

MINNEAPOLIS MATTERS.

A Young Lady Instantly Killed on a Railway Crossing at St. Anthony Park.

The Police Commission Three-to-Two Deadlock Shows no Signs of Dissolution.

A Rumor About Town That Commissioner Janney Will be Asked to Resign.

INSTANTLY KILLED.

A Young Lady Run Down by the Cars at St. Anthony.

Clara Lursmayer, employed as a domestic in the family of S. E. Drace at St. Anthony Park, yesterday morning was crossing the tracks just as two engines were coming toward her and stepped over to the other track, when she was struck by the engine of the other train, and almost instantly killed, her injuries being so serious that she died before she was 16 years old, and is the daughter of Charles Lursmayer, living at 107 Marshall street northeast. Her remains were brought to Minneapolis, and the funeral will take place Saturday afternoon. It is not likely that an inquest will be held, as the death was evidently accidental, and chiefly to the negligence of the deceased.

THE POLICE COMMISSION.

The Big Three vs. the Little Two in the Police Commission.

The police commission met yesterday afternoon, but held a very brief session, nothing more being accomplished than to pass upon the request of a Scandinavian society to hold a social dance Saturday night and to appoint William Anour patrolman, after he had submitted second papers for inspection. The balance of the time was presumably spent in deep thought, after which adjournment was taken. It is not known whether there will be a deadlock in the commission. Commissioners Baker, Baxter, Janney and they voted together for the removal of the three big members, and the two little members voted against it. The vote of Mayor Ames and Commissioner Hoy upon Maj. Henderson for superintendent resulted in certain revelations, and it is reported that the negative, and that the program. The commissioner and the mayor are reported to be at odds, and it is said that the mayor will not resign, at least that is presumed to be the purpose of a meeting of the Democratic aldermen, called for this evening at the mayor's office. At all events, there is a considerable amount of the police commission yet.

FOR THE POLICE COMMISSION.

Some Matters Which It Should Look Into a Little.

O. Gobie reports that a $50 gold watch was taken from his pocket by a thief on the street cars. Mrs. Sabin reports the loss of a silver watch, which a pickpocket succeeded in taking away from him. John Jacobson reports that while riding on a street car Wednesday evening his watch and chain were stolen from him. The room of C. H. O'Brien, living at 1710 Nicollet avenue, was entered by a thief Wednesday night, who carried off a quantity of clothes, valuable papers and $6 in money.

PROMPT ACTION ON THE PART OF THE POLICE COMMISSION.

Jack Keeffe, the pugilist, and Ed Mallory, a brakeman, got into a row in front of 305 Nicollet avenue yesterday morning. Mr. Keeffe previously expressed the opinion that Mr. Mallory could make a chopping stick of Patsy Cardiff, while Mr. Mallory was strongly convinced that it would require a surgical operation to extract Cardiff's fist.

THE LATERAL LINE AGAIN.

Ald. Lawrence the Principal Objector—Yesterday's Talk.

At the meeting of the aldermen of the Seventh ward, yesterday, the committee on railroads, headed by Ald. Lawrence, several members were absent and Ald. Lawrence asked that action be postponed, but an informal talk followed for the benefit of the new aldermen. Ald. Lawrence objected to the Burgers' line, as it is called, running on Twenty-eighth street, as a street car line. He has already been ordered on Twenty-seventh street. Mr. Burgers called the Twenty-seventh street line a "little trolley" played by the law, and for the purpose of heading off his line. Ald. Lawrence replied that he objected to having three parallel streets in the same block. Ald. Gibson said he thought Minneapolis possessed splendid street car service. He knew of none better in the country. He was afraid that the Minneapolis street car company would be lost to make the improvements. Mr. Burgers made a plea for the right of competition, and the aldermen voted to grant the franchise was granted, that it would put an end to the Lowry extensions. Mr. Burgers read resolutions adopted by the Trade and Labor assembly, and the meeting was adjourned.

