

CROWN'S CLOTHING.

Several Garments Belonging to the Murdered Man Found.

Together with a Strange Vest Which Furnishes a Fine Clue.

C. H. Long, the Toronto Reporter, Worked Only for "String."

A Long Conference Which Was Barren of Lurid Results.

CHICAGO, May 31.—Dr. Cronin's clothes have been found, and another link forged in the chain of evidence that surrounds the murder. The first clue was obtained by the finding of the coat, shirt and trousers of Eddie Briesch, two little boys of Lakeview, Louis Hamburg, the eighteen-year-old brother of the first-named lad, then notified the police, and conducting Lieut. Schuetzler to the mouth of the Fifty-ninth street sewer, instituted a search, which resulted in the unearthing of the murdered physician's pants, coat, shirt and trousers. They were buried over a foot under ground, and were only discovered by probing in the sand with sharp sticks. The shirt bore the name of the unfortunate doctor, and the trousers were readily recognized as a portion of his apparel. The pants, in places, were deeply stained with blood. Strange to say, however, the physician's vest was missing, and in its place was a vest of much coarser material, containing in the pockets five pennies and a cigar. This garment presumably belonged to one of the murderers or accomplices. For this reason the police are using every effort to suppress the discovery, hoping to prevent the possibility of its being discovered in the possession of one of the murderers.

Considerable importance is attached to the fact that when the drawers were first discovered, the physician's vest was missing, and in its place was a vest of much coarser material, containing in the pockets five pennies and a cigar. This garment presumably belonged to one of the murderers or accomplices. For this reason the police are using every effort to suppress the discovery, hoping to prevent the possibility of its being discovered in the possession of one of the murderers.

LONG CONFERENCE. Ended this evening between W. J. Hynes, Luther Laffin Mills, State Attorney Longenecker and Capt. Hubbard. At the close of the conference Mayor Cregier also was present, and went away with Hubbard and Longenecker, the state attorney said that the result of his investigations is that the many other important discoveries which were made were substantiated.

AGAIN AT LIBERTY. McGarigle Appears in a Chicago Court and Settles His Score. CHICAGO, May 31.—W. J. McGarigle, ex-warden of the Cook county hospital, who has been a fugitive from justice under indictment as one of the "hoodlums" in the county ring, living for some time in Bauf, British Columbia, walked into Judge Shepard's court room shortly before noon today and delivered himself up. He was at once taken to the office of the state attorney, McGarigle pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiracy and a fine of $1,000 was at once imposed. When McGarigle fled to Canada nearly two years ago he was under sentence of two years in the penitentiary, but a petition for a writ of habeas corpus was pending in the courts. After his departure, the petition for a writ of habeas corpus was granted, and McGarigle was set at liberty.

THE TORONTO REPORTER SAID HE WAS ONLY OUT FOR A STRING. CHICAGO, May 31.—A. F. Teely, a Chicago attorney of considerable prominence in Irish circles, has just returned from Toronto, where he was sent to investigate the suspected complicity of Reporter C. H. Long and William J. Starkey with the Cronin murder case. Mr. Teely makes the following statement as to the result of his investigations: "Having arrived in Toronto on May 25 and had an interview with my brother, R. J. Teely, of the Toronto press, and the national executive of the Irish National League for Toronto, and being determined to find out, if possible, whether there was any collusion, or possibility thereof, between the reporter, Long, and Mr. Starkey, and to satisfy my own mind as to the many insinuations and innuendoes of confusion about Chicago, I made inquiries as to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Starkey. After several inquiries and calls at different numbers on Wellington street, I found Mrs. Wilson, who lives at 228 Wellington street. I think the northwest corner of John street. She had no fictitious name, but readily answered my inquiries for Mr. Starkey. She is living with a family named Hardy; and she, as well as Mrs. Hardy, informed me that Mr. Starkey had left Toronto for New York on May 25, and had not returned up to the present day. When informed Mrs. Starkey of the insinuations and innuendoes about Chicago, she was very much surprised and indignation, and she expressed her desire to have me clear up the matter, and she displayed great indignation when I spoke to her about Long, for whom, from my interview, I was confident she had no regard. After several inquiries, I finally met Mr. Long at the Rossin house. I talked the matter over fully with him, he still adhering to the truth of his dispatches and expressing the greatest indignation when I told him he was charged with collusion with William Starkey, and that he had put the matter at once expressed his willingness to do all in his power to contradict all and any of such statements, and to that end said that he would write me as follows: "Rossin House, Toronto, May 25, 1889.—To whom it may concern: This is to certify that up to and after the time I met the gentleman regarding Mr. Cronin having been in Toronto, I had no letter, telegram or other communication with any one from Chicago or elsewhere regarding his disappearance, excepting the newspaper news which I sent the dispatches. C. S. Long."

