

FOR THE TERRITORIES.

Democratic Members Adopt a Resolution Favoring an Enabling Act

Providing for Constitutional Conventions in the Territories,

Western Republicans Crying for Nelson's Great Tariff Speech.

The Oil Trust Discussed--The House Still in the Dead-LOCK.

Special to the Globe. WASHINGTON, April 7.—In pursuance of the call by Representative Cox, chairman of the caucus committee, the Democratic representatives met at 8 o'clock this evening at the capitol and remained in secret session for two hours and a half. As announced in the call, the principal subject of discussion was the admission of territories into the Union. After debate the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this caucus that an enabling act for the territories of Dakota, Montana, Washington and New Mexico, should be passed at this session, providing for constitutional conventions in each territory, and the submission of these constitutions for ratification or rejection at the November elections in 1888, substantially as provided for in the bill reported by the committee on territories at this session.

A resolution was also adopted requesting the committee on rules to fix a time for the consideration of bills for the railroad land grants reported by the committee on public lands. Just before the adjournment of the caucus, one member suggested the consideration of the existing deadlock in legislation, but the regular order was called for, and the pending motion to adjourn was carried. There was a sentiment among members present in favor of a caucus on the deadlock question Monday evening, and there is a possibility that a call to this end may be issued Monday. The bill to create a territorial form of government for Oklahoma was also discussed, but no final action was taken in the way of a formal indorsement.

THE OIL TRUST.

How the Standard Company Was Squeezed for Some Oil.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The investigation of the oil trust was resumed this morning by the house committee on manufactures. David Kirk, of Bradford, Pa., said he was a member of the "Producers' Protective Association of Pennsylvania and New York. It was made up of about 2,000 members and had thirty-six local assemblies. Witness was one of the promoters of the association, to which were eligible all oil producers and others interested in the business, including individual refiners. It had no connection whatever with the Standard Oil company. It was organized as a protection against the Standard. After its formation it was found that a great deal of capital would be required to build a new system of pipe lines, so a committee waited on the Standard Oil company and finally came to an agreement with it. This was in September, at which time this was a stock of 31,000,000 barrels on hand, held by the National Transit company. The Standard agreed to give the "Producers' Protective Association" 5,000,000 barrels if the association would agree to cut down its production 17,500 barrels per day and refrain from opening new wells. The first act of the "Producers' Protective Association" was to divide the profits of 1,000,000 barrels for the labor effected by the shut down. They went back to the Standard and squeezed another 1,000,000 barrels from it for the same purpose. The stock on hand on April 1 was about 26,000,000. There had been a daily average reduction of 25,000 barrels since the contract had been in force with the Standard.

Personal Mention.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Mrs. Thomas Fitzpatrick, of St. Paul, and daughter, Miss Aggie, have been at Port Monroe the past few weeks, and arrived here this morning. They will remain a few days visiting the son and brother, who is at Georgetown college. They will then return home. Senator Moody, of Dakota, is at the Ebbitt. He is here on private business, and declines to talk about statehood or other political matters. D. McClosky and wife, of St. Paul, and A. J. Blethen, of Minneapolis, are at the Ebbitt.

Mexican Trespassers.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The secretary of state is in receipt of a dispatch from Gen. Bragg, United States minister at the City of Mexico, inclosing a copy of an order from the department of war of Mexico, calling attention to the late trespasses on the frontier by Mexican troops, and saying that, despite the severity with which the law dealt with the Nogales offenders in 1887, these violations of a friendly frontier by Mexican troops, Mexican troops, officers especially, are, therefore cautioned to be more vigilant in the future, under penalty of punishment such as military law provides in case of further violations of this character.

Attending Brewster's Funeral.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The department of justice was closed to-day, as a mark of respect to the late ex-Attorney General Brewster, whose funeral took place in Philadelphia to-day. Attorney General Garland was not able to attend the funeral, but the department was represented by many other officials, including Solicitor General Jenks, Assistant Attorney General Maury and Howard and Disbursing Clerk Ewing.

Nelson's Tariff Speech.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Representative Nelson says he is getting a great many letters asking for copies of his tariff speech. He has had already over 100 letters from New England besides a number from the West. The writers all claim that they are Republicans and are all hungry for tariff reform which is embodied in his Napoleonic coup d'etat.

