

VILLANY UNMASKED.

Eight Men Are Arrested and Charged With Deceit of the Deepest Dye.

Excitement Among Real Estate Men, Who Have Dark Secrets to Quell.

Hundreds of Citizens Could Arise and Expose a Terrible Conspiracy.

Dead-Beats and Slippery-Tongued Rascals Dupe the Ignorant.

Yesterday's developments in the circle of real estate and chattel thieves were sensational to the public and deeply disturbing to the bold conspirators. The tones of the law are stretching out in a dozen different ways, and notwithstanding that eight men charged with stealing and fraud are in the four, or five more arrests are imminent. The first intimation the public had that the rogues were operating in their midst was through the exclusive article published in the GLOBE on the morning of the 25th inst. This virtually precipitated matters, and since the arrests have been made thick and fast. While the sheriffs were roving in the gang implicated in the Radezky horse steal, the forcible case of Uhllein-Stensgaard was unveiled, and the fervor which the former robberies created was intensified to excitement among many real estate men who have secretly well among the heavy bosoms. With the Stensgaard matter there is opened a field of criminal prosecution in which 300 citizens of this city could take part against the gang now accused of the swindling deals, out of which they have collected many thousands of dollars.

There is no doubt that the law is now supposed to be a dozen or more persons implicated among them, three notaries who have acknowledged they have signed the worthless deeds and mortgages which the gang has negotiated. No one denies that August Uhllein's name was forged to the deed which conveyed the block, 22 of North Sixth, and the deed to St. Paul, to the man Stensgaard. The deed was drawn up in F. L. Draper's office, one of the men now under arrest.

DRAPER'S STORY.
The transaction, according to Draper's story, was made two weeks ago. Stensgaard asked Draper to advance $15,000 in mining stock, or trade the same for real estate. Draper advertised, and claims he received a reply from Uhllein, who offered to give him $20,000 in mining stock, or trade the same for real estate. Draper advertised, and claims he received a reply from Uhllein, who offered to give him $20,000 in mining stock, or trade the same for real estate.

INDENIFICATION.
The Title Insurance company will indemnify W. D. Jennings, of Harrisburg, Pa., from whom the $2,500 was borrowed, at once, but will file Stensgaard to the title insurance company, which will be enough to prosecute against the company. The statement in an evening paper that M. J. Bell, register of deeds, had been arrested, and that he was being held for the purpose of prosecuting against the company, is entirely false.

A TALE OF WOE.
An Organization of Slippery-Tongued Rascals.
So much for the story of the particular case in question. Now for a bit of proof of the general work of this infamous band. To say that 300 persons in St. Paul alone would rise up in concerted prosecution of the thieves is putting it lighter than a vigorous search would bear. The victims are fast counted by the hundreds, and each has heard the sad tale of some ignorant dupe who has succumbed to the subtlety of these designing swindlers. It goes for every technical claim, might be heard the sad tale of some ignorant dupe who has succumbed to the subtlety of these designing swindlers.

THE IRVING HOTEL.
alone, and in such a way, it is by some of such acknowledged that Thaden, Tall and other members of the gang, successfully done up as many as thirty real estate deals. The proceeds of the steal aggregating considerable. On Sept. 18, 1888, William Bergen, the proprietor of a cigar store and billiard room, was sworn out of his business by August G. Esklund, the Swede, for whom the police are now looking. This deal was effected in the usual form. Esklund, or any other member of the gang, was willing to accept of the usual consideration offered. Very often forged notes and deeds for really valuable property were given for the purpose of securing the property which was sold as soon as the gang got its hand on it. Mr. Bergen's business was stolen in this way for note and mortgage upon Bald Eagle lake property, not worth the air which it breathed. His wares were hauled away and he still has the note—nothing more. In this case one A. N. Elliot acknowledged the worthless mortgage which Mr. Bergen advances to be.

