AN UPRIGHT JUDGE. An upright judge, a most learned judge, SHYLOCK declared PORTIA to be; and could he appear before the able Judge GRESHAM to-day he would have cause to regret the same assertion.

IT IS GROWING. In certain Republican circles there is a good deal of anxiety over the fact that a leading state paper of Iowa, which extends its territory to the north and west, has been suppressed and which, in its hitherto ardent support of Mr. BLAINE, has been suppressed also.

When he possessed information of importance to the public he was always ready to divulge it freely, and when it was necessary to give the newspaper man information, the divulging of which would be inimical to the public interest, but which was necessary in order that the public might be better understood by the newspaper.

Even if he had no conscientious scruples in the matter, policy would enjoin him to secrecy, for he knows well that the more he says the more confidence he has once based. The man who says frankly: "Such and such things I will tell you for your personal guidance, on condition that you promise not to publish them," is always assured of better treatment from the press than the one who says: "I will tell you nothing; my newspaper fellows will get any thing right anyway."

IGNORANT STATESMEN. The New York Herald interviewed members of congress on the Reading strike, and in three cases out of every five the answer was "I know nothing about it." That is a pretty state of affairs to exist at the national capital, and among the men to whom the nation has recourse for legislation.

PEACEFUL PURSUITS. While on his recent visit to Minnesota State Labor Commissioner Driscoll visited, among other places of interest, the state penitentiary at Stillwater, for several days it has been a scene of peace and quietude.

Watch-Makers Caught Napping. It does not often happen in the watch-making industries that a demand cannot be supplied, yet this has actually occurred the present season.

More War Talk. VIENNA, Jan. 15.—It is stated that Count Kalnoky, in his reply to Prince Lobanoff, the Russian ambassador, who had given an intimation as to the movements of Russian troops, said that he had taken note thereof.

ODDS AND ENDS. A SOLEMN FACT. Chicago Herald. Don't forget one thing—a low tariff and a high price of goods go together. That is one of the solemn facts of history in this country.

Notwithstanding all the effort that is being made in that direction by the churches and the government, the work of converting the Indians is making but slow progress.

papers are filled with stories of suffering in Kansas from the severe weather, and men, women and children being frozen to death by the blizzards which are sweeping over the barren plains of that restless state.

A CURIOUS STRIKE. A New Jersey thread manufacturer has a curious strike on its hands. It seems that the superintendent, a recent importation from Scotland, had been accustomed to seeing the factory girls in his native land rather scantily clad.

The cold wave being ready to break, the coal dealers who are darily suspected of being in some mysterious way connected with it, can now come out of their seclusion.

Mr. BLAINE is too far away to feel the effect of the present blizzard, but another will be prepared for his enjoyment about next November.

have an eye as quick to see a nail in a barn door at a long range as Edmunds. But he is a great legislator, and, take him for all-round work in congress, he has no his peer in either wing of the capitol.

Don't forget to assure your Eastern friends after mail communication is resumed—that the leading rank below zero occasionally on here, we don't feel the cold in this dry atmosphere as they do in the damp East.

Mr. BLAINE seems to be losing ground in Wisconsin. Wisconsin is the home of that good Democrat, Secretary Vilas, and good Democracy is contagious.

NOT A COAL TRAIN MOVING. Freight Business on the Reading Nearly at a Stand-Still. A BREAK EXPECTED SOON. The Coal Miners Standing by the Railroad Men—A German Union Condemned.

READING, Pa., Jan. 15.—Twenty meetings were held in this city to-day of Reading employees. The employees' convention, which met here over two weeks ago and ordered the present strike, met first. About 150 delegates were present.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 15.—There was nothing to ruffle the usual quiet of the fourth Sunday of the Reading railroad strike. Very few trains were in town, they having gone to Reading to attend the convention of the district assembly.

