SAINT PAUL MATTERS.

Impressive Services at the Consecration of Rev. Dr. Thomas, Assistant Bishop of Kansas.

A Reception in Honor of the New Bishop Given at the Home of W. R. Merriam.

Forty Days Imprisoned for Felling a Single Tree—A Clock That Didn't Go.

Railroad Commissioners on "Transit" Rates—Several People Who Read "Ads."

CONSECRATED A BISHOP.

Impressive Services Whereby Rev. Dr. Thomas is Made Assistant Bishop of Kansas—Bishop Whipple's Sermon.

Yesterday morning at St. Paul's church Rev. Dr. E. S. Thomas was consecrated assistant bishop of Kansas. It was the first time that this impressive service has ever been performed in this state. Four of those who now wear bishop's robes have been in charge of churches in Minnesota, namely Bishops Whipple, Knickerbacker, Gilbert and Thomas, but the latter is the only one ever consecrated in this state. The church was crowded with friends of Dr. Thomas to witness the ceremony. At precisely 11 o'clock the procession, headed by fifteen students from Seabury Divinity school, at Faribault, moved from the guild room to the church. There were: Rt. Rev. H. B. Whipple, of Minnesota; Rt. Rev. D. S. Tuttle, of Missouri; Rt. Rev. D. D. Knickerbacker, of Indiana; Rt. Rev. D. H. Brown, of Fond du Lac; Rt. Rev. L. H. Vail, of Kansas, and Rt. Rev. M. N. Gilbert, of Minnesota. Behind the chancel rail were:

From Kansas—Rev. Dr. Beatty, of Lawrence; Rev. Dr. Tucker, of Leavenworth; Rev. K. W. Berry, post chaplain of Fort Leavenworth; Rev. John Bennett, of Wyandotte.

From Faribault—Rev. J. S. Kidney, Rev. E. S. Wilson, Rev. S. Clark, Rev. E. C. Brill, Rev. Jos. Daffin, Rev. George B. Whipple, Rev. A. A. Abbott, Rev. E. P. Chittenden, Rev. F. D. Hoskins, Rev. P. McIntire.

From other parts of the state: Rev. P. B. Peabody, of Austin; Rev. T. Hudson, Mankato; Rev. William Gardham, Lake City; Rev. F. G. Jeffords, St. Paul; Rev. C. H. Plummer, Red Wing; Rev. W. C. Pope, St. Paul; Rev. T. E. Moyses, Hastings; Rev. D. G. Gunn, Windom, Rev. W. C. Sherman, Cannon Falls; Rev. W. Wilkinson, Kenyon; Rev. E. J. Cook, St. Paul; Rev. E. J. Graham, Rev. A. J. Graves, Rev. F. Millspaugh, Rev. E. J. Purdy, Rev. J. W. Prosser and Rev. Dr. Wells, of Minneapolis; Rev. A. D. Stowe, Anoka; Rev. J. Cornell, Wabasha; Rev. Charles Cummings, St. Cloud; Rev. G. Yarnall, St. Paul, and Rev. T. Nash, of Fargo, Dak.

The reverend gentlemen took the front seats which had been reserved for them. Rev. Dr. Thomas sat directly in front of the pulpit. On his right sat Rev. Dr. Beatty, of Kansas, and on his left Rev. Welles, of Minneapolis. After the ceremonials according to the ritual, the different lessons and psalms being read by different divines, Bishop Whipple preached

THE ORDINATION SERMON.

It was a masterly effort, the bishop taking for his text:

"Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit and that your fruit should remain."

Our holy religion rests upon the resurrection of Jesus Christ said he. For more than 1,800 years the church has earnestly declared those who have found the light and those who have been led to a better life or whose sufferings have been comforted are proofs that Jesus Christ arose from the dead and is now an ever-living, ever-loving Saviour. If Christ had not risen from the tomb, if he had not conquered death, then there would be no hope of life beyond the gave. The miracles wrought by the hand of the apostles are witnesses to his authority. The voice of Christ declares, "I have chosen you and ordained you." The charter of the church is perpetual. Men may change social and political organizations, but the sacraments founded by Christ must be everlasting. It is almost 2,000 years since the risen Savior declared, "I am with you always, to the end of the world." Has his promise failed? No lapse of years can change Christianity. It matters not whether bishops become successors of the apostles, by His divine command. The fact remains that this office is a part of the ministry of the perpetual church. So have we come to set apart and consecrate a bishop of the church of God. I speak from the experience of a quarter of a century of a bishop's work. The power that is to influence the world lies in the West. I gladly remember the words of our venerated brother, who has grown old in the work. He knows that Kansas is just entering upon its work. There are schools to be founded, and missions to be opened; work that would make the stoutest heart fail. The bishop cannot be a son of Ishmael, one who tears down to build up. He may not surrender one iota of the truth of which the church is trustee. The truths in which Christain men agree are truths of Christain faith. Christains are closing to apologize for division. No human hand can remove these walls of separation. God alone can see the way. The bishop who would do God's work must be a man of hearty sympathy. He must feel the pulse-beats of those people. This is a land where education is the birthright of every child. None can tell whether out of this turmoil there is to come a truer token, or whether it is the forerunning of a conflict of a latter day. These men who have filled our cities with creations of beauty do not feel as they pass the church door "That is the house of my Father." That which men most need to-day is not alms or missions; they need love, which is the voice, hand and heart of Christ. Thoughtful men are starting back in affright from the yawning