A BARK FERGUSY.
The mortgage is made from Esklund to Magnus Norman, who assigned it to Bergen, O. Hubbard, took the bark in-law, acting as notary. Peter Johnson, who kept the office where part of the gang held out, was a witness in this transaction. Bergen's story is worth $1,000. J. B. Patters, Seventh street saloonist, mourns the loss of several hundred dollars, and now has as a witness in this transaction a worthless deed for property in Douglas county, Wis. An investigation of this definite branch of the frauds will implicate several men now walking upon the clouds of respectable society, but the tedious abstract tells a tale of some shrewd crookedness. Some time ago, Thaden cheated P. C. Christianson and wife out of $1,000. Uhllein, who is still in the game, supposed to be forged, in which J. E. Tall, of Tall & Partello, acted jointly with Thaden. They had beaten their victims out of their property and were about to file the deed when a prominent law firm on Seventh street interposed proceedings, cornered the deed and beat the gang out of the property. Christianson will testify for the state. The above are but a few of many other examples which might be given to show the doings of the villainous band of crooks.

SHOT FROM BEHIND.
Coward McDow Killed Capt. Dawson a La Mexicana.
CHARLESTON, S. C., June 27.—In the McDow case today Dr. R. A. Kinloch, for forty years a physician and surgeon and at present dean of the medical college of South Carolina, took the stand to prove the course of the ball that killed Capt. Dawson. His testimony corroborated the views of Dr. Michael that the ball had been fired from behind, and is confirmatory of the general opinion that McDow shot Capt. Dawson when his back was turned and he was engaged in the discharge of his duty. Detective John Hogan testified that on the night of the murder, when the accused was going to jail with handcuffed hands, he saw McDow's coat and I would shoot any man who came near. I know where to shoot to kill—my profession teaches me that. The evidence considered important in view of the statement made by McDow yesterday that he did not take aim when he fired the shot, but that he had preferred to disable rather than kill his victim. Solicitor Jervis requested that the jury be sent to McDow's office for the purpose of examining the scene of the crime, but McDow's counsel objected on the ground that the jury might be unduly influenced by persons who had no proper connection with the case. Judge Kinloch sustained the objection. Solicitor Jervis then announced the case closed and requested the judge to charge the jury on certain questions of law. The judge charged the jury, and made a good impression. The audience applauded when he denounced McDow for sneaking around the scene of the crime, and when he was absent. Mr. Jervis spoke for two hours. Judge Magrath and Mr. Cohen will speak for the defense to-morrow.

THROUGH AN OPEN SWITCH.
Passengers on a Boston & Maine Railway Train Shaken Up and Injured.
DOVER, N. H., June 27.—An express train on the Boston & Maine railroad ran into an open switch while coming into this city to-night, and the engine and three cars were thrown down an embankment. The engine and fireman jumped and escaped without serious injury. The train was running at a high rate of speed, having been delayed at North Berwick for Crescent division of the Knights of Pythias of Dover. The passengers were badly shaken up, and Oscar F. Kimball, grand chancellor of the knights of New Hampshire, William Hilliard and Fred Brown, who were in the train, were injured. Kimball and Weeks were hurt in the head and back, and Hilliard internally. The injured are James Bradford, of Plymouth, Mass., who has a left leg, wound in groin, and generally bruised; Fred Annacker, of Des Moines, Ia., bruised on the head and left arm; Thomas Owens, of Minden, Ia., left arm and leg badly hurt; and Frank Wetherall, of Zanesville, Wis., severely wounds on left leg and arm; Joe Clutter, bruised on the head and body; and several others. The injured were badly shaken up, and Oscar F. Kimball, grand chancellor of the knights of New Hampshire, William Hilliard and Fred Brown, who were in the train, were injured. Kimball and Weeks were hurt in the head and back, and Hilliard internally.

