Iowa Stock Breeders. Special to the Globe.

MASON CITY, Ia., Dec. 3.—The Stock Breeders' association, which has been in session in the city for the past four days, adjourned to-day. The attendance was much larger than at any previous meeting since the organization of the society twelve years ago, and the interest manifested by many was far greater than ever before.

Sioux City's Saloon War. Special to the Globe.

SIoux CITY, Ia., Dec. 3.—Owing to the fact of an agreement between Attorney Wood and Saloonist Brennan being established, by which the latter, in consideration of the payment of a certain amount, was not to be considered as keeping open his saloon in defiance of the temporary injunction granted, Judge Lewis last night issued a stay of proceedings to allow a rehearing to-morrow.

The Eau Claire Fire. Special to the Globe.

Following is a list of the heaviest creditors: Buckstaff Bros. & Chase, Oshkosh, $46,117.81; Henry Sherry, Neenah, $36,476.00; Beach Bros. & Warwick, Oshkosh, $25,747.14; Morgan Bros., Oshkosh, $20,541.74; James H. Rice & Co., Chicago, $4,311.73; Marshall Harris, Oshkosh, $7,168.80; Briggs, Wharton & Beveridge, Appleton, $11,183.02; the National bank, Oshkosh, $6,002.33; Sherry & Cook, Neenah, $7,500; Continental Lumbar Company, Oshkosh, $9,454.21; James H. The schedule of the assets has not been filed.

FREDERICK RENIGNS.

An Iowa Congressman's Method of Resigning the Action of Mr. Vilas.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Under the new arrangement of congressional districts in Iowa, Iowa City was thrown from Mr. Frederick's to Mr. Murphy's district, and thereby hangs a tale. Previous to the redistricting Mr. Frederick recommended a certain gentleman for postmaster and Mr. Murphy another. After the change in district boundary lines, Postmaster General Vilas took the advice of Mr. Murphy and appointed his man. At this Mr. Frederick was much incensed and sent the following peppery epistle to the president: A year or so ago, my name was put forward by the Republican party of the state of Iowa, in which a district was created with 7,000 Republican majority. I accepted the nomination and was elected the forty-ninth congress, I accepted renomination, and in the election just passed would have been re-elected but for the fact that I was sick in bed during the entire campaign. I was defeated by less than 700 votes. In June last your postmaster general invited me, as the member of congress in whose district the office was located, to be a man for the position at Iowa City. This I did by recommending a Democrat endorsed by fifty leading Democratic business men of Iowa City and over two hundred of her best Democratic citizens. There were other candidates seeking the office, one of whom I believe had the endorsement of Mr. Murphy. What was my surprise to find in the Washington papers to read in the press reports that George Paul, recommended by Mr. Murphy, had been appointed postmaster at Iowa City instead of the man whom I had named. I have been in Washington three days, have called each day at the executive mansion, and have been unable to see you, and I take this method of communicating the information of what to me is the most painful act of my life. I have forwarded to the governor of my state my resignation, and a number of the forty-ninth congress to take effect upon the election of my successor. I have been forced to this course to maintain my self-respect and by the indignity thrust upon me by your postmaster general.

THE REASONS FOR IT.

Special to the Globe.

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 3.—Leading Democrats here say Congressman Frederick is not peevish in resigning his seat. They claim it was fully understood at Iowa City that Mr. Vilas had pledged Frederick to appoint his man as postmaster. They say further that when the facts are fully exposed it will be found that Vilas has been made a cat's paw by a set of men who ought to have been politically defunct for a generation.

Large Mill Burned.

ST. CLOUD, Minn., Dec. 3.—Last night, between the hours of 11 and 12, the large flour mill situated at the junction of the Sauk and Mississippi rivers, about two miles north of this city, and known as Arnold's mill, was destroyed by a fire. There were no means by which to fight the flames, and all efforts to check them were in vain, and in half an hour the mill was a total loss. The fire originated in the same manner as did the one in Minneapolis several years ago. Somebody entered the mill with a lantern and an explosion followed through the ignition of the mill dust. Gust Kraus, the head miller, was seriously burned in an attempt to put out the flames. The loss is between $30,000 and $40,000, and is insured for $15,000 in the Millers' association and other companies. It is thought that the mill will be rebuilt on account of the excellent water power at that place. The mill was owned by Frank Arnold, of Le Sauk.

A Liquor Dealer's Paper.

ST. CLOUD, Minn., Dec. 3.—The prospect for the early establishment of a new daily paper in this city in the interests of the saloons is creating no little commotion. A stock company is being formed and Mike Miller, of Carroll, selected as editor. John Andersford, the alleged murderer of Rev. Haddock, is largely interested in the project. It is understood that almost the full quota of $40,000 stock was subscribed to-day.

A Railroad Decision.

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 3.—The supreme court has decided against the state in the case of the attorney general vs. the Chicago & Northwestern. One Barber had a buggy shipped from Morton, Ill., to Glidden, Ia., on which the freight was more than the company was getting for the same distance wholly in Iowa. On Barber's complaint, Maj. Anderson and Mr. Coffin, of the railway commission, ordered a refund of the excess of freight and required the company to revise its interstate tariff. This latter the company refused to do. The decision, of course, follows the Illinois case recently decided at Washington. It was the ruling in this case that gave Maj. Anderson his large majority over Congressman Hepburn this fall.

The Grottkau Case.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 3.—The main point in the trial of Paul Grottkau and Albert Moessinger, the alleged rioters, to-day was an endeavor by the defense to prove that the latter was at Bayview at the time that Deputy Sheriff Schwand claimed he saw him try to break in the gates of the Milwaukee Garden. One witness testified that he would not believe the deputy sheriff under oath. The other evidence was mainly in rebuttal of testimony for the prosecution in regard to Grottkau's utterances. The trial will not be finished for some days yet.

Released on Bail.

SIoux CITY, Ia., Dec. 3.—John King, who with Waldeving has been incarcerated for some months past for conspiracy to whip Attorney Wood and Witness Walker, was released to-day on $500 bond, two women of the town going on his bond.

Last evening a team belonging to Frank Glaser, of the Washington market, was returning from the slaughter house with a load of meat, was struck by a freight engine at the crossing of the Cannon Valley road on South street, and the horses instantly killed. John Schultz, father-in-law of Mr. Glaser, and two other men were in the sleigh, but only Mr. Schultz was injured, receiving a bad gash out on the back of his head and severe bruises on his back and other parts of his body. The doctor thinks he will recover. Mr. Glaser's loss is some $300.

ST. CLOUD, Minn., Dec. 3.—The Lake Side club has filed articles of incorporation in the recorder's office. Miss Margaret, one of the practice teachers at the normal, left for Sauk Centre to teach and will finish her practice work in the public schools of that place. President Gray, of the normal school, reports now that it has been discontinued during the last few months than ever before in the history of the school.
