

SCANDAL IN HIGH LIFE.

A Fresh Exposure of the Borted Condition of Titled "Fassitty" in Great Britain.

Lady Colin Campbell Begins Action for Divorce Against Her Husband for Adultery.

The Defendant One of the Sons of the Noted Scotchman, the Duke of Argyll.

The Charges and Testimony So Far Heard of a Most Shocking Nature.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The action of divorce brought by Lady Colin Campbell against her husband, Lord Colin Campbell, fifth son of the Duke of Argyll, came up for hearing to-day.

The plaintiff, Lady Campbell, her sister and her mother were the first persons directly interested in the action to enter the room.

The plaintiff, the lawyer continued, was formerly Miss Blood, and was a respectable and attractive person.

She was married to the defendant and became engaged to him in 1880. The marriage was dissolved at his death in 1881.

When the ceremony had been performed the couple went away on a "melancholy honeymoon," the groom being attended all the time by a hospital nurse.

In fact, Lord Colin Campbell was attended by this nurse from the day of his marriage down to the date of the termination of their married life in 1885.

He was, declared the lawyer, never during this entire period independent of the special nurse's care.

This was because his lordship was afflicted with a disease, of which the plaintiff could not have had any idea of what afflicted her betrothed husband.

The marriage was not consummated until October, 1881. The case was so very horrible, declared the lawyer, that he would refrain as far as possible from even alluding to the details.

THE VENERABLE DUKE OF ARGYLL, the defendant's father, had entered the court room and took a seat beside Lord Colin Campbell, near whom the Marquis of Lorne, the defendant's eldest brother, had already taken a seat.

Russell said that Dr. Bird, who had attended both Lord and Lady Campbell, would testify to show that the lady's life was very high unendurable, but that she had tried to do what she deemed duty required of her, and when she became aware of the nature of her husband's malady, she endeavored to remain his companion, and even to nurse him, in order to hide his misery from the world.

Finally, however, as it would be shown, the wife found herself unable to submit to enforced relationship with him, and she told her husband that she would no longer be his companion.

She was mistaken about him, and added the statement that it was difficult for him to suppose that she believed anything like she suspected to be true of him.

This solemn disclaimer by her husband and under the circumstances, she said, she had no alternative but to leave him.

Then Lord Colin Campbell suggested that she had had improper relations with her physician, Dr. Bird.

When the latter heard of the intimation he insisted on severing all relationship with the family. Upon this the defendant Dr. Bird to attend Lady Campbell.

Lady Campbell thereupon refused to permit intimacy on the part of the defendant, and he threatened her with expulsion from his house if she persisted in her refusal.

She then, however, yielded her consent, and she then applied for a separation. To her application Lord Colin Campbell made reply denying all her charges.

The lady's condition in September, 1885, was so serious that a surgical operation was performed upon her, and she died, and yet, despite the fact that all this had been communicated to her by him, her husband, during the period of her acute suffering, would cordially account for her condition by making charges of her against her.

In March, 1884, the plaintiff obtained a decree of separation. She repaired to her father's house at Florence, and returned to England in the June following.

On her way home she and her party stopped in Paris, staying at a hotel of Marlborough called upon them. This visit was made the occasion by her husband for a charge of adultery.

Lord Colin Campbell even went so far as to write to the Paris authorities, requesting them to arrest the husband, and to send him to prison under a charge of prostitution.

It was difficult to believe, said Mr. Russell, that any man of ordinary instincts should act in this way towards a wife already so injured, "but," added the lawyer, "Lord Colin Campbell's pride had been wounded, and he was determined to have Lady Campbell's name cleared up."

Mr. Russell then detailed the grounds of the charge of adultery which the plaintiff made against the defendant. Turning then to a review of the counter charges made by Lord Colin Campbell against the plaintiff, she said that she had been guilty of criminal conduct with the Duke of Marlborough, Chief Shaw and others.