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

PLATT'S CHLORIDES INSTANTLY DISTRICTS. The house drains, water closets, sinks, cisterns, etc.

THE GREATEST INDIGNATION. When I told him he was charged with collusion with William Starkey, and that he had put the matter at once expressed his willingness to do all in his power to contradict all and any of such statements, and to that end said that he would write me as follows: "Rossin House, Toronto, May 25, 1889.—To whom it may concern: This is to certify that up to and after the time I met the gentleman regarding Mr. Cronin having been in Toronto, I had no letter, telegram or other communication with any one from Chicago or elsewhere regarding his disappearance, excepting the newspaper news which I sent the dispatches. C. S. Long."

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

ART AT THE BIG FAR.

Innumerable Large Scenes Works Lend Apparent Grandeur.

A Lack of Soul in the Many Sacred Scenes on Exhibition.

Holland's Art Rises Above the General Imitation of Paris.

Samoa Commissioners Have Plenty of Play With Their Work.

PARIS, May 22.—A few observations may be added to what I called you last Saturday about the art department of the exposition. In failing to repress the obvious inferiority of merely imitative art, the management has weakened a great exhibit. As a result, the exhibit has acquired an artificial magnificence by the profusion of huge scenic works, many of them as large as the itinerant Munkacsy's and not possessed of greater intrinsic merit, but generally superior in purely decorative quality and essential dramatic strength. How positively these so-called historical and scenic compositions dominate the entire exhibit may be conjectured from the fact that the exhibition is NEARLY HALF of the whole number of works exhibited. Bearing to true art the same respect as Mrs. Dudley's historical writings bear to history, having in history only the tolerated place of the historical novel in fiction, having dimensions without dignity, pressing verities, but lacking authenticity and sacrificing group to the exigencies of fact painting, color schemes and mere decorative neophytes and win the applause of those to whom color and action, apart from any higher value in point, are the only things that count, the works are designed only for the decoration of public edifices are wholly above this censure, and have not been, probably only excepted to live with the two brothers in a cottage near by. Mrs. Dudley pointed in the direction of the Carlson cottage in referring to the place she had discovered in the Chicago Chicago Nursery and Half Orphan Asylum, on Burling street, it was found that a Mrs. Dudley had been there, but she was not the same as the Mrs. Dudley who was one of the men who rented the Carlson cottage; that he is a carpenter by trade, and that he laid the carpet in the cottage.

WILL ARREST STARKEY. If They Can Work the Extradition Act Fast Enough.

CHICAGO, May 31.—The extradition of William J. Starkey has been determined upon. Aside from the oft-repeated circumstances which have been regarded as tending to show his connection with Cronin's death, there is said to be some new matter implicating him in actual guilt. The state's attorney has, it is said, been reluctant to attempt the extradition because of the clear refusal into which it shows his refusal to assist in Starkey's extradition. The state's attorney has, it is said, been reluctant to attempt the extradition because of the clear refusal into which it shows his refusal to assist in Starkey's extradition. The state's attorney has, it is said, been reluctant to attempt the extradition because of the clear refusal into which it shows his refusal to assist in Starkey's extradition.

AGAIN AT LIBERTY. McGarigle Appears in a Chicago Court and Settles His Score.

CHICAGO, May 31.—W. J. McGarigle, ex-warden of the Cook county hospital, who has been a fugitive from justice under indictment as one of the "hoodlums" in the county ring, living for some time in Bauf, British Columbia, walked into Judge Shepard's court room shortly before noon today and delivered himself up. He was at once taken to the office of the state attorney, McGarigle pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiracy and a fine of $1,000 was at once imposed. When McGarigle fled to Canada nearly two years ago he was under sentence of two years in the penitentiary, but a petition for a writ of habeas corpus was pending in the courts. After his departure, the petition for a writ of habeas corpus was granted, and McGarigle was set at liberty.

