CURRENT COMMENT.

Many of the local weekly papers, which furnish the news of their own immediate localities, are enabled to live through the legal advertising they ol tain-advertising generally affecting the property in their vicinity. It is a bonanza to them and without it their finances might become crippled. The Journal is advocating the passage of an act authorizing the district court to name a paper, which shall be the only legal medium for such advertisements, and so advocating, roasts the weekly papers severely. There is little in its argument.

"They met as men who meet in pain And part in doubtful hope again." And part in doubtful hope again."

That is not precisely the way Scott puts it, but it amply expresses the sentiment that largely abounded at yesterday's meeting of the council. It was the last assembly of the old members, and there was something intensely pathetic in the glances cast about them, as though to charge their memories for the last time with scenes which for years had been familiar. If eyes had an unusual gleam of moisture or voices held a faint suspicion of tears, the occasion bore its own excuse. Partings are always painful, but when death causes the separation, the pangs are doubly hard to endure. And this is death—political death—for most of the council. Some of the members will bob up again in two years, and some may even resume their seats, but for a majority, oblivion yawns. Councils may come and aldermen may go, but years will have shown their blessings and their blights over the city before such another aggregation will be assembled.

It seem to be a very well settled fact that Rev. W. T. Chase, of the First Baptist church, will leave Minneapolis, but it is impossible to find a member of his flock who will say otherwise than that he severs his connection by his own free will. Pr. Chase has been a very that he severs his connection by his own free will. Dr. Chase has been a very rigid Sabbatarian and has vigorously denounced the frivolities of life, including dancing, parties, theaters, etc. He has also lost no opportunity of pitching into the Sunday papers. A report has gamed credence that his course in these matters does not meet the cordial approval of many of his parishoners, but if this is true, no member of the church will affirm it. Delicate health of his wife is given out as the reason for the move. is given out as the reason for the move.

The new council seems to be an ungrateful set of men. Four-fifths of them owed their election to the solid support of the Scandinavians, and yet not a single Scandinavian gets an office. But one Scandinavian was mentioned, and he was knocked over to give place to a colored man. The naturalized element of our citizenship was utterly ignored. The irish-Americans got nothing, and the Germans got less. The new council seems to have Know-Nothingism very plainly stamped on its 'scutcheon.

THE MEADER WHEAT CASE. An Interesting Criminal Trial Now in Progress.

The trial of the case against W. F. Meader, the well-known elevator and commission man, was begun yesterday morning before Judge Lochren. Meader was indicted for selling 5,000 bushels of wheat belonging to William Powell, which was stored in his ele-vator at Northfield. The first witness examined was Powell, who produced the storage receipt or certificate dated at Northfield, June 19, 1886, and which showed that he had 5,000 bushels of wheat in store in Meader's elevator. He stated that when he wished to dispose stated that when he wished to dispose of the wheat he found that it had been sold, and that the elevator was empty.

A. B. Tredway, the superintendent of the elevator, was then sworn, and spent the balance of the day explaining the way in which the elevator was run, the amount of wheat which had been purchased and the amount received for chased, and the amount received for storage, and to whom, and by whose orders wheat had been shipped. The trial will be resumed Monday.

The case will be given to the jury this morning.

MINNEAPOLIS. LAST OF THE FAMOUS.

The Council Goes Through Its Last Regular Meeting.

L'HERAULT IS ON DECK.

Charge of Crookedness in City Insurance---The Rinker Committees.

The Democratic aldermen endeavored hard to look pleasant at the council meeting yesterday, but, try as they would, a spirit of sadness pervaded the The retiring aldermen were not at all jolly, though they tried hard to be, and the sly grins shot at them by some of the more successful ones did not help matters any. This was the last regular meeting of the "ins," and they will hereafter be the "outs." The Republicans were scarcely any better off, as of their number all but four were relegated to the rear and to obscurity.

CAUGHT A COON.

Ald. L'Herault Charges Fraud in City Insurance.

