CITY TOPICS

Discontinued and Committed by the Chamber of Commerce.

At yesterday morning's session of the chamber of commerce there was little business transacted. Capt. Blakeley, of the river committee, called attention to the convention to-morrow at West Superior. He expressed the opinion that the gathering would be a local one in all that the word implied, and thought that, in view of the meeting at the Soo last year, there was little reason for the convention. After recommendation by the committee, Messrs. Andrews, Pugh and Merrill were appointed delegates to the convention. The secretary of the chamber reported the reception of the senatorial irrigation committee. The subject of such or Broadway was brought up, and on motion of Mr. Stafford was postponed for one week. Mr. Nichols, from the committee on a report, and Messrs. H. P. Hall and Thomas Cochran reported on the panoramic view of St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and other points, which was shown west to Portland, Or., and views of the Yellowstone park. The panorama is to be displayed at the Minnesota exposition. The communication was filed and the meeting adjourned.

BLOODLESS AND BEAUTIFUL

Was the Meeting of the Commission, with Merely Routine Business.

The joint city hall and court house commission held their regular monthly meeting yesterday. The contract for taking care of the new clock in the tower was awarded to the Chicago firm, for $50 a year. John Fritsenka, a janitor who was recently discharged by the custodian, complained to the board and asked to be reinstated. A motion to reinstate him was voted down. The pay roll for July, amounting to $1,270.87, was approved. Messrs. Cullen, Mitsch and Bohland were appointed to examine the accounts of the city hall and court house for the month of July. The following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That Messrs. Sanborn and Mitsch be and are hereby appointed a committee to examine into the suggestions of Engineer Montgomery, relative to the changes necessary to be made in the city hall and court house and city hall steam plant, and to consult with the board of public works on the changes suggested.

And the Council of South St. Paul Finds Work to Do.

The same strictly first-class attractions and comfortable features appear at the Harris will appear at the People's. Several thousand dollars will be expended in alterations and improvements, both in the interior and exterior. The improvements will be pushed to enable the theater to open on August 2. The price of admission will be the same as at the Harris—25 and 50 cents to all parts of the house.

CLOSING HOURS

Of the Mahtomed Assembly—Recognition Day is To-Day.

The Chautauqua assembly at Mahtomed draws to a close. Yesterday morning Dr. Gilbert held his classes an hour earlier so that he might reach St. Paul by noon and catch his train East. He goes to Ohio, accompanied by Miss Anderson, his assistant in his Sunday school work. This was the first visit of Dr. Gilbert to the Northwest, and while at Mahtomed he earned for himself a very bright reputation. His presence during this session of the Mahtomed assembly has been a great benefit to the community.

The burglars were taken in question a passing villager saw persons stealthily moving about and striking matches in the blacksmith shop of C. J. SHREDS AND PATCHES.

Odds and Ends Dropped Into "The World's" Work-Basket.

Undertaker (called in to take the measure of an editor who had blown up a train)—Have you learned yet your talented citizen did this? Coroner—His paper appeared this morning with a notice that a certain dinner which he attended yesterday was "most detestable," when he wrote "most digestible." Undertaker—And your verdict? Coroner—Justifiable homicide. Over a Bowers free lunch is nailed a card upon which is scrawled this legend: "If you don't see what you want, it is kept from you by order of your family physician."

An English Girl Throws Vitriol on Her Lover's Clothes.

London Telegraph. A young girl of weak vengeance on an unfaithful lover has been adopted by a deceived damsel. The man was a tailor and the woman a cook, who, when she heard that the gay deity had given her up for a source of big scissors and a bottle of vitriol and proceeded to the lodging of the false-hearted swain. What she would have done had she met the tailor in the flesh can only be conjectured in a vague and speculative manner, but it happened that he was out, so she set to work on his Sunday clothes. These she pulled out of the wardrobe wherein they lay, and she sprinkled vitriol on the lot, and sent the tailor's pocket shirt and pocket handkerchiefs to vicious dashes of the same corrosive substance. Then she went away satisfied, but was arrested on the way for the phrase "chumminess" which is so pleasant an ingredient in every-day life, men turn to men.

Men and Women Drifting Apart.

London Letter to Albany (N. Y.) Express. Men in general have little sympathy with women, save for those with whom they happen for the moment to be in connection. It is rare to find a man who seeks the society of women with the idea of companionship; for all but the most devoted, the idea of companionship is a mere phrase. "Chumminess" which is so pleasant an ingredient in every-day life, men turn to men.