A CASTLE GARDEN ROMANCE.
A Minnesota Girl Writes for Information Concerning Her Parents.
NEW YORK, June 27.—A romance of Castle Garden is shadowed by a letter received today by Supt. Jackson. The writer was Marie Beya, a twenty-three-year-old French girl who lives in Windom, Minn. She asks the Castle Garden superintendent to help her to trace her parents. The girl was born in France, she came to this country with her mother twenty-one years ago on the steamer Cella, from Havre. On arrival in New York she was suffering from typhoid fever, and with her mother she was transferred to the Ward's Island hospital. The mother died and the writer was adopted by a family whose name she does not give. She has lived with the family ever since. "I never knew," she writes, "what my right name was until I was twenty years old. I took me when my mother died and never did I know anything about my parents. I do not know what my mother's name was, and I do not know whether my father is living or dead." She is anxious to find out what town in France her mother came from.

TRACY'S NEW SCHEME

The Secretary of the Navy Intends to Reorganize His Department.

Its Method of Transacting Public Business, He Claims, Is Obsolete.

Badger Statesmen Hold a Curbstone Convention, and Divide the Spoils.

Northwestern Postoffices Ripe and Ready to Be Plucked by Protectionists.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—By a sweeping general order issued today Secretary Tracy directed an entire reorganization of the business of the navy department. Succinctly stated, the secretary's reasons for making the order are as follows: Up to this time the new equipment and the new vessels arising from the conditions of change incident to the replacement of the old wooden vessels with new ships and the new methods of conducting the business of the department, often with no better reason than the convenience of the department, has been confusion and an exaggeration of the defects of the bureau system. Duties which have no connection have been placed in the hands of the various bureaus, and the system generally associated have been divorced. Supply has been complicated and expensive. Electric lighting, for example, has been placed in the hands of the engineering bureau. The training of officers and men apart from the independent establishment of the naval academy, has been divided between an equal number of bureaus. The correspondence of the fleet, the system and made an effort to change them, but was obliged, from the magnitude of the task, and the paramount importance of conducting the department, to postpone the procurement of new ships and guns to abandon the task. Secretary Tracy, however, now says that the time has come when the department should be reorganized.

RIPE FOR FURTHER CHANGE.
and has accordingly issued the new order. It enlarges the duties of some bureaus, and transfers others. The bureau of equipment, to which is attributed nearly all the duties of supply, heretofore belonging to the bureau of construction, is to be reorganized. The telegraphic and compass offices of the naval observatory. To the constructing, manufacturing and purchasing bureaus are assigned other duties, grouping together the duties of the various bureaus. Each bureau exercises control of its shops, labor, superintendence, requisitions, accounts and appropriations. The limits of the bureau are redefined. The bureau of navigation loses its duties of supply and its control over several important offices, and becomes merely the office of the department secretary, an executive section of military matters, and is charged with the training, discipline and control of the personnel of the department. The chiefs of bureaus, of yards and docks, equipment, ordnance, construction and repair and steam engineering ex-officio, are to be appointed by the department secretary. The terms of the order are as follows:

SUCCESSOR FOR THE NEEDED.
Money Subscribed for Johnston's Sufferers Will Be Given to the Poor.
HARRISBURG, Pa., June 27.—At a meeting of the food relief committee this afternoon the following was issued: To the Public: That the donors of the funds in the hands of the food relief committee, who have been unable to be disposed of, and that the recipient recipients of the same may not form erroneous impressions as to the nature of the principles that govern the distribution of relief.

THREE OF A KIND.
A Trio of Pugilists Who Want to Test Killen's Right.
DULUTH, June 27.—Pat Killen's combination, opening its triumphal tour here Saturday evening, is liable to be broken up by the arrival of three pugilists who want to test Killen's right as a starter. This morning a strapping and likely looking young fellow giving his name as George Gray, and claiming to be from Detroit, Mich., stepped into the ring with Killen and offered $100 in good, hard currency, which Mr. Killen is asked to cover, and then stop the Detroit lad in four or six rounds. Killen, who has been successful also here with several friends and an amount of the long green, anxious to make it interesting, as well as expensive, for the combination, Joe Sheehan, the Michigan heavy-weight who recently defeated the Rhineland artist, came up from Ashland yesterday afternoon, and in case Killen and Gray do not make a match, is anxious to meet the latter on almost any terms for a money consideration.

