Having traveled over a considerable section of Illinois, and seized opportunities of talking with men on the road, business men from large towns and politicians who are kept informed at the headquarters, the talk about the doubtfulness of the state no longer seems ridiculous. It is unquestionably true, and to make it otherwise before Nov. 6 will require the most strenuous efforts of the National and State Committees of the Republican party.

CLASH OF THE CLANS.

Tammany Nominates Hugh J. Grant for Mayor of New York.

The County Democracy Will Stake Its Hopes on Hewitt.

As a Consequence There Will Be a Triangular Fight.

Bombastic Blaine's Voice Peters Out and He Cancels Michigan Dates.

Special to the Globe. NEW YORK, Oct. 5.- Tammany Hall to-night nominated Sheriff Hugh J. Grant for mayor. Previous to the convention, a conference committee had proposed five names to the County Democracy, for a joint candidate, but all five were rejected, namely Sheriff Grant, Judge Dugro, Roswell P. Flower, J. J. O'Donohue and S. S. Cox. Gen. John Cochrane presided at the convention. The nominations made are: For mayor, Hugh J. Grant; sheriff, James A. Flack; county clerk, E. F. Reilly; president of aldermen, George H. Forster; coroners, Drs. Schultze, Hanly and Levy. The speeches made and resolutions adopted pledged Tammany to the support of Cleveland and Hill, and contained denunciations of Knownothingism, which were interpreted as an attack upon

A special resolution recited that the A special resolution recited that the county Democracy had disregarded all overtures and called for the momination of an independent teket. The resolution was adopted. Congressman William Bourke Cockran then mounted the platform and received a hearty welcome. He said it was the duty of the people alone to nominate candidates, free from the dictation of pewspaper editors. alone to nominate candidates, free from the dictation of newspaper editors. He alluded to Mayor Hewitt as a man so palsied in mind and narrow in views that he would well-nigh disfranchise aliens. Mr. Cockran concluded with the words, "All who prefer Hugh J. Grant to Abram S. Hewitt for mayor of this city I know will second his nomination."

PRESS OPINIONS. Of the nomination the Tribune (Rep.) will say editorially to-morrow: The nomination by Tammany hall of Hugh J. Grant for mayor unquestionably means a triangular contest for that important office. Tammany had the power to name a candidate that would put Mr. Hewitt out of the field. Mr. Hewitt had soid so repeatedly. But put Mr. Hewitt out of the field. Mr. Hewitt had said so repeatedly. But he will not refuse to run against Mr. Grant. Personally, Mr. Grant is an amiable gentleman, and he has made a good sheriff. But he possesses no particular strength as a candidate for mayor. He will be loyally supported by the Tammany organization, of which he is a leader. That is all that can be said

The Sun (Dem.) will to-morrow say editorially: We had hoped that the leaders of Tammany might see the way to put Mr. Hewitt in nomination once again and to give him their support; but such was not their view of the question, and they have followed their own judgment, as they had the most perfect right to do. They confidently expect to elect their candidates, and no intelligent man can deny that if they succeed, they will elect competent, upceed, they will elect competent, upright and trustworthy men. It will be a most interesting contest, and while we have believed that Mayor Hewitt would be the strongest Democratic candidate that could be nominated, and while we expect him to win the fight, we recompeted that the could be supported by the contest of the country of the we expect him to win the fight, we rewe expect him to win the light, we recognize the merit of this ticket nominated at Tammany Hall, and appreciate the reasons, more especially the feeling of a large body of Irish-American citizens, which have led Mr. Croker and his associates to the determination at which they have arrived.

GOT 'EM ON THE LIST.

Gotham's Democracy Is Prepared to Thwart the Republican Scheme of Fraudulent Voting. Special to the Globe.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 .- Receipts from the popular contribution to the Democratic campaign fund to-day were larger than those of yesterday. Several remittances came from Republicans, who state their intention of voting for Cleveland and tariff reform against the land and tariff reform against the senate plan to alter the tax laws with-out giving relief to the people. This sentiment will find expression in the business meeting to-morrow in front of the sub-treasury, which will be ad-dressed by Secretary Fairchild. The Republican scheme of fraudulent vot-ing is now almost completely dis-closed, and Democrats have made arrangements to arrest and punish the arrangements to arrest and punish the arrangements to arrest and punish the colonizers as soon as the first overt acts are committed by fraudulent registration on next Tuesday. Nearly 100 men are already spotted as heads of as many gangs, but as they will probably not register until the last day. Their associates are under surveillance, with a view to their apprehension immediately after their registration. The scheme of fraud includes the casting of votes by the their registration. The scheme of fraud includes the casting of votes by the same colonizers in Brooklyn, New York and Jersey City, and some of the posted talent who recorded false names and residences in Brooklyn last week will be surprised to find themselves nabbed on their first appearance before New York boards of registration. The game is almost the same as that played with success in 1880, but which was baffied in 1884 by the vigilance of the Democratic district attorneys. The discovery of the plot against the suffrage has been facilitated by the jealousy entertained by the by the jealousy entertained by the New York machine men toward the Pennsylvanians who have been brought here to take charge of the campaign. It is certain that no fraudulent votes will be permitted to be cast in New York this year, and the exposure of the scheme of fraud will prevent the success of similar conspiracies against the votes of other states.