Pensions Granted.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The following Minnesota were granted pensions to-day: Original Invalid—George E. Risley, Beaver; Peter Rathbarger, (deceased), Hartford; Abraham L. Slagille, Greenwood. Increase—John Dillford, Buffalo; Joel H. Stacy, Langdon. Original Widows—Matilda, widow of Peter Rathbarger, Hartford.

Adjourned Until Monday.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—After the usual rounds of roll call and considerable dilatory discussion to-day the house, by unanimous consent, adjourned until 11:45 Monday.

Judicial Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The subcommittee of the appropriations committee completed the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill to-night, and will report it to the full committee next Tuesday.

Gen. King Dead.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Maj. Gen. John M. King died at his home in this city to-night.

LUCKY NUMBER.

No. 13 Draws a Prize in the Beauty Contest at Minneapolis.

Thirteen appears to be a lucky number after all, at least with the prize beauties, as a little romance which has just developed at Kohl, Middleton & Co.'s dime museum attests. The bewitching brunette, who was known to the public as "No. 13" in the prize beauty contest disappeared Thursday last. Her name is Elinora L. Parle, and she is a Chicago damsel of French extraction, as her name indicates. With her sister, Mrs. Hardgrave, she came to the Twin cities under engagement with the museum firm to dazzle the public with her beauty. Her success as a dazzler can be estimated from the fact that upon the very first day of her appearance at the St. Paul museum she completely captivated Robert Donnell, a jeweler of that city. It was a case of love at first sight, evidently. He was infatuated upon the instant, and in spite of the watchfulness of Mrs. Rivers, the matron who has charge of the aggregation of female loveliness, managed to get a note to her which expressed his ardent admiration and a desire to make her acquaintance. He was accompanied by Lewis Ellsworth Jones, a young attorney in the office of W. C. Goforth, at Globe building. The courtship was a brief one and was carried on with some difficulty, for only the mornings afforded opportunities for the meetings. He was lavish with his presents and his gifts soon amounted to something like $1,000 in value. Both Miss Parle and her sister were at first inclined to look upon his advances with suspicion, but inquiry as to his character and financial standing convinced them that he was a man of means, and the beauties came to Minneapolis, Donnell followed, and continued his courtship. Wednesday evening they left the Clark house together, and on Thursday a dispatch came from Hudson, Wis., that they had been duly married, and were made happy. A note had been received from the bride, who had created quite a commotion in the flock of beauties, and "Allie's" luck was the chief subject of conversation with them yesterday, while the public regarded the empty chair of "No. 13" with as much curiosity as if it contained 140 pounds of plump femininity. Miss Parle is sixteen years old, and is an orphan. She was formerly employed as a saleslady in a Chicago dry goods store. Donnell is about twenty-eight years old, and is said to be a widower of three years' standing.

THREE MEN KILLED.

A Locomotive Engine Explodes With Terrible Results.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., April 7.—At 5 o'clock last evening the big Mogul freight engine exploded on the Erie railroad at Craigville. Three men were killed, two instantly and one died this morning. The train was standing still at the foot of a heavy grade, and Engineer John Bodine, Conductor John Clarke and Fireman Boyce were standing on the ground beside the engine repairing sand pipes, which had become clogged. The explosion hurled the boiler several hundred feet over the stream and into an adjoining field. The fire box was thrown far into the air and came down into the stream. A heavy iron rod was thrown a distance of a quarter of a mile, and other parts of machinery were scattered in various directions. The report of the explosion was heard for miles around and windows of houses were broken. Only the heavy driving wheels were left on the track. The engineer and fireman were thrown on either side of the track and when assistance came they were dead. Conductor Clarke was yet alive, but his skull was crushed and he had internal injuries. He was taken to a house nearby where he died.

A MORTGAGE FIGHT.

A Farmer and His Son Resist a Deputy Sheriff. GARY, Dak., April 7.—The chattel mortgage market was lively yesterday. John Smith, with the assistance of a deputy sheriff and five others, went to the farm of John Lathrop, in Lac qui Parle county, to get six head of stock on which he had a mortgage. The mortgage was given by Robert Evans to secure a debt of $25 to Smith, and as Evans expected the mortgage would be foreclosed, he gave a bill of sale of the whole herd to Lathrop, subject to the mortgage. Lathrop held a note against Smith and calculated to turn matters and save his friend Evans some of the stock. When Smith and the officers arrived at Lathrop's they commenced loading up the small flock. Lathrop and his son soon came on the scene and a regular pitched battle followed, in which pitchforks, neckyokes and other weapons were used freely. Lathrop and the boy held the fort for over an hour, but finally were overpowered and the stock was removed. The Smith crowd were badly used up, and will carry scars of the battle for many days.

