THEY ARE ON RECORD.

The Friends of High License Meet in Public to Declare Themselves.

The "grand high license" rally at the Casino rink last night was attended by possibly 800 people, after all the booming it had received by the Republican papers and the numerous petitions that had been circulated to induce people to come.

The following programme is prepared for the entertainment to be given tomorrow evening in Windom hall by the Davitt branch of the Irish National League:

At 8 o'clock W. D. Washburn presiding, the meeting to order, and after singing at the piano, the speaker, Mr. McGinnis, asked all those in the rear of the hall to come forward. He said he was glad to have the opportunity to place himself on record as an advocate of high license, as he considered it the only way to deal with the liquor evil.

thought that he obtained money at a bank in St. Paul, although the amount could not be learned, and is in debt to Chicago and Cincinnati liquor dealers for goods furnished. The amount of the indebtedness thus far does not exceed $10,000, and those who know the man to be large enough to have caused him to leave the city.

Although there have been some hints by certain people that he had "good cause" for no one has yet solved the mystery. His affairs were apparently in accordance with a preconcerted plan. His saloon property was sold to Eugene Kelly, of Chicago, for $3,500, and his other property was put in his wife's name. He also sold his property at Fergus Falls for $7,600. While he was a hard drinker, he was sober for several days before going, and the theory that he might have gone off on a drunk is scouted. He made vague remarks about wanting to raise some money to make a big strike with, but did not hint what his plan was. When he came to Minneapolis from Fergus Falls last spring he cut quite a spurge, and was supposed to be worth $30,000 or more. His saloon has not made him any money, and he has been regarded an easy "mark" for some of the sharpers with whom he has associated, but his losses from all sources are not thought to have been sufficient to break him.

BY LOCAL TALENT.

An Amateur Company at the Grand Irish Entertainment--General Notes.

The Minneapolis Amateur Opera company made its second appearance before a kind public at the Grand last evening giving "The Pirates of Penzance," with the following cast:

Richard, a pirate king, A. W. Foster; Samuel, his lieutenant, W. S. Deane; Frederick, a pirate apprentice, W. B. Heath; Maj.-Gen. Stanley, of the British army, James W. Hawkins; Edmond, a young officer, W. B. Heath; Mabel, Gen. Stanley's youngest daughter, Miss Mabel French; Kate, Edith, Isabel, George, and Misses Gertrude Sprague, Alice Clippinger, Ellen Devereux, Ruth, a piratical maid of all work, Miss Evelyn Burr.

It is not necessary to make any allowance for amateur talent, as the pretty opera was well put on in nearly every respect. It will be repeated to-night.

Seats for the engagement of Genevieve Ward will go on sale this morning at the Grand, and something of a rush is anticipated. The engagement will last a week. "Queen's Favorite" continuing this week and "Forget-Me-Not" the first half of next.

"Our Minstrel Boys," presented by the Weston Bros. at the Theatre Comique, is a bright little comedy, cleverly given, which is something to be proud of. The entertainments usually given at that resort. The brothers, Sam and Morris, give a number of instrumental and vocal selections that are pleasing.

worse. Of late her one great fear has been that some one was trying to steal her child. August W. Jenkins, the young man who has been at the Central police station for some days was next examined. He was ordered committed, as was also S. T. Fetters.

Played Checkers.

Last evening the third of the checker series of games was played by J. G. Kirk and F. A. Briggs. The first game was the "Dundee Opening," resulting in a draw. The second was "Aysire Lasse Opening" which was won by Mr. Kirk. The third game, "Dundee Opening," was won by Mr. Kirk. The fourth game, "Aysire Lasse Opening," was drawn. Messrs. Backus and Bicknell also played four games, resulting in each winning one game and being drawn by one.

Colored Citizens' Notes.

A protest against the $1,000 license bill signed by fifty colored citizens of Minneapolis, has been prepared, which will be submitted to the Hennepin delegation to-day. The address states among other things that this signers are not in favor of being robbed of their money by the passage of a bill which is not essential to the poor or to the Twin Cities, but is calculated to annihilate and cast into the sea of oblivion the capital of the poor.

Academy of Science.