WENT DOWN LIKE A SHOT.
Larkin the Jerseyman Knocks Out Bill Hook, of England.
JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 27.—The much-talked-of fight between Bill Hook, of England, and Jimmy Larkin, of Jersey City, took place to-night at the Casino, West Chester, Conn. The men entered the ring at 10:15 o'clock. Hammer and tongs was the order of fighting. Larkin had the best of the fight, and Hook went down twice in the second round. When he got up the second time Larkin landed a terrific right-hander on his jaw, and he went down like a shot. He was up in three minutes, but he never again been beaten. This is his fifth professional fight.

DROWNED IN BLUE RIVER.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 27.—Three boys from this city, named Edward Cook, Fred H. Brice and Frank Oviatt, got into water over their depth while bathing in the Blue river at Sheffield this afternoon, and were drowned. Their bodies were recovered.

PIPESTONE CELEBRATES.
Zenth Citizens Accorded the Freedom of the Town.
SPECIAL TO THE GLOBE.
PIPESTONE, Minn., June 27.—This has been a holiday for Pipestone. Over 150 members of the Duluth city council, chamber of commerce and board of trade visited this city, arriving over the Manitoba road in a special of ten coaches. At 1 o'clock they were given a banquet at the Calumet, and were then driven around the city and shown the great stone industries. Subsequently a public meeting was held at the park, at which speeches were made by many prominent Duluth gentlemen. The town was finely decorated, and flags floated from nearly every building.

DEHEDED FER CHARACTER.
The Wife of a Negro Missionary Carves a Colored Female.
KANSAS CITY, June 27.—Mamie Stewart, a negro, lies at her home, on Fourth street, in a dying condition. This morning Mrs. Hannah Pickett, wife of a local negro missionary, called her out on the sidewalk and attacked her with a huge butcher knife, stabbing her sixteen times in as many places. Mrs. Pickett says that her victim accused her of stealing, and she was not going to allow any one to question her movements. She was arrested.

MOVEMENTS OF OCEAN STEAMSHIPS.
BOSTON, June 27.—Arrived: Steamers Virginia, from Liverpool; Buffalo, from Hull. SOUTHAMPTON, June 27.—Arrived: Steamer Saale, from New York; Bremen. NEW YORK, June 27.—Arrived: The Queen, from Liverpool; Oldham, from Rotterdam; Lahn, from Bremen.

RIPE FOR REPUBLICANS.

Northwestern Postoffices Ready to Be Plucked by Patriots.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Postoffice inspector Spight has recommended the appointment of Justin R. Bowen as postmaster at Silver Mountain. The patrons of Percilla postoffice, Dakota, desire to change the site of their post-office four miles south, and request the appointment of Agnes Johnson as postmaster. Delegate George Stevens concurs and it will be done. A new postoffice will soon be established at Chester, Campbell county, Dakota, with David Hine as postmaster. In the middle of Day county, Dak., fifty-one citizens petition for a new postoffice, with Knute Thoe as postmaster. The postmaster at Brownsville, Dak., recommends the discontinuance of his office and the establishment of a new office at Elk Creek, Lawrence county, Nebraska. The citizens of Brownsville, Minn., recommend the removal of W. H. Bates, postmaster at Spain, Dak., to resign; P. W. Cree, at Bailey, Hand county, Dakota, resigns and recommends the removal of W. H. Bates, postmaster at Spain, Dak., to resign; J. O. Bingham, resigned. Congressman Haugen goes in his work with Clarkson to-day as follows: E. W. Rohrer, Cochrane, Lee Joe Rohrer, resigned; Levi O'Dell, Galtman, Thea, Powers, resigned; J. A. Chapman, Luna Centre, vice Holbrook, removed; George Green, Loyal, vice Hulvey, removed; Charles Ducker, removed; J. H. Hagen, removed; O. E. Larsen, Risin, vice Dolan, deceased; Hattie Martin, removed; J. H. Hagen, removed; Granger, Wheeler, vice Granger, deceased.

