

DAKOTA CONTINUED.

TERRITORIAL TID-BITS.

Minor Matters Gathered from Various Points.

Gov. Campbell's organ at Yankton is becoming impatient of the committee and daily-dallying of the committee put in charge of the Huron state. It wants action at once that will be seen and felt outside of the territory, and especially at Washington. It demands that the legislature shall be convened and put to work, and Gov. Mallett shall issue a proclamation declaring that the way to redemption is to be found in the territory.

THE DAKOTA PRESS.

Should Remain As It Is.

Grand Forks Plaindealer. If our legislature wishes to impair its usefulness it wants to re-open the old capital issue by attempting to make a new one. Half of the usefulness of the last legislature was impaired by contentions over the removal bill. We cannot credit the report that many of the representatives of the territory will join in a resolution to re-open the issue. Pending the action of our national congress, granting us the admission and division of the territory, the capital question should remain as it is.

A Successor to Engle.

Mandan Plaindealer. Gov. Church has an opportunity to recognize the rights of this side of the river in the appointment of an attorney general for the territory. The impression is very general that Mr. Engle will not be retained in the office. The name of Judge A. N. McIndiey has been mentioned as being that of a gentleman who would do honor to the place and whose appointment would meet with the approval of both parties on this side of the Missouri.

New York Rules the Roost.

Rapid City (Dak.) Journal. A successor to Judge Church has been nominated by the president. It is not a matter of surprise to Dakota men that a gentleman is a New Yorker. In fact it is becoming pretty well understood that the Dakota offices are placed by the administration at the disposal of New York friends. Residence in Dakota is a disqualification. Into this has the clause of the Democratic national platform regarding territorial offices been construed.

Both Can Afford to Wait.

Big Stone, Dak., Herald. The Fargo Argus need not have waited so long to be satisfied that the people of South Dakota have their hearts set upon division as well as admission. They understand that it is not to be made of one state. There is ample territory for two states and the future good government of Dakota, and the people who are to inhabit it, demand separation.

It Belongs to St. Paul.

Rapid City Journal. It is a self-evident fact that if Omaha wants the trade of the country she will have it. The trade is not so insignificant as to be overlooked by other cities of the country, which now enjoy the benefits accruing from the major portion of it.

Supreme Earthly Authority.

Huron Herald. The way to become a state without the consent of congress is simple, to ahead and do it with the consent of the people, who are the supreme earthly authority on matters of local self-government.

Wait for the Next Issue.

Bismarck Tribune. The Canton Advocate wants the capital returned to Yankton at once. It does not want it to be taken to Montana for a letter of endorsement. It would not get it here.

No Death Bed Conversations.

Huron Herald. Gov. Church will give the territory a Democratic administration, do not be alarmed about that. He won't honor death-bed conversations, either.

The Democratic Cranium.

Sioux City Journal. Dakota just now is knocking at the door for admission. Before long Dakota will be knocking on the head of the Democratic party.

A Field for Kanouse.

Bismarck Tribune. It is said that T. D. Kanouse, of Woonsocket, will lobby the legislature in the interest of prohibition this winter. It's a good field.

Just Like Cleveland.

Redfield Journal. Grover Cleveland is running the administration, and C. Church is running the error's office at Bismarck just as Cleveland runs that at Washington--to suit himself.

Why, of Course.

Huron Herald. If Judge Church can find honest and capable Democrats for places he controls we do not see why he should not prefer them to Republicans.

Will Import Some Brooklynites.

Groton Independent. Gov. Church holds the reins over all Dakota. It is entirely fresh, he will import some Brooklynites for territorial officials.

Particular About the Hatchets.

Fargo Republican. I've don't buy hatchets with that kind of a crowd. The way Maratta sizes up certain Dakota politicians.

Col. Edwards' Favorite Word.

Fargo Argus. It is rumored that the present grand jury is to be abrogated--and another called.

Wedding Garments.