They Were Playing Cowboys.

BURDETTSBORO, Pa., April 7.—Six boys, ranging in age from fifteen to seventeen years, who had been reading dime literature, went into a barn to play cowboy. During the play, one of the lads, after boasting of his ability to throw a rope around the neck of an Indian and choke him to death, gave his lasso a sling. It chanced to fall on the neck of little James Burley, who started to run. The other boys held on and the rope tightened around Jimmie's throat. The others thought it was great sport, and laughed at the struggles of the little fellow to get free. This lasted for some time. Finally the mother of the boy appeared upon the scene. She quickly released the little sufferer, but too late to save his life. He died within a few minutes after being released.

Death in a Well.

CHICAGO, April 7.—A dispatch from Palmyra, Mo., says: Yesterday being Arbor day, the teachers and scholars of the public school started shortly after dinner to the outskirts of the city to dig up trees and plant them in school house yards. On reaching the old Primrose place several of the children who were in advance gathered around a well and attempted to pump up water to drink. The planks on which they stood gave way and fifteen of the children were precipitated into the well, containing five feet of water. By means of a rope the teachers were successful in getting all but one out alive. Arthur, the nine-year-old son of Mrs. Lem Little, a widow, was drowned. Several others were injured.

Struck by Lightning.

ALBERT LEA, April 7.—The houses of three farmers of this county were struck by lightning and consumed with their contents during the big storm. William Yost, of Mansfield, lost thirty-two head of cattle, a span of horses, and other property in his barn. Gullick Bagley, of Rice land, lost six cows and three steers, and Andrew Durdall lost seven horses and thirty-two head of cattle, harness and other property.

Horse Thieves Captured.

BILLINGS, Mont., April 7.—Under Sheriff Reed and two deputies to-day captured two horse thieves named O'Brien and Marsh. Marsh is supposed to be Leton Jackson, the noted horse-thief for whom $1,000 is offered. He and his men some time ago killed two deputy sheriffs who were trying to arrest them in Idaho. This is part of a gang who have infested this region for a long time and been a terror to all stockmen. When captured they had sixty head of stolen horses in their possession, brought from Nevada and Wyoming.

Two Farmers Killed.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., April 7.—Two farmers in a wagon, crossing the tracks in Middletown last night, were run over by an Erie train and killed last night. They were some time ago killed by deputy sheriffs who were trying to arrest them in Idaho. This is part of a gang who have infested this region for a long time and been a terror to all stockmen. When captured they had sixty head of stolen horses in their possession, brought from Nevada and Wyoming.

RAILROAD WORLD.

Will Restore Rates.

CHICAGO, April 7.—The representatives of the Chicago & Grand Trunk, Michigan Central and the Niagara Falls Short line met to-day before Vice Chairman Daniels, of the Central Traffic association, for the purpose of arbitrating the question of restoring the passenger rates between Chicago and Eastern points. The result was the adjusting by the Grand Trunk of the rates between Chicago and Detroit and its Michigan points, while the Michigan Central and the Niagara Falls Short line will restore rates Monday, the latter to Detroit, and the former to Detroit, Toronto, Montreal and other points in Canada.

Baltimore & Ohio Meeting.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 7.—Mr. Dearborn, the general passenger agent of the Baltimore & Ohio at Chicago, for the Northwest, was at Central building yesterday. The regular monthly meeting of directors will be held on Wednesday. A general passenger agent will be nominated. The earnings of the company during the past six months have been very large, and there has been some talk of the possibility of declaring a small dividend on common stock of the main stem, but financiers hardly expect it.

J. H. Hilland.

Chicago Tribune. The "Soo" line is evidently determined to compete for traffic to and from the seaboard. It is not only doubling its freight equipments but it is also strengthening its traffic department. It has just appointed J. H. Hilland, general Western agent of the Milwaukee & St. Paul at Kansas City, general traffic manager. Mr. Hilland is one of the strongest men who could have been selected for the position.