GULF OF INFIDELITY.

I believe a better day is dawning. A bishop must be a man among men; an intensely human man. He must be a man who will plant his feet upon the truth, and do his work. He must be the leader, shepherd and Father of his flock. If he is negligent, where should we look for vigilance? If he does not bind up the heart broken by sorrow, who will intercede for the wretched. The best bishop is the best father. If the greatest of the apostles said "pray for us," how much more can we ask for prayers? With me and my venerable brother from Kansas, the day is far spent and the time is not far distant when we will be asked to yield up our bishop's staffs, and upon the younger brothers our work will fall.

Then addressing himself to Dr. Thomas, the bishop said:

My brother, for nearly a quarter of a century you have been my son in the ministry. You came to me young in the ministry, and I have carefully watched your development. You who were the junior are now one of the seniors. I remember when clouds were hovering over my work, but they were dispelled. If it had been the will of God, I should have kept you here. My heart goes out to you as it never did before. A bishop's life is no bed of roses. From the day that you give up your home to be a wanderer you will miss those hearts upon which you have leaned so long, and often you will feel willing to change your lot for that of the humblest parish priest on earth. I know not what trials await you: whether the clergy and people will give you an unclouded love; but I do know that. He who sent you will go with you. Few men have been called to leave a parish around which cling so many memories. The diocese loves you for your work. Christians of every name honor you. We shall miss you everywhere, save in our hearts. Every beart in this congregation answers my own. I can only say, "Go, dear brother, and may God go with you."

Dr. Thomas was then presented to the bishops by Bishops Knickerbacker and Gilbert. The formal questions were propounded by Bishop Vail, after which the credentials were called for. Rev. K. W. Barry read the evidence of Dr. Thomas' election by the diocese of Kansas; Rev. Dr. Beatty read the testimonial of a majority of the standing committee, and Rev. W. C. Pope read the certificate of appointment from Bishop Williams, presiding officer of the house of bishops. Dr. Thomas then exchanged the priest's for the bishop's robe, and, kneeling before the chancel rail, he was pronounced assistant bishop of the diocese of Kansas, after which he took his seat inside the rail. Bishop Whipple announced that the offering, which was a generous one, would be used in starting the new bishop in his work.

MERRIAM'S RECEPTION

In Honor of the Newly Consecrated Bishop of Kansas, Rev. Dr. Thomas.

The doors of the magnificent residence of W. R. Merriam, No. 25 University [illegible] were thrown open last night from [illegible] o'clock in honor of the new assistant bishop of Kansas, Rev. E. S. Thomas, late of St. Paul's church, and the visiting bishops and clergy now in the city. Decorations could hardly add to the beauty of the splendid interior, of the home of W. R. Merriam. Notwithstanding this, the dining-room presented a superabundance of tulips, the tables bearing huge flower pieces of appropriate design, and all the parlors and dining-rooms being illuminated with tapers. Among the bishops present and honored with the presentation of the numerous guests were Bishop Vail, of Kansas, Assistant Bishop Thomas, Bishop Whipple and Assistant Bishop Gilbert, of Minnesota, and Bishop Tuttle, of Missouri. There were also present Revs. Drs. Lee, of Topeka; Beatty, of Lawrence; Bennett, of Kansas City, and Dr. Tupper and Post Chaplain Barry, of Leavenworth; Rev. Mr. Nash, of Fargo; Rev. T. C. Hudson, of Mankato; Rev. W. C. Sherman, of Cannon Falls, and Dr. J. B. Sterrett, of Faribault, and of the resident clergy, Revs. E. Jay Cooke, George H. Yarnell, Charles Andrews and Mr. St. Lawrence. Mesdames Thomas, Whipple and Gilbert were also present. Mrs. Merriam was assisted to receive by Mesdames J. W. Bass, Hunt and Hamilton, and Mesdames Dalrymple, Pope, Simpson, Frank Bass, Beardslee and Young assisted in the dining-rooms. Seibert's orchestra was in attendance. The guests included many of the best-known people of the city, among them being:

Mr. and Mrs. Corlies, Mrs. Edmund Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Justus Rice, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Stevens, Miss Gill, Mrs. Col. Allen, the Misses Andrews, Mrs. Dr. Charles Smith, Mrs. Messenger and daughter, Judge and Mrs. Gilfillan, Mr. and Mrs. Mayo and daughter, Mrs. Spaulding, Mrs. Armstrong, Mr. Benedict, Mrs. Craig, Miss Alice Pope, Miss Marion Simpson, A. H. Wilder, Dr. and Mrs. Perin, Miss Perin, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Draper, Dr. Price, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Whiteman, S. S. Breed, Miss Bennett, the Misses Belote, Mrs. Carpenter, the Misses Patten, Mrs. Horton, Mrs. King, Miss Cuming and others.

HE CUT ONE TREE.

A Man Who Was Lodged in Jail for Felling a Single Oak—Other Court Notes.

A peculiarly unfortunate case was that of Eustache French, which came up before Judge Nelson in the United States district court yesterday morning. French was arrested at Acton, Marshall county, March 18, on the charge of cutting timber on the government domain, taken before Commissioner Ives at Crookston and bound over in $100 bonds to await the June term of the district court at Winona. He was taken before Judge Nelson yesterday and pleaded guilty of cutting one oak tree. Judge Nelson decided to suspend sentence and ordered the prisoner's release. French, who has been in jail at St. Paul for about forty days, is the father of a family of nine children, and during his father's incarceration, the eldest, a boy of 14 years, has been obliged to look after the seeding of about 250 acres of land. Judge Nelson expressed surprise that this one man, whose offense had been so light, had been made to suffer such a severe penalty, while others who are making a fortune from government timber go unpunished.

HEAVY DAMAGES.

John Schmidt has brought suit against the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway company in the United States district court to recover $12,280 damages sustained by the plaintiff while he was in the employ of the defendants as section hand working between St. Paul and the state fair grounds. The injuries consisted of a broken jaw and other serious bruises, and were caused by the fall of an embankment of earth. The accident occurred Sept. 28, 1885.

COURT NOTES.

The case of Owen Coleman, respondent, vs. Leander J. McCormick, appellant, was submitted on briefs to the supreme court yesterday; the appellant submitted his argument in the case of Ann M. Wilcox, respondent, vs. C. W. Comstock, appellant, and the cases of Benedict M. Goldsmith, respondent, vs. County Auditor E. S. Mills and the county commissioners of Nobles county, appellants, and of Henry M. Anderson and Otis Bigelow, respondents, vs. Samuel Peterson, appellant, were argued and submitted.

The Christopher Stahlman Brewing company has brought suit against John Walter to recover $200 due on a promissory note given for goods delivered. The same company has also brought suit against Charles G. Benson to recover $100 for goods delivered.

Elsie Swanson, aged 21 years, formerly a laundry girl at the Astoria hotel, has been adjudged insane in the probate court. No order for the disposition of her case has yet been issued.

In the case of the St. Paul Land Company against Lyman C. Dayton et al., Judge Simons has filed an order overruling the defendant's demurrer to the complaint.

The P. H. Kelly Mercantile company has brought suit against Herbert W. Smith to recover $313.35 for goods delivered to the defendant.

SHE COULDN'T FOOL HIM.

How the Old Clock on the Corner Did Up a Man Who Said He Had Made a Mash.

That scar-faced old clock nailed up against the side of the building on the corner of Fourth and Wabasha streets is liable to get somebody into serious trouble unless a sharp eye is kept on it. For months it has leaned up against that building through all kinds of weather, spreading its hands modestly over its face with as much penitence on its countenance as was depicted on the weather-beaten face of old Simeon Stylites as he stood for years on the top of his tall pillar and gazed fearlessly into the face of the elements that warred about him.

Nobody stops on that street corner for a car without consulting the dial, and those who have walked up and down the streets for several months have come to glance at it as naturally as they would at the face of a friend whom they had been in the habit of meeting in a certain place each day.

Yesterday afternoon a GLOBE reporter noticed a rather tired-looking individual, with blood-shot eyes, poorly fitting raiment, a battered hat and dirty shirt collar, leaning up against the telegraph pole on the corner. He would glide his eyes up over the face of the clock ever and anon, and then turn them expectantly up and down the street. The hands of the clock indicated the hour of 2.

The reporter went down town and in an hour came back. The same battered individual leaned up against the telegraph pole and glanced from the face of the clock up and down the street in the same anxious way. The hands of the clock indicated the hour of 2.