London World. A really charming wedding dress, and one of a quite new material will be worn to-day by Miss Ida Denison, who is to be married to St. George Stillwell, at St. George's, Hanover Square. The material of which the gown is made is a sort of ribbed faille called velours Alexandre; it is quite soft and drapes admirably. It is a pleasure to see a wedding dress made of something so fresh, the rich satins and brades have become so monotonous. The velours Alexandre is ivory white and the dress is trimmed with quantities of wide point de gauze, which is snook white; the mixture of tones is both novel and good. The train is plain and very wide, with three breadths in it, and shaped like a court train. On the hair will be a tiny tiara formed of orange blossoms, holding the long veil of plain unheated net in place. The "going-away" dress is very plain, with a short mantle trimmed with the beautiful snook gray vicogre fur, and with a tiny little blue bonnet, in which the plume is formed by a bit of the fur. Then there is the trousseau, a pretty white netting dress of white lace and lace; an evening dress of black net, made with the net edgings and no lace; a rich evening dress of pink antrine (which is a new material, very soft), and all worked with iridescent stones on the bodice and tablier, and a handsome tea-gown in pale heliotrope and cream color. The various morning and walking dresses are mostly of a simple kind, as Lady Stillwell will be living in the country. The bridesmaids will wear pale blue dresses, and carry bouquets of pink carnations.

An Atlanta man has had a rib removed by a surgical operation. He ought not to complain, for he is not worse off than Adam was--Boston Post.

Would Yankton Get It?

Fargo Sun. It is alleged to be the plan of the South Dakota solons at Bismarck at an early date after the organization of the legislature to secure the repeal of the capital removal bill and urge the legislature to Yankton. The question arises, in case they should succeed in getting the repeal, would Yankton be the capital of the territory.

A Colony of Painters.

Dunseith Times. Gov. Church is said to be "one of the boys," and likes to get on with them once in a while and paint things red. Well, if that is the only thing against him Dakota is certainly to be congratulated. That's the kind of men who have made Dakota what she is--and, and who hold her up; and we can almost forgive the governor his democracy.

Approaching the Climax.

Hanson County Advocate. There is a growing sentiment favoring a repeal of the capital commission law and returning the capital to Yankton. The climax will be reached when the legislature is called upon to legislate on fraudulent capital commission warrants that have been issued.

The Wrangling Factors.

Bismarck Journal. If anybody is disposed to blame somebody for such appointments as Spencer's going out of the territory, let the blame be given to those Dakotans who, by their abuse of each other, have made it impossible that it is impoctic to appoint Dakotans.

Dunseith Times.

From all indications the Democratic congress desires to keep Dakota out of the Union by passing what is known as the Springer bill. And it will keep us out, too.

Won't Huron Him Much.

Redfield Dispatch. About the time Gov. Church expresses his broad-sauge ideas on admission and some other subjects, we expect the Huron comes

A Stumbling Block for Church.

Mandan Pioneer. Some of the newspaper correspondents are unnecessarily solicitous about the new governor of the territory. They see a large number of rocks and quagmires ahead of him on which he is to stumble and into which he will fall. His appointments are the greatest stumbling block for the territory. The Dakota legislature has been talking and he asserts that the organic act of the territory defines the duties of the governor, and that there is no room for a man to do as he pleases as a governor of a state chosen by the people. A territorial governor, he says, has no power to

BALTIMORE'S PRETTY GIRLS.

Janish Says They Beat the World. But the Men Are Easily Discouraged.

The way Mrs. Janish compliments American women, especially those of Baltimore, says a writer in the Baltimore Herald, should certainly make the young ladies of this city feel very proud. That her opinion is of great weight there is no room for doubt; for it must be remembered that the Princess Arco has traveled all over the world, and has not only moved in the best society, but been entertained by the heads of nations.

They're All Converted.

Willow City Eagle. It is to the discredit of Dakota that every sensible congressman and other distinguished citizens of America, that when they visit the territory, are converted. Congressman Kleiner, of Indiana, says Dakota is glorious; that Congressmen Hill is coming here to live. Dakotans get away with them all.

Want's the Whole Earth.

