature savings banks the members of the congregation were requested to put contributions toward the missionary cause, occasionally. The time to open them was Monday evening, and after a heap of fun, it was ascertained that $240 had been contributed in this way.

OPEN DOORS.

Society awaits anxiously the reception which is to be given by Mr. and Mrs. George R. Finch and Miss Finch, at 435 Summit avenue, next Wednesday evening, from 8 p. m. until 12 m. Nothing will be overlooked in the preparations to make the event among the most noted of the winter, with abundant pleasure to host, hostess and guests alike. Selbert's full orchestra has been engaged for the occasion. The reception will be held at the residence of Mr. Finch, moved last July, is a model one, and it will be placed at the disposal of the ladies and gentlemen of this city. All formalities are to be dispensed with in making the evening one of pleasant enjoyment.

Mrs. Pope, daughter of Gen. H. H. Sibley, entertained a progressive euchre at her residence, on Woodward avenue, Tuesday evening. Eight tables were arranged. Miss Griffin and Mr. Bird won the best prize. Mrs. Bird and Mr. Frost, progressive and Miss Cooke, of Washington, and Mr. W. R. Merriam the foot prizes. At the tables sat:

FRIENDS from everywhere are commencing to call upon their acquaintances and relatives in this city. The tendency now is to come to St. Paul and enjoy the winter rather than go South to avoid it. What is remarkable is the anxiety many persons are in other cities display in their eagerness to secure rooms at the hotels in advance. "I want a good room," expressed a gentleman standing at the Ryan register one afternoon last week and addressing Johnny Ford. "Be sure and don't fail me. I'll send you a telegram so you can keep one for me." "All right, I'll have you fixed all right, if you let me know just when you want it. There's lots of people writing for rooms for this winter, and we are likely to be pretty crowded." That's the way. Last winter all the hotels were booked, and the chamber of commerce building was used as a dormitory. A still greater influx of visitors may be anticipated this winter, which leaves it to the duty of St. Paul citizens to throw doors open wide and let them in.

AT THE HEARTHSTONE.

Mr. Stanley Hough, a young attorney of Winnipeg, was the guest of Mr. Murphy, who recently came from Winnipeg to make St. Paul his home.

Hon. and Mrs. E. Granger, of Aberdeen, Dak., late of Chicago, Ill., are visiting their grand-daughter, Mrs. R. N. Bell, at Merriam Park.

W. F. Wagle and daughter, Miss Forde, of Howard Lake, spent Friday as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J.