The reporter went around the corner and shook dice for cigars an hour and came back. The same man stood under the clock, but he was not so patient and listless as he had been an hour before. He would look up at the clock and, muttering an oath, would walk up and down the sidewalk all the time scouring the faces of the people filing by on the streets. The hands of the clock indicated the hour of 2.

IN A ZIG-ZAG WAY,

The reporter went over to West St. Paul to look over some property that a real estate agent wanted to sell him on the installment plan, and when he returned two hours afterwards the bothered looking man was prancing up and down the sidewalk under the clock, with foam on his lips and large wads of profanity dropping from his tongue. The hands of the clock indicated the hour of 2.

The reporter became interested in the man. Thinking he was suffering and in need of assistance, approached him and said:

"What's the matter, old man? Got a pain?"

"No," he growled back, as he spit some foam on the bill board.

"Family trouble?" ventured the reporter.

"Family trouble be d—d?" he blurted, as he kicked the telegraph pole with his left foot.

"Been monkeying with the wheat market?" continued the newspaper man.

"No, no, no!" he yelled; "wouldn't know a wheat market if I should see one. Never met one in my life, I ain't no dude, but I know when I'm treated on the square. I made a mash on a girl down here in a restaurant and she told me she'd meet me here at 2 o'clock. I've been here every since 2 o'clock and it's been 2 o'clock every since I've been here by that clock, and I propose to stay right here till half past two if it takes till day after to-morrow. I hate to be done up by a common, ordinary mackerel bringer in a cheap restaurant. Perhaps she thinks I don't know the time of day. Maybe she thinks I don't know 2 o'clock from anything else. Maybe she thinks I'm soft. Well, if she does, I'll show her a trick or two before I quit this corner, that she ain't onto," and the man jumped up in the air, cracked his heels together a couple of times and let out a whoop that could have been heard on Jackson street.

"Pardner," said the reporter, when the man had resumed his respectability, "there is a thing or to that you ain't onto."

"What so?" he said, as he pulled his hat down over his eyes, humped his shoulders up under his ears, looked out of the corner of his eyes and spit over his left side. "Well, what is it?"

"That clock has stopped. It's now 6:30."

As the man sneaked around the corner the hands of the clock indicated the hour of 2.

"AIN'T THEY DAISIES?"

Remarks Made By Some People Regarding the St. Paul Base Ball Club and Its Style of Work.

"Say," said Jim Doran to a GLOBE reporter yesterday, "them St. Paul players are daisies, ain't they?"

"Well, I should remark," replied the reporter.

"I wonder if the base ball craze will keep up in this part of the country if the St. Paul nine keeps on playing as they have the past two days?"

"I dunno."

"Well, you can bet John Barnes will have to stiffen up his boys if he expects to keep the people interested. Why, they don't any of them seem to be doing anything. Cleveland, McCarthy and Crooks have lost all the games so far, and Viau don't seem to be puzzling them much, either. I reckon that Des Moines team is about the best in the league."

"How do you think they'll come out in their game with La Crosse to-morrow?"

"Oh, I reckon they'll beat the La Crosse boys, but if they shouldn't, oh, oh, oh!" and Jim went over to see what the latest quotation for May wheat was.

Henry Hardick came prancing down Third street with a peculiar look in his face.

"Well I'll be da—da—hanged," said he; "those St. Paul boys, individually, are first-clars ball players, but when they get together they can't do anything but play horse. I'm very glad that I kept my hands in my pockets all the time, for I had an idea that our club was the cock of the walk all the season."

Henry tripped along the sidewalk merrily jingling the silver that he didn't lose, in his breeches pocket.

"Ain't they hollerin', aint they hollerin'," said Ehle Allen, as he held up both hands and laughed until he looked just like the book agent in the "Parlor Match;" "but I dunno, I reckon they'll come out all right before the cruel war is over. If they show up weak now, you can make up your mind that they'll come in all right on the home stretch. Give the boys a show."

"Dick" Warner, the hustler from away back, stuck a great, fat pocket-book in his inside pocket, so rumor has it, and went down to Des Moines just to see that the Iowa crowd got all the action that they wanted. Just what road "Dick" will came in on is not known, but there are those who predict that he will be in about Saturday forenoon on the White Bear turnpike. Those who stayed at home have a shadow the best of "Dick," for they don't have to walk.

MILLING IN TRANSIT.

The Board of Railroad Commissioners Does Not Feel Called Upon Yet to Stop the Practice.