of His Dates in Michigan. DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 5 .- In conse quence of a slight cold and hoarseness which developed since his speech in the open air yesterday, at Adrain, Mr. Blaine determined this morning to give up his trip to East Saginaw and Ishpeming. This determination was strengthened by the heavy atmosphere in this part of the state and reports of Indiana. He has just declined the proposed reception tendered him by the Chicago Union league. He will arrive in Chicago about the 17th or 18th of Octhe cheago about the rtm of istal of the color. There is nothing at all serious in his present indisposition, and his cancellation of the East Sagin w and Ishpeming dates was caused simply by a desire to husband his voice

TRIBUTES TO THURMAN. Rousing Receptions Tendered the

Old Roman Along the Line of His Route to Washington. WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 5.-Judge

Thurman and party left Columbus quietly, and until Bellaire was reached at 5 o'clock there was no attempt at a demonstration, only a few people about the different depots being aware of the judge's arrival. However, at Bellaire a couple of hundred enthusiastic Demo crats, with a band to help give expres crats, with a band to help give expression to their enthusiasm, had climbed the three flights of stairs to the platform to greet their chosen candidate. The special car stood too far away on the bridge for them to reach it, but as the train pulled through they cheered heartily while the judge stood in the door and bowed his acknowledgement of their greeting. At Benwood, on the West Virginia side of the river, a number of railroaders and others were ready with their greetings. Wheeling was ready with a lively and enthusiastic greeting. As the train pulled along from Benwood, the people by the way cheered heartily, and when the Wheeling depot was reached the crowd of over 1,000, with fireworks, bandanas and strong lungs gave greeting to the judge. They crowded up to the car, and at the appearance of the judge they SHOUTED THEIR LOUDEST.

They insisted on a speech and the judge spoke briefly, expressing his sincere thanks for the reception and his desire to make a speech, but time did not allow him to do so. At the conclusion of his remarks the crowd cheered enthusiastically. A delegation of local Democrats waited on the judge to get him to promise them a speech before the election, but he was unable at the time to give an answer. As the fore the election, but he was unable at the time to give an answer. As the train pulled through the city the people waved and cheered by the way, all being distinctly seen in the strong light of the fireworks. At Claysville a crowd cheered heartily as the train hurried through. The party took lunch and dinner on the train During the stop at Wheeling little Starling Loving, the bright two-and-a-half-year-old son of Allen W. Thurman helped his illustrious grandfather out by shaking hands, through father out by shaking hands, through an open window within reach, much to their satisfaction. Washington, Pa., turned out a cheering enthusiastic crowd of over 2,000, whose torches and crowd of over 2,000, whose torches and fireworks cast a bright light on the strong face of the judge as he appeared on the platform. He briefly returned thanks and expressed his desire to speak if time permitted. The crowd gave the judge a parting cheer as the train left the city. Other towns along the way gave hearty greetings. At Wheeling Judge Thurman had a short, but enjoyable talk greetings. At Wheeling Judge Thurman had a short, but enjoyable talk with Mr. Hobbs, the great glass manufacturer and later, on the train cordially received Dr. Thomas J. Turner, of the United States navy. When the train rolled into the Pittsburg depot at 10:15, an hour late, a small crowd was waiting to meet the distinguished judge. He at first refused to go out of the car, but after some persuasion steeped out, and after some persuasion stepped out, and after three cheers had been given him, thanked the crowd for the reception. Mr. Thurman then retired and a few minutes later the train started for Washington.

Cleveland Sure to Carry New York, Indiana and Connecticut.

"My trip- was entirely a business one," said Mr. Morgan, "but I took occasion to call on a number of the leading members of the Democratic party, in order that I might personally satisfy myself in regard to the political outlook in the East. Among the gentlemen 1 visited was Mr. Brice, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and his statements coincided with those of every other Democrat in a position to have reliable information, all agreeing that there was not the least doubt about Mr. Cleveland carrying New York, Indiana and Connecticut, and by good majorities, So positive is this feeling, not only among the rank and file as well, that considerable odds are offered in betting circles, and in fact the Republicans are unwilling to accept even bets, feeling that the chances are too decidedly against them. There is a merked and are unwilling to accept even bets, reeling that the chances are too decidedly against them. There is a marked and unusual degree of interest manifested among all classes of business men in regard to the outcome of the election in the Northwestern states. By the way, the defection of the stalwart Republi-cans in and around Syracuse, who were adherents of Mr. Conkling during his lifetime, is much more general than it was first supposed it would be, and they are coming into the Democratic party in large numbers."

