BOGUS TREE PEDDLERS.

State Horticulturists Want Legislation to Protect Home Fruit Trees--A Forestry Bureau.

State horticulturists, who have been holding a four days' session at the capitol, closed their discussions yesterday, and after attending to a deal of business of importance to the fruit growers of the state, they adjourned for a year. In the morning reports from experimental stations were listened to from Prof. E. D. Porter, St. Anthony Park; A. W. Sias, Rochester; Andrew Peterson, Waconia; E. H. S. Darrt, Owatonna; L. E. Day, Farmington; H. H. Harris, La Crosse; and M. Lord, Minnesota City. These reports were followed by interesting statements from the general fruit committee, consisting of J. C. Kramer, La Crescent; O. E. Saunders, Granite Falls; O. P. Norwood, Elk River; M. G. Brunell, Newport; N. J. Stubbs, Louisa; O. M. Lord, Minnesota City; M. Cutler, Minnesota City; L. E. Day, Farmington; and W. E. Brimhall, St. Paul. Several of the members present participated in a general discussion of these reports. Considerable time was devoted to bogus tree peddlers. From the general talk it appears that unprincipled agents and dealers have been using the good name of Minnesota fruit trees to all their ends in disposing of a bogus article raised in a less hardy climate, and obtained at less cost. A good deal of spirit was manifested in the discussion. It was thought best to take action on this topic. It was stated that these misrepresentations were during the past year, of Minnesota fruit trees. The matter was referred to a committee composed of J. T. Grimes, J. S. Harris, A. W. Sias, Ditus Day and O. F. Brant. The committee reported a resolution recommending such legislation as will require all the agents selling foreign tree seedlings to take out a license in the county or district in which they intend to sell, the license to be granted on sworn statements containing all the facts in the case. Violation of the provision requiring a license, the committee proposed, is punishable by a fine of not to exceed $100, and making false representations the committee would declare a misdemeanor.

President Elliott, J. T. Grimes and Prof. Porter were appointed a committee on legislation. The place for the next meeting was left to the discretion of the executive committee. E. D. Hillman, J. S. Harris and C. L. Smith were elected delegates to the annual meeting of the Wisconsin State Horticultural society at Wausau, and President W. W. Elliott, C. W. Elliott and Prof. Porter were chosen delegates to the Pomological society meeting in Boston next summer. The president, secretary and S. M. Owen were made a committee on publication. The salary of the secretary was increased from $400 to $500 per annum. The constitution of the society was amended to allow the life membership to be paid in installments of $5 each, instead of $10 as heretofore. Mr. McGinnis, from the special committee, reported a resolution that the legislature be memorialized to enact a law organizing a department or bureau of forestry; also that the State Horticultural society, State Agricultural society and the Forestry State Agricultural societies to appear before the committee of the legislature in order to bring about immediate action. Friday, Jan. 28, was named as the date for the meeting. Bosell, Grimes and McGinnis were named as the committee from the Horticultural society.

After resolutions of thanks and the transaction of some minor business the session adjourned.

WEST ST. PAUL'S WANTS More Recognition From the Newspapers and Postoffice--Standing Committees. Legislation--Durkee, Lineau, Wilde, Bole, E. Yanish, McDonald, Wetzel. Auditing--Sullivan, Ickler, Charles J. Kunen.

A resolution was introduced by William Erdman requesting publishers of daily newspapers to establish branch offices in West St. Paul. Mr. Erdman thought the West side was not receiving its proper share of attention from the St. Paul dailies. He took up his paper in the morning and found correspondence from such towns as Hastings, Red Wing and Rochester, with special heads, but if he wanted to find a West St. Paul item it was necessary to go through a lot of St. Paul news. He didn't see why this discrimination as long as West St. Paul had a population four times as large as any of the towns mentioned, and contributed largely to the support of the said dailies. So argued Mr. Erdman, and some one remarked that if the West side had no special recognition it was because it was really included in the city of St. Paul, which the same as

St. Anthony hill or Dayton's Bluff. A committee was appointed to wait on the newspapers of the city and make known the union's grievances and desires. A memorial to the postmaster general petitioning for the establishment of a sub post-office in West St. Paul was offered by Mr. Daly, and referred. The committee on manufactures was instructed to produce figures and estimates on the cost of manufacturing the iron ore of Lake Superior in St. Paul, and comparisons with the cost of manufacturing in Pennsylvania. Mr. Lienau who introduced the resolution, said he wished to have it demonstrated that the ore of Lake Superior could be brought to St. Paul and made into pig iron and nails at a cost that would knock out all competition of Eastern factories. The report of the committee will be published.