The committee on public grounds and buildings reported that $35,000 insurance had been placed on the city hall building. Ald. L'Herault charged that the committee had allowed certain insurance companies to get the insurance at 3 per cent, when the same amount of insurance could have been obtained at 2 per cent. Certain members of the committee, the alderman said, had entered into a conspiracy with certain insurance companies to let the insurance at 3 per cent, and then divide the surplus over 2 per cent.

Ald. Hanscom, of the committee, replied that he could not see why Ald. L'Herault had his head up, as there was nothing in the matter that the committee desired to keep dark. When the committee met no bids lower than 3 per cent had been received.

"The handsome alderman from the First ward seems to know all about insurance matters as well as sewers," remarked Alderman Downs, another member of the committee. "His insinuations are absolutely false, and Alderman L'Herault knows it. I will admit that the rates charged are too ouildings reported that $35,000 insurance

"The handsome alderman from the First ward seems to know all about insurance matters as well as sewers," remarked Alderman Downs, another member of the committee. "His insinuations are absolutely false, and Alderman L'Herault knows it. I will admit that the rates charged are too high, but all I care to say is that L'Herault is interested in placing this insurance himself."

A motion to lay the report on the table and re-advertise for new bids was jost. Alderman L'Herault again took iost. Alderman L'Herault again took the floor and made a supposed eloquent speech, in which he declared that the rates should not be adopted for longer than one month, at the outside. He moved that the different policies be can celed at the end of one month and that bids be advertised for, for the reason that all the companies which had secured contracts had formed a pool and agreed to put the premium at 3 per cent, L'Herault's motion was séconded, but lost when it came to a vote. A motion to accept the report and place it on file was adopted.

HE'S ALL RIGHT. 'We Aldermans" Rally Round Rinker as One Man.

The special committee appointed to nvestigate the Fifth street north sewer, reported that the charges that the sewer was badly constructed and poor material used, were wholly untrue. The committee further reported that the sewer had been constructed in the best possible manner, and that the "good horse sense" of the men having the work in charge had been duly demonstrated.

demonstrated.
"Do I understand," asked Ald. L'Herault, "that posts were put into the sewer to hold up the brick work? I want an answer from the committee." Ald. Downs replied to Ald. L'Herault, but his reply did not suit the alderman from the First ward, who sought further information in regard to the matter.

He gently insinuated that Ald. Downs Rhew nothing about sewers.

I am glad to bear Ald, L'Herault's expert testimony," replied Downs, "and I wish that if he knew so much about the matter that he had come before the

The committee appointed to investigate the charges made by Engineer Rinker that certain aldermen took men into saloons from the sewer and used undue influence in getting men posi-tions on the works, reported that they had found the charges true, and recom-mended that all aldermen be more careful in the future. This report was also adopted.

USED HER OWN NAME. Mrs. Beach Shows Her Certificate --- Claim of Blackmail.

The Beach bigamy case is kept alive in the public mind principally by Beach's continued and confident assertions that it is a scheme of black-mail throughout. Yesterday afternoon he and his wife called at the noon he and his wife called at the GLOBE office, and producing a document, the lady said: "I want to correct all stories about my having been married under an assumed name. Here is the certificate." She handed over a formal marriage certificate setting forth that at Hudson, Wis., on Feb. 7, 1887, George E. Beach and Retta S. Graham were married by Rev. S. W. Truesdale, in the presence of J. C. and Sarah E. Price. This seemed all right, and Mrs. Beach went on to tell of her difficulties with went on to tell of her difficulties with went on to tell or ner difficulties with her neighbor Gaylord, and its possible connection with this case. ANCESTRAL AMENITIES.

Congregationalists Pleasantly Celebrate Forefathers' Day. Yesterday was "Forefathers' Day," and the Congregational club celebrated the event by a pleasant entertainment at the First Congregational church in the evening. This was the eleventh annual meeting of the club, and the occasion also marked the 100th meeting of the club. There was a delightful supper served in the parlor of the church between 6 and 7:30 o'clock, after which some of the gentlemen who organized the club spoke feelingly of the past. The subject, "Pilgrim and Puritan," was ably discussed in the evening under the following heads: "William Bradford: Founding a Government." A. M. Keith: "John Endicott: Early Jurisprudence," A. H. Young; "Priscilla: Social Life," Miss M. J. Evans, Northfield; "William Brewster: Religious Life," Rev. Norman Seaver, D. FREEMAN GIVES REASONS

