Gov. Larrabee Warmly Welcomed to Dubuque -- A Serles of Des Moines Burglaries.

Special to the Globe. BISMARCK, Dak., Peb. 22.—George Washington's birthday passed off very quietly in the capital city of the Missouri valley. Many of the legislators put in the day in neighboring towns, and others amused themselves with cards and swapping of the session. Judge Wilson left for Wischemes in the rotunda of the Sheridan house. The house of representatives met and the roll was called, but as there was Glover, of Hudson, has returned here from and the roll was called, but as there was not a quorum present an adjournment to tomorrow afternoon was taken. The council did not meet. The joint committee appointed to investigate the insane asylum at Jamestown returned this morning, and report a hearty reception by the people of port a hearty reception by the people of the session. W. D. Washburn. port a hearty reception by the people of that town, topped off with a banquet that that town, topped off with a banquet that would have done honor to the president of the United States. The committee say that they found the asylum in splendid condition, but that an appropriation is badly needed for the purpose of enlarging the building as it is crowded. The committee that town, topped off with a banquet that would have done honor to the president of the United States. The with return here for the last week of the session. W. D. Washburn, Jr., is at Willards. J. C. Pendergast, of St. Paul, is at the Metropolitan. W. A. Clark and wife, of Helena, Mont., are at Willards. Gov. Hauser, of Montana, is expected here Thursday. building, as it is crowded. The committee will probably submit a report to this effect to the legislature. How that body will look at the appeal for an appropriation of this kind is hard to tell, as nearly every member of the house and council is

AFTER MONEY, and the territorial treasury runs a risk of being depleted if every request is granted. Gov. Church put in a light day. He returned from the capitol early in the afternoon and sought a little quiet rest, which he greatly needs, in his apartments. He has worked exceedingly hard since he took the oath of office, and hopes to have the principal part of the important business off his hands by Saturday night. By that time a large number of wise-looking men hanging around the capitol will have learned several important facts, and will probably signify their sudden acquisition of knowledge by packing their gruss and collaring the first packing their grips and collaring the first east-bound train that shows up. To-morrow it is probable that the names of two candidates for railroad commissioner will be sent into the council, and who they will be is causing considerable speculation among the gang sitting on the fence. A nomination will also be made for the office of commissioner of immigration. It is reported to-night, and the report is well authenticated, that this honor will be laid on the shoulders of Maj. McClure, of Pierre, and mayor of that enterprising little city. Maj. McClure is a good, straight, square-shouldered Democrat, and is at present in Washington looking after mat-ters pertaining to the opening up of the Sioux reservation. There is but little doubt that he is

THE MAN FIXED UPON for the office, and his thorough and extensive knowledge of statistics and matters of general importance in the territory fits him for the office. In this appointment Judge Bennett, of Battineau county, a worthy Democrat, gets left. Who will take the place of Sheridan Jones as superintendent of public instruction is doubtful. There are a host of applicants for the office, but the governor is considerately looking for one among them who possesses the combined qualities of an educator and a conscientious Democrat. A bill has passed the council and is now in the house creating the office of oil inspector and a report has been sent out that Gen. Allen, ex-United States marshall, is after the office if the bill should pass, but the general claims that the report has no foundation; that he didn't know such a bill was before the legislature, and that he is not a candidate for any office. and never was. Grigsby, who has been putting in several days in St. Paul, is expected to arrive to-day. It is said that blood has entirely disappeared from his eye. Railroad commissioner Griggs is also the peace, William Russell, C. E. McCall. The caucus adopted a platform favoring the caucus adopted and ca