There has lately, however, been a much more generally directed attack against this American institution by the National and other anti-liberal papers in the City of Mexico that, in deference to the agitation and for the purpose of calling to the attention of the administration has determined to strike early in Lower California the law which prohibits foreigners from acquiring title to real estate in Mexico within twenty leagues of the boundary line.

WITH A CARVING KNIFE. A Young Girl Made Frantic by Her Relatives. TAKES HER OWN LIFE. Her Lover Fatally Wounded—Miraculous Escape of Train Robbers in Alabama.

Special to the Globe. NORTH ADAMS, Mass., Jan. 15.—The following story comes from Hancock, an isolated hill town near the New York state line: Carrie Brockway, aged eighteen, has been receiving attention from Washington Sweet, Farmer Brockway, her father, and brothers objected and warned her to desist. The warning was disregarded. Brockway and his two sons armed themselves and went to Sweet's house. Sweet leveled their guns and barricaded the house. When admittance was demanded Sweet shot from a window, seriously wounding one of the sons in the hip. The shooting continued on both sides for some time. Finally the shots from within ceased. Just then Carrie, having heard of the action of her father, rushed to the scene. She tried to shoot her lover but he was already dead. She then fled to her father's house. When the door was opened she was found apparently dead, with a bullet hole in her neck. The girl frantically upbraided her relatives, and seizing a carving knife, fell across Sweet's throat and fell dead across Sweet's body. Sweet revived, but will probably die. The inhabitants of the village, mostly French here, are taking sides for and against the Brockways, the ill-feeling may result in more violence.

Special to the Globe. CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 15.—Edward F. Allen, for several years a salesman in the employ of Davis & Hunt, hardware dealer at No. 147 Ontario street, left the employ of that firm Jan. 1 to engage in business for himself. For some time past Davis & Hunt have been missing valuable bronze busts hardware articles and other goods. Some reason they suspected that Allen had been stealing them. Late last night a visit was paid to his storeroom on Euclid avenue, and the condition of the poor of the Jewish people in the district of Leo Hammel, of Appleton, Wis., chairman; A. Salzenstein, of Springfield, Ill.; Max Ascher, of Milwaukee; Israel Govey, of Grand Rapids, Mich. The installation of the newly elected officers was impressively conducted by Past President W. W. Woodruff, of this city. A. Wolf was appointed sergeant-at-arms and M. M. Hirsch was made chairman of the trustees of the endowment fund, with Samuel H. Woodruff, of this city, as secretary.

Special to the Globe. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 15.—A special to the Age from Vernon, Lamar county, Ala., says five of Pinkerton's men, accompanied by the sheriff of this county, went out yesterday morning to arrest a man named James Barrow, a Texarkana about the 10th of December last. They surrounded James Barrow's house, but he fled to a neighbor's place. When he made a bold run and was fired on twelve or fifteen times by the detectives, but made a miraculous escape. He was seen to have a revolver passed through his shirt collar. The matter was a great surprise to people here. The young men had lately been living for a short time, and are well known and connected here. They are represented by the men who were arrested at Texas, who had determined them. They are still at large, and the detectives have left the county at present.

Mackin is still in the penitentiary, was in Chicago to-day awaiting the legal preliminary steps necessary to his extradition to a prison cell at Joliet to another at Philadelphia. Gallagher's sentence at Joliet expired last evening. He was arrested here on a charge of having committed a crime against him, charging that eight years ago he forged the name of Abraham Thompson, a member of the city council, to a note for $100,000. He has a hearing to-morrow before Judge Shepard, and unless some technicality intervenes he probably start at once for Philadelphia.

Special to the Globe. DUBLIN, Jan. 15.—As a result of the official inquiry in the case of the ship Alfred D. Snow, which was recently lost off Waterford with all her crew, the coroner of the Dummore local bar has ordered an inquiry into the cause of the loss of the ship. The coroner is refusing to launch his boat and making an attempt to save the ship's crew. At the same time the coroner is making a life boat, as the ship's crew were then actually drowning. The court of inquiry has ordered that the crew could have been saved if the life boat had been launched.
