

SAINTLY CITY DOINGS.

The Council Gives the Sanitation Company a Two-Years Contract.

A Soldier Who Shot an Officer to Be Tried for Murder.

Topics of the Pastors of Leading City Churches To-Day.

Summary of the Doings of a Day Gathered From All Sources.

A TWO YEARS' CONTRACT Granted by the Council to the Sanitation Company.

At a meeting of the council last night the contract with the Sanitation company to remove garbage, which was voted by the mayor, was returned by the committee on streets amended to run for a period of two years, instead of five as formerly. This being in accordance with the wishes of the mayor, the contract was ordered executed. Ald. Dowling, Ryan and Kenny voted in the negative. A new ordinance, prohibiting the emission of dense smoke from any building west of Cedar street and north of the river was passed under suspension of the rules. A resolution by Ald. Sanborn authorizing the fire commission to expend $10,000 in the purchase of a lot and erection and equipment of a fire station at St. Anthony Park was adopted. The present council will hold its last meeting Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and the new council will be sworn in Tuesday evening.

TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER. A Soldier Who Shot an Officer Who Ordered Him to Halt.

By direction of the war department Private David Lemmons, twenty-fourth infantry, a colored soldier, whose company is stationed at Fort Reno, has been turned over to the civil authorities for trial on the charge of murder. On May 15 Lemmons removed his rifle from the company barracks and surreptitiously left the post, evidently with the intention of deserting. Sergt. Peter Webster was ordered to overtake and arrest him. When within halting distance Sergt. Webster ordered Lemmons to halt and surrender. The latter, however, brought his rifle to his shoulder and commanded the sergeant to retreat or he would kill him. The sergeant paid no heed to the threat and continued to advance, when Lemmons discharged his rifle, ball striking Webster in the left side and passing entirely through his body. Death was almost instantaneous. Lemmons subsequently surrendered to the command of his company. The murdered sergeant was highly esteemed throughout his regiment as a conscientious and fearless non-commissioned officer, and it was only by the greatest efforts on the part of the post officers that the members of the company were prevented wreaking summary vengeance on his murderer. Lemmons' trial has been set for September next.

UNDER THE SPIRES.

Topics in the Leading Pulpits of St. Paul To-Day.

Religious services will be held at Union stock yards at 11 o'clock this morning.

Rev. A. C. Kelly will preach at Woodruff hall, Merriam park, this afternoon at 3:30.

Rev. S. M. Crothers will preach in Unity church at 11 a. m. Subject: "Invitation."

Rev. J. H. Lloyd will hold the first service at the Church of the Ascension to-day at 11 a. m.

Church of the Good Shepherd—Matins, 10:15. Choral celebration, 11. Evening, 7:30. Rector, Rev. W. C. Pope.

Dr. S. G. Smith will discuss "Danger Signals in Liberalism" at 11 a. m., before the people's church in the Grand opera house.

Rev. Dr. Christie has returned from Philadelphia and will hold services at the usual hour at the House of Hope church to-day.

Episcopal Mission Chapel of the Resurrection—Atwater, near Rice street. Preaching, with sermon, 3:30. Rector, Rev. W. C. Pope.

Rev. P. A. Cornahan, the new pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will hold both morning and evening services at the usual hour to-day.

Rev. C. D. Andrews, of Christ church, will address the White Cross league at the Gospel Temperance rooms, 70 East Seventh street, at 4 p. m.

Baptist Mission—Burr street chapel—Sunday school at 3 p. m.; preaching by the Rev. A. C. Kelly at 8 p. m. Mrs. W. G. Wood will lead the singing.

St. James Church—57 East Seventh street. Morning prayer and holy communion at 11 a. m. Sunday school 9:30 a. m.; Bible class, 3 p. m. Strangers cordially invited.

St. Paul's Church—Ninth and Olive streets; services at 8 and 11 a. m. Choral service at 7:30 p. m., with sermon by Rev. John Wright on "The Influence of Woman."