Mr. Russell said the lady was in a position to successfully meet all these charges. The Duke of Marlborough and Mr. Shaw were old friends of the plaintiff's counsel, and Mrs. Shaw had long been intimate acquaintances. Gen. Butler, one of those with whom the defendant sought to connect the plaintiff, was also a friend of the plaintiff's counsel.

A FRIGHTFUL FEAST.

A Kansas Lunatic Discovered Dining on the Vitals of a Man He Had Murdered.

In Kentucky a Man Kills Eight People to Revenge an "Insult" to His Paramour.

A New York Lawyer of Good Standing Charged With Heavy Embezzlement.

Cuban Swindlers at Work in Michigan—A Woman Stabbed by Her Husband.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Nov. 26.—A dispatch from Havensville, a small town in Jackson county, eighty-five miles west of here, tells of a revolting crime committed here that place last Wednesday night.

At the head of the highway leading into the garret above the fourth floor, and where the rafters of the roof are within three and a half feet of the garret floor, a pile of bedclothes stuffed with shavings, laid open in several places, and daubed with common lard from a pie pan which lay beside showing the finger-prints of the one who did the work, was found.

The incendiary work of firing the wood was discovered at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, and promptly put out. "Had there been a delay of ten minutes," said Inspector Shay, "in the discovery of the fire and giving the alarm to the guests, I haven't the slightest doubt that three or four lives would have been lost."

A Twenty Years' Search. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 26.—Twenty years ago, in Cherokee county, Ala., Calvin McFee and Joseph B. Hardwick quarreled over a tract of land, and the latter was killed by the former.

McFee fled the country, and until a few days ago nothing was known of him. Immediately after McFee's disappearance a brother of the murdered Hardwick started in pursuit and has spent twenty years in searching for the murderer.

He obtained traces of McFee at a saloon in St. Louis, and he proceeded to have him arrested. The arrest caused great excitement among the cowboys of that region, and for a time it was feared that a riot would break out.

A Lawyer in Trouble. CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLING $12,000 FROM A WOMAN. NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Lawyer Henry D. Garrett, who was arrested some days ago, was arraigned in the police court to-day, charged by Mrs. Rosaline Charpentier with the embezzlement of $12,000 entrusted to him by her, with which to effect a settlement with the claimants against the McCordie estate in California.

Garrett came into prominence last spring through being engaged to prosecute the claims of the wrecked passengers of the Cunard steamer Oregon, which sank off this port one day last spring.

He is a member of the bar of the city of New York, and in July of '84 his daughter of a prominent politician and went on a wedding trip to Japan via San Francisco. Before his marriage Mr. Garrett boarded with Mrs. Charpentier in West Twenty-fourth street.

The complaint alleges that Mr. Garrett was charged with embezzling $12,000 from a woman. He was arrested some days ago, and was arraigned in the police court to-day, charged by Mrs. Rosaline Charpentier with the embezzlement of $12,000 entrusted to him by her, with which to effect a settlement with the claimants against the McCordie estate in California.

Garrett came into prominence last spring through being engaged to prosecute the claims of the wrecked passengers of the Cunard steamer Oregon, which sank off this port one day last spring.

He is a member of the bar of the city of New York, and in July of '84 his daughter of a prominent politician and went on a wedding trip to Japan via San Francisco. Before his marriage Mr. Garrett boarded with Mrs. Charpentier in West Twenty-fourth street.

The complaint alleges that Mr. Garrett was charged with embezzling $12,000 from a woman. He was arrested some days ago, and was arraigned in the police court to-day, charged by Mrs. Rosaline Charpentier with the embezzlement of $12,000 entrusted to him by her, with which to effect a settlement with the claimants against the McCordie estate in California.

Garrett came into prominence last spring through being engaged to prosecute the claims of the wrecked passengers of the Cunard steamer Oregon, which sank off this port one day last spring.

