NOTABLE WEDDINGS.

Social and Personal Gossip—Hotel Personalities.

One of the notable events of the social season was the wedding last evening, of Miss Susan Rosendorf, daughter of S. Rosendorf, 607 Chicago, to the Rev. and Isadore Swabacker, of Wheeling, W. Va. The family residence was most handsomely illuminated and the spacious parlors were artistically decorated. It was a little after 7 o'clock when the bride and groom descended into the parlor and were there made one by Rev. H. J. Kivild, the bride was dressed in white and wore a magnificent lace bridal veil, while the groom wore the regulation dress suit. After the ceremony the company sat down to one of the most sumptuous spreads ever laid in Minneapolis, being a full course 6 o'clock English dinner, served by May. The supper over the parlor were cleared and decorated with music by Dantz full orchestra, until a late hour. The presents received by the happy couple were numerous and of great value. The most everything that is beautiful and ornamental. The guests were many, almost every state in the Union being represented. Among the guests from abroad were Mr. and Mrs. Swabacker, the father and mother of the groom, and Theodore and Herman Landauer and D. Blyer, Chicago; Lea Tabour, Milwaukee; E. Sachs, Chicago; J. P. Fischer, Cincinnati. A special train was run over from St. Paul, bringing a large number of guests. W. N. Donaldson and Miss Nellie A. Donaldson will be married Sept. 20 at the residence of Miss Druckhammer, parents, 175 Island avenue. Mr. Donaldson is with Judge Springer, attorney of the Minneapolis & St. Louis road, and Mrs. Druckhammer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Druckhammer. Tuesday, Sept. 13, Alfred Neville, of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul shops, was united in marriage to Harriet Neville, formerly of Somersetshire, England, at the British vice consulate, St. Paul, the acting British vice consul officiating. A large party assembled at the home of the young couple, 223 Cedar avenue, and passed a pleasant evening. Monday evening, Sept. 12, J. T. Lally and Miss Celia McHale were married at the residence of the bride's mother, 1926 First avenue south. H. H. B. WILCOX. Charles H. Hubbard, of St. Paul, and Miss Edith Wilcox, of Minneapolis, were married last night at the Fourth Baptist church, Rev. T. G. Wadsworth officiating. Miss Fannie Fox, of Hampton, Mo., was bridesmaid, and Charles Wilcox, of Minneapolis, acted as groomsmen. The altar was decorated with large ball of golden rod and ferns and other floral pieces. The bride wore a cream colored costume, trimmed with starch silk and pearl beads, with a large bouquet of marceline roses. The bridesmaid wore a dress of heliotrope satin. Mendelssohn's wedding march was rendered at the close of the ceremony by Miss Nettie Abernethy, the organist of the church. The couple went to St. Paul in the evening, where they will make their future home. Mr. Hubbard is the well-known clarinetist in Selbert's orchestra.

"YOUR FARE, PLEASE."

FINE POINT OF LAW

Which Arose in an Assignment Sale Suit. An interesting case came up in Judge Young's court yesterday morning, the receiver of the old Minneapolis Express and Machine company made application to divide the property. The creditors of the company, among them the Crawford Iron and Steel works, put in an objection, claiming that the law under which the United States receiver was appointed was unconstitutional, and that the debts were unconstitutionally paid. It was contended that the receiver was appointed at a time when the receiver was appointed, and that the receiver was appointed at a time when the receiver was appointed, and that the receiver was appointed at a time when the receiver was appointed.

HOLY SMOKE!

The Millers Say the Consumers Do Not Consume. The smoke consumer question came up again yesterday before the special council committee, consisting of Ald. Mills, Burrows, Kerr, Garvey, Muldon and the regular committee on ordinances, to whom was referred the petition of the millers for the repeal of the ordinance passed May 3, compelling manufacturers and others to remove their smoke nuisances. The committee on the subject of the smoke consumer entered largely into discussion. H. B. Sherman, proprietor of the mill, said he was anxious to be understood that he had never had any smoke consumers, but had never found one that did not do more injury than