Mandan Times. Bismarck is destined to be on nettles again this winter. The southerners are going to make a determined effort to remove the capital back to Yankton early in the season. If the South is taking such a decided interest in the place, the matter, it appears still more evident that it wants the whole earth.

A Dakota Bona Avis.

Redfield Journal. We give it out now and here that we are not a candidate for any office within the gift of the governor of Dakota. If we have any friends at Bismarck this winter we want them to mind of L. K. Church.

Bismarck as a Haven.

Bismarck Journal. Fred Ertel's illustrated paper, the Whip, at St. Louis, has gone under, after issuing a holiday number that was one of the best of the holiday illustrated papers. Fred now wants to come back to Bismarck; they all come to that way.

Don't Put Up a Sign.

Redfield Journal. If any of our Democratic friends want an office within the gift of the governor of Dakota we advise them to steer clear of L. K. Church. He is not a man to be trifled with, and he will send you home with an office signpost sticking out. Lightning will be more apt to strike you if you heed this suggestion.

It Belongs to St. Paul.

Rapid City Journal. It is a self-evident fact that if Omaha wants the trade of the country she will have it. The trade is not so insignificant as to be overlooked by other cities of the country, which now enjoy the benefits accruing from the major portion of it.

Supreme Earthly Authority.

Huron Herald. The way to become a state without the consent of congress is simple, to ahead and do it with the consent of the people, who are the supreme earthly authority on matters of local self-government.

Wait for the Next Issue.

Bismarck Tribune. The Canton Advocate wants the capital returned to Yankton at once. It does not want it to be taken to Montana for a letter of endorsement. It would not get it here.

No Death Bed Conversations.

Huron Herald. Gov. Church will give the territory a Democratic administration, do not be alarmed about that. He won't honor death-bed conversations, either.

The Democratic Cranium.

Sioux City Journal. Dakota just now is knocking at the door for admission. Before long Dakota will be knocking on the head of the Democratic party.

A Field for Kanouse.

Bismarck Tribune. It is said that T. D. Kanouse, of Woonsocket, will lobby the legislature in the interest of prohibition this winter. It's a good field.

Just Like Cleveland.

Redfield Journal. Grover Cleveland is running the administration, and C. Church is running the error's office at Bismarck just as Cleveland runs that at Washington--to suit himself.

Why, of Course.

Huron Herald. If Judge Church can find honest and capable Democrats for places he controls we do not see why he should not prefer them to Republicans.

Will Import Some Brooklynites.

Groton Independent. Gov. Church holds the reins over all Dakota. It is entirely fresh, he will import some Brooklynites for territorial officials.

Particular About the Hatchets.

Fargo Republican. I've don't buy hatchets with that kind of a crowd. The way Maratta sizes up certain Dakota politicians.

Col. Edwards' Favorite Word.

Fargo Argus. It is rumored that the present grand jury is to be abrogated--and another called.

Wedding Garments.

London World. A really charming wedding dress, and one of a quite new material will be worn to-day by Miss Ida Denison, who is to be married to St. George Stillwell, at St. George's, Hanover Square. The material of which the gown is made is a sort of ribbed faille called velours Alexandre; it is quite soft and drapes admirably. It is a pleasure to see a wedding dress made of something so fresh, the rich satins and brades have become so monotonous. The velours Alexandre is ivory white and the dress is trimmed with quantities of wide point de gauze, which is snook white; the mixture of tones is both novel and good. The train is plain and very wide, with three breadths in it, and shaped like a court train. On the hair will be a tiny tiara formed of orange blossoms, holding the long veil of plain unheated net in place. The "going-away" dress is very plain, with a short mantle trimmed with the beautiful snook gray vicogre fur, and with a tiny little blue bonnet, in which the plume is formed by a bit of the fur. Then there is the trousseau, a pretty white netting dress of white lace and lace; an evening dress of black net, made with the net edgings and no lace; a rich evening dress of pink antrine (which is a new material, very soft), and all worked with iridescent stones on the bodice and tablier, and a handsome tea-gown in pale heliotrope and cream color. The various morning and walking dresses are mostly of a simple kind, as Lady Stillwell will be living in the country. The bridesmaids will wear pale blue dresses, and carry bouquets of pink carnations.