THE TORONTO REPORTER SAID HE WAS ONLY OUT FOR A STRING. CHICAGO, May 31.—A. F. Teely, a Chicago attorney of considerable prominence in Irish circles, has just returned from Toronto, where he was sent to investigate the suspected complicity of Reporter C. H. Long and William J. Starkey with the Cronin murder case. Mr. Teely makes the following statement as to the result of his investigations: "Having arrived in Toronto on May 25 and had an interview with my brother, R. J. Teely, of the Toronto press, and the national executive of the Irish National League for Toronto, and being determined to find out, if possible, whether there was any collusion, or possibility thereof, between the reporter, Long, and Mr. Starkey, and to satisfy my own mind as to the many insinuations and innuendoes of confusion about Chicago, I made inquiries as to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Starkey. After several inquiries and calls at different numbers on Wellington street, I found Mrs. Wilson, who lives at 228 Wellington street. I think the northwest corner of John street. She had no fictitious name, but readily answered my inquiries for Mr. Starkey. She is living with a family named Hardy; and she, as well as Mrs. Hardy, informed me that Mr. Starkey had left Toronto for New York on May 25, and had not returned up to the present day. When informed Mrs. Starkey of the insinuations and innuendoes about Chicago, she was very much surprised and indignation, and she expressed her desire to have me clear up the matter, and she displayed great indignation when I spoke to her about Long, for whom, from my interview, I was confident she had no regard. After several inquiries, I finally met Mr. Long at the Rossin house. I talked the matter over fully with him, he still adhering to the truth of his dispatches and expressing the greatest indignation when I told him he was charged with collusion with William Starkey, and that he had put the matter at once expressed his willingness to do all in his power to contradict all and any of such statements, and to that end said that he would write me as follows: "Rossin House, Toronto, May 25, 1889.—To whom it may concern: This is to certify that up to and after the time I met the gentleman regarding Mr. Cronin having been in Toronto, I had no letter, telegram or other communication with any one from Chicago or elsewhere regarding his disappearance, excepting the newspaper news which I sent the dispatches. C. S. Long."

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

ART AT THE BIG FAR.

Innumerable Large Scenes Works Lend Apparent Grandeur.

A Lack of Soul in the Many Sacred Scenes on Exhibition.

Holland's Art Rises Above the General Imitation of Paris.

Samoa Commissioners Have Plenty of Play With Their Work.

PARIS, May 22.—A few observations may be added to what I called you last Saturday about the art department of the exposition. In failing to repress the obvious inferiority of merely imitative art, the management has weakened a great exhibit. As a result, the exhibit has acquired an artificial magnificence by the profusion of huge scenic works, many of them as large as the itinerant Munkacsy's and not possessed of greater intrinsic merit, but generally superior in purely decorative quality and essential dramatic strength. How positively these so-called historical and scenic compositions dominate the entire exhibit may be conjectured from the fact that the exhibition is NEARLY HALF of the whole number of works exhibited. Bearing to true art the same respect as Mrs. Dudley's historical writings bear to history, having in history only the tolerated place of the historical novel in fiction, having dimensions without dignity, pressing verities, but lacking authenticity and sacrificing group to the exigencies of fact painting, color schemes and mere decorative neophytes and win the applause of those to whom color and action, apart from any higher value in point, are the only things that count, the works are designed only for the decoration of public edifices are wholly above this censure, and have not been, probably only excepted to live with the two brothers in a cottage near by. Mrs. Dudley pointed in the direction of the Carlson cottage in referring to the place she had discovered in the Chicago Chicago Nursery and Half Orphan Asylum, on Burling street, it was found that a Mrs. Dudley had been there, but she was not the same as the Mrs. Dudley who was one of the men who rented the Carlson cottage; that he is a carpenter by trade, and that he laid the carpet in the cottage.

WILL ARREST STARKEY. If They Can Work the Extradition Act Fast Enough.

CHICAGO, May 31.—The extradition of William J. Starkey has been determined upon. Aside from the oft-repeated circumstances which have been regarded as tending to show his connection with Cronin's death, there is said to be some new matter implicating him in actual guilt. The state's attorney has, it is said, been reluctant to attempt the extradition because of the clear refusal into which it shows his refusal to assist in Starkey's extradition. The state's attorney has, it is said, been reluctant to attempt the extradition because of the clear refusal into which it shows his refusal to assist in Starkey's extradition.

AGAIN AT LIBERTY. McGarigle Appears in a Chicago Court and Settles His Score.

CHICAGO, May 31.—W. J. McGarigle, ex-warden of the Cook county hospital, who has been a fugitive from justice under indictment as one of the "hoodlums" in the county ring, living for some time in Bauf, British Columbia, walked into Judge Shepard's court room shortly before noon today and delivered himself up. He was at once taken to the office of the state attorney, McGarigle pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiracy and a fine of $1,000 was at once imposed. When McGarigle fled to Canada nearly two years ago he was under sentence of two years in the penitentiary, but a petition for a writ of habeas corpus was pending in the courts. After his departure, the petition for a writ of habeas corpus was granted, and McGarigle was set at liberty.