An interesting letter was written by the board of railroad commissioners to the Page Flour mills, of Fergus Falls, yesterday, on the question of continuing the practice of milling in transit. The letter is a formulation of the conclusions reached by the commission after a conference with Northern Pacific officials. The commission says:

The reason the commission has not made any formal decision in the matter is that there has been no complaint filed requiring an investigation and decision by the board upon the merits of a controversy. The board is not called upon in this matter to suspend the action of what is commonly called the "long and short haul" provision of the state law (section 6 of the act of the last legislature), or to adjudicate any controversy under any other provision of the act. When the attention of the board was called to the subject by the Northern Pacific Railroad company and your former communication, we gave notice of a time and place where we would receive any complaint or hear any objection to the continuation of the practice known as "milling in transit," if any such complaint any one should see fit to make, or should any person desire to be heard in opposition to the continuance of the system. No one interposed a complaint or asked to be heard in opposition. So there being no case made before the board calling for a specific order, or determination between contending parties, we felt called upon only to say in a general way, and in such a manner as to secure publication through the public press, as we supposed, that as nobody complained, after due and public notice, the board did not feel called upon to interfere and would make no order concerning the method of doing business between the common carriers and the millers of the state so long as it was mutually satisfactory. We understand from the statements of the traffic managers appearing for the companies represented at the time set for the hearing, and from other sources, that the transit system is entirely voluntary—what is known as "flat rate" being given the shipper in all cases in lieu of transit, if he so desires. So long as this is the case the board will probably not feel constrained to interpose of its own motion, but it will not hold that there has been any such trial or hearing as to preclude the raising of the question upon complaint at any time, or the making of an order or decision hereafter, which the situation may seem to require.

HE HAD A GOOD NAME.

Testimony at the Fort Snelling Court-Martial as to Lieut. Wilcox's Character.

During the past two days the court-martial case of Lieut. Wilcox has progressed very rapidly, and will be concluded to-day. After offering the plea of "guilty" to the five charges and their specification he began the introduction of evidence as to his previous character. So far three witnesses have been heard on this point, and their testimony is all to the effect that Lieut. Wilcox has borne an enviable name in the service. His captain has said that he considered him a most excellent officer both on duty and in other relations, and that he "would not exchange him for any other lieutenant in the Seventh cavalry." Lieut. Devoll, of Snelling, who has long known the accused at Fort Meade, testified as to having money relations with him, and said that he had always been scrupulous in the discharge of any obligations incurred. It is a point to be noticed that Lieut. Wilcox has not called any witnesses from a distance but has called only those who happen to be in the city or at the post. The witnesses to-day will testify as to the condition of the lieutenant when under the influence of liquor. Some testimony has already been offered on this point, and it appears to be the common judgment of his acquaintances that while drinking and for some time after, he is not accountable for what he does. The evidence on this point is strong. His gentlemanly manners, kindness and generosity have been favorably commented upon by the witnesses. So far it seems that the case is totally different from those deliberate swindles which have been practiced on the government, in many of which the delinquents have escaped unharmed and have been afterwards taken into confidential relations with officers in high command.

A SOUTH SIDE MOTOR,

For Which Articles of Incorporation Were Filed Yesterday, to be Built at Once.

Articles were filed with the secretary of state yesterday incorporating the Metropolitan and Suburban Railway company, and it is obviously incorporated for the purpose of giving West St. Paul and South St. Paul a motor line system. According to the document, the general nature of its business shall be the acquiring of, constructing, equipping and operating lines of railroad of the standard and narrow-gauge and propelled by steam and other power, within the counties of Ramsey and Dakota. The general office will be St. Paul, and the amount of capital stock is fixed at $1,000,000. Maurice Auerbach, Albert Scheffer, L. H. Maxfield, Paul Martin, George L. Beardslee and J. J. McCardy are the incorporators and the first board of directors. The capital stock is divided into 10,000 shares of $100 each. The board of directors will elect a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and general manager at some future date.

Conversation last evening with a gentleman who is in a position to know whereof he speaks brought out the fact that the proposed line is not a newspaper road, but that it will be built in the near future, although the plans are not yet fully matured. All of the incorporators are owners of property through which the proposed motor line will pass, and as it is fast being converted into residence property, they feel that it should be brought nearer to St. Paul. While the street railway company is doing all in its power to extend its system, its service in the outlying districts is insufficient, hence the proposed motor line.

SOME PEOPLE READ "ADS."

Results of Mr. Kenyon's Novel Scheme to Ascertain This Fact—Lucky Numbers.

For some time past a form has been attached to the advertisements of the Burlington road, in all the papers, which the readers were to fill out and mail to General Passenger Agent Kenyon. This method was introduced to ascertain how many people read the advertisements in the papers. As prizes, five subscriptions to the daily papers and twenty tickets to Chicago were set aside to be given to the holders of the lucky tickets, each of which was numbered. General Passenger Agent Kenyon announces the following results of the contest, which closed May 1:

Name of Paper—	Circulation.	Answers Received.
St. Paul GLOBE	17,000	4,643
Pioneer Press	14,523	7,195
St. Paul Dispatch	13,075	1,803
Minneapolis Tribune	15,881	3,412
Minneapolis Journal	20,246	5,001
Total	81,625	22,054

And the following persons as the lucky ones drawing the prizes indicated:

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO GLOBE.

