

THE METHODISTS' WORK.

Much Lobby Work Being Done for the Bishop Election.

BISHOP TAYLOR'S WORK.

A Large Number of Memorials Presented and Referred to the Committee.

New York, May 12.—The eleventh day of the session of the Methodist Episcopal church conference opened this morning at the Metropolitan opera house, with prayer by Rev. Alexander Martin, president of the DePaul University of Indiana. Bishop Foster presided for the second time. The members of the conference are looking forward with considerable expectancy to the report of the committee on Episcopacy upon the number of new bishops to be elected. The committee will probably report in favor of electing four bishops. This will cause a long debate, as there are a large number of the delegates who believe that there should be at least six or seven more bishops. They claim that the bishops have too much work to do, and that with a larger number the work of the church can be extended. The members spend much of their time in the lobby, electioneering for their friends who are candidates for the position of bishop. Among the candidates are: Rev. S. J. W. Fitzgerald, of New Jersey; E. C. Cranston, Colorado; J. R. Vincent, Rock River; L. A. Goodsell, J. R. Day, Chancellor Simms, L. L. Tutts, J. M. Buckley, editor of the Christian Advocate, J. M. King, all of New York; J. W. Hamilton, Boston; A. L. Leonard, I. W. Joyce, C. H. Paine and J. H. Bayliss, of Ohio. Rev. A. J. Kyndt, secretary of the church extension society, is also mentioned as being an available candidate. It is almost certain that Rev. J. W. Fitzgerald and Rev. Dr. E. B. Hunt, of Illinois, moved to suspend the rules and take up the order of the day, the reading of Bishop Taylor's report of his work in Africa. When the bishop stepped to the front of the stage, the house which was packed with people, fairly arose to their feet and applauded for several minutes. It was as much as the chairman could do to suppress the enthusiasm. The committee on judiciary requested the report as soon as possible in regard to whether the discipline can be so conferred that bishops can be assigned to conference districts. Rev. A. J. Kyndt, of Philadelphia, offered a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of five to consider and report upon church union. Rev. Charles C. McLean, of St. John, created quite a sensation by offering a resolution to the effect that no one should be elected or consecrated bishop until he had taken a castiron oath to abstain from the use of tobacco. It was voted down. Rev. Dr. E. E. Lyman, of Rock River, offered a resolution providing that evangelists be admitted to the conference by and be under the authority of the conference. Referred to a committee. The St. Louis conference asked that the next annual conference be held in St. Louis, May 1, 1890. Referred to the committee on rules. A resolution from the Kansas conference was offered to the effect that a meeting be held by members of the conference to protest against the liquor traffic. It was moved to lay the resolution on the table and lost. The resolution was referred to the committee on temperance. A large number of memorials were presented and referred to committees. Adjourned until Monday.

CHICAGO, May 12.—It has transpired that measures were adopted in George Thomas Post No. 5, G. A. R., in this city last evening to procure a decision from Commander-in-Chief Rees of that organization, on the action of E. D. Baker post, Philadelphia, admitting the Confederate general, Joe Johnston, to contributing membership. The question is raised that there can be no contributory or other than regular membership, but that if such a membership can be established by posts, those who bore arms against the United States are ineligible thereto, as in the case of membership. This action may lead to proceedings against the Philadelphia post for violating the rules and regulations.

Killed by a Crazy Man.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 12.—Near Bloomington, last evening, James Boughner, a well-known citizen of Garrett county, was thrown over a cliff, 125 feet high, by Pat Farley and was instantly killed. The two men were walking together when Farley, who had been suffering from temporary aberration for some time, suddenly grew violent and seized his companion near the verge of the precipice. The two men engaged in a terrible struggle which ended in Boughner being thrown over. Farley has been secured and is in jail at Oakland.

Indications.

WASHINGTON, May 13, 1 a. m.—For Michigan and Wisconsin, warmer, fair weather, fresh to brisk westerly winds, diminishing in force and becoming southerly. For Minnesota, Eastern and Southwestern Dakota, warmer, fair weather, winds becoming light to fresh southerly. For Nebraska and Iowa, warmer, fair weather, winds becoming light to fresh southerly.

The Mississippi Floods.

CASSVILLE, Wis., May 12.—The Mississippi river at this place rose two inches last night. The warehouses along the river front are flooded, and the Burlington & Northern depot and many residences in the lower part of the village can be reached only by boats, and thousands of acres of farming and many lands are inundated. The river from here to Keokuk, Ia., is fresh much in the same condition. The low lands are all inundated, and much damage to dwellings, bridges and farms is reported.

JAPANESE DEPT.

Special For This Week.
TEA JARS. POT POURRI JARS.

Double Covered AND Hand Painted—
OWARI, SEIGI, KAGA, IMARI AND SATSUMI WARES.

Sizes 32 Inches to 16 Inches high.
Prices from 36c up, according to sizes and wares.

THIS JAR is only one out of hundreds of different wares, shapes and decorations. Every lover of good Tea knows how difficult it is to retain the flavor, which is the most important part of all Tea. While keeping the Tea for consumption it loses its delicious flavor, and the last of the purchase is not so good as the first, frequently becoming dusty and pulverized, even if kept in a tin caddy. In Japan, where the Tea grows, it is always kept in the Earthenware Jar which we call a "Rose Jar," provided with two covers and so perfectly made and so well adapted to the purpose that Tea can be kept in them for years and still retain its flavor. We have a very large and varied assortment of these Jars in many different wares and offer special inducements to purchasers of them during this week, as follows:

Regular Price.	This Week's Price.	Regular Price.	This Week's Price.
45	36	$2.50	$2.00
60	48	3.00	2.40
75	60	3.50	2.80
90	72	3.75	3.00
1.25	$1.00	4.25	3.40
1.50	1.20	4.50	3.60
2.00	1.60	5.00	4.00

We have many other prices between those quoted and above them, up to Jars at $50 each, on which special prices will be made on application. Ladies desiring Tea or Pot-Pourri Jars for themselves, or as presents to friends, should not miss this opportunity.