Special to the Globe. SPOKANE FALLS, W. T., Oct. 5 .-About dusk this evening a short, but fierce, battle occurred between a pos of police and citizens and a horde of drunken Indians. The latter were raising a disturbance in the woods one mile down the river. An attempt to arrest the leaders resulted in the police being fired upon. One Indian singled out from the band and returned the fire. He fought desperately, and, after emptying his Winchester, jumped into the river. His body was riddled with bullets and he sank. The posse gave the other Indians an hour to leave town. They left. No clue has been discovered as to the murderer of the young German, whose body was found in the brush west of the city Deceased was shot while sleeping.

MARTIN IS MAD. Manitoba's Railroad Commissioner Wants the Scalp of an Ed-

Special to the Globe WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 5 .- Winnipegers were somewhat startled to-day when Attorney General and Railway Commissioner Martin swore out criminal information against C. Acton Burrows, manager of the Call newspaper, which for the past few days has been charging that both Martin and Premier Greenway were boodlers and corrup-tionists, and stating that they made a corrupt bargain with the Northern Pa-cific and received funds which they discific and received funds which they distributed among members of the legislature to induce them to vote for the ratification of the contract. Martin says that Messrs, Oakes, Kendrick and McNaught have offered to come to Manitoba and pledge their oath that the charges of corruption are a malicious libel upon both himself and Greenway. Premier Greenway, who has been in Ontario for a month, returned to-night. He declares he will immediately institute proceedings against the Call, and also against the Free Press, which has charged him formally with entering into a bargain with the promoters of the charged him formally with entering into a bargain with the promoters of the Manitoba Central railroad to give certain legislation in consideration of $12,500 to be used as an election fund. McArthur, a Minneapolis lawyer formerly of Winnings, Martin, in an formerly of Winnipeg. Martin, in an interview, dares the Free Press to make charges against him backing up its insinuation, and characterizes its action in refusing to give him a chance for an action as cowardly in the extreme. Sensational developments are expected.

LOG RULE PREVAILED. The Hawkeye W. C. T. U. Gets Hot and Scores the National Body.

Special to the Globe. DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 5.—A breeze was created in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union convention to-day by the presentation, by Mrs. A. M. Smith, of a memorial. The paper petitions the National union to recede from the positition of identifying itself with the positition of identifying itself with a political party. The memorial recites many acts of partisanship on the part of the national body and it's officers, quotes a by-law of the National union forbidding political discussion, denounces the devotion of the time of officers, paid for by the union, to the interests of a political party, and characterizes the method adopted by the acterizes the method adopted by the national body in this direction as unchristianlike and calculated to be disastrous to the organization. everybody down who attempted to oppose it, and it went through with a rush.
Mrs. Foster was asked if she had declared that she would stick to the Republican party whether it inserted a

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 5.—Anent the proposition of Chairman Jewett, of the Democratic state central committee. to Chairman Huston, of the Republican committee, that each should name fortyfive members and the Prohibitionists ten members to constitute a committee of 100, whose duty it shall be to prevent illegal voting, Chairman Huston makes reply to Chairman Jewett, wherein he

Says:
You are doubtless aware that there is now existing a committee of 100 which is nonpartisan in its character, having for its president and chairman of its executive committee Democrats, its attorney a Prohibitionist, and its secretary and treasurer Republicans. The committee is made up equally of Democrats and Republicans, and has for its object the prevention and punishment of illegal voting and of election fraud of every description. Being already orgenized and having had valuable experience in the work it was organized to accomplish, it can certainly be more effective than any new committee that might be formed at this time. With the consent and hearty approval of our committee, I have forwarded to the treasurer of this committee my check for $500, which sum shall be expended under their direction in giving rewards for the apprehension of any persons violating the election laws of this state. I can assure you that the Republicans are now, and ever have been, in favor of an honest ballot and fair count.