For the Millers' Action, But Few Are Willing to Be Satisfied. Discussion is still active and heated among the millers and grain men over the action of the recent convention of millers. was the object to be reached they all agreed. The Market Record declares that when wheat declined the day after the convention the effect was most probably what was desired. It continues: "The most notable thing about the convention was that it decked in glaring colors figures expressing the large stocks of flour held in the country. Even Freeman, the leader in all late movements to curtail production, is reported as publishing there a statement that stocks of flour in New York and Brooklyn were sufficient for four months' consumption."

and Brooklyn were sufficient for four months' consumption."

According to Bradstreets, the stocks in New York Dec. 1 were 254,317 barrels, the correctness of which has not been questioned. The average daily-consumption of flour in New York and country supplied from New York is no less that 10,000 barrels, and exports reach nearly as much, making some 20,000 barrels daily drawn from stocks there. At that rate the 254,317 barrels in store would last just two and one-half weeks, instead of four months, as stated by Freeman. Stocks of flour in sight in this country are about 120,000 barrels smaller than a year ago, and about the same amount smaller than about the same amount smaller than about the same amount smaller than two years ago.

Why did not Mr. Freeman in either of those years hitch the millers of this country to the tail of his kite while he wrote on the heavens his wonderful figures? Was it not because he was long of wheat in those years and short of it this year? The only result of these shutdown movements by associated action has been to depreciate millers' property, and the only reasonable presumption for such action is that the leaders are speculating on the short side of wheat, and the others are their dupes. Mills will be operated when it pays to operate will be operated when it pays to operate them, and shut down by individual action when that pays better. They will be operated no differently now. But the prime object of the convention was effected—breadstuffs were depreciated

Catarrh

Is a complaint which affects nearly every body more or less. It originates in a cold, er succession of colds, combined with impure blood. Disagreeable flow from the nose, tickling in the throat, offensive breath, pain over and between the eyes, ringing and bursting noises in the ears, are the more common symptoms. Catarrh is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which strikes directly at its cause by removing all impurities from the blood, building up the diseased tissues and giving healthy tone to the whole system.
"For several years I have been troubled with that terribly disagreeable disease, catarrh. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla with the very lest results. It courd me of that convery best results. It cured me of that con tinual dropping in my throat, and stuffed-up feeling. It has also helped my mother, who has taken it for run-down state of health and kidney trouble. There is no town north, south, east or west of Minneapolis, in the great state of Minnesota, that does not draw upon us for at least a part of its supply of Clothing. We have kept pace with the growth of the state, and are now, as we always have been, at the head of Clothing establishments.

All of our ten stores are supplied from our immense manufacturing house in Boston, the largest concern of its kind in the world. Our 3 stores in Boston, 2 stores in Hartford, 1 store in Providence, 1 store in Bridgeport, 1 store in Worcester, 1 store in New Haven and 1 store in Minneapolis, are models of their kind, and do the leading business in their respective cities. Permit us once more to name a few articles that are appropriate for a Holiday Gift:

Seal Gloves. Kid Gloves, fur tops. Smoking Jackets, Silk Handkerchiefs. Silk Mufflers. Silk Umbrellas. Silk Caps for Men. Fancy Collar & Cuff Boxes. Dressing Gowns. Bath Robes. Neck Scarfs. Embroidered Suspenders. Fancy Hosiery. Silk Hats. Seal Caps for Ladies. Night Shirts.

A Suit of Clothes or an overcoat makes a very fine Christmas Gift. Visit all the other stores, inspect their stock, get their prices, then call and look at what we have to offer you, and you will find that we are the only concern in the city that sells at manufacturer's prices, and on a strictly One-Price

The Watches and Clocks still hold out, although we are giving them free of charge to our customers at the rate of 500 per week. And this is how we do it: With every sale of a Suit of Clothes or an Overcoat, the price of which is $12 or over, we give you your choice of a Watch or Clock free of charge. We warrant both Watch and Clock.