BOULEVARD LYNDALE.

That is What North Minneapolis Citizens Want Done.

A meeting of citizens interested in park improvements for the Third ward was held in the Grand Army hall, corner Washington and Twentieth avenues north, last night. G. A. Baker was elected chairman, and Byron Sutherland, an old member of the park commission, was elected secretary. A resolution was passed and what proposed in park improvements for the southern portion of the city. Ex-Ald. Pratt, Ald. Mills, Mr. Marshall and the prospect of making a boulevard of Lyndale avenue, from the north line of Prospect Park to the junction of the south side of the city. It was decided to appoint a committee of five, with G. H. Baker as chairman, to thoroughly investigate the park and boulevard question for the Third ward, and report with the park commission as to

WAYS AND MEANS OF SECURING WHAT IS NECESSARY FOR THE PROSPERITY OF THE THIRD WARD.

It was the prevailing opinion that in case Lyndale avenue cannot be southward several streets should be made in different parts of the ward. Todd's pond was spoken of as a good location for such a park, and it can probably be secured at slight expense. There are three small parks in Forest Hill, which the park commission could make beautiful at slight expense. Chairman Baker named as the members of the committee to look up the park and boulevard question, Messrs. Robert Pratt, L. O. Merriam, C. N. Smith and F. D. Beebe.

BERNHARDT AS CAMILLE.

A Big Audience Pretends to Enjoy It Hugely.

A second large and fashionable audience filled every nook and corner of the Grand last evening and pretended to be royally enthused over the superb presentation of Damas' "Camille" by Sarah Bernhardt. That the play was very good, there is no doubt, but it is exceedingly doubtful if even that cultured audience enjoyed and appreciated it as they assumed to do. It is the opinion of those who have seen the play that it is entirely in French, and of which not two of every hundred present can understand a dozen words. To those who are capable of following the French actress through the terrible emotions of Camille and to extract some little entertainment, but it is very little. Even a passable fair French student finds it impossible to keep up with the torrent of language that passes over French volubility from the lips of the actress. She is not simple; and much as they pretended to enjoy and appreciate the artistic power of Bernhardt, down in their hearts they were disappointed in the play. The play is nonsense. There is no doubt "Camille" was brilliantly played by Bernhardt, but the audience received the fine points in a silence bordering on ignorance, and then thundered out applause when the curtain descended. This is ridiculous and it is fashionable, but it is very unscientific.

THE MURKIN FAILURE.

The schedule of assets and liabilities of Fred S. Martin, the plumber, made an assignment recently was filed yesterday. The assets are placed at $10,269.03, together with $4,550.18 on bank account. The liabilities are $1,000.00 to W. A. W. Sprague, Chicago, $1,000.00; Ball & Naylor, $418.40.

ON HIS EAR.

Prompt Action on the Part of the Police Commission.

Jack Keeffe, the pugilist, and Ed Mallory, a brakeman, got into a row in front of 305 Nicollet avenue yesterday morning. Mr. Keeffe previously expressed the opinion that Mr. Mallory could make a chopping stick of Patsy Cardiff, while Mr. Mallory was strongly convinced that it would require a surgical operation to extract Cardiff's fist. The aldermen voted to grant the franchise was granted, that it would put an end to the Lowry extensions. Mr. Burgers read resolutions adopted by the Trade and Labor assembly, and the meeting was adjourned.

SAYINGS OF MEN.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though every man who has the good sense to be a politician should take some interest.

Ald. Dwyer—I believe in seeing every member of the council actuated by honest principles.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I cannot claim the credit of having instituted the street car line, but I can claim the credit of having operated the cooper shops, though some of the millers have attributed it to me. But I will not say a word about it, as the cooper shops have long heads.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—I am inclined to believe that good will yet come out of the police commission trouble.

Mal. G. McC. Keeffe—It is the same foolishness for the ordinary man to make a business of politics, though