An Atlanta man has had a rib removed by a surgical operation. He ought not to complain, for he is not worse off than Adam was--Boston Post.

Would Yankton Get It?

Fargo Sun. It is alleged to be the plan of the South Dakota solons at Bismarck at an early date after the organization of the legislature to secure the repeal of the capital removal bill and urge the legislature to Yankton. The question arises, in case they should succeed in getting the repeal, would Yankton be the capital of the territory.

A Colony of Painters.

Dunseith Times. Gov. Church is said to be "one of the boys," and likes to get on with them once in a while and paint things red. Well, if that is the only thing against him Dakota is certainly to be congratulated. That's the kind of men who have made Dakota what she is--and, and who hold her up; and we can almost forgive the governor his democracy.

Approaching the Climax.

Hanson County Advocate. There is a growing sentiment favoring a repeal of the capital commission law and returning the capital to Yankton. The climax will be reached when the legislature is called upon to legislate on fraudulent capital commission warrants that have been issued.

The Wrangling Factors.

Bismarck Journal. If anybody is disposed to blame somebody for such appointments as Spencer's going out of the territory, let the blame be given to those Dakotans who, by their abuse of each other, have made it impossible that it is impoctic to appoint Dakotans.

Dunseith Times.

From all indications the Democratic congress desires to keep Dakota out of the Union by passing what is known as the Springer bill. And it will keep us out, too.

Won't Huron Him Much.

Redfield Dispatch. About the time Gov. Church expresses his broad-sauge ideas on admission and some other subjects, we expect the Huron comes

A Stumbling Block for Church.

Mandan Pioneer. Some of the newspaper correspondents are unnecessarily solicitous about the new governor of the territory. They see a large number of rocks and quagmires ahead of him on which he is to stumble and into which he will fall. His appointments are the greatest stumbling block for the territory. The Dakota legislature has been talking and he asserts that the organic act of the territory defines the duties of the governor, and that there is no room for a man to do as he pleases as a governor of a state chosen by the people. A territorial governor, he says, has no power to

BALTIMORE'S PRETTY GIRLS.

Janish Says They Beat the World. But the Men Are Easily Discouraged.

The way Mrs. Janish compliments American women, especially those of Baltimore, says a writer in the Baltimore Herald, should certainly make the young ladies of this city feel very proud. That her opinion is of great weight there is no room for doubt; for it must be remembered that the Princess Arco has traveled all over the world, and has not only moved in the best society, but been entertained by the heads of nations.

They're All Converted.

Willow City Eagle. It is to the discredit of Dakota that every sensible congressman and other distinguished citizens of America, that when they visit the territory, are converted. Congressman Kleiner, of Indiana, says Dakota is glorious; that Congressmen Hill is coming here to live. Dakotans get away with them all.

Want's the Whole Earth.

Mandan Times. Bismarck is destined to be on nettles again this winter. The southerners are going to make a determined effort to remove the capital back to Yankton early in the season. If the South is taking such a decided interest in the place, the matter, it appears still more evident that it wants the whole earth.

A Dakota Bona Avis.

Redfield Journal. We give it out now and here that we are not a candidate for any office within the gift of the governor of Dakota. If we have any friends at Bismarck this winter we want them to mind of L. K. Church.

Bismarck as a Haven.

Bismarck Journal. Fred Ertel's illustrated paper, the Whip, at St. Louis, has gone under, after issuing a holiday number that was one of the best of the holiday illustrated papers. Fred now wants to come back to Bismarck; they all come to that way.

Don't Put Up a Sign.

Redfield Journal. If any of our Democratic friends want an office within the gift of the governor of Dakota we advise them to steer clear of L. K. Church. He is not a man to be trifled with, and he will send you home with an office signpost sticking out. Lightning will be more apt to strike you if you heed this suggestion.

