

THE MERRY MINSTREL.

His Life Behind the Scenes at the Minneapolis Grand Opera Before the Show.

A Globe Reporter Inducted Into the Mysteries of a Minstrel's Curious Makeup.

Burnt Cork and Diamonds--A Female Impersonator Who Makes Her Own Clothes.

Behind the Scenes at the Grand Daring Haverly's Minstrel Performance.

NY boy who has reached the age of 16 without having had his first kiss...

THE MINSTREL'S MAKE-UP. Is pretty well known, generally speaking, to most of the votaries of the show...

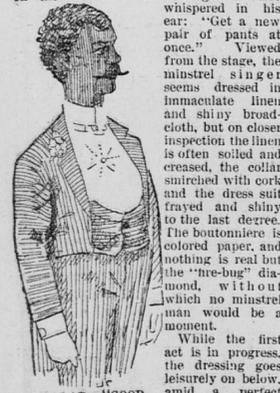

"Hide your cigar until you pass the door-keeper." Was the admonition given a Globe reporter last week...

AN END MAN'S TOILET.

troubling the reporter's mind. "Look at this quick change shirt," said one of the quartette as he hung up his coat...

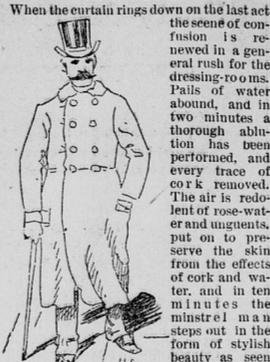

ON THE STAGE. Where the men hastily rushed, the utmost confusion prevailed...

BALLAD--"GOOD NIGHT."

and a perfect ballad of the most interesting scene presented in the room occupied by Frederick Malcolm...

the audience would be willing to "bet her life it's a woman."

When the curtain rises down on the last act the scene of confusion is renewed...

ADDITIONAL MINNEAPOLIS SOCIAL.

Lent is the proper season for retrospection, and when its coming is ushered in by men and maidens dressed in the garb of a century past...

THIS AND THAT.

For it means that the men have a high regard and a noble respect for the women they meet in society...

What if the ultra chaperone system should suddenly be imposed upon Minneapolis society, with no appeal from the law...

And when the youth calls he is not received at the door by the fair Melitane, oh no! He is shown into a reception room...

It's no wonder the principal feature of the lives of the older married people in Germany is the afternoon tea...

Why, in Germany, if your sister's chum should happen in of an evening you would not dare even to offer to escort her home...

And how think you young Americans would like to exchange a freedom which knows, and should know, no restraint save a thorough self-respect and mutual regard...

served at the Hotel Franklin, and as the railroad men never do anything by halves, the affair was a success.

CHURCH DOINGS.

Plymouth church gave a "George and Martha" supper in honor of the illustrious birthday of the late President Lincoln...

The friends of Simpson M. E. church, corner of the residence of Mrs. Tracy, were very much pleased with the old folks...

Gettsenane church was the scene of a very pleasant entertainment last Tuesday night, which was witnessed by an audience of over 100 persons...

The ladies of the Franklin Avenue Presbyterian church were social on Tuesday evening, at which a Washington birthday program was rendered very creditably.

The Social circle of the Central Baptist church was very successful in their recent church parlor Tuesday evening...

The Washington concert, given at the Olivet Baptist church, was most interesting and enjoyable of the many church celebrations of the day.

The Social society of the Church of Christ met at the residence of Mrs. Terman, 2300 Stevens avenue, Friday evening.

The ladies of the Free Baptist church gave a pleasant social in the lecture room of their church Friday evening.

CARDS.

The L. G. club held a very pleasant meeting Tuesday evening at the residence of Mrs. Philbrick...

Mrs. Lou Valentine entertained the Metropolitan Whist club Wednesday evening.

MR. AND MRS. BOWSER.

I suppose that Mr. Bowser is like the majority of men in putting his best side before the public...

"Oh, you come right along. My wife and my house are always ready for any visitors I may bring home...

"Well, where are the groceries you were to order?" "I forgot!"

"I should have said if I tried to dress, you'll have to take him to a hotel."

"Never! When I invite a man to partake of my hospitality I'll never skelm him off to a hotel!"

"What does any one want of fruit trees? I suppose your advice would be to surround our premises with a line of basswoods."

"Of course I have. What is there wrong about that, I'd like to know?"

"Well, where are the groceries you were to order?"

through to the door. Some friends had come to spend the evening, and Mr. Bowser greeted them with:

"Hi! Hi! Well, this is a genuine goodnight, and no mistake! Pusse (that's me) and I were just wishing somebody would drop in."

"Now, cherub (that's my wife) run and bring our little darling (that's our wall-eyed baby) and show him off. He's just the sweetest, cutest, nicest little rosbud in all this world, and ever will be."

"By George! that reminds me! Say, deary, were you down to Smith's at 10 o'clock to-morrow and have you select the stonies for your ear-rings?"

"Now then, Mrs. Bowser, you got that vision, when I told you my evening and day and drink out of my pocket, and if you see another new dud inside of six months you just ring me up by telephone!"

An untold something. In a large factory in which were employed several hundred persons one of the workmen, in welding his hammer, carelessly allowed it to slip from his hand...

A MIRACLE.

What the Advice of a Friend Did--Serious Trouble Averted--Truth Stranger Than Fiction.

The Evidence in the McHenry and Leitner Cases All in--The Verdict Rendered.

In Accordance With the Testimony--Two Strong and Well-Earned Victories.

Among the comforts of this life are that of a home over which a fond mother presides, a kind loving husband and an affectionate wife, each striving to make the other happy.

Mrs. J. McHenry, a kind, affectionate wife, each striving to make the other happy. Her husband, a kind, affectionate husband, each striving to make the other happy.

"I was also troubled with very severe pain over my eyes and through my head. Finally my fire body and limbs began to pain me very much. I found I was fast becoming an invalid."

"I consulted a physician, who told me I had rheumatism. I was completely broken down. I consulted another, and still another, and was continually getting worse in place of better."