THE TORONTO REPORTER SAID HE WAS ONLY OUT FOR A STRING. CHICAGO, May 31.—A. F. Teely, a Chicago attorney of considerable prominence in Irish circles, has just returned from Toronto, where he was sent to investigate the suspected complicity of Reporter C. H. Long and William J. Starkey with the Cronin murder case. Mr. Teely makes the following statement as to the result of his investigations: "Having arrived in Toronto on May 25 and had an interview with my brother, R. J. Teely, of the Toronto press, and the national executive of the Irish National League for Toronto, and being determined to find out, if possible, whether there was any collusion, or possibility thereof, between the reporter, Long, and Mr. Starkey, and to satisfy my own mind as to the many insinuations and innuendoes of confusion about Chicago, I made inquiries as to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Starkey. After several inquiries and calls at different numbers on Wellington street, I found Mrs. Wilson, who lives at 228 Wellington street. I think the northwest corner of John street. She had no fictitious name, but readily answered my inquiries for Mr. Starkey. She is living with a family named Hardy; and she, as well as Mrs. Hardy, informed me that Mr. Starkey had left Toronto for New York on May 25, and had not returned up to the present day. When informed Mrs. Starkey of the insinuations and innuendoes about Chicago, she was very much surprised and indignation, and she expressed her desire to have me clear up the matter, and she displayed great indignation when I spoke to her about Long, for whom, from my interview, I was confident she had no regard. After several inquiries, I finally met Mr. Long at the Rossin house. I talked the matter over fully with him, he still adhering to the truth of his dispatches and expressing the greatest indignation when I told him he was charged with collusion with William Starkey, and that he had put the matter at once expressed his willingness to do all in his power to contradict all and any of such statements, and to that end said that he would write me as follows: "Rossin House, Toronto, May 25, 1889.—To whom it may concern: This is to certify that up to and after the time I met the gentleman regarding Mr. Cronin having been in Toronto, I had no letter, telegram or other communication with any one from Chicago or elsewhere regarding his disappearance, excepting the newspaper news which I sent the dispatches. C. S. Long."

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

RECEIVED AN EQUIVOCAL. Terre Haute Express. Foreman of the Jury—Well, how much damages do you think the young man is entitled to? First Jurymen—As I understand it, he ain't suing for a light affliction nor anything of that sort, eh? Just merely wants to get his money back that he expended for presents, ice cream and the like? Second Jurymen—That's all. First Jurymen—Well, I ain't in the favor of giving him a cent. If the man had didn't amount to more than his presents that's his lookout. I courted that girl myself once.

WARRNERS AT LATONIA.

Avondale Hauls Down the Sensation Stakes Without Trouble.

Jakie Toms, Kedar Khan, Adelem and Ban Hazen Are Also Winners.

Nothing Very Sensational in Any of the Day's Contests.

Cold, Wet Weather and a Heavy Track Seriously Mar the Sport.

CINCINNATI, O., May 31.—The eleventh day at Latonia was another cold and wet day. The smallest crowd of the meeting was out. The track was very heavy and stiff, and poor time was made in the races. There was nothing of the sensational order to occur, and it really could be called a favorites' day, as the winners all paid small money in the books. The Sensation stakes were won by Avondale, who beat a good field in a driving finish. First race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, three-quarters of a mile—Jakie Toms 106, Ban Hazen 104, Finnegan 9 to 1, first; Holland 110, Bramble-Kieney, Fox, and Clamor 112, second; Lulu 99, third; Lulu 99, fourth. Second race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth. Third race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth. Fourth race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth. Fifth race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth. Sixth race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth. Seventh race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth. Eighth race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth. Ninth race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth. Tenth race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth.

Earthquakes in Europe. LONDON, May 31.—Dispatches show that earthquake shocks were not only felt in the Channel islands yesterday, but also in the Isle of Wight. The dispatches also mention that several towns on the mainland of both England and France. Among the places included are Portsmouth, Havant, Cherbourg, Havre, Caen, and Caen. No damage was done anywhere.