THE COOPERS' WAR

Taking the Shape of a Fight Against the North Star Shops. The latest phase of the cooper trouble is in the shape of a combined attack on the North Star shops. The Northwest Miller says that in calling upon all cooper to show their hand. The men were called out for the reason that the company referred to refused to go into the same proposed for buying out the Hardwood Storage company in any way co-operating with the Coopers' association. The North Star time and about eighteen hired men besides fifty-five members, and about half of the former and three or four of the latter were the only ones who were members of those remaining at the shops. The Coopers' assembly, through which the order is given. The places of the men who quit work are claimed to have been newly filled without difficulty. This move on the part of the knights is supposed to mark the inauguration of an open fight with the North Star Barrel company, and the outcome will be watched with much interest. The latter concern assumes that it has proceeded at all times upon correct business principles, and is refusing to divide any trade it may have secured, did nothing more than any properly earned work, and that the knights insist on having their rights might as well come now as later. The other side charges the North Star with taking advantage of a time when the agitation of higher prices was going on to make contracts for much more business than it ever had before, and claims to have offered to allow their consumers as much work as its own stockholders, assisted by their machinery, could do, without question, but that this was rejected. It is to be regretted that the plan for buying out the Hardwood Storage company was not acted upon, as it gave a more equitable and just settlement of the whole problem. Under this arrangement it was proposed to pay the Hardwood Storage company one-sixth cent per barrel on all barrels made in the city as royalties for keeping its shop idle during the period of three years. Some of the North Star stockholders favored the scheme quite strongly, and had not a dozen or more of the members been recently expelled from the local assembly, it is thought that it would have passed in a vote of the company. All the rest of the shops in the city agreed to the arrangement, and we are not sure but what the North Star made a mistake in not also doing so.

THE SECOND EDITION.

Fuller Returns From the Late Editorial Blowout. The lateness of the hour at which the banquet was given by the Exposition to the North Star newspaper men, precluded the possibility of a complete report yesterday morning, but the occasion was worthy of more than a passing notice. It was, in its entirety, perhaps the most enjoyable affair in which the newspaper men, as a profession, have participated. The feast itself would have tempted an anchorite, and was prepared and served in perfect style. The music, given by three saxophones and clarinet, was exceedingly sweet. The addresses by Col. Johnson and Capt. Gilmore and the paper by Sisson Thompson of the Chicago News, have already been mentioned, but some of the impromptu remarks deserve notice. J. M. Quinn, of the Bismark Tribune, made a few remarks, and in a little speech which first reflected all the glories of which were the cornet solo by the band. The last Rose of Shinarump and Billie Belle of St. Louis were exquisitely given and rapturously applauded. "Come Where My Love Lies In Wait," given by three saxophones and clarinet, was exceedingly sweet. The addresses by Col. Johnson and Capt. COURT HOUSE NOTES.

In Judge Young's court J. P. Veazy, from Maryland, was admitted to the bar. The case of D. S. O'Brien against A. J. Finnegan has been taken from the calendar. Evans and Weaver have made an assignment to C. A. J. Marsh for the benefit of their creditors. In the divorce suit of Frank Wagner against Amelia Wagner, an order for alimony was made. In the divorce suit of Frank Wagner against Amelia Wagner, an order for alimony was made. In the divorce suit of Frank Wagner against Amelia Wagner, an order for alimony was made.

STILL UNDER A VEIL.

The Grand Jury Reports Itself Yet In Labor. Nothing particularly sensational concerning the doings of the grand jury was reported yesterday. All of the jurors the ante rooms were filled with witnesses, who finally left the building wearing, among other things, a look of secrecy. The main part of the cases considered were larceny, forgery, illegal liquor selling and assault and battery. One or two rape cases were also considered. Just after 4 o'clock a large bundle of indictments of the above named cases, and again retired to its room, where it proceeded to examine the more witnesses. About 4:30, in charge of a deputy, the jury left the court house for the place where Mary Sylvester, Lou Munnich's wife, took her testimony and adjourned for the night.

BOLD WORK.

An Attempt to Rob the Glass Block Store. Burglars made an attempt to enter the Glass Block store early yesterday morning, but were prevented by George Washburn, the store watchman, who fired two shots at the man he saw at the window. While making his rounds Washburn heard a noise as if some one were trying to climb the high fence at the rear of the store. He looked into the rear in a few moments heard some one stamp over some boxes piled near one of the windows on the southwest corner of the store. He got in a dash and in a minute saw a man look into the window and attempt to raise the sash. Raising his revolver he fired two shots in rapid succession, and the man, who was identified as the murderer of the late Mrs. Washburn, took to his heels and got into the yard.

Westminster's New Pastor.

A well-attended meeting of Westminster church was held last evening at a formal call was extended to Rev. D. J. Burrell, of Dubuque, Io. Of 24 members present all but twenty-four voted for Mr. Burrell and a motion to make it unanimous received but on coming to a vote. Committees were appointed and the call will be made immediately. The church was fixed at $4,000, with $500 allowed for moving expenses. The pulpit of Westminster church has been vacant since the departure of Dr. Sample, and it is believed Dr. Burrell will give general satisfaction.

Robbing the Sheriff.

Later last night Michael Kierz, mill watchman at the court house, was making his rounds, he discovered two men trying to force an entrance into Sheriff Swensen's barn, in which a valuable horse is kept. He demanded to know what they were doing, but the men began to run. Kierz fired two shots at them, but failed to stop them.

The Work House Cells.