Chips From the Ties.

On the 1st of May the St. Paul & Kansas City ticket office will be moved to the building on Third street, occupied at present by Maxwell & Seabury. A part of the premises will be rented to the Milwaukee & St. Paul ticket office which will be located in the same building.

No More Victims.

SPECIAL TO THE GLOBE. CHICKASAW, Ia., April 7.—The remains of Christian Seaverson, John Duloose and Baby Heedecker, victims of the Waspie disaster, were interred in the cemetery at New Hampton to-day. The remains of Willard Andrews were taken to his late home at Lamont, Wis., for burial. The funeral of J. W. Scagel will be held to-morrow at Mason City. He was insured in the accident company for $2,000, and also carried $3,000 in the brotherhood. The injured are gaining slowly, and it is probable all will recover. No more victims have been found.

She Dropped the Lamp.

OSAKIS, Minn., April 7.—At 10 o'clock last night the house of D. W. Allen, five miles from this village, burned. Allen, who is a well-known musician, was attending a dance here. His wife and three children remained at home. His wife heard him coming home, arose, lighted a lamp and started down stairs. She stumbled, and the lamp fell to the bottom of the stairs and exploded. The lady and children jumped from the window, receiving slight injuries. Mr. Allen arrived late to save the goods, which are a total loss. Insurance on furniture, $400; on house, $500.

HUDSON, CLOTHIER

Ever since we opened our doors and exposed for sale our magnificent stock of Clothing, Hats, Caps Men's Furnishings,

Our vast salesrooms have been crowded with eager bargain-seekers. The business done has been enormous and away beyond all reasonable expectation. Every customer went away pleased and satisfied that he had obtained better value for his money than he could get elsewhere, and earnestly wished us the best of success. Such an appreciation of our efforts suits us exactly, and we propose to keep right on meriting it. Recognizing the fact that the greatest attractions were those two great starters, viz:

$20, $22 and $25 Spring Overcoats for $15, And $22 and $25 Suits for $15,

And that many, although wishing to do so, were unable buy last week, we decided to continue the slaughter on these goods a little longer, giving everybody another opportunity to buy a Suit or Overcoat $5 to $10 cheaper than it can be bought elsewhere. We never call your attention to meager lots, and although the rush for these goods last week was tremendous, our assortment is still complete and unbroken. No one needing a Suit or Overcoat should fail to avail themselves of this opportunity. There is money to be saved.

MEN'S FINE CLOTHING!

Large, beautiful and varied assortment of elegantly-fashioned Prince Albert and three or four-button Cutaway Suits on hand, made from the very best of Imported and Domestic Fabrics, in all the correct colorings, mixtures, etc., and unexcelled for make and finish. A visit to us from the fastidious, well-dressed gentleman, who does not desire to pay extravagant prices to a tailor for a Suit or Overcoat, will convince him that we can give him as good a fit and save him from $15 to $25 besides. Complete line of Full Dress Coats and Vests and Clerical Goods in stock.

IN OUR BOYS' AND CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENT

Will be found the largest and most complete line of Clothing for the young ones ever shown in the state. Everything new and desirable added immediately upon its appearance. It will always be well for mothers in fitting out their boys in Clothing, Hats, etc., to first give us a call before going elsewhere. As a special inducement to purchasers this week, in this department, a beautiful full-rigged yacht will be given away with every Suit.

WE PRACTICE WHAT WE PREACH! WE PROVE WHAT WE PROMISE!

What nonsense it would be for us to pay for this space for an advertisement unless we had something important to tell. It would be ridiculous in the extreme, but the case is altered when we know and can say with positive assurance that we show one of the LARGEST and CHEAPEST Stocks of BABY CARRIAGES carried in any one house in the United States. You will be surprised what better value can be bought for your money now than was purchased a year ago. An extravagant price is not necessary to give you an elegant carriage. You will find the same details in all our medium-price Baby Cabs. It is this grade we would call your special attention to, not either extreme, but a happy medium. We have no one carriage that we hold out as a bait. Our $5, $6, $8, $10, $12, $15, $18, $20 carriages are the best value ever sold in this or any other market. This is not an idle assertion, but a positive truth, which we can easily substantiate at the