CAPITAL GOSSIP. Postoffice Changes—Sioux Reservation Outlook.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 31.—Gen. Clark has telegraphed that a petition with 215 signatures will be forwarded Monday for the appointment of M. E. Quickstad as postmaster at Toronto, Dak. Inasmuch as Evan Nelson was appointed and commissioned there May 14, on the recommendation of Delegate Matthews, it appears that Quickstad was not quick enough. J. P. Horgan, postmaster at Etta Mine, Dak., has resigned and J. E. Fouse will be appointed in his stead. Horgan has filed an immense petition for his appointment at Montpelier, Dak., but has not received the indorsement of Matthews. The postmaster at Tilden, Minn., has resigned and a new postmaster may be necessary for Tilden. The congressman recommends the establishment of a postoffice at Crookston and Foston, in Pope county, and the Tilden postmaster objects, and writes the department that the office would be only a mile from his office and is unnecessary. It is an interesting case and excites departmental comment. Railroad Commissioner John Klug of Dakota, arrived this morning and will leave to-morrow. He came here on land office business. He says Crookston is well liked by the Sioux, and that the most likely way to get the consent of the Indians to the opening of the reservation. "We are in high feathers out there," said he, and planned to get into the department offices to deny the report that there is a conflict concerning who shall be referee for Dakota during Mathews' term. It is reported that Klug is a referee, and neither Mellette nor Harrison Allen have undertaken to interfere.

OWATONNA'S HIGH SCHOOL. Eighteen Graduates Turned Out Yesterday.

SPECIAL TO THE GLOBE. OWATONNA, Minn., May 31.—The graduates of the Owatonna high school held their commencement exercises this afternoon in Chambers' hall. The class, which consists of eighteen members, is the largest the school has ever had. Instead of the regular exercises which are delivered by E. J. Simmons, or Minneapolis, they were followed by a farewell address to the class and the citizens of this city by Prof. A. W. Rankin, who goes to lead Wing to the charge of the school of that city. The class held a reception in the evening.

MINIATURE CYCLOPE. SPECIAL TO THE GLOBE. LITTLE FALLS, Minn., May 31.—Just before the memorial exercises yesterday afternoon a small whirlwind, or miniature cyclone, tacked a boy and carriage, while he was endeavoring to reach his home on Garfield avenue yesterday afternoon. He seized the lad and took him several feet into the air and set him down just outside of his front door. The lad was taken to the hospital, where it was ascertained that one of his arms and one of his ribs were broken, and that his skull and one eye were very badly injured. He will probably recover.

DEBT DECREASE. WASHINGTON, May 31.—It is estimated that the treasury department that there has been a decrease of $8,000,000 in the public debt during the month of May; notwithstanding the disbursement of nearly $12,000,000 during the month on account of pensions. The treasury surplus is now stated at $54,000,000.

DISMISSED THE ORDER. SPECIAL TO THE GLOBE. HASTINGS, May 31.—Judge F. M. Crosby has filed an order in the district court, dismissing the order and dissolving the injunction in the case of the City of South St. Paul vs. the Auditor, Treasurer and City of West St. Paul, the injunction being to restrain county funds being paid to the latter.

A FACTORY FIRE. SPECIAL TO THE GLOBE. ASHTABULA, W. Va., May 31.—The Appleton Manufacturing company's wood working factory and machine shops at Appleton, W. Va., were destroyed by fire to-night. Valuable patterns were saved with difficulty. Loss, $20,000; fully insured.

WARRNERS AT LATONIA.

Avondale Hauls Down the Sensation Stakes Without Trouble.

Jakie Toms, Kedar Khan, Adelem and Ban Hazen Are Also Winners.

Nothing Very Sensational in Any of the Day's Contests.

Cold, Wet Weather and a Heavy Track Seriously Mar the Sport.

CINCINNATI, O., May 31.—The eleventh day at Latonia was another cold and wet day. The smallest crowd of the meeting was out. The track was very heavy and stiff, and poor time was made in the races. There was nothing of the sensational order to occur, and it really could be called a favorites' day, as the winners all paid small money in the books. The Sensation stakes were won by Avondale, who beat a good field in a driving finish. First race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, three-quarters of a mile—Jakie Toms 106, Ban Hazen 104, Finnegan 9 to 1, first; Holland 110, Bramble-Kieney, Fox, and Clamor 112, second; Lulu 99, third; Lulu 99, fourth. Second race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth. Third race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth. Fourth race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth. Fifth race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth. Sixth race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth. Seventh race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth. Eighth race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth. Ninth race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth. Tenth race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Kedar Khan 105, Hyder All Cousins Ets, Allen, 6 to 5, first; Lulu 106, second; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, third; Nylephia 101, Finnegan 100, fourth.

Earthquakes in Europe. LONDON, May 31.—Dispatches show that earthquake shocks were not only felt in the Channel islands yesterday, but also in the Isle of Wight. The dispatches also mention that several towns on the mainland of both England and France. Among the places included are Portsmouth, Havant, Cherbourg, Havre, Caen, and Caen. No damage was done anywhere.

CAPITAL GOSSIP. Postoffice Changes—Sioux Reservation Outlook.

WASHINGTON, D. C.,