GO FORWARD, OLD ROMAN.

"Don't send the judge backwards, we want him to go ahead," was the cry that came from a crowd of enthusiastic Michiganers the other day, when the engine backed up to the train which was to carry the Old Roman to Chicago. The train did go ahead, and the venerable state-man was borne on his triumphal journey. The sentiment expressed by the Michigan crowd is echoed and re-echoed from all parts of the country. Judge THURMAN must go ahead, and is going ahead because he is the representative of pure politics, of honest methods, and of ideas which underlie the prosperity and stability of the nation.

The opposition talk about Judge THURMAN's age, and of what they term his fossilized notions. They little dreamed of how much vigor and vitality the old man possessed until he started on this trip, nor how wonderfully popular his fossilism is with the masses. The character of his fossilism was well explained in the speech of Judge THURMAN at the Michigan Bend last Friday, when he said: "When I was a boy we kept up the good old custom of celebrating the Fourth of July. We always had a dinner, and there was always the toast of 'Agriculture, Commerce and Manufactures.' That toast may be said to have been written by the late John C. Calhoun, the founder of our party. He it was who said that in the United States agriculture was the greatest industry, but that commerce and manufactures were the handmaidens of agriculture, and that has been the doctrine of the Democratic party ever since."

It is only getting back to first principles. The Democratic position on the tariff today is precisely in accord with the doctrine originated by JEFFERSON and reaffirmed by THURMAN; that agricultural interests shall take precedence in the legislation of the commerce and manufactures shall be justly dealt with.

The tariff reform advocated by the St. Louis platform, recommended by Mr. CLEVELAND in his tariff message, and embodied in the MILLS bill, means a reformation of our existing tariff laws so that agriculture and manufacturing industries will be recognized as the leading industry of the country.

Judge THURMAN's old-fashioned ideas are what please the farmers of this great Northwest, and like our Michigan friends, they, too, want him to go ahead.

MAKES HIMSELF HEARD.

There is one thing about Mr. CLEVELAND's state papers that is worthy of notice. They are more generally read than the writings of any president since THOMAS JEFFERSON. His opponents call him a prosaic man, lacking in literary qualities and absolutely devoid of the qualities of statesmanship, and yet it is remarkable that these state papers to congress make a more profound impression upon that body and create more sensation throughout the country than any public documents that have been written within the memory of our oldest citizens.

Is it possible that a man whose opinions are so generally sought for by the great body of our countrymen, whose words are listened to with such marked attention and deference by the people of two continents, whose recommendations concerning matters of public import are the subject of earnest discussion both in and out of congress, whose incisive and penetrating remarks have been the boast of all the country—is it possible, we say, that a man possessed of these remarkable qualities should be the nonentity that the opposition leaders profess to think him?

No. It is not fulsome praise to say that in all the history of exalted statesmanship GROVER CLEVELAND will stand in history as the peer of LINCOLN and of JACKSON and of JEFFERSON and of ADAMS, and second only to WASHINGTON.

The public man whom the people love to because he possesses their confidence is, after all, the man whose moulds thought and shapes the destinies of his country.

Such a man is GROVER CLEVELAND.

THERE IS A SPECK.

In a most serious tone a Winona correspondent asks the GLOBE if, in its opinion, there is an actual probability of war between this country and Great Britain, growing out of the refusal of the senate to confirm the fisheries treaty, and the president's subsequent message on the same subject. The difficulty in answering the question lies in the fact that the GLOBE makes no pretension to being blessed with the gift of prophecy, nor is it a mind reader. If we knew what the minds of the British ministry, or could lift the veil of futurity to see whether our Canadian neighbors are going to poach on American fishing waters, we might be able to give a more satisfactory answer. As it is, we have only possibilities and probabilities to deal with, without any cer-

McGill Favored. The time for holding the Republican county convention for the purpose of electing delegates to the state convention, which meets at St. Paul on the 5th September, is drawing near. We are unable to note any change in the situation as to Laeul Parle county's choice for governor, from that given by this press some time since, viz.: If Nelson were a candidate he would be first choice, with Charles A. Gilman a second. But as these gentlemen are neither of them in the choice must be made between McGill, Merriam and Scheffer, there is no doubt but that the delegation will be for McGill. It is hard to believe that the people who are so well attended, as these bakers' dozen conventions cannot very well be said to represent the wishes of the people. Remember the day, Sept. 1.
