THE COMMERCIAL RECORD.

On the Chicago Board of Trade Wheat Was Quiet and Uninteresting Yesterday.

There Was an Entire Lack of Speculation by Parties on the Outside.

Transactions in the Financial Circles of Wall Street---General

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 12.—Bull arguments vere as abundant to-day as the loaves and ishes after a certain feeding of the multitude mentioned in the New Testament. Of winter wheat there was inspected in but 64 cars. The number for the corresponding date a year ago was 104 cars. Of spring wheat but 8 cars were inspected in, against 30 cars a year ago. A year ago but 4.191 oushels of wheat were inspected out, while oday the figures show 65,479 buseels of winter and 20,156 bushels of spring, an excess of 80,444 bushels on the bull side of the argument. To this add the fact that the visisupply of wheat to-day is 12,000,000 e situation becomes hopeful. One year to October wheat sold at 77%c. The alls deciares that under the circumstances hose of twelve months ago. The weather, sindicated on the government map, showed that it was cloudy and rainy throughout the those who hold that "fair weather is bear weather." The receipts of to-day are 162, 357 bu, and shipments aggregate 180,432 bu. From the foregoing facts, figures and considerations it may be imagined that the wheat, which closed at 70c on Saturday, open ed at 79%c. May corn which closed at 45%c opened at 45½. May wheat which closed at opened at 787sc. October short ribs bened at $8.7712 and went to $8.8212. Oc-ber corn opened 4214c and went to 4238c. "Old Hutch" sold wheat to day. He did it, as a member remarked, "to bother the boys." boomed to a banishment of ninety days th hrewd old gentleman is determined that his nemies shall not forget him if they would. Of "Old Hutch's" abilities as an obstruction ist, when he is in an obstructionary mood nany columns have been written. He wa in the mood obstructive to-day, and would have probably "sold the bottom out of the market (as one trader expressed it) if Billy Comstock had not been buying freely to cover some shorts." The crowd found the ost action in corn during the first hour, and eacting five minutes later to 4214@4288c. At 11:20 o'clock wheat sold at 6934c, and BOTHER THE BOYS.

New York as out of condition. Aside from the selling of a moderate quantity early in the day, the speculative offerings were light and there was no special desire to realize. October opened like lower at 69% and sold down to 694% 69%, at which figure it closed. Corn was the article in which most of the speculation centered to-day, though it was not as active as it might have been. Local shorts bid the market up on themselves early on the unusually large shipments, but their wants were all supplied by a prominent local operator, who sold very freely of both September and May. The announcement of an increase of 250,000 bushels in the visible at noon seemed to have no effect whatever. October sold at 42½c, up to 42½c, down to 42½c, then up to 42½c, and closed at the lowest 42c. In oats rather a slow heavy market was experienced all around. Speculative trading was very light and confined mainly to May. Prices did not change materially.

Provisions were weaker, and trading dragged all day. Hogs were lower at the dragged state of the market would take, and the result was a decline of 17½c, on January pork; 7c on lard and 7½c. would take, and the result was a decline of 17½c, on January pork; 7c on lard and 7½c on January short ribs; November remaining Shippers bought cash lard quite freely, but Shippers bought cash lard quite freely, but the injury in meats was lighter. Short ribs for October sold at $8.70½.98.90 and closed $8.92½; January at $6.50@6.55, and closed at $6.50. October lard sold at $6.57½.66.60.

Pork sold at $12.60@12.70 for January and closed at $12.57½.

Special to the Globe.

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 12.—Duluth wheat was steady to-day with a strong feeling, while the other markets were weak. All American markets were exceedingly dull, and reported speculation almost entirely absent. Chicago advices reported a feeling there intensely weak, and said they were at a loss for anything to bull wheat on. For distant futures this market sympathizes somewhat with this feeling, but cash and October wheat were held very stiff, continued damp weather causing further apprehensions as to the damage of the crop and the putting of the fall movement affect our chances for liberal receipts. Some dispatches like this were received to-day: "Wet weather again; do not sell October wheat as ordered." Foreign advices were unchanged except from Paris, which was a turn dearer. Clearances were weak, and receipts at primary points fair. The close here was weaker. October, $12 — Wheat was quiet and uninteresting to-day. Outside speculation was entirely lacking, and local traders saw no good reason for loading themselves with the article. mand. The new week on the stock exchange opened dull and with a drooping market, in which the bulk of the dealings were for professional account. London and Chicago were sellers to a limited extent. The influences at work were nearly all of an unfavorable character, the effect of the disappointing bank statement being fully felt at the opening. The advance in the money rate in London and the rate of exchange here with the coal miners' strike were successfully used against values. A rumor of action by the secretary of the treasury was the occasion of a slight rally later in the day, but upon its denial a further attack was made upon values, which brought prices to the lowest point of the day. The fact that the coalers did not decline more than they did despite the strike in the coal regions was regarded as an element of strength, while Western Union was positively strong at times under the impression that prevalled that the earnings for the current quarter will be more than usually heavy. Richmond & West Point was the principal objective point late in the day, being affected by the falling estimates of the new cotton crop. The opening was decidedly weak at declines from Saturday's final prices of from is to is per cent. With an exceptional loss in Wheeling and Lake Erie of 1% per cent. The market was restricted and a few stocks furnished a majority of the business done. Further declines were made in the first hour under the lead of Lackawanna, but these were in part regained before noon. After that time decided weakness was developed and material concessions were made throughout the list, the lowest figures being reached shortly after 1 o'clock. Dulliness again overspread the market and until late lin the day little movement noticeable, but in the last hour covering of shorts rallied the list a fraction, and the close was quiet but firm, Prices are invariably lower this evening, and Wheeling and Lake Erie lost 2%; Lake Erie and Western preferred. Prices on wheat were very dull indeed, with no disposition whatever manifested to take hold. The sample tables were well filled and a good deal that was exhibited was disposed of to millers and outside parties. Corn was not quite as strong as it was on Saturday and declined a cent. Oats held there own and were very firm at quotations. Barley is dull and weak, though all that comes in finds a market. Mill stuffs unchanged. Hay is steady. Potatoes a little firmer. Eggs very firm at 15@17c. The call:

Produce Exchange. Butter continues active enough to keep stocks well cleaned up with receipts moderately free. Cheese is quiet and steady. Apples are in good supply with the quality of the stock improving. Sales, however, are not very free. Cranberries are in good supply and sell furrly well at quotations. Grapes and peaches are in great abundance, most of which are in good condition. Watermelons are a little slow of sale, the weather being a a little too cool. For some reason the supply of prairie chickens is not large, and prices remain firm. Live poultry steady. Eggs very firm. MILLER & BEALE, 359 JACKSON CAPITAL, - - - $300,000. Alex. Ramsey, Pres. # BOARDING HOUSE

A Chance For Them to Get Back at the Boarders

WHO HAVE FEEN ROASTING THEM FOR SEVERAL WEEKS.

The "Globe" Gives Everybody a Chance!

On Sunday next the GLOBE will open its columns to the boarding house landladies of St. Paul, giving them an opportunity to reply to the boarders who have been giving in their experiences and taking occasion to indulge in some pretty severe criticism. The landladies can now tell their side of the story and show up the follies and disagreeable characteristics of their boarders. It is to be hoped that there will be a generous response on the part of the landladies to this invitation, they being particular to remember these suggestions:
1—Let your contribution be brief, and take care to write legibly. 2-Write on one side of the paper only. 3-Sign a nom de plume; no real names will be used. 4-Endorse on your envelope, "Boarding House."
