SAINT PAUL.

BY WHAT WARRANT?

Was the Flax Inspector Appointed by the Minneapolis Board of Trade.

Tams Bixby, Esq., Secretary Railroad and Warehouse Commission, St. Paul, Minn.—Dear Sir: For the information of the public generally, and citizens of Minnesota and Dakota who are interested in flax seed shipments to the Minneapolis market, will you inform us through the DAILY GLOBE on what authority the Minneapolis board of trade has appointed an inspector of flax seed, and adopted different rules for inspection than those promulgated by our state authorities? The appointment of this flax seed inspector by the board of trade seems to be in conflict with chapter 144 of the general laws of Minnesota, approved March 5, 1885, and his inspections of seeds are also in conflict with the state inspections. On the same car loads of seed a difference as high as 8½ per cent can be cited, wherein this board of trade official has inspected the same car of seed, above state inspection; that is, he finds 8½ per cent more dirt, for which deduction is made, to arrive at the net bushels of pure seed in a car, than the state inspector does. On an average car load this extra 8½ per cent deduction for dirt amouts to a loss of $55 to the the shipper, at present prices of seed. This law of Mar. 5, 1885, very clearly makes your commission the guardian of grain inspections. It appoints a chief inspector, and the chief appoints deputies subject to the approval of the commission. Moreover, all inspectors are required to take an oath of office, and give bond in the penal sum of $5,000 to the State to faithfully and impartially perform the duties of their office. As the enforcement of the inspection law rests with your commission, I beg to inquire: First. Has the Board of Trade any right or authority whatever to appoint an inspector of flax seed? Second, if it has not, under section thirty of the chapter quoted, should he not be held to be an impostor? Third, if the Board of Trade has power to appoint him, has it bound him by a similar oath of office and bond as state inspectors are bound, for a faithful and impartial performance of his trust? Will your kindly favor us with the views of the commission upon the questions raised. Very truly yours,

B. F. PARTRIDGE,
Fergus Falls, Dec. 24.

In the case of Nevada V. Rupert against Sheriff E. S. Bean, Judge Kerr denied the motion to render judgment for Rupert, notwithstanding the verdict, or to conform the pleadings to the facts proven, and also decided a new trial would be granted unless the plaintiff should consent in writing within twenty days to a reduction of the verdict of the jury to $1,000.

In the matter of the appeal of Edwin Cooley as administrator of the estate of Milton Cooley, deceased, Judge Kelly filed an order sustaining the action of Probate Judge Morrison in removing the administrator upon application of Kate F. Cooley.

The case of the Manitoba railroad gainst the Union depot will be heard for e Jud ge Otis on Jan. 4.

Will Fall on Each Other's Necks.

The special court house and city hall commiss on will hold a meeting this afternoon. Having completed the work for which it was created, this will be the final meeting, and will be in the nature of an exchange of compliments and taking a retrospective survey of the work accomplished in giving the citizens of St. Paul and Ramsey county a building suited to their needs and in keeping with the spirit of Northwestern progress. The last act of the commission will be recorded and its existence will pass into history with a feeling that much more has been accomplished than was deemed practicable when the work of erecting the joint court house and city hall was begun a few years since.

CHASED IN SWAMPS.

Georgia Militiamen Hot on the Trails of the Jessup Rioters.

Outlaw Brewer and His Followers Hemped by Armed Men.

Two of the Murderers Who Were Jailed Shot by Vigilantes.