T. P. Sheerin, secretary of the National Democratic committee, in an interview this evening touching Chairman Huston's response, said: "I regard Chairman Huston's reply as a most extraordinary one and a public declaration that the managers of the Republican campaign are not only not in favor of an honest election, but absolutely opsays:
You are doubtless aware that there is not existing a committee of 100 which is non tion that the managers of the Republican campaign are not only not in favor of an honest election, but absolutely opposed to it. There can be no such thing as a non-partisan committee for the prevention of or prosecution of fraud at elections, the majority membership of which, and the entire control of the organization of which, belong to one political party. We do not demand anything from the Republicans for which we are not willing to give a full equivalent. It is not so with Mr. Huston, who speaks for the whole Republican committee. We want a fair and honest election, and will go to any extent to bring it about. There can be no satisfactory or honest effort in that direction unless each political party is fairly represented, and whether or not it is fairly represented is a matter that their represented, and whether or not it is fairly represented is a matter that their committees should be permitted to decide." Mr. Sheerin continued: "Chairman Huston's statement is untrue that this committee is made up equally of Democrats and Republicans. The truth is that two-thirds of the local committee of 100 are active, working Republicans, and the remainder Democrats, Independents and Prohibitionists. and that its executive committee, which has full control of the singent of the fire, and it is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The facility with which Chairman Jewett's letter, dumped $500 of the Republican campaign fund into the treasury of this local committee in seems to me, is proof positive that whatever the intentions of that committee may be, Chairman Huston's intentions are to make it a convenient excuse for his positive refusal to enter into an organization for the enforcement of the law without fear of favor." fairly represented is a matter that their

How many of the nominal dividends actually were paid cannot be ascertained, but since December at least the dividends indicated have actually been paid. While Ingham's business was booming along, and letters, telegrams and visitors daily pouring in, he was making preparations to close up shop. On last Saturday he mailed a card to his victims, reviewing the career of the syndicate and ann nuncing that in consyndicate and announcing that in cor syndicate and ann uncing that in consequeue of members' solicitations he had met with heavy losses which had ferced him to "suspend with the loss of the entire syndicate membership's capital, and all its business and offices are closed." The card goes on to significantly remark that "we only hold your names," and concludes in this way: "As soon as we can get matters are ranged and our accounts straightened, with full details and figures of the losses and trades, and open offices again, we will notify you. By the word of the Co. after the name of W. H. Ingham is meant each and every syndicate member constitutes the company of the firm. Yours truly, W. H. Ingham & Co." According to the stories of the other occupants of the building at No. 38 Broadway, Ingham was last seen at his office Saturday. He had had a Yale lock put on the outer door when he removed to his new office, and as he took the key with him no one can now get into the room. A glimpse through the letter slit, however, shows a big accamulation of mail lying on the floor, where it has fallen through the slit.

to either his actual residence or himself. He is not a member of either the New York stock exchange, the consolidate exchange or the produce exchange, but he had entrusted an aggregate of about $500 worth of mining stock to the open stock and grain board, of New York, (limited), at No. 38 New street, to sell for him. All his checks were drawn on either the Seaboard National bank or the United States National Special to the Globe.

New York, Oct. 5.—One of the biggest swindling schemes that have been worked in this city for many years has been brought to light by the disappearance of one William H. Ingham and closing of the brokerage office of W. H. Ingham & Co., No. 83 Broadway. As yet no accurate estimate of the swindlers' profits can be made, and very possibly the extent of the fraud will never be transported.

The Question of Annexation Being Discussed Throughout the Dominion.

Special to the Globe.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 5.—Slowly, but surely, public interest, from one end of the dominion to the other, is being aroused over the talk of annexing Canada to the United States. Ten years ago the proposition would have been regarded as treasonable here, but there has been a marked change, even in the past twelve months. The annexation question promises to dwarf all other political matters. It is practically the sole topic of conversation on the streets.

Rev. Thomas McCleary, of the Fergus Falls district, said the INDIANS ON THE FRONTIER asked for ministers. He made an earnest plea for the red men and called for volunteers. After the report of the examining committee, J. J. Edwards, E. A. Powell, E. P. Robertson, C. F. Brown and E. W. Haley were made deacons of the first class. Willis A. Tickner was granted a location. The class for admission into full connection was then called up by Bishop Hurst, who gave an able and eloquent address on the duties of ministers. The class included W. S. Cochran, E. S. Pilling, R. F. Atchison, Isabel F. Davidson, Oliver H. Fans, Fred W. Hart and J. M. Thomas. All passed the required examination. The examining committee will report to-morrow, when all will be received into full connection. Mrs. F. B. Killrain was placed on the list of conference claimants. The conference conducted some minor business and them adjourned. An interesting feature of the forenoon was a poll of the ministers present on president and governor of Minnesota. For president Clinton B. Fisk received 126, Harrison 21 and four refused to vote. On governor Hugh Harrison got 144 votes and Merriam 3. This afternoon Mrs. Mary C. Nind, Miss Franc Baker and Mrs. C. S. Winchell made interesting addresses at the anniversary of the Women's Foreign Missionary society, Bishop William Taylor was advertised to speak to-night on "Africa." but will not be able to reach here until to-morrow, when he will address the conference at 3 p. m.