DOING IN THE COURTS.

Numerous Civil and Criminal Cases Disposed of--The Bell-Giesen Contest.

The case of William Starling against the St. Paul Plow works for $10,000 for alleged infringement of a patent is on trial in the United States circuit court.

Judge Simonds yesterday continued the hearing in the Giesen-Bell election contest case for one week to allow counsel to introduce testimony as to the custody of the ballots. The re-count will begin as soon as the Quinn-Markee contest is settled. Charles Thompson, before Judge Brill, withdrew his plea of not guilty of grand larceny and pleaded guilty to larceny in the second degree. Chris Ammon, charged with assault, was released on $1,000 bonds, with P. J. Geisen and George Mitsch as sureties. The attorneys of Thomas Cody and William Betong, asked for a new trial, and the matter was taken under advisement. O. P. Norwood, of Elk River, against the county commissioners, a stay of proceedings was granted to allow plaintiff to prepare a motion for a new trial. The case of Molloy, Hoban and White, charged with assault in the second degree, was tried yesterday and a verdict of not guilty returned last evening. The men were charged with assaulting and robbing William Dieling on lower Seventh street.

SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL.

With the best constructed plot of all the popular old-school comedies, the "School for Scandal" requires a full company of artists to give it an enjoyable interpretation. The audience which crowded the Grand Opera house to its seating capacity last evening was fortunate in seeing "School for Scandal" presented in a thoroughly satisfactory manner. Miss Coghlan's impersonation of Lady Teazle is a masterpiece in every respect. It is a very trying part for any actress who essays the character, but Miss Coghlan played the role in such charming and artistic style as to elicit a number of calls before the curtain. One of Miss Coghlan's chief charms as an actress is her apparent unconsciousness of the audience, a trait that was forcibly illustrated in the famous scene. Her conception of the character of Lady Teazle, and the natural portrayal she gives of it speaks her a close student of stage art and one who gives the closest attention to details. Miss Coghlan has such an admirable support that she really has but little opportunity to shine as a star. Every part in the play is admirably sustained, those of special merit being Mr. Walcott's impersonation of Sir Peter Teazle and Mr. Lipman's rollicking delineation of the prodigal nephew. Miss Coghlan's engagement will close with the matinee performance this afternoon, in which she will appear in her favorite role of Rosalind in "As You Like It."

To-night there will be a grand carnival concert, with the following programme: PART I. Overture "Semiramide," Rossini. Selection, "Erewhon," Jacobson's orchestra. Soprano solo, Romanza, "Marzuerite." White. Miss Emma Nilsson. Piano solo, selection from the opera "Pre-Close." Weber. Miss Constance Heintz. Medley Overture, "The Night Owls." Recker. Orchestra. PART II. Grand banjo tournament, led by Prof. J. F. Sherry, assisted by Martin, Price, Wright, Feller, Dixon and Clark; banjos; William A. Nichols, guitar; Fritz, Slewert, zither, introducing the following numbers: Waltz designed especially for the banjo; setebische and quickstep; negro melody, "Dancing in the Barn;" Barrow song, (Brimmed, alas! Faust) Gounod, Miss Emma Nilsson; overture, "Morning, Noon and Night," Suppe; selection, "Il Trovatore," Verdi; Indian war march, Schlenker; Grand Western ballad, Mr. Harry E. Sanford, well known in theatrical circles, is managing Maggie Mitchell this season.

Mr. Will Lykens, advance agent for Maggie Mitchell, who is quite sick at the Windsor hotel for several days, is convalescent and expects to be out in a few days.