At the Academy of Science last evening Judge Hennip, from the section of astronomy read a paper on the wandering star, "Groombridge," which has attained a velocity of 300 miles a second, and does not follow the usual law of gravity. He gave an interesting account of the methods by which the position, course and velocity are ascertained by the spectroscope and comparison with charts, showing the result of former observations. A paper upon "Thomas Jefferson as a Naturalist," prepared by F. L. Washburn, student of Hopkins, Baltimore, was also read.

The Short-Day Movement.

The stone masons at their meeting last evening decided to invite the stone contractors to a conference to be held next evening, for a discussion of the number of hours that shall constitute a day's work during the coming season. The masons ask that they shall work but nine hours, receiving the same pay as last year, which varies from $2.50 to $3.50 per day.

Indorsed by the Assembly.

At the meeting of the trade and labor assembly last evening a resolution was adopted indorsing the protests voiced by the recent meeting at Hunt's hall, Turner hall, South Minneapolis and Harmonica hall against the passage of bills by the legislature creating commissions to take charge of the State and county lands for government, in order to defeat the will of the people.

Married a Virginia Girl.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—James Walker, of the government printing office, son of Hon. Platt B. Walker, of Minneapolis, was married yesterday in this city to Miss Nellie Phillips, of Virginia, one of the prettiest belles of the Old Dominion.

Defends the Detectives.

To the Editor of the Globe. We have often noticed the papers, and the Globe in particular, stir the efforts of detectives employed by the grand jury, and some attempts to terrorize them, when in high President Washburn appointed General Manager C. Palmer, W. B. Steele, S. C. Gale, Capt. Gilmore and W. J. Dean to represent the Exposition at the meeting. The conference was held for preparing for co-operative work on behalf of the show of both societies. The fair will be held Sept. 9 to 12, and understood that a Scandinavian art society is soon to be formed, and a resolution requesting the proposed society to make a display of the works of the leading Scandinavian artists at the next Exposition was unanimously adopted.

Who Shall Furnish Music for the Board of Directors?

The board of directors of the Exposition convened yesterday morning, President Washburn presiding. A communication from Secretary Board, of the State Agricultural society, was read, in which the directors were invited to attend a meeting of the agricultural board at the capitol last night.

Police Pickings.

A horse thief rounded up--The Municipal Court Report. Detective John Hoy yesterday morning returned from Faribault, having in charge Nick Lonien, alias Baker, who is charged by his employer, W. S. Fletcher, of Brooklyn Center, with stealing a horse and sled. Lonien drove into the city Saturday to get a load of manure, and it appears, traced one of the horses to William Ogle, at 513 Seventh street south, for a harness, $50 and the other horse and sled to a woman friend at Farmington. When he arrived at Faribault the Minneapolis detective was there to help him out of his sled. He was arraigned in the municipal court and held for examination Friday. Ogle, the man with whom the horse was stolen, yesterday refused to give up Mr. Fletcher's animal, and steps will probably be taken to bring him to trial.

William Yule, employed as a watchman at a cooper shop, was yesterday acquitted of the municipal court, upon the charge of having "held up" Michael Closs and robbed him of a watch. Closs stated that someone had knocked him down and stolen his watch. He found out that Yule had it, and supposing he was the man, caused his arrest. Yule, however, had found the watch on the sidewalk, and proved to several witnesses that he had endeavored to discover the owner.

The case of Frank Cook, a druggist at the corner of Franklin avenue and Lake street, charged with violating the liquor ordinance, was continued to this morning. John Fisher paid $10 fine for being found in a house of prostitution at 230 First street south.

Rolla Campbell, a boy, was up for stealing street car tickets, but proved he had returned them, and was discharged.

THEY MADE IT COMPETITIVE.

The following letter, addressed to the taxpayers of Hennepin county and written by J. H. Johnson, explains itself: A good deal has been said about the appointment of a house commission for county, some thinking it reduces to the county commissioners' ability to perform their work. What is to be inferred from their action in not accepting the commission? It is following bid, which was entirely ignored, will speak for itself.

