

CONGRESSMAN WILSON REPLIES TO THE INSULTING LETTER OF MR. DUNNELL.

And Gives Him a Tip as to Just What He Said at Winona.

With a Request That He Deny, If He Likes, These Statements.

Mr. Wilson is Greeted by an Enthusiastic Audience at Houston.

Special to the Globe. HOUSTON, Minn., Oct. 10.—Congressman Wilson received to-night the following letter:

OWANAGA, Oct. 8.—Hon. Thomas Wilson, Sir: A report of your speech at Winona, Minn., since your arrival here, contains the following words: "The bill in question (Dunnell) was the paid representative of monopolies and corporations." If the report is correct, I hereby demand a public withdrawal of the assertion, or the publication of the proof of the allegation. If you fail to make such withdrawal or publication, I shall denounce you in every part of the district in language suited to the false and lying charge. Very respectfully,

MARK H. DUNNELL. To this letter Congressman Wilson replied: "Why doesn't Dunnell reply to what I have charged him with? Not to what I have not said? I never made the statement he alleges. Now, let him reply to what I have said, that since he left Congress he has been a paid lobbyist of the Northern Pacific railroad; that in his campaign he has been a lobbyist of the Chicago and North Western; that he has been a lobbyist of the bill to exclude Chinese; for the bill to pay southern war claims; against the bill to pay railroad lands to actual settlers; against the issue of greenbacks; always for the corporations and the monopolies. Mr. Dunnell has made no reply to these charges. But he has printed up something that I did not say. His pretension becomes all the more ridiculous in the light of his refusal to meet me in joint debate on any subject but tariff, while at the same time he is conducting a campaign on the war issues and lying about my public record. I have the card, page and absolute proof of the charges. He yet refuses to face it and misrepresents me. My own idea of the joint debate is that he should say before a large number of people what he might about my public record, and that then I could reply and his falsehoods be laid bare."

Congressman Wilson received also a letter to-night from Henry Birkett, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, which withholds the adjournment of congress and arranges for a joint debate. These debates Dunnell fixes to be held at Albert Lea, Oct. 23; Austin, Oct. 24; Houston, Oct. 25, and Plainview, Oct. 26, the discussion to be confined to national issues and President Cleveland's administration. The date for the adjournment of these conditions is fixed for Oct. 12. Congressman Wilson has made no reply yet to this last letter, and will not until Friday. The Houston mass meeting to-night was large and enthusiastic. Tomorrow Mr. Wilson speaks at Hokah.

THE TUSSELE IN THE F. C.

Congressman Wilson Making Converts Everywhere—Eastern High Tariff Money Being Poured Into the District.

Special to the Globe. PRESTON, Oct. 10.—The city politics confined in his narrow limits of a ward, cannot understand what a farmer's campaign means, nor appreciate the full meaning of a candidate's statement that he has been holding "school" in the district. The towns of Monticello, Preston, and Harmon are relatives to one another in that they are in farming centers and are trade centers. The towns of Harmon, Preston, and Harmon are relatives to one another in that they are in farming centers and are trade centers. The towns of Harmon, Preston, and Harmon are relatives to one another in that they are in farming centers and are trade centers.

NATIONAL AND STATE TAXATION, are not the ones to protest. They are to be ridiculed into believing that black is white. I think there was a shade of sadness passed over the face of Jesse Gilbertson, when he said this evening: "The pure farming lands of this section are not as valuable to-day as they were twenty years ago. And Farmer Anderson, who tills 150 acres on the Decorah road and close to the Iowa line, did not speak happily when he said: "The farmer bears all the taxes and none of the profits. I want food and clothing to be cheaper. I do not think free trade would be good, but it would be well to reduce the taxes on the taxes! What a magical effect the president's message has had on this country. Every school house, corner grocery, postoffice, town hall, and in these rural points has been turned into a debating ground, over which retreat and advance the advocates and opponents of free trade. Business is laid by, play forgotten, and all minds bent upon assimilating or rejecting the knowledge tendered by the president's message. Look at the men alone. At Monticello, where there were at least 100 women at Judge Wilson's meeting. The feminine grace and beauty of Austin, through the opera house when he spoke. At Preston

THE FARMERS' WIVES were so numerous as to nearly fill the front row of seats. At Monticello and Spring Grove each supplied a respectable contingent of the fair sex, and last night in the torchlight procession at Harmon, Preston ladies marched beneath the stars and stripes, and the common, every-day people are aroused, and, best of all, are thinking. For twenty-five years the office-seeking, office-holding, office-hunting, office-carrying and office-eating class has carried and lost elections in Minnesota. This year, thanks to Grover Cleveland, the working and laboring people are at home and the demagogue and trickster finds himself nonplussed. The old-time wire-pullers of Dunnell, who have been accustomed to leading the voters by the nose, find themselves here when confronted by men who have suddenly discovered that they have minds of their own and can vote according to their convictions. Look at the audience of Judge Wilson when he spoke at Monticello. 700 Spring Grove. 400 Austin. 800 Harmon. 400 California. 400 Total. 4,250