He is a member of the bar of the city of New York, and in July of '84 his daughter of a prominent politician and went on a wedding trip to Japan via San Francisco. Before his marriage Mr. Garrett boarded with Mrs. Charpentier in West Twenty-fourth street.

The complaint alleges that Mr. Garrett was charged with embezzling $12,000 from a woman. He was arrested some days ago, and was arraigned in the police court to-day, charged by Mrs. Rosaline Charpentier with the embezzlement of $12,000 entrusted to him by her, with which to effect a settlement with the claimants against the McCordie estate in California.

Garrett came into prominence last spring through being engaged to prosecute the claims of the wrecked passengers of the Cunard steamer Oregon, which sank off this port one day last spring.

He is a member of the bar of the city of New York, and in July of '84 his daughter of a prominent politician and went on a wedding trip to Japan via San Francisco. Before his marriage Mr. Garrett boarded with Mrs. Charpentier in West Twenty-fourth street.

The complaint alleges that Mr. Garrett was charged with embezzling $12,000 from a woman. He was arrested some days ago, and was arraigned in the police court to-day, charged by Mrs. Rosaline Charpentier with the embezzlement of $12,000 entrusted to him by her, with which to effect a settlement with the claimants against the McCordie estate in California.

Garrett came into prominence last spring through being engaged to prosecute the claims of the wrecked passengers of the Cunard steamer Oregon, which sank off this port one day last spring.

He is a member of the bar of the city of New York, and in July of '84 his daughter of a prominent politician and went on a wedding trip to Japan via San Francisco. Before his marriage Mr. Garrett boarded with Mrs. Charpentier in West Twenty-fourth street.

The complaint alleges that Mr. Garrett was charged with embezzling $12,000 from a woman. He was arrested some days ago, and was arraigned in the police court to-day, charged by Mrs. Rosaline Charpentier with the embezzlement of $12,000 entrusted to him by her, with which to effect a settlement with the claimants against the McCordie estate in California.

Garrett came into prominence last spring through being engaged to prosecute the claims of the wrecked passengers of the Cunard steamer Oregon, which sank off this port one day last spring.

He is a member of the bar of the city of New York, and in July of '84 his daughter of a prominent politician and went on a wedding trip to Japan via San Francisco. Before his marriage Mr. Garrett boarded with Mrs. Charpentier in West Twenty-fourth street.

The complaint alleges that Mr. Garrett was charged with embezzling $12,000 from a woman. He was arrested some days ago, and was arraigned in the police court to-day, charged by Mrs. Rosaline Charpentier with the embezzlement of $12,000 entrusted to him by her, with which to effect a settlement with the claimants against the McCordie estate in California.

Garrett came into prominence last spring through being engaged to prosecute the claims of the wrecked passengers of the Cunard steamer Oregon, which sank off this port one day last spring.

TWELVE SURE TO DIE.

An Explosion of Gas in a Mine at Wilkesbarre, Pa., Creates a Rightful Havoc.

Forty-two Men Taken From the Shaft in a Burned and Mangled Condition.

Of the Victims at Least a Dozen Undoubtedly Received Fatal Injuries.

Great Losses on the Lakes During the Recent Storms—Steamer Burned.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 26.—Shortly after the miners and laborers entered the Conyngham shaft this morning an explosion of gas took place in a shaft at the foot of the shaft, which was occupied by the fire boss. No work was done yesterday, and consequently a larger quantity of gas than usual was in the shaft.

The accident occurred at ten minutes past 7 o'clock, while the men were getting ready to go to work. About fifty men, miners and laborers, were sitting at the foot of the shaft waiting for the inside boss when the explosion took place.

The disaster was caused by Cornelius Boyle, a mine laborer, who stepped into a worked-out chamber, which was filled with gas, with a lighted lamp upon his head. The explosion was the most serious that occurred in the mine for several years this year.

It is now definitely known that forty-two men were severely burned and others slightly injured. Twelve of the men will die of their injuries.

