Reduced Rates for Water.

Petitions for water mains on Claborn, Fourteenth, Case and Hiawatha streets were received. The plumber's bond of George Kees was approved. The engineer was directed to place monuments along the line of right of way between the city and Lake Vadnaia. Alfred Gustafson was employed as keeper of the light service reservoir. Services on sixty-foot streets in earth excavations will cost $15 and $30 for short and long sides, respectively. An extra charge will be made where payments are retained. The following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That the schedule of water rates submitted this morning to the board be adopted and fixed as the regular rates for water, to take effect as follows: To all meter and consumers, and all consumers on high service from Sept. 1, 1889.

Hugh A. Wetmore and Mrs. Carrie Kent, formerly Miss Houghland, were married last night at the residence of the Rev. Maurice D. Edwards, pastor of the Dayton Avenue Presbyterian church.

CORRIDOR CHAT.

Bob Fitzgerald was in town yesterday just as jolly as ever and saying business is booming and everything is lovely, as usual. Just the same old Bob. With him was Tom Burke, who is in the city on a flying visit from the Pacific coast, where he devotes his time to selling Allen Moon & Co.'s groceries. "I brought the record," said Tom Burke; "I sold $750,000 worth of goods in a four months' trip, which no man ever did before out here. Business is very good, and money is more plentiful on the Western slope of the Rockies than in Minnesota. The people there have been buying their goods from the resident agents of St. Paul, San Francisco, New York and Chicago houses, but I demonstrated to them that they could buy just as cheaply in St. Paul. I am going out again in a week."

Hints on Ladies' Headwear.

Ladies who are made to believe that a Hat or a Bonnet that is not labeled with the name of Mrs. A. or Madam B., and has not a fancy price on same, is not a Hat or a Bonnet, but a mislabeled idea of all. Names of Madam B. or C. or any other madam mean only to obtain an exorbitant price for the Bonnet, which has no real value in reality. The value asked for "What do you desire the name of Madam B. mean on your Bonnet? Is it a guarantee that you get full value, what you pay for? No. It means nothing. It is a high price, but it is not made it appear to those who are not posted on the actual value of the article. If it is the name only you are paying for, you can find a better price for the same charge, as they cost nothing, and will duplicate any hat that comes from any madam from 25 to 50 per cent cheaper. It is a written guarantee of the real value.

Pat Hynes, of Cloquet, was bustling around yesterday with his attorney, J. B. Connor, and John Farrington for $18 for building material furnished.

Regina Hofstiss sues her husband, Elias Hofstiss, for divorce, charging him with adultery and intemperance. She is thirty and he is thirty-eight years old. They were married in August, 1877, at Baden, Germany. They have one child named Lena, eight years old. Mrs. Hofstiss claims the husband is a violent and dangerous man in his habits. He has often threatened to kill her, and attempted to carry out his threats. Feb. 1, 1888, by a violent act, he threw her out of the house, and she has since been unable to get on her feet. She asks for the custody of her child and absolute divorce.

John Safrausk, manager of the Second National bank, is of the opinion that Republican "pup" has not been elected. His manager would be superfluous, as every one is an opponent of the party, and the human efforts to avoid disappointing theater goers after the Grand opera fire, by the St. Paul Opera house, is being tested by the crowds who patronize the latter house. Mr. Scott leaves to-night for the East to look after the new house, which will open October 1.

The Loyol Temperance league, under the leadership of Mr. J. A. Sutton, gave a very pleasant entertainment yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the Gospel Temperance Society, 709 East Third street. Mrs. Maud Barrett presided. After the entertainment, a Temperance legion prayer was offered by Birdie Mitchell, Gerie N. Reid, Belle Johnson, Herbert Varney, John and Harry Johnson and others. The program was contributed by Nellie Banks and Blanche DeLamar. Refreshments were then served, and after playing several games the merry little people dispersed to their homes.