It Belongs to St. Paul.

Rapid City Journal. It is a self-evident fact that if Omaha wants the trade of the country she will have it. The trade is not so insignificant as to be overlooked by other cities of the country, which now enjoy the benefits accruing from the major portion of it.

Supreme Earthly Authority.

Huron Herald. The way to become a state without the consent of congress is simple, to ahead and do it with the consent of the people, who are the supreme earthly authority on matters of local self-government.

Wait for the Next Issue.

Bismarck Tribune. The Canton Advocate wants the capital returned to Yankton at once. It does not want it to be taken to Montana for a letter of endorsement. It would not get it here.

No Death Bed Conversations.

Huron Herald. Gov. Church will give the territory a Democratic administration, do not be alarmed about that. He won't honor death-bed conversations, either.

The Democratic Cranium.

Sioux City Journal. Dakota just now is knocking at the door for admission. Before long Dakota will be knocking on the head of the Democratic party.

A Field for Kanouse.

Bismarck Tribune. It is said that T. D. Kanouse, of Woonsocket, will lobby the legislature in the interest of prohibition this winter. It's a good field.

Just Like Cleveland.

Redfield Journal. Grover Cleveland is running the administration, and C. Church is running the error's office at Bismarck just as Cleveland runs that at Washington--to suit himself.

Why, of Course.

Huron Herald. If Judge Church can find honest and capable Democrats for places he controls we do not see why he should not prefer them to Republicans.

Will Import Some Brooklynites.

Groton Independent. Gov. Church holds the reins over all Dakota. It is entirely fresh, he will import some Brooklynites for territorial officials.

Particular About the Hatchets.

Fargo Republican. I've don't buy hatchets with that kind of a crowd. The way Maratta sizes up certain Dakota politicians.

Col. Edwards' Favorite Word.

Fargo Argus. It is rumored that the present grand jury is to be abrogated--and another called.

Wedding Garments.

London World. A really charming wedding dress, and one of a quite new material will be worn to-day by Miss Ida Denison, who is to be married to St. George Stillwell, at St. George's, Hanover Square. The material of which the gown is made is a sort of ribbed faille called velours Alexandre; it is quite soft and drapes admirably. It is a pleasure to see a wedding dress made of something so fresh, the rich satins and brades have become so monotonous. The velours Alexandre is ivory white and the dress is trimmed with quantities of wide point de gauze, which is snook white; the mixture of tones is both novel and good. The train is plain and very wide, with three breadths in it, and shaped like a court train. On the hair will be a tiny tiara formed of orange blossoms, holding the long veil of plain unheated net in place. The "going-away" dress is very plain, with a short mantle trimmed with the beautiful snook gray vicogre fur, and with a tiny little blue bonnet, in which the plume is formed by a bit of the fur. Then there is the trousseau, a pretty white netting dress of white lace and lace; an evening dress of black net, made with the net edgings and no lace; a rich evening dress of pink antrine (which is a new material, very soft), and all worked with iridescent stones on the bodice and tablier, and a handsome tea-gown in pale heliotrope and cream color. The various morning and walking dresses are mostly of a simple kind, as Lady Stillwell will be living in the country. The bridesmaids will wear pale blue dresses, and carry bouquets of pink carnations.

An Atlanta man has had a rib removed by a surgical operation. He ought not to complain, for he is not worse off than Adam was--Boston Post.

Would Yankton Get It?

Fargo Sun. It is alleged to be the plan of the South Dakota solons at Bismarck at an early date after the organization of the legislature to secure the repeal of the capital removal bill and urge the legislature to Yankton. The question arises, in case they should succeed in getting the repeal, would Yankton be the capital of the territory.

A Colony of Painters.

Dunseith Times. Gov. Church is said to be "one of the boys," and likes to get on with them once in a while and paint things red. Well, if that is the only thing against him Dakota is certainly to be congratulated. That's the kind of men who have made Dakota what she is--and, and who hold her up; and we can almost forgive the governor his democracy.

Approaching the Climax.

