ON THE POLICE RUN.
How Judge Emery Disposed of Yesterday's Unfortunates.

There were forty-one prisoners in the dock at the municipal court yesterday. The police had been especially active, and the fact that one day the work had been arranged to pass without any one being arrested on the charge of drunkenness. This made them redoubtable efforts, and on Saturday night the police were on the run. The central station contained at least one prisoner. Most of the cases were for drunkenness, and the police had been especially active.

Why the Saloons Were Watched on Saturday Night.
Secretary Elliott, of the Y. M. C. A., who issued the private circular which was printed in the GLOBE on Sunday last, calling upon his "tried and trusted" co-workers to keep a watch on the people who went into the saloons on Saturday night, said yesterday that about 175 men had reported, and in a few days he would be able to give the names of the saloonkeepers. "Our intention," said Mr. Elliott, "is not to arrest the saloonkeepers, but to give to the people a list of the names of the saloonkeepers, so that they may be able to identify them if they see them on Saturday night. From personal experience I can say that some of the saloons at least are not the horrible dens some people picture them. In fact, I have received kinder and more considerate treatment at the hands of some saloonkeepers than I have received in some churches. Many of the saloons are handsomely fitted up, and traces of refinement abound on every hand. This attracts the young men, who are being adjudged insane, has escaped, and is now in McGregor, Ia. NOT SUBJECT TO TAXATION.
Telegraphic Messages Decided to Be Exempt.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The supreme court of the United States today rendered an opinion in the case of the Western Union Telegraph company against the secretary of state of Alabama and other state officers, brought here on appeal from decision of the supreme court of Alabama. The question involved is the constitutionality of a law of Alabama imposing a tax upon the receipts of telegraph companies for business done within the state. Under this act the telegraph company was taxed, not only on business done entirely within the state, but on messages sent to or received from other states. The court today, in an opinion by Justice Miller, says that it is hardly worth while to make any discussion about the matter, as the court has six or eight times, within many years, decided that telegraphic messages sent to one state into another are not subject to taxation, because it would be an interference with interstate commerce.