No Further Trouble Expected Unless the Leaders Are Caught.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 26. — The trouble at Jessup yesterday begun at 10 a. m., when Chief Marshal Leggett and assistants attempted to arrest Bob Brewer, the notorious outlaw and fugitive. Brewer raised his gun to his shoulder, and deliberately shot down Assistant Marshal Barnhill, killing him instantly. The chief marshal then fired on Brewer, but missed him. Brewer returned the fire, and shot Leggett through both legs. Brewer and his crowd of ten or twelve men then fled to the McMillan swamp, a few yards away. The report of guns threw the town into a whirlwind of excitement, and the negroes were followed into the swamp by several citizens. Among them were William Wood, a carpenter, and his son, William Wood, who is on a visit from Ridgeland, S. C., to his father. The negroes dodged into the swamp, and when young Wood ran in behind them Brewer rose up and shot him through the head, killing him instantly. He then shot Wood's father in the face. Accomplishing this much, the negroes ran further into the swamp and escaped. The news of the death of young Wood and the serious shooting of his father

SPREAD LIKE WILDFIRE

over the town. Confusion reigned for a time and Jessup seemed to be in the hands of a violent mob. Mayor Hopps called a meeting and hasty arrangements were made to protect the town. Seventy-five armed men were gathered in a few minutes and followed Brewer and his party a distance into the swamp. McMillan bay covers over 400 acres, and Brewer is so familiar with its hiding places that the efforts of the posse to locate him in the swamp were regarded as in vain. The strength of the posse was increased by at least twenty-five armed men before an hour had elapsed, and a picket line was formed on the east side so as to prohibit anybody from coming out of the swamp to the town. Brewer is thoroughly familiar with the bay, having been skulking around and hiding there, fishing and hunting for a number of months. Brewer had threatened the life of assistant Marshal Barnhill since the officers killed one of Brewer's pals a few weeks ago, while attempting to arrest the colored man for gambling. Yesterday was Brewer's chance, and he took advantage of the opportunity when the assistant officer came unarmed to the side of Chief Marshal Leggett, who was making the arrest. Brewer seemed to forget for the moment that anybody was

and he shot Barnhill down as he would a dog. Marshal Leggett, who is badly wounded in both legs, was seen about the affair in his home last night. He said that when he went up to arrest Brewer he knew that he had a bad man to fool with. He wanted a force large enough to take the desperado. "When I got near him," the chief marshal said, "and he saw who I was, he left two of my posse, who were talking with him, and came toward me. I heard him say that is the rascal I want, and stepped behind Mr. Reddish. He kept coming and I threw my gun to my face and told him to stop. He looked at me sullenly and put the gun across his shoulder and started back. He thought that I would return to town and get assistance. When I met an old man named Redfish and several others, all of whom had guns, I turned round to see what they were going to do, and saw Redfish exchange a 38-caliber Winchester for a 32-caliber, and make threats and curse the whole people. I knew we were in for it, so I waited, and had not long to wait when I saw Brewer throw his gun to his shoulder and fire. I looked around and saw my assistant fall to the ground, and knew he was fatally wounded. I then returned the fire, shooting at Brewer. He turned the gun on me and wounded me at the first shot. I discharged both barrels of my gun and knew I was done, jumped down an embankment

AND RAN FOR LIFE.

Mr. Redfish stood, and Brewer approached, saying: 'D—n you, I have a great mind to kill you.' He struck him and took the gun from him." News reached the authorities that J. W. Ryan, a white man living there, was the instigator of the affray. A posse was sent to his home to arrest him, but Ryan had made his escape. The men are on the lookout for him. It is said that he put the bad idea into Brewer's head about the duty of the white people to the colored folks, and report says that he excited them by saying that the murder of the colored man killed by Barnhill should be avenged. Henry Anderson, one of the guards put over Ryan's house, was accidentally shot and killed last night by one of his own party. He came over to Capt. Gordon's headquarters for reinforcements, and was going back when a gun held by Townsend, one of his party, was discharged, blowing Anderson's brains out. Anderson was formerly the hotel proprietor here, but of late has been with the Central railroad of Macon. Last night a colored man was shot by a picket while coming from the McMillan swamp. He attempted to slip by the officer, when he was shot. The ball took effect in the right breast, but the wound is not fatal. It is believed that he was acting as a spy.

At about 3 o'clock this morning a party of unknown men attacked the jail at