Minneapolis, Jan. 1, 1887.—To the Honorable Board of Commissioners Hennepin County: Sirs: I want to call your attention to the fact that great injustice has been done by the passage of this bill, and that the county commissioners in not giving their bids proper consideration, and we earnestly desire the board to give them their careful attention, and by so doing save the county unnecessary expense and advertise our business, as you may well know that is the object of the bill. I will agree to furnish copies and transportation inside of the city free of charge for coroner cases that the county would have to pay for, and I will further agree to pay all the expenses for the county poor farm I will deliver to the cars for adults $5 (five dollars) and $4 (four dollars) for children under 14 years of age, and I will agree to give a reasonable bond for the faithful performance of the work.

Three of a Kind.

Judge Von Schlegel was kept busy yesterday hearing insanity cases. The first one was that of Mrs. Annie Linn, the woman arrested a few evenings ago while roaming around the streets carrying in her arms her young child. After a careful hearing she was ordered sent to the asylum at Mendota. It appears that Mrs. Linn was deserted by her husband some time ago, and that since that time she has been inebriated, and has gradually grown

DISTRICT COURT BRIEFS.

The tiresome and uninteresting Layman will contest case is now drawing to a close. He was yesterday convicted of a misdemeanor, and sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of two years.

Charles Riley was yesterday found guilty of a misdemeanor, and sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of two years.

A schedule of the assets and liabilities of C. Small, who was yesterday assigned to the care of the court, was filed yesterday. The assets are $380.01 and the liabilities $770. The assets are $380.01 and the liabilities $770.

MINNEAPOLIS GLOBULES.

Electric clocks were placed in the postoffice yesterday.

Bank clearings yesterday amounted to $428,821.58.

"Minore" is still attracting large audiences at the dime museum.

One new case each of scarlet fever and diphtheria was reported yesterday.

The police have been instructed to keep street boys from stealing rickes on the street cars.

Peter Ronch, 11 years old, was fatally injured while coasting out on Twenty-sixth street Monday evening.

FAST TRAINS.

"Time to Be the Essence" on the Line of Lovely Scenery--The M. & St. L. Lake Route.

Hourly trains in the spring, with one free excursion ticket each week, April 1st to May 31st, to St. Louis Park. Trains run now twice a day each way, so that all who wish to select lots for the spring boom can do so by applying at 320 Hennepin street, Minneapolis. We take any one who wishes to see the park free of charge on the cars. After seeing the railroad facilities and the lovely natural location, our guests are allowed to use their own judgment. No one is ever disappointed or urged to purchase. We believe we have a commendable scheme, and only desire to show it and give people a chance to secure a quarter-acre lot for a home. Terms very easy for first purchasers. Start the plan at once, as no lot reserved. A liberal rebate will be given to all who build a $1,500 house by Sept. 1, 1887. No one forbids anything, however, whether they build or not. A fair chance to get a home. Many young men of 30 who earn good salaries do not own a foot of ground. Pause and reflect: one-third of your earthly existence is gone. A home is the best thing you can have on earth. Beg pardon, ladies: We mean just what we say, but of course anybody knows a home is the best thing you can have on earth. Louis Park, it will be the finest residence place within twelve minutes' ride of the center of the great metropolis.

Proceedings Board Fire Commissioners.

Special Meeting.

OFFICE BOARD FIRE COMMISSIONERS, ST. PAUL, FEB. 8, 1887.

The Board of Fire Commissioners of the City of St. Paul met at 11 o'clock a. m. Present: Commissioners Parker, Prendergast, Freeman and Vice President Warner.

The Board met under special call for the purpose of taking action on the report of Hon. F. R. Delano, late President of the Board. On motion of Commissioner Prendergast the Chief Engineer was instructed to drap all the engine houses, and display flags on all the houses at half-mast. The Chief Engineer was instructed to turn out as many of the department as could be spared to attend the funeral.

The Superintendent of Fire Alarm Telegraph was instructed to have all bells and gongs in the department tolled between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock during the funeral. The Board decided to attend the funeral of a body. The following committee were appointed to draft appropriate resolutions and submit them at the next meeting of the Board: Messrs. Parker, Prendergast and Freeman.

OUR LITTLE GRANDCHILD.

Cleansed, Purified and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of my little grandchild by your CUTICURA REMEDIES. When six months old his head began to swell, and he became very restless. We used Cuticura, and he was cured. He is now a healthy, happy child, and we are all very glad to see him. I have used your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and I can say that they are the best I ever used.
