AN EARLY LUMBERMAN.

Also Clock Peddler and Voted for General Jackson. Letter to the Globe. RED WING, April 16.—Among the pioneer business men of this state, those who fostered her interests in their infancy and did so much for her subsequent greatness, Peter Daniels, of this city, now an octogenarian, occupies a prominent place. He was among the earliest lumbermen of the state and did much in pioneer days to inaugurate this great industry. This is the story of his life as related by himself.

Peter Daniels

"My parents, Elijah and Sarah Daniels, removed from New England at an early day and settled on a farm in Nelson, Madison county, New York, where they remained a few years, and then worked on the farm till I became of age, with the exception of teaching school a few months in the winter season of 1815 and 1816. My father, Andrew Jackson for president of the United States of America on my first birthday. Soon after I went into Canada and engaged in the clock business, which I continued for nearly fifteen years, until I was compelled to leave on account of the Rebellion. I then returned to my native home and married Miss Mary Ann Cummings, of Warren, Herkimer county, N. Y., and engaged with her brother, George E. Cummings, in Morrisville, N. Y., in the dry goods trade, in which I remained a number of years, and then formed a company with S. S. Grannis, to engage in the lumber trade, under the name of Grannis, Daniels & Co., for the purpose of selling lumber in Wisconsin Territory, May 1, 1837, and built the saw mill known in Red Wing as the Bluff mill.

After running a few years, I sold my interest to P. Sprague and engaged in the lumber trade with the firm name of Daniels, Simmons & Co. Webster, with a few others, formed a stock company known as the Red Wing Lumber Co., in which I was president six years, until the stock advanced 50 per cent, when I sold out and retired from business, and, with a few others, formed a company to celebrate the anniversary of my eightieth birthday Nov. 5, 1857.

THE RAILWAY WORLD.

The Managers Conclude to Indefinitely Postpone the Rate Meeting.

It Is Believed that the Milwaukee Is Building to the Pacific Coast.

The Eastern Lines Engage in an Emigrant Rate War.

While Ocean Steamers on the Pacific Have a Bout at Cutting.

The meeting of the managers of the Western and Northwestern roads that was called for to-morrow, in Chicago to consider the proposed rate reduction, has been postponed. The reason that is given for the postponement is that some of the managers are unable to attend. This, however, is not believed to be the true reason. It is thought to be more likely that the managers think the time has not yet arrived for forming a new movement on foot among the Northwestern lines, says the Chicago Tribune. "To abolish milling in transit rates, which have done more to keep up the fight between the roads than anything else. The Milwaukee and St. Paul, which has been the special champion of the system, has made the most liberal proposals, and has offered transit rates on condition that the Manitoba and Northern Pacific roads will make a rate on grain from the Red River to Duluth, not to be less than that to Duluth. There is no good reason why the rate to Duluth should be higher than to Minneapolis, the latter being nearer Red River valley, and the milling in transit, which can be adjusted one of the most serious obstacles in the way of a settlement of the existing complications between the Western and Northwestern lines will have been removed."

Another rock to be avoided is investment in unnecessary finery at cheap sales; one must be very rich to be able to afford to buy such a quantity of never exactly right for anything; it matches nothing, and is generally put away and never looked at again. Nothing is more common than to find a man in a new suit of clothes, and in a few days he is seen in a second-hand suit, and in a few days he is seen in a third-hand suit, and in a few days he is seen