A Blaze at White Bear. Special to the Globe. WHITE BEAR LAKE, Jan. 21.--About 8 o'clock last evening the dwelling house owned by Louis Petus, the West St. Paul tinsmith, and occupied by Dr. William Dugan, took fire from a defective fire and burned to the ground. Dr. Dugan was fortunate enough to remove his household effects in time. His loss was comparatively nothing. The loss on building will amount to about $1,000. No effort was made to save the building on account of its proximity of water in the neighborhood. The fire could have been extinguished by the chemical engine which is here on trial, but it was not in working order last night. It looked for a time as though several adjoining houses would take fire.

County Auditors' Discussions. The county auditors of the state, in session at the capitol yesterday, listened to arguments by Land Commissioner Spencer, of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company, relative to the taxation of certain lands granted to the St. Paul & Chicago road, which have since passed into the hands of the first named company. Mr. Spencer said that the company simply objected to paying the back taxes, which, he said, would amount to more than the value of the land. The auditors gave an informal discussion on the subject but took no action. Thanks were voted to Auditor Braden, Examiner Knox and Superintendent Kiehle for courtesies extended, and the session adjourned.

GLOBULES. St. Paul bank clearings yesterday were $421,375.40. Only eight more liquor licenses can be issued by the city clerk. Three deaths and fifteen marriages were reported at the health office yesterday. Adjt. Gen. Seeley yesterday granted an increase in the pension of Frank Lewis, of Hokan, of $2 per month.

Frank Lewis, a bootmaker, was arrested last night for the theft of a butalo robe from Lucy's meat store on Jackson street. Three precincts were completed in the Quinn-Markee re-count yesterday, in which Dr. Markee made a net gain of nine. Joseph Craft was taken to the Stillwater penitentiary by Sheriff Cluett last night, to serve a three years term for grand larceny. John Welman and Frank Natlesky, two small newsboys, stole one small turkey, and were arrested for larceny yesterday afternoon.

B. H. Harrison, superintendent of water works, Stillwater, was in the city yesterday, in consultation with local water works officials. The coroner's jury in the inquest over the body of John Halstrom, found dead in his room at 448 Broadway Thursday night, returned a verdict of suicide. Larry Brennan, a car repairer of the Manitoba road, was caught by a backing train yesterday afternoon at Como crossing, and dragged two car lengths before the wheels. He escaped with the fracture of an arm and one rib. Charles W. Kent, the North Branch omnibus driver, was arrested before Judge Cory yesterday morning and waived examination to go before the grand jury. He languishes in jail in default of $2,000 bail.

The Hibernian Relief society held a meeting at the temple of Mount Zion congregation yesterday. H. L. Haas was re-elected president for the ensuing year; Alex. Stensberg, vice president; J. Rothschild, treasurer; Mr. Williams, secretary. Articles incorporating the Suburb Real Estate and Improvement company, of St. Paul, were filed with the secretary of state yesterday. Capital stock is fixed at $100,000. C. B. Lienau, Bernhard Kuhl, Alexander

Stenberg and Henry Healy, are the incorporators. A well-known crook and pickpocket, going by the name of John McCarthy, was arrested by Officer Kuckla early yesterday morning and given sixty days in the work house on a charge of disorderly conduct. He had picked his "mark" among the crowd at a dance in Turner hall.

The ladies of the Dayton's Bluff Aid society in view of the fact that the city is so manifestly overstocked with coats, hats, etc., respectfully urge benevolent ladies to cast off winter clothing, buttons, shoes, etc. Packages may be sent to Mrs. Schornstein, corner Bates and Hudson avenues. Should it be preferred, however, the ladies will send for parcels if the addresses are with Julie Knauff, corner Fourth and Hoffman avenues. Those in need of temporary relief are requested to call at the rooms of the Ladies' Aid society, corner Bates and Hoffman avenues, where a meeting is held from 2 to 5 o'clock p. m.

STILLWATER NEWS. N. J. Bailey, Taylor's Falls, was in the city yesterday. William Carson, of St. Paul, is looking about this city.

Thos. Wills and wife have returned from a visit of several weeks with friends at St. Cloud. C. O. Ludwig, of the Grand, has returned from Milwaukee and is confined to his home by inflammatory rheumatism. Philip D. Foley, who has been confined to the house most of the winter with lung trouble, was able to be out yesterday. F. Willman, who has been coquetting with the lumbermen near Stettete, Wis., has returned, and will leave for Chicago to-day. About one hundred couples attended the Sons of Herman dance on Thursday night at Music hall, who passed a pleasant evening.