11,551, S. A. Harrington, Star Prairie, Wis.
3,820, Charles Mahon, 1527 T street northwest, Washington, D. C.
20,764, Alex Ross, Webster, Dak.
10,070, E. W. Nash, Grand Forks, Dak.
16,017, Patrick Kennedy, 417 University avenue, St. Paul.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO PIONEER PRESS.

2,610, Fred Davies, 3019 Second avenue South, Minneapolis.
3,585, Mrs. J. D. Ray, 403 East Second street, Duluth.
2,823, Edwin Dana, Eyota, Minn.
14,952, Ulysses L. Cook, 677 Mohawk avenue, St. Paul.
3,228, Mrs. J. F. Sprauger, Macalester, Minn.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO DISPATCH.

1,717, Alice Condit, Ortonville, Minn.
11,191, Miss A. E. Chase, 706 Hawthorne avenue, Minneapolis.
2,367, H. S. Merwin, 8 Williamson block, Duluth, Minn.
15,390, John Compton, 3059 Tenth avenue south, Minneapolis.
529, Ed Richards, Pioneer Press office, St. Paul.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE TRIBUNE.

4,667, Byron Ripley, Roscoe, Dak.
1,076, Albert A. Dodge, Farmington, Minn.
21,037, Robert Valentine, Bellefonte, Pa.
12,909, George A. Mason, 1126 Hennepin avenue, Minneapolis.
5,000, Ed B. Pattee, 2530 Garfield avenue, Minneapolis.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO EVENING JOURNAL.

27,000, Dave Whiteford, Northfield, Minn.
15,319, E. A. Brown, Fergus Falls, Minn.
19,104, Nettie Anderson, 601, Seventh avenue, South Minneapolis.
1,738, C. O. Williams, 107, Sixth street south, Minneapolis.
10,477, Miss Louis Hill, 2737, Portland avenue south, Minneapolis.

TICKETS TO CHICAGO.

218, W. J. Sullivan, Hutchinson, Minn.
12,103, Alma M. Morgan, Menomonie, Wis.
9,686, L. Hammer, Hudson, Wis.
11,036, Daniel O. Harrow, Company G, Eleventh infantry, Fort A. Lincoln, Dak.
21,586, Nettie V. Johnston, 524 Ashland avenue, St. Paul.
5,984, W. H. Lockwood, 233 East Eleventh street, St. Paul.
11,678 W. H. Bigelow, Wilder, Minn.
3,838, Allen Weatherby, Kerkhoven, Minn.
13,222, H. Hodgson, Owatonna, Minn.
289, Henry M. Knox, Capitol building, St. Paul.
3,709, John W. Taylor, No. 9 Daniels block, Minneapolis.
3,348, C. C. Richardson, 2802 Seventeenth avenue south, Minneapolis.
5,615, Mrs. E. W. Murray, Redfield, Dak.
17,146, J. W. Jaggar, 120 East Third street, St. Paul.
2,524, J. H. Warren, 32 Corn Exchange, Minneapolis.
1,358, M. L. Vought, Wadena, Minn.
4,006, F. P. Burleigh, Bronson, Minn.
12,358, Mrs. S. H. Knight, Casselton, Dak.
19,227, B. R. Clarkson, Duluth, Minn.
3,378, Dr. E. C. Adams, Watertown, Dak.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

It was an amateur company and an immature performance at the Grand last night, being rather an unsatisfactory effort of the Minneapolis Amateur Opera company to produce Adolph Grethen's equally unsatisfactory comic opera, which has been designated "The Manitou." In extenuation of the company's failure to acquit itself with usual credit it is fair to say that some of the leading members of the cast, as well as of the chorus, went off to attend a wedding instead of coming forward to fulfill their contract with the public by singing in the opera advertised for last night. It is also fair to say in extenuation of this delinquency of the absent members of the company that they sang in "Manitou" once and were perfectly justifiable in not wanting to sing in it again. As a musical creation "Manitou" is the weepingest and wailingest collection of discordant numbers that were ever pitch-forked together. Its chief merit is in being a fairly correct reproduction of the tom-tom class of music one is accustomed to hear at an Indian war dance. The libretto, which was intended to be an imitation of the Gilbert and Sullivan style of composition, flew the track and partakes more of the qualities of Sullivan the slugger than Sullivan the composer. This criticism is not intended to discourage the amateur company, which really includes some most excellent musical and dramatic talent in its cast. It is simply to suggest to them that hereafter they be more careful in the selection of their operas, and that if they expect public patronage the members must rehearse their parts and make it a point to fulfill their engagements. Otherwise they had just as well quit the show business.

