Excursionists can, if desired, return by any direct Northern route via Kansas City, Council Bluffs or St. Louis to Chicago, without extra charge. They can also return via Portland and St. Paul to Chicago by paying $15 extra for steamer passage from San Francisco to Portland.

It should be remembered that this is the only true winter route to California and is entirely free from snow blockades so prevalent on other lines.

For circular giving full particulars of these excursions, address F. H. Bowen, general Northern passenger agent, 121 Randolph street, Chicago.
