REDICULOUS ERRORS. Pittsburgers Allow Boston to Win Hands Down.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 3.—The Pittsburgs were off to-day and permitted Boston to win easily on a series of rediculous errors. Galvin was very effective up to the fifth when he seemed to lose heart and was batted freely. Boston played a good game with the exception of Kelly, who made two very bad errors in

PLAYED TO A DRAW. Chicagos and Quakers Play Eight

Innings Without Result. CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Anson's men wen into the game to-day badly handicapped and are minus a victory accordingly Knight, the regular umpire assigned t officiate, failed to show up, and the Phillies would have none other than Buffington. He favored his team al through. Again Preffer had a bad fin through. Again Pfeffer had a bad finger and Dwyer took his place in batting but was a poor substitute. Sanders pitched a great game, but was hit for more bases than was Tener. The fielding was about even. Chicago appareutly had the game won in the eighth, when with two out Tener tossed the ball to Hallman, and the youngster drove it over the fence for a home run, tying the game. Darkness stopped the Clow in Minneapolis.

John P. Clow, the pugilist, arrived in the city recently in search of health and recreation. Clow was looked upon as the coming champion of the Northwest at one time, until through dissipation and otherwise he brought himself to death's door. He has been troubled with a severe cough that at one time bid foir to run him into consumption, but fair to run him into consumption, but his six mouths' sojourn in Colorado has braced him up wonderfully, and he now appears to be on the road to recover his former magnificent physique.