"MAY BLOSSON."

To-night Mr. Frohman's Madison Square Theater company begins an engagement at the Grand in the production of "May Blossom," with Miss May Hamilton in the title role.

CARLETON OPERA COMPANY.

Sale of seats for the Carleton Opera company engagement opens at the box office of the Grand to-morrow morning. The Carleton company will play here the entire week. The repertoire is "Erminie," for Monday and Tuesday evenings and Wednesday matinee, "Nanon" Wednesday evening, and "Merry War" Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee.

NOTES.

"Here and There in London" will be H. H. Ragan's subject to-night at the Exposition building. About eighty illustrations will be introduced and these, together with the lecture, will no doubt afford, as usual, a delightful entertainment to the audience.

THE LOYAL LEGION.

Annual Election of Officers by the Minnesota Commandery.

At the meeting of the Minnesota commandery of the Loyal Legion at the Hotel Ryan last night, the annual election of officers took place, with the following result:

Commander—Gen. William R. Marshall.
Senior Vice Commander—Col. Charles D. Kerr.
Junior Vice Commander—Maj. John P. Rea.
Recorder—Maj. George Q. White.
Registrar—Gen. R. M. Newport.
Treasurer—Lieut. Albert Scheffer.
Chancellor—Lieut. Robert F. Bates.
Chaplain—Edward D. Neill.
Council—Maj. Benjamin F. Wright, Capt. F. W. Seeley, Lieut. Col. Gaines Lawson, Capt. S. W. Groesbeck, Capt. Edward C. Babb.
Committee on Nominations—Maj. Thomas P. Wilson, Capt. Edward Simonton, Gen. Edwin C. Mason, Capt. Benjamin P. Shuler, Capt. John A. Reed.

Lieut. William Lochren, Maj. Frank Thornton, Lieut. P. D. McMillan and Maj. B. G. Merry were elected to membership in the commandery. The paper of the evening was by Gen. Louis Grant, of Minneapolis, on "The Old Vermont Brigade at Petersburg." The brigade was in command of the author of the paper at that time, which fact gave the latter absolute knowledge of its movements, and added interest and value to the presentation of facts made last night. Dr. John Alden and Col. John Ammon, of the New York commandery, Capt. H. Selby, of the Michigan commandery, and Capt. A. J. Cheney, of the Wisconsin commandery, were present as guests.

For the [illegible]

The buildi[illegible] Christian as[illegible] impetus by [illegible] tion be J. J [illegible] on the pur[illegible] ready to Merrill and R. C. Sefferson had already subscribed $5,000 each, which with the subscriptions of Messrs. Bushnell, Cochran, Noyes, Suydam and others, brings the total subscriptions to the fund for building and lot somewhat over $35,000 to date. The association intends to raise at least $100,000 for this building and it is intended that it shall be one that St. Paul will be proud of, complete with gymnasium, baths, hall, class rooms and all that goes to make up a first class modern building.

FOR RENT!

Offices in the New GLOBE Building.

A number of offices in the fire proof building now being completed by the GLOBE company will be ready for occupancy on the 1st of May. This is a thoroughly-built, well-lighted and ventilated building, with elevator service day, night and Sunday. The temperature of the rooms in cold weather will be regulated by an electric control and will always be absolutely satisfactory. Letter drops on each floor. Plans and prices may be seen at the GLOBE counting room.

GLOBULES.

Bank clearings yesterday, $972,468.40.

One birth and two deaths were reported yesterday.

Girls waiting for places at Kent's Package delivery, 209 West Seventh street.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. will meet today at 3 p. m. at 58 East Seventh street.

Grain Inspector James has moved into his new quarters in the basement of the state capitol.

The lecture on "Nerve Tire," which was to have been given by Dr. C. E. Riggs before the Young Men's Christian association to-night, has been postponed.

Secretary Williams, of the State Historical society, reports the receipt of a copy of the London edition of William Hamilton Gibson's "Heart of the White Mountains."

A can of kerosene oil was ignited in Herman Keating's grocery store, corner of Payne avenue and Cook street, yesterday afternoon. The fire department was called and the flames extinguished after doing $100 damage.

Charles Wigley, a butcher living on Water street, near Dakota avenue, West St. Paul, while crossing the Minnesota & Northwestern railroad tracks at Fairfield avenue yesterday afternoon, was run over by the motor and seriously injured.

The park commission had an executive session yesterday afternoon, and adjourned without doing anything final. The main subject of the discussion was the action of the council in refusing to issue park bonds, but no conclusions were arrived at.