Mrs. T. A. Linbeck, Drysville, has left here on Tuesday next in company with Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Staples, and will also take in California. C. C. Sopp, the main street candy man, who has been seriously ill for a number of weeks, has recovered and is again at his usual place of business.

On Friday, J. S. D. Lutz celebrated their crystal wedding on Thursday evening and were greeted by a number of their friends who came to congratulate them. Stephen Doyle and wife, who reside at the corner of First and Hancock, have lost a little son 4 years of age, whose funeral will occur from St. Michael's church at 2 p. m. Sunday.

John Karst, who has been confined to his house several weeks with kidney complaint. A recent council of physicians has been had which pronounces his case as critical. The board of education held a meeting on Thursday evening at which the superintendent was instructed to have the ventilation of the several rooms properly tested and other business transacted.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Laufman, Mrs. Dr. Combacker and the Misses Cooper, Foster, Bradley and Lloyd of Osceola, took in the carnival and returned yesterday morning with the excursionists, leaving for their homes soon after.

The Stillwater carnival excursion reached here at 1:15 yesterday morning. The train was advertised to leave St. Paul at 10:30 p. m., but they commenced packing it at 9:30, and a more thoroughly-disgusted set of people than those who composed the party, who had to sit in a cold car three and three-quarter hours to get eighteen miles, would be hard to find.

Acquitted. LYNCHBURG, Va., Jan. 21.--A special from Tazewell Court House says: R. A. WARREN, Ark., Jan. 21.--Three weeks ago there were published the particulars of the assassination of the Harris brothers, in Bradley county, by two men known as Hamilton and Ludrew. Last night the jail was broken open by a party of masked men and the alleged murderers set at liberty. A large posse in pursuit of the jail-breakers, and if they overtake them there will doubtless be a serious affray.

Set at Liberty. WAREX, Ark., Jan. 21.--Three weeks ago there were published the particulars of the assassination of the Harris brothers, in Bradley county, by two men known as Hamilton and Ludrew. A large posse in pursuit of the jail-breakers, and if they overtake them there will doubtless be a serious affray.

The Tilden Trust. ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 21.--A skirmish between the heirs of the late Samuel J. Tilden and the executors of his will occurred yesterday in the hearing before the assembly judiciary committee on the bill incorporating the Tilden Trust. Executives Andrew H. Green and Robert H. Smith were present with their counsel, Lewis Cass Ledyard, to urge that the bill be reported favorably upon at once. Counselor James Oliver, of New York, appeared for Samuel J. Tilden, and asked for adjournment of two weeks or until the executors had filed an answer to the first suit brought by the heirs to have a judicial construction put upon section No. 35 of the bill, which provides for the free public library and creates the trust. The heirs claim that the section is void and invalidates the will because of its ambiguity. Mr. Oliver said there was no hurry to pass the trust bill and although the heirs intended, if the bill was decreed void, to deed over to the city the Tilden mansion on Gramercy park with its contents, the books and papers at Greystone and endow a free public library with three or four millions of dollars. They objected to the rushing through of the trust bill until the executors had filed an answer to their complaint now before the court. He explained there might be something in the executors' answer that would put a different light on the matter. The impression made upon those who heard the arguments were that the heirs, if they win their case, want the credit of endowing the library, and that the trustees want the moral support that the passage of an act of incorporation would give them in the impending suit.

The Jersey City Shooting. JERSEY CITY, N. J., Jan. 21.--The four Pinkerton men arrested last night for killing Thomas Hogan, the 16 year-old boy, were arraigned at the Geogory street police court at 9 this morning. Their names are Thomas Sheehy, Morton Moriarty, Daniel Cahill and Samuel A. Neff. Ex-Mayor Gilbert Collins appeared for the prisoners, ex-Judge John A. McGrath for the state. Detective Pearson stated that he was directed by a chief to prefer a charge of murder against the four men. Counselor Collins said that he thought the charge should be more explicit, in view of the fact that the charge of murder could only be against one of the prisoners. Judge McGrath entered a plea of not guilty. The court told him to designate the man who shot Hogan. He pointed to Sheehy and said: "That's the man." Immediately Mayor Collins requested that the prisoners be remanded for further examination until he was able to confer with them. The judge remanded the prisoners. An additional charge was preferred against Neff of assault and battery upon a 10-year-old boy named Casey, living on Fourteenth street, this city. A number of witnesses were called who testified that at noon, yesterday, at the scene of the murder, they saw Neff hurl his club at a party of boys on the ice near the coal yards. The club struck young Casey. Neff then drew his revolver and pointed it at the boys. Judge Stillinz held the prisoner in $800 bail to await the action of the grand jury.