Hanson County Advocate. There is a growing sentiment favoring a repeal of the capital commission law and returning the capital to Yankton. The climax will be reached when the legislature is called upon to legislate on fraudulent capital commission warrants that have been issued.

The Wrangling Factors.

Bismarck Journal. If anybody is disposed to blame somebody for such appointments as Spencer's going out of the territory, let the blame be given to those Dakotans who, by their abuse of each other, have made it impossible that it is impoctic to appoint Dakotans.

Dunseith Times.

From all indications the Democratic congress desires to keep Dakota out of the Union by passing what is known as the Springer bill. And it will keep us out, too.

Won't Huron Him Much.

Redfield Dispatch. About the time Gov. Church expresses his broad-sauge ideas on admission and some other subjects, we expect the Huron comes

A Stumbling Block for Church.

Mandan Pioneer. Some of the newspaper correspondents are unnecessarily solicitous about the new governor of the territory. They see a large number of rocks and quagmires ahead of him on which he is to stumble and into which he will fall. His appointments are the greatest stumbling block for the territory. The Dakota legislature has been talking and he asserts that the organic act of the territory defines the duties of the governor, and that there is no room for a man to do as he pleases as a governor of a state chosen by the people. A territorial governor, he says, has no power to

BALTIMORE'S PRETTY GIRLS.

Janish Says They Beat the World. But the Men Are Easily Discouraged.

The way Mrs. Janish compliments American women, especially those of Baltimore, says a writer in the Baltimore Herald, should certainly make the young ladies of this city feel very proud. That her opinion is of great weight there is no room for doubt; for it must be remembered that the Princess Arco has traveled all over the world, and has not only moved in the best society, but been entertained by the heads of nations.

They're All Converted.

Willow City Eagle. It is to the discredit of Dakota that every sensible congressman and other distinguished citizens of America, that when they visit the territory, are converted. Congressman Kleiner, of Indiana, says Dakota is glorious; that Congressmen Hill is coming here to live. Dakotans get away with them all.

Want's the Whole Earth.

Mandan Times. Bismarck is destined to be on nettles again this winter. The southerners are going to make a determined effort to remove the capital back to Yankton early in the season. If the South is taking such a decided interest in the place, the matter, it appears still more evident that it wants the whole earth.

A Dakota Bona Avis.

Redfield Journal. We give it out now and here that we are not a candidate for any office within the gift of the governor of Dakota. If we have any friends at Bismarck this winter we want them to mind of L. K. Church.

Bismarck as a Haven.

Bismarck Journal. Fred Ertel's illustrated paper, the Whip, at St. Louis, has gone under, after issuing a holiday number that was one of the best of the holiday illustrated papers. Fred now wants to come back to Bismarck; they all come to that way.

Don't Put Up a Sign.

Redfield Journal. If any of our Democratic friends want an office within the gift of the governor of Dakota we advise them to steer clear of L. K. Church. He is not a man to be trifled with, and he will send you home with an office signpost sticking out. Lightning will be more apt to strike you if you heed this suggestion.

It Belongs to St. Paul.

Rapid City Journal. It is a self-evident fact that if Omaha wants the trade of the country she will have it. The trade is not so insignificant as to be overlooked by other cities of the country, which now enjoy the benefits accruing from the major portion of it.

Supreme Earthly Authority.

Huron Herald. The way to become a state without the consent of congress is simple, to ahead and do it with the consent of the people, who are the supreme earthly authority on matters of local self-government.

Wait for the Next Issue.

Bismarck Tribune. The Canton Advocate wants the capital returned to Yankton at once. It does not want it to be taken to Montana for a letter of endorsement. It would not get it here.

No Death Bed Conversations.

Huron Herald. Gov. Church will give the territory a Democratic administration, do not be alarmed about that. He won't honor death-bed conversations, either.

The Democratic Cranium.

Sioux City Journal. Dakota just now is knocking at the door for admission. Before long Dakota will be knocking on the head of the Democratic party.

A Field for Kanouse.

Bismarck