The board of public works heard property owners on the opening of Mt. Airy street, from Mississippi to DeBow, yesterday, and decided upon an adverse report on the ground that property could not be found benefited to the extent of damages.

Prof. Winchell, the state geologist, thinks that the petrified skull which was found in the far West and turned over to him not very long ago by J. Fletcher Williams for examination, is the head of a species of wild boar which has been extinct for thousands of years.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Alva Dewey, the enrolling clerk of the state senate, was in the city yesterday. He intends to start the Daily News at Brainerd. Mr. Dewey is a newspaper man of wide experience and recognized ability.

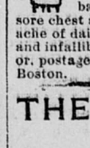
Alf Boyesen, of Fargo, Dak., was at the Merchants yesterday. Mr. Boyesen is an attorney of considerable ability, and a brother of the poet and novelist, Hjalmar Boyesen. He's a rustler, and has the greatest faith in the future of the little town of which he is a citizen.

George P. Flannery, of Bismarck, Dak., was in the city yesterday and registered at the Merchants. Mr. Flannery is a leading lawyer in the Northwest and has been district attorney there for several years. Rumor has it that he is coming to Minneapolis to make his permaneut residence.

Senator S. G. Comstock and H. A. Bruns came down from Moorhead yesterday and registered at the Merchants. Mr. Comstock says the new towns that he and C. A. White, his partner, are laying out in the Red river valley are booming and bound to be good ones in the future. Mr. Bruns is a banker and one of Moorhead's old stand-bys.

William T. Phelps, of Duluth, formerly secretary of the chamber of commerce of this city, now holding the same office in the Zenith city, was at the Ryan yesterday sizing up the portrait hung in the rotunda of that institution purporting to be himself. He thought the portrait looked about sixteen years younger than the original did, and bewailed the absence of the eyeglasses that, he claimed, should dangle from a tiny golden hook on his breast. Mr. Phelps' visit is one of personal importance only.

Jerry Tuohy, clerk of the federal and United States courts at Pembina and an up-and-up Democrat, is at the Merchants. A few years ago Jerry was editing telegraph on a Northwestern paper at a reasonable salary. Now he's recognized as a leader among the Democrats in his part of the country, and is the toughest bone Jud LaMoure has to chew. He is down here on a vacation, and will probably put in a few weeks in Southern Minnesota among the lakes and dells.



THE "GLOBE'S"

Matinee for the Babies

is a

Benefit Performance.

Great Sale

Of summer dress goods at McLain's: 60 and 75 cents dress goods all marked down to 50 cents. Don't fail to see them. McLain, 348 Wabasha street.

Top Buggy

$57.50 and $60; end and Brewster springs. E. M. Hallowell & Co., 503 to 511 Minnesota street.

A Word About Catarrah.

"It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, trammelling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membraneous lining and envelopes the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviatives are simply procrastinated sufferings, leading to a fatal termination. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, by Inhalation and by Internal administration, has never failed; even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered, and the disease thoroughly driven out."

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, neatly wrapped in one package, with full directions; price, $1.00.

POTTER DRUG & CHEMICAL CO., BOSTON.

HOW IT ACHES.

Worn out with pain, but still compelled by stern necessity to stand up to the work before us and bear the pain. Relief in one minute in a Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster for the aching sides and back, the weak and painful muscles, the sore chest and hacking cough, and every pain and ache of daily toil. Elegant, new, original, speedy and infallible. At druggists, 25c.; five for $1.00; or, postage free, of Potter Drug and Chemical Co., Boston.

THE FIRST CHANCE

IN THE

Globe Babies' Benefit!

Has been taken by a wee little girl, born on May 1, whose parents reside in Stillwater.

KEEP THE BALL ROLLING.

FAIRBANKS, MORSE & CO.,

371 and 373 Sibley Street.

FAIRBANKS SCALES

AND

ECLIPSE WINDMILL

G has taken the lead in the sales of that class of remedies, and has given almost universal satisfaction.
MURPHY BROS., Paris, Tex.

G has won the favor of the public and now ranks among the leading Medicines of the oldtime.
A. L. SMITH, Bradford, Pa.
Sold by Druggists. Price $1.00.

A POET AS WE IMAGINE HIM AND AS HE IS.

We want the men who are very tall or very short not to think that they are obliged to have their Clothing made to order unless they want to, as we have Suits made expressly for tall men and for short men and can give you a perfect fit at less than half what the same suit would cost if made to order. Also Trousers made extra long in the leg and extra small in the waist, for tall men, and extra large in the waist and extra short in the leg for short men. We have yet to see the man whom we cannot fit from our enormous stock of fine Ready-Made Clothing.

Send for our elegant Illustrated Catalogue and Rules for Self-Measurement. It is well worth sending for.