Storey's property acquired after the divorce. The only property in which she could have a dower interest was the real estate possessed by Mr. Storey at the time of the divorce. The application of Mrs. Eureka C. Storey, widow of Mr. Storey, that the receiver be ordered to cease paying alimony to Maria P. Storey was granted. The amount paid has been $2,000 per year.

Killed by a Policeman. NEW YORK, Jan. 21.--Policeman Charles D. Adams was taking some prisoners this noon from the Toombs police court to the prison below. They passed by the door leading to the street. The door was open and one of the prisoners, James Murray, aged 19 years, made a dash for liberty. He ran down Center street hotly pursued by the officer. The latter fired two shots, one of which missed Murray and the other took effect in the left breast of Pentainella Canale, aged 31 years, who was standing in view of the fact that the man was evidently exhausted they tried, would respectfully urge benevolent ladies to cast off winter clothing, buttons, shoes, etc. Packages may be sent to Mrs. Schornstein, corner Bates and Hudson avenues. The Tilden Trust. ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 21.--A skirmish between the heirs of the late Samuel J. Tilden and the executors of his will occurred yesterday in the hearing before the assembly judiciary committee on the bill incorporating the Tilden Trust. Executives Andrew H. Green and Robert H. Smith were present with their counsel, Lewis Cass Ledyard, to urge that the bill be reported favorably upon at once. Counselor James Oliver, of New York, appeared for Samuel J. Tilden, and asked for adjournment of two weeks or until the executors had filed an answer to the first suit brought by the heirs to have a judicial construction put upon section No. 35 of the bill, which provides for the free public library and creates the trust. The heirs claim that the section is void and invalidates the will because of its ambiguity. Mr. Oliver said there was no hurry to pass the trust bill and although the heirs intended, if the bill was decreed void, to deed over to the city the Tilden mansion on Gramercy park with its contents, the books and papers at Greystone and endow a free public library with three or four millions of dollars. They objected to the rushing through of the trust bill until the executors had filed an answer to their complaint now before the court. He explained there might be something in the executors' answer that would put a different light on the matter. The impression made upon those who heard the arguments were that the heirs, if they win their case, want the credit of endowing the library, and that the trustees want the moral support that the passage of an act of incorporation would give them in the impending suit.

The Jersey City Shooting. JERSEY CITY, N. J., Jan. 21.--The four Pinkerton men arrested last night for killing Thomas Hogan, the 16 year-old boy, were arraigned at the Geogory street police court at 9 this morning. Their names are Thomas Sheehy, Morton Moriarty, Daniel Cahill and Samuel A. Neff. Ex-Mayor Gilbert Collins appeared for the prisoners, ex-Judge John A. McGrath for the state. Detective Pearson stated that he was directed by a chief to prefer a charge of murder against the four men. Counselor Collins said that he thought the charge should be more explicit, in view of the fact that the charge of murder could only be against one of the prisoners. Judge McGrath entered a plea of not guilty. The court told him to designate the man who shot Hogan. He pointed to Sheehy and said: "That's the man." Immediately Mayor Collins requested that the prisoners be remanded for further examination until he was able to confer with them. The judge remanded the prisoners. An additional charge was preferred against Neff of assault and battery upon a 10-year-old boy named Casey, living on Fourteenth street, this city. A number of witnesses were called who testified that at noon, yesterday, at the scene of the murder, they saw Neff hurl his club at a party of boys on the ice near the coal yards. The club struck young Casey. Neff then drew his revolver and pointed it at the boys. Judge Stillinz held the prisoner in $800 bail to await the action of the grand jury.