The scene at the colliery while the injured men were being taken from the shaft was terrible. A crowd of several hundred persons had gathered at the mouth of the shaft, among them the wives, mothers and daughters of the injured men.

As they were taken out of the pit they were brought to the engine house, and the women made desperate efforts to gain entrance. Their entreaties and frantic demonstrations of grief were heartrending, but they were sternly kept outside the building while the blackened, scorched and mangled victims of the disaster were carried in blankets and soaked in oil. The floor of the engine house was covered with writhing humanity so disfigured by fire as to be unrecognizable.

As fast as possible they were taken to the hospital or to their homes, and so rapidly was the work done that by 9 o'clock every one had been taken out and carried away. The recovery of the following is believed to be hopeless:

Hugh Sweeney, aged 27, unmarried; Edward Kerns, aged 29, unmarried; Richard Coulter, aged 26, miner, wife and family; Condy Sanna, aged 31, miner, wife and large family; Thomas O'Brien, aged 30, miner, wife and family; John Dougherty, aged 31, miner, wife and family; Daniel Ferry, aged 32, miner, wife and family; John Dougherty, aged 31, miner, wife and family; Dan McCabe, aged 40, miner, unmarried.

Seventeen mules were severely burned and many of them will be shot to relieve them from their sufferings.

Losses on the Lakes. CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—The recent storms have practically put a stop to navigation for the season of 1886. As fast as the lumber fleet arrives the vessels are being stripped and sent into winter quarters in the various slips. Few of the lower lake vessels will leave port, and the prospect is not bright for any attempt to do so.

The season has been a good one, as far as freights were concerned, but the underwriters have suffered heavily and the loss of human life has been great. So far this season thirty-three vessels have been driven on shore or wrecked, with a loss of nearly $500,000.

The schooners, L. J. Conway, Belle Waldridge, South Haven, Pathfinder, Luernoe, Florida, Helen, Menekave, Marinette, Dickinson and Emerald, and the fire propper Robert Wallace are total losses, and are valued at a money value of nearly $500,000 in vessel property. What the value of the cargoes was cannot be accurately computed, but will probably be double that amount.

In all forty-one sailors lost their lives by the wrecking of vessels on the lakes this season.

A Steamer Burned. GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 26.—The British steamship Drummond, 800 tons, Capt. Thomas H. Huxley, was lying in the outer harbor roads awaiting balance of cargo, was discovered on the early this morning. She was taken in tow by three tugs and towed into the harbor, where she sank in thirty feet of water. Ship and cargo will be a total loss.

Schooner Ashore. ELK RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 26.—The schooner Metropolis, loaded with lumber, and iron for Chicago, went ashore three miles southeast of Old Mission light on a blinding snow storm at 3 o'clock this morning. A tug and steam pumps have been telegraphed for. The crew is safe.

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—A dispatch was received to-day from Capt. Corbett, of the schooner Metropolis, dated Elk Rapids, announcing that his vessel went ashore in a blinding snow storm about three miles south of Old Mission, and that the crew was scattered, and that he was going to piece up the schooner. The schooner is exposed to a fierce north-easterly wind, but a wrecking expedition to relieve her is on the way from Cheboygan. She was loaded with iron and lumber and was bound for Chicago. It is believed that the crew escaped unharm.

Nova Scotia's Gale. HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 26.—Last night's gale along the Nova Scotia coast was one of the severest experienced in a long time. In Halifax the velocity of the wind was thirty miles an hour, and on Prince Edward Island forty-five miles. The gale was accompanied by a heavy rain, thunder and lightning. Numerous vessels were totally wrecked or seriously damaged. Scores of narrow boats were reported to be far there is no account of any loss of life.

Burned to Death. CHARLOTTE, Mich., Nov. 26.—Mrs. Charles Smith died of a horrible death this morning. While working about the house her clothing caught fire, and she was burned to a crisp.