The majority in these audiences (except at Austin) were farmers, and the bulk of these were either Republicans or had been. Dunnell has had large audiences, but he has missed the enthusiastic support of the farmers. There are many reasons for this. He has held office

FOR TWELVE YEARS. During that time, whether he is responsible for it or not, there was built up in the district an aristocracy of federal officeholders that from Potter, in Houston, Anderson, in Austin, and other things in their own sweet way. Those were the days of political assessments and rank offensive partisanship. Through it the Republican party in the district, confronted with the Scylla of Window and the Charybdis of Dunnell, struck the rocks and was shattered beyond all hope of future unity. For much of this Dunnell is held responsible, and the men who have not forgotten, and the

A Rosy Democratic Outlook at Waseca and at Several Other Places.

Special to the Globe. STILLWATER, Minn., Oct. 10.—The local politics of this county has been remarkably quiet thus far, but for the past few days has begun to liven up a bit, and with the two conventions Saturday will take more definite shape. Washington county has not such a vast clerical political aspirant as some portions of the state. It is not a hot bed for ambitious public servants to operate in. Party lines have not always been drawn as rigidly here as they usually are in other places, and a faithful officer has generally been sure of a re-election, regardless of party affiliations. Four years ago, when Blaine carried the county by over 1,000 majorities, he was elected by everything and the kitchen sink. President, W. L. Hunter; first vice president, M. S. Maloy; second vice president, John Corbett; secretary, C. E. Bennett; treasurer, G. L. Luff. An executive committee composed of the above officers was appointed.

Struck the Keynote. Special to the Globe. BALDWIN, Wis., Oct. 9.—At a Democratic rally to-night Senator Castle, of Stillwater, delivered an able speech on the tariff issue to a large and appreciative audience. Music hall was packed to its utmost capacity by citizens of Baldwin and vicinity. The speaker, by his repeated applause showed that Mr. Castle had struck the keynote of the issues. Baldwin silver cornet band furnished excellent music for the occasion.

Isanti County Democrats. Special to the Globe. CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 10.—The largest Democratic convention ever held in this county was convened Saturday, Oct. 6. The proceedings generally were harmonious. John F. Irwin being the choice of the county for the Fourth district. The delegates to the county convention at Anoka, and John F. Irwin as judicial delegate.

Scandinavian Democrats. Special to the Globe. RED WING, Oct. 10.—There is considerable disaffection among the Republicans in the southern part of the county on account of the tariff question, and the feeling promises to become general. Address of Knute Nelson on the Mills bill is the prime cause, and as a result of his vote many Scandinavians may be expected to cast their first Democratic vote this year.

Cokato Democrats Rally. Special to the Globe. COKATO, Minn., Oct. 9.—The Democratic rally this evening was the grandest demonstration ever held in this place. The music was furnished by the Litchfield cornet band. The speakers of the evening were Judge J. H. Wendell and W. H. Cutting. The arguments on the tariff were well received and met with frequent applause.

Opposed to Sabin. Special to the Globe. MARSHALL, Minn., Oct. 10.—A. C. Forbes, of Lyon county, and A. J. Crain, of Lincoln county, were nominated here to-day by the Republican legislative convention, to represent the Sixth and Seventh districts, respectively, at Sabin, but do not express any choice for United States senator.

Instructed for Glaspell. Special to the Globe. JAMESTOWN, Dak., Oct. 10.—The Stutsman county Republican convention met this afternoon and chose seven delegates to the legislative convention at Sabin, Oct. 17. The delegates are instructed for Glaspell, of this city, for councilman.

Apollinaris Candidates. Special to the Globe. MONA, Minn., Oct. 10.—The Prohibitionists held their county convention here to-day, and put in nomination a full county ticket. Rev. Mr. Bergstrom, of Minneapolis, addressed the convention.

A Gloomy Outlook. Special to the Globe. MOORHEAD, Minn., Oct. 9.—A Republican meeting was held in the opera house this evening. The principal speaker of the evening was John L. Swift, of Boston.

Without a Dissenting Voice. Special to the Globe. ST. CLOUD, Oct. 9.—The Democrats of the First representative district, this county, this morning nominated L. A. Evans unanimously.

Many Converts Made. Special to the Globe. BROWNVILLE, Minn., Oct. 10.—A Democratic rally was held here to-night. R. L. Davis and D. A. Lufts spoke upon the leading issues of the day. After the speaking a Democratic club was organized with sixty-seven members. The following officers were elected: Edgar Stephenson, president; Joseph Bagan, vice president; J. H.