Pacific Congregational church, Rev. E. C. Evans, pastor. Special communion service in the forenoon, at which a large number of new members will be received into the church. Evangelistic service at 8 p. m.

Rev. Edward C. Mitchell, pastor of the New Jerusalem church, on Virginia avenue, corner of Selby, will preach at 10:30 a. m., and lecture in the evening on "The Symbolic Meaning of Metals as Used in the Bible."

At First M. Church—The pastor, Rev. F. O. Holman, will preach at 10:30 a. m. and 8 p. m. Morning subject: "Sin and Holiness." Evening subject: "The Supreme Rule of Love."

"Falling From Grace" will be the subject of Rev. W. S. Vail before the Universalist society this morning in the Wacouta street chapel. The services of this society will soon be held in the People's theater.

Woodland Park Baptist Church—corner Selby and Arundel (on cable line). Preaching at 10:30 a. m. and 8 p. m. by the pastor, Rev. W. Dawley. Sunday school. Orchestral music at 12 o'clock. A welcome to all.

The Rev. M. N. Gilbert, D. D., will administer the sacrament of confirmation and preach in St. Mary's church, Merriam Park, at 3:30 p. m. and in St. Stephen's church, corner of Randolph and Hennepin, at 8 p. m.

"A Children's Day" exercise will be rendered by the Sunday school of the Christian chapel, corner Carroll and Union streets, at 10:30 a. m. An orchestra will assist in the music. School convenes at 10; communion at 11:30. At 8 p. m. Rev. W. A. Foster will preach upon "The Desecrating Sin."

Christ Church—Corner of Franklin and West Fourth streets; services as follows: Celebration of the Holy Eucharist at 1 a. m. Second celebration, morning prayer and sermon at 11 a. m. Evening service at 8 p. m. Subject of evening sermon, "The Manliness of Christ." Singing, rendered by a vested choir of fifty voices.

As soon as practicable after the arrival at Fort Douglas, Utah, of the Sixteenth infantry, now en route from the Department of Texas, Col. Alfred H. Hough, Sixteenth infantry, with Companies A, C, F and K, Sixteenth infantry, will march to Fort Du Chesne, and take station at that post. The command will be fully equipped for field service, and take 200 rounds of ammunition per man. The acting hospital steward and one of the hospital corps will accompany the troops to Fort Du Chesne.

A general court martial is ordered to convene at Fort Gibson, I. T., for which the following named officers have been detailed: Lieut. Col. J. J. Coppinger, Eighteenth infantry; Capt. H. H. Adams, Eighteenth infantry; and C. N. B. McCreary, Medical department; First Lieut. Charles B. Hinton and John Anderson, Eighteenth infantry; Second Lieut. J. J. Fardeed and J. C. Shanks, Eighteenth infantry. The last named officer is appointed judge advocate of the court.

CAUGHT ON THE CURB.

The Hayseed's Boston Experience—The Old Tramp Soliloquizes on Summer.

They wandered homeward in the twilight Sweet faith, the servant-girl, and snubbed him. And when they reached the gate she sweetly said: "I'm working out or I would ask you in."

"It happened in Boston to an acquaintance of mine several years ago," said John in a tone of a trifle green, and went there from a country town to have a good time. He had only $5 in his pocket, which he had managed to accumulate by saving a little each week for several months. The first place he struck was a fancy restaurant, where he ordered two fried eggs, a hot fried potato and a cup of coffee. When he went to the cashier's desk he was horrified to find his meal had cost him $4.20. However, he paid it and started out.

"Hey, there, called the waiter, 'come back here, I gave you three slices of bread and neglected to charge you for them. Forty-five cents more, please.' He laid his last remaining dollar on the counter. The cashier handed him his five cents change, but turning on him he said: 'Just keep that nickel. I stepped on a bean.'"