The Wizard Will Play. ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26.—The reports which were circulated this afternoon that the billiard match between Schaefer and Stosson would be postponed on account of the death of Schaefer's stepfather to-day are officially denied to-night. The match will be played according to the original agreement. Everything is ready for the contest. The betting here has been very slow and is about 100 to 80 in favor of Schaefer.

Steamship Arrivals. Queenstown—The Republic, from New York. London—The Assyrian Monarch, from New York. Southampton—The Elder, from New York for Bremen. New York—The Aller, from Bremen.

Will Take Precautions. AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 26.—State Health Officer Weiringer and Dr. Blunt, quarantine officers at Galveston, are in communication with each other regarding reports that cholera has made its appearance at Buenos Ayres. A letter from Dr. Blunt on the subject was received by Mr. Weiringer. The matter is causing considerable discussion, as there is direct connection between Buenos Ayres and both New Orleans and Galveston. It is said that there are eleven ships bound for the two places from Buenos Ayres, and due to arrive by Christmas.

Blind Tom. The Noted Pianist Declared Mentally Unsound, and Incapable of Emancipation. NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—James W. Ranney, as a commissioner in lunacy, and a sheriff's jury heard testimony to-day in the application of Charity Wiggins, the eighty-year-old colored woman who is the mother of Blind Tom, the celebrated negro pianist, to have her son adjudged insane and incompetent to care for himself.

Blind Tom is now in Virginia under the care of James N. Bethune, who owned the Wiggins family while in slavery, and has had charge of Blind Tom for twenty years. The Virginia courts decided in a similar application that Tom was a resident of this state, and accordingly the jurisdiction was assumed by the application of Mrs. Wiggins for a commission to decide his sanity.

Mrs. Wiggins is suing Bethune for an account of the money he has received during the past twenty-three years through exhibiting Blind Tom. Mrs. Wiggins is the mother of twenty children, of whom eight are dead. Tom was born May 21, 1849, in Georgia. He was born in slavery. Slaves could not legally contract marriage, but Tom's parents were married. Tom left Georgia immediately after the emancipation. She said that Tom did not have the knowledge that other children had, and does not to this day. He was born blind. He never could dress himself, and always had to be led around. He knew nothing about the way in which things were done, and knew nothing about slavery. When he was 2 years old if he heard a dog bark, a rooster crow or a bird sing, he would imitate it. The family was astonished by his first trial of the piano. While sitting at the table the piano was brought in, and he ran into the room and found him playing. After that, whenever he heard the piano play he would play as they did. Tom could play any day to have him taught. He was then a little over 3 years old. When Tom was 7 years old he was carried away. He was never taught anything but music. When witness last saw him, a year ago, he recognized her. He never forgot anything he learned. He was always amused by hearing other children pull his hair and knock his head against the wall. Then he would sit down and play a very good imitation, with additions of his own. He had a prodigious memory. Joseph Enbank, the treasurer of the Blind Tom company, was with him for twelve years, and he never forgot a note of music. He was oftened with a professor of music and began to rub his hands together. Tom knocked the professor off the stool and threw the witness out of the room. The company took in an average of $3,000 per month clear profit. He believed the profit was about $25,000 per year. Tom never received a cent from the company. Lawyer Albert J. Lerebe, of Virginia, testified that Tom was insane, and had no property except an interest in a suit of $75,000 in Virginia, and a suit of $100,000 in New York. The verdict of the jury was that Blind Tom was mentally unsound and incapable of managing his own affairs.

AN IRATE CONGRESSMAN. John Baker, who defeated Morrison, Unsuccessfully Attempts to Whip a Reporter. SPEAKING AT THE CLUB. ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 26.—Congressman John Baker, of the Eighteenth Illinois district, who recently defeated Hon. William K. Morrison for congress, to-day committed an assault on J. M. Beach, a reporter on the St. Louis Republican. The affair occurred in the postoffice at Belleville, Ill., Baker's home. Baker claimed that Beach, who is a great friend of Morrison, had abused and misrepresented him in an article in the St. Louis Globe and Post. Baker, who is an old man, tried to hit Beach with a cane, but the latter took it away from him. Friends interfered and prevented any serious trouble. The affair created considerable of a sensation however.