Bids were yesterday opened for the iron work, including the doors and frames for thirty-four cells at the work house. The bids were as follows: M. W. Glenn, $7,544; the Herzog Manufacturing company, $7,212; Diamond Iron works, $8,977; Charles Archibald, $9,702; Soto Boller works, $5,766. It will be seen that there is a great difference in the bids, and A. L. Hernalt expressed considerable interest in the lowest bidder, to whom the contract will be let, could carry it out and furnish good material.

THE PAWNBROKERS.

Some of Them Acting as "Fences" For Thieves. There is need of a more careful surveillance of a certain class of pawnbrokers by the police authorities. It is apparent that some of them are regularly acting as "fences" for thieves, and that articles received are not reported as they should be. An arrest yesterday by Inspector Healy, who took this is true. An overcoat was stolen from a room in the West hotel, yesterday, and a young bookkeeper named H. H. Hernalt, who recently came to the city from Baltimore, was arrested. He confessed that he had sold the overcoat, and that he had sold it to Jacob Schaefer, a pawnbroker at 709 First avenue south. The garment had not been reported and had been sold before the time in which it could have been recovered. Schaefer was arrested yesterday and held to the grand jury. Simon Wagner, pawnbroker at 709 Washington avenue south, was arrested yesterday for receiving some stolen goods and not reporting them.

A Singular Escape.

An accident that might have entailed serious consequences, but luckily turned out to be of a comical kind, occurred last night on Second street north of the city. A young man living at 617 Second street northeast, left his buggy standing outside a house on that thoroughfare, when the harness of the horse, which was hitched in a peculiar manner and bolted down the street. Between Third and Fourth avenues is a long ditch about fifteen feet wide and about three feet deep. The horse fell, the buggy on top, but how he ever got down in the narrow place, and was able to stand up straight, is a mystery to every one who saw the accident. In a short time lamps and ropes were procured, the buggy was raised and the horse was taken to the stable. A hard struggle with the animal he was finally tugged out more scared than hurt. Quite a crowd gathered on the street while the horse was being worked out.

District Court.

The Wagner divorce case was up again on an appeal from Frank Wagner's attorney, who wanted the writ compelling him either to pay the alimony or to be committed to jail for contempt. Wagner was ordered to pay the alimony, all the same, but on Sept. 17, Mr. Benton, Wagner's attorney, will raise the question of the alimony, still in contempt before the court, no subsidiary proceedings, as an appeal in his behalf, can be noticed until he is fully purged of contempt.

He Doesn't Get It.

Frank A. Thamer, arrested on a telegram from the state, by Deputy Sheriff Shepley, was taken before Judge Rea again yesterday morning on the writ of habeas corpus partially heard Wednesday afternoon. Thamer's attorney argued that the writ should not be granted, but he should be discharged, but his honor could not see it in that light, so he discharged the writ and remanded the prisoner.

MINNEAPOLIS PERSONALS.

George Switzer, a hotel man of Casselton, is visiting friends in the city. C. M. Batcher yesterday returned from a business trip. Supt. Hein has sufficiently recovered from a threatened attack of typhoid fever to resume his duties as trip. At the Nicollet: E. F. Mohl and family, Springfield, O.; H. H. Wilson and wife, Alexandria, Va.; Mrs. A. H. and wife, W. Squires and wife, Chippewa Falls.

ALL SORTS.

There was a little discrepancy in the bids for furnishing the cell doors for the work house. The highest bid was $13,000 and the lowest $5,000. The crowded condition of the hotels is illustrated by the fact that at one hotel last evening four rooms contained two married couples each. At another a man, his wife and mother-in-law managed to sleep in one small room with only one bed in it. The man probably bunked on the floor. Scene in the Council Chamber—"The drivers will not run over children," said Ald. L. Hernalt. "Keep the children in the house," replied the other aldermen. "But they need fresh air," yelled L. Hernalt. "Let 'em get it somewhere else," said the other aldermen. "Do you mean to keep my child from getting fresh air?" "I say keep your child off the street," said the other aldermen, but "you can't do it as a man," said L. Hernalt. "Chairman—"Order, gentlemen, order."

ALL SORTS.

There was a little discrepancy in the bids for furnishing the cell doors for the work house. The highest bid was $13,000 and the lowest $5,000. The crowded condition of the hotels is illustrated by the fact that at one hotel last evening four rooms contained two married couples each. At another a man, his wife and mother-in-law managed to sleep in one small room with only one bed in it. The man probably bunked on the floor. Scene in the Council Chamber—"The drivers will not run over children," said Ald. L. Hernalt. "Keep the children in the house," replied the other aldermen. "But they need fresh air," yelled L. Hernalt. "Let 'em get it somewhere else," said the other aldermen. "Do you mean to keep my child from getting fresh air?" "I say keep your child off the street," said the other aldermen,