"Ah me," sighed the old tramp in the Globe tower, gazing dreamily into the distance, "the days of gentle spring come on apace, and from the far-off sunny South comes sweet perfume in luscious clouds and glowing atmospheric warmth which tell that soft corselet skies shall shortly hover o'er this chilly northern clime. And when I hie me to my mouth at evening the dismal notes of frogslets from the confines of some lowly swamp, and the hoarse cry of the night bird to its mate, and the flapping rapidly budding trees, add to the feeling that sweet summer's near at hand. And soon the airy, festive St. Paul maid, arrayed in white, in all the glory of a dainty, low-cut shoe, her fleecy wrap of rainbow's gentle tints, and her radiant curls, gleaming and glowing to sweet Minnetonka's side, in rapturous swoot of freedom quickly fly. And here in handsome, painted boats, glide and gaze with smile coquetted into the yearning face of the seion of a wealthy St. Paul house. Or in the hamlet, close, accommodating clasp, doze into lands of dream, while o'er her face, mosquito big and daddy-long-legs really sport and play ball. And here she trusts that soon will awaken her into delightful confusion, and tell his comrades afterwards he never saw her look so pretty quite. 'Tis here that festive, gay, and rowing boats, rolls up his sleeve and betrays to this fair maid's adoring glance the muscle he has paid for during winter's chilly breath at the rate of $2 per week. Ah me, I love to think of the days when I was young, and 'stead of passing summer by the lake, or answering back a fascinating glance with loving smile, merely sawed wood and said nothing."

A SIGN OF SUMMER.

The First of the Open Air Concerts in Rice Park.

Summer is here. If people had a doubt of it their minds were fully set on the point of attending the first summer concert in Rice park last evening. Before 7 o'clock quite a crowd had assembled, and the number of people increased constantly up to about 8:30. All the evidences of the summer season were there. The vendor of decaying bananas was at the street corner, the young man in the light suit was present, the gay blondes were out in couples, the blissfully unconscious lovers sat on the newly-painted settees and hugged each other, and the happy kids and kiddesses were ubiquitous. The Western band rendered seven selections, and the Tillenau brothers gave a duet, which was heartily applauded. During the course of the evening many hundred people lingered in the park to hear the music, and every one seemed to appreciate the feature of open air concerts on Saturday evenings.

NOW THE WIND UP.

Programme for Commencement Week at Hamline.

Lectures and recitations are over at Hamline for the year, and commencement is at hand. The exercises of the week will begin this morning by the delivery of the baccalaureate sermon by Dr. William McKinley, of the graduating class. After this the class will take its farewell dinner at the ladies' hall, the guests of the matron, Mrs. Stone. Entrance and term examinations will be given on Monday and Tuesday. The annual address to the graduates will be given by Dr. D. C. John, of Milwaukee, Hamline's former president, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. At a very early hour on Wednesday morning the field day exercises will be begun by the class relay race of one mile, to be run by three representatives of each class. To the winning class will be presented the senior medal of the class of '88, which will be contested for each succeeding year. The further sport of the afternoon will consist of base ball throwing, running broad jump, throwing hammer, standing and running jumps, hop, step and jump, three-legged race, bicycle race, 100-yard dash, sack race, putting the shot, mile run, mile walk, standing high jump, foot ball kick, potato race, high jump, 200-yard relay, 400-yard relay, base running, tug of war between classes, and lawn tennis singles, which will not be played until Thursday evening. Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra. The statistics of the class will be presented by E. E. McCrea, and the final oration delivered by E. A. Montgomery. The exercises will conclude at 3 o'clock the class or '88 will hold class day exercises, the first part in the chapel and the concluding exercises on the campus. Upon this occasion the music, vocal and instrumental, will be given by the class. Miss Southwick will read the class history, and the final essay will be given by Miss Richardson, and epigrams written by G. S. Perry, after which the company will be entertained by the Philharmonic orchestra.