LACONICS BY LIGHTNING. Paragraphs of Interesting News Events Received by Telegraph Last Night. The Sultan has conferred upon Gen. Kaubars the decoration of the Order of Medjidie. The French government has instructed the French consul at Rastovok to protect Russian interests. Baron De Staal, the Russian ambassador in England, has started for St. Petersburg. He will arrive in a few days. Parliament will meet on Jan. 13. The government will ask for the whole time of the house to deal with the procedure rules. Misses of the American actress, reported to be the loss of her husband, while shopping at a hotel in Nottingham, England. The government of Queensland has offered to establish and pay all the expenses of a government of New Guinea if the queen will approve of it. It is stated that Mr. Straniero will be sent to England to negotiate with the British government for the renewal of diplomatic relations with the Vatican. The Australian Times says South Kensington has been selected as the site for the proposed Imperial institution which will include a library and a museum hall. The London Post says that England has opened negotiations for the cession of Port Hamilton to China, the object being to give the British a strategic point in the Pacific. The British government has offered to protect British interests in the East. Railway Section Foremen. COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Nov. 26.—The railway section foremen of North America met in convention at the Pacific house, this city, Nov. 25 and 26, and organized the Brotherhood of Railway Section Foremen of North America, for the mutual benefit of the railway section foremen, embracing all foremen between the Atlantic and Pacific, and also to bring more efficiency in the track department for the better protection of the traveling community at large, and for the safety of fellow-employees on train service. The following officers were elected: M. McIntire, first grand chief; M. Auburn, Ia.; D. Coughlin, vice grand chief; Stantberry, Mo.; M. Scanlan, grand secretary and treasurer of the section department, Mt. Auburn, Ia. The grand secretary's office is to be located in Council Bluffs. There were several representatives of track appliances present at the convention, and delegates present from all over the United States. Obituary. ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26.—The funeral services over the remains of ex-Gov. John S. Phelps were held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at Christ church. The interment will take place at Springfield, Mo., to-morrow. CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—The remains of the late H. H. Hoxie, first vice president of the Missouri Pacific railway, arrived in Chicago last night at 9:30 o'clock in a special car, over the Lake Shore. At 10:30 the special car containing the remains was attached to a special train of six coaches which departed for St. Louis at 11 o'clock. The train was accompanied by a military band in advance of the night express.

WILL STRIKE TO-DAY.

Pennsylvania Stove Molders Going Out Because of Differences With Employers.

Some Inside History Regarding the Recent Troubles at the Chicago Stock Yards.

The Strike Instigated by Men Who Wished to Make Political Capital.

Cincinnati Coopers Again at Work—General Labor Information.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 27.—The stove molders employed at Dehaven's foundry met in Allegheny City to-night and, after a session lasting until midnight, decided to strike to-morrow morning for the advance in wages demanded several weeks ago. About 100 men are employed by the firm. The movement may spread to the other foundries and a general strike result. The employers positively refuse to grant the demand.

TOOLS OF TRICKSTERS. The Chicago Stock Yards Strike Caused "Labor" Politicians. CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—The inside history of the recent strike at the packing houses of the stock yards, when the 20,000 men were thrown out of employment, is printed here this morning. When the packers decided to return to the ten-hour working day on Oct. 14, the workmen, supposing that they would be made the Knights of Labor, rebelled, and all went out on strike. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler's order, but the presence of Barry, who was a member of the general executive board of the order, reassured them to a certain degree. The executive board of the general assembly, however, concluded to get Mr. Powderly's views, and it sent the following telegram: T. Y. Powderly, Richmond, Va.—Has executive board of district 7, of the existing agreement, but, as has been said, he ignored it. The butchers of Armour & Co. were loth to obey Butler