Mutes Elect Officers.
WASHINGTON, June 27.—The election of officers of the National Association of Deaf Mutes was held in the college hall at Kendall Green this afternoon. The following officers were elected to serve for the annual term ending Dec. 31, 1900: President, E. S. Oweine, of New York city, first vice president; R. Coleman, of South Carolina, second vice president; Charles Kerney, of Evansville, Ind., third vice president; J. Bigelow, of Massachusetts, fourth vice president; James Smith, of Minnesota, secretary; and Brewster Allabough, of Pennsylvania, treasurer.

Window Gets in His Work.
WASHINGTON, June 27.—The secretary of the treasury has appointed W. R. Freeman as chief clerk of the public buildings at San Antonio, Tex., and George W. Longstaff superintendent of the public building at Bridgeport, Conn.

AKIN TO SUICIDE.
Iowa's Democrat Committee Makes a Big Blunder.
SPECIAL TO THE GLOBE.
DES MOINES, Ia., June 27.—The Democratic state committee met here today and did what they could to insure Republican success in Iowa this fall. They decided to hold the state convention at Sioux City, the most inaccessible town in the state, and fixed the date for Sept. 18, over a month later than the Republican convention will be held. This will leave little time for organizing the party, and it is badly needed among Iowa Democrats, and but little time for discussion of the issues, the chief of which will be the question of the repeal of prohibition. The action of the committee is certain to meet with grave opposition among Iowa Democrats.

MILES OF ROARING FLAME.
The Most Destructive Prairie Fire in Montana's History.
SPECIAL TO THE GLOBE.
HELENA, Mont., June 27.—Two days ago a prairie fire started in Cascade county, near Sand Coulee, and so far all efforts to check it have been unavailing. Advances up to-night show it has covered an area of over 100 square miles, and has destroyed the best of the grazing land in the vicinity. The loss will be very heavy owing to the fact that the dry season had already greatly reduced the hay crop. No such prairie fire has been known in Montana in recent years. So far 17 lives have been reported lost, although a number of ranchmen have been burned out.

SHOT IN SELF-DEFENSE.
John Curran Tells of the Killing of Hazelton.
SPECIAL TO THE GLOBE.
WATPACA, Wis., June 27.—Interest in the Curran trial is increasing as the case progresses. The court room was crowded all day. The prosecution closed its case this forenoon. Judge Cate, for the defense made a very elaborate address to the jury, going over the testimony given by the state witnesses and giving in detail what the defense would show. How the state witnesses were getting shot. Then began the examination of witnesses. John D. Curran, the principal defendant, was the first witness called. He testified to his friendship for Hazelton until Hazelton was acquitted of the killing of Morse; was one of his bondsmen, and that he had followed Hazelton to Milwaukee, where he met several mutual friends, whom Hazelton had told that there was no room on this earth for both the Curran and Hazelton had tried to get at him so many times that he finally left Stevens Point, and went to Waverly, Ia. He testified that he had followed Curran when Curran became insane, and took care of him until his recovery. He never went out of the house unless with somebody. He was called by the name of Hazelton, and Hazelton had tried to get at him so many times that he finally left Stevens Point, and went to Waverly, Ia. He testified that he had followed Curran when Curran became insane, and took care of him until his recovery. He never went out of the house unless with somebody.

WEDDING BELLS AT MOORHEAD.
SPECIAL TO THE GLOBE.
MOORHEAD, Minn., June 27.—Dr. John Kurat of this city, and Miss Helen Peyton Swisher, of Willow Bank farm, near Glyndon, this evening married by Bishop M. N. Gilbert, of St. Paul. The wedding was the most brilliant affair that ever occurred in the Red River valley. The gifts were valuable. The bride was presented with a check for $10,000 by her grandmother, Mrs. J. C. Curran. A special train left here with a large number of Moorhead and Fargo citizens who attended the wedding. The contracting parties are well known and have hosts of friends in the two cities. They will make Moorhead their home.

A PRISONER ESCAPES.
SPECIAL TO THE GLOBE.
PIESTON, June 27.—Last evening Frank Boman, the newly-appointed turnkey at the county jail, entered the cell of Charles Coburn, a prisoner awaiting the action of the grand jury on a charge of burglary, the latter slipping through the door, turned the key and made the turnkey a prisoner, and left for parts unknown. A sheriff's posse was sent out to search for the prisoner, with small probability of his capture.

FOUR STRICKEN WITH SMALL POX.
JEFFERSON, Ia., June 27.—Four cases of small pox have broken out in one family near this city, having been brought home by the father from Illinois some two days ago. The family resides half a mile from the nearest neighbor, and the cases are so completely quarantined that there is no danger of the disease spreading. The matter has been reported to the state board of health.

DAHL GETS A NEW TRIAL.
CALEDONIA, Minn., June 27.—A new trial was granted by Judge Farmer today to C. O. Dahl, convicted at the May term of court of manslaughter in the second degree on the grounds that one of the jurymen procured a half pint of whisky during the trial.

Northern Pacific Officials Apply for Protection From Recalcitrant Reds.

Iowa's Democratic Committee Courts Political Defeat by Calling a Convention.

One Hundred Square Miles of Montana Prairie Swept by Fire.

SIDNEY, Neb., June 27.—S. C. Morgan, cashier of the State Bank, of Sidney, died this morning. He was found lying in bed with the top of his head blown off and a forty-eight caliber revolver in his hand. The bank was not making money. Six years ago he eloped with the daughter of W. H. Bates, president of the Nebraska National Bank of Omaha. He was the son of a wholesale grocer and a young man of exemplary habits, but his parents opposed the union. On the same day Frank Johnson eloped with the daughter of Byron Reed, an Omaha millionaire, and married her. Johnson and Morgan shortly afterward started the State bank at Sidney, of which Johnson is now president.

PRAYING FOR PROTECTION.
Northern Pacific Officials Fear the Flatheads.
HELENA, Mont., June 17.—The sheriff of Missoula county has given up the effort to capture the three Indian murderers on the Flathead reserve, and returned home to-day, leaving the United States troops to occupy the field. The Northern Pacific officials have asked for troops to protect their property and employes. The Indians have fired the timber, and station agents refuse to let their trains pass. The Indians have been down to-day, and will hold a consultation with the railroad officials relative to measures necessary to protect rail-way interests.

It's a Sure Enough War.
WASHINGTON, June 27.—The war department is in receipt of dispatches confirming the press reports of trouble with Flathead Indians near Missoula, Mont.

Demolished the Viaduct.
OMAHA, Neb., June 27.—A train of the Union Stock Yards company struck one of the temporary supports of the main span of the iron viaduct over Q street in South Omaha about 9:30 a. m. and knocked the whole structure to the ground. The train consisted of a freight train and a passenger train. The freight train was on top of the structure at the time, and fell with the ruin. Eight were hurt, and one of them, Fred Anacker, of Des Moines, will probably die.

DELIRIOUS OVER DEFEAT.
Sensational Incident of the Intercollegiate Sculling Contest at New London.
NEW LONDON, Conn., June 27.—The features of to-day's races were the exciting contest between Cornell and Columbia and the sensational collapse of the Columbia crew the instant they crossed the finishing line in a perfectly rowing six of them, Bradley No. 1, Meikleheim No. 2, Robertson No. 3, O'Gorman No. 4, Clapp No. 6, and Fong No. 7. The other men were completely exhausted. Five of the broken-down men recovered consciousness within a few minutes, but Meikleheim was unconscious for several minutes. The six men mentioned were then lifted out of their shell and placed on board the Carrie Goodwin. While these transfers were being made the other men were taken to the Columbia quarters all night. The Columbia crew were lifted out and carried to their rooms and put to bed. The men were in a state of delirium, and the Columbia crew were lifted out and carried to their rooms and put to bed.

MORRIS, Minn., June 27.—An enthusiastic meeting of citizens was held here this evening to consider a project of extending the Northern Pacific railroad from Morris to the Missouri river, via Oriskany, Big Stone City, Milbank, Clark and Huron. Messrs. E. M. Bennett and D. J. Craig, Jr., of Big Stone City, and Messrs. H. S. Volkman, of Oriskany, were present to confer with citizens of Morris. It was resolved to call another meeting on the 5th of July at 7 o'clock, and were still under the weather, but that there was nothing serious. From other sources it was learned that shortly before the race a messenger was sent to Gales Ferry and a physician summoned. This doctor is now with the men (at 1 a. m.) and it is understood that he will remain the finishing line in a perfectly rowing six of them, Bradley No. 1, Meikleheim No. 2, Robertson No. 3, O'Gorman No. 4, Clapp No. 6, and Fong No. 7. The other men were completely exhausted. Five of the broken-down men recovered consciousness within a few minutes, but Meikleheim was unconscious for several minutes. The Jury in the Coombs Murder Case Agrees on a Verdict.

Beckman Found Guilty of Manslaughter in the Second Degree.

And Peterson's Crime Made Simply Assault in the Second Degree.

A La Crosse Girl Slashed With a Knife by a Burglar.

SPECIAL TO THE GLOBE.
ROCHESTER, Minn., June 27.—The great Beckman-Peterson murder trial is over. The case went to the jury at 6 o'clock, which, after four hours' deliberation, brought in a verdict. It finds Beckman guilty of manslaughter in the second degree, and Peterson guilty of assault in the second degree. There were less than a dozen people in court when the verdict was brought in, and the few expressions of opinion that were heard were to the effect that the men had not been sufficiently harshly dealt with. Court meets at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning, when sentence will be passed.

AT DEATH'S DOOR.
A La Crosse Girl Fatally Wounded by a Burglar.
SPECIAL TO THE GLOBE.
LA CROSSE, Wis., June 27.—A terrible crime was committed between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning in the northern section of the city. John A. Weber, a carpenter, lives with his family in a modest cottage at 721 Berlin street. He has two daughters, eighteen and twenty years of age, who occupy a room on the first floor, from which the windows open out to a walk leading to the gate. The house is within a block of the Milwaukee railroad track, and outside of that point of the city patrolled by police. At the hour above named the girls were awakened by hearing some one in the room. They called out, "Who's there?" "What's wanted?" A heavy voice answered: "I want money." One of the girls in her fright said something to the effect that she would get him some if he would do no harm, and got out of bed. As she did so, a man seized her and thrust a knife into her side. She screamed and fell to the floor. The other girl screamed for help, and at that instant saw a man disappear through the window. The family was aroused and word sent to the police station. All the police of the city, firemen and ambulance men, were called to the scene, which has resulted in the capture of half a dozen tramps and unknown men, but he retreated, and fasten the crime on any of them. When the doctors arrived they found the girl senseless, with a cross-shaped wound in her neck, from which her right side below the ribs has an upward cast, and is deep where the knife entered well outward, and, after being severed up, a drainage tube was inserted, which showed severe internal bleeding. An inch farther would have severed her lungs. The girl came further into the room, and the scheme is with her awaiting the end. An attempt was made to enter another house in the vicinity, and a woman saw the burglar further away, and she saw some one was up in the house. She could only say he was a white man, and wore dark clothes.

The evidence was conclusive, and Judge Stacy sentenced her to ten days in the county jail, where she now is sobering off.

Death of a Pioneer.
SPECIAL TO THE GLOBE.
WINONA, June 27.—The circle of old settlers has been narrowed by another death, that of Henry Y. Beyerstedt, a pioneer of '37. Mr. Beyerstedt came to Dawsonport, Minn., from Schwesig, Prussia, in 1856, removing to Winona the following year and living here continuously ever since. He kept one of the best farms in the county, near the old Beyerstedt house on Second street, near the Burlington depot. The old building is in existence, having been removed to the prairie in the southeastern part of the city. Mr. Beyerstedt was in good health until some two or three years ago he contracted a cold which settled on his lungs and finally resulted in death. He was seventy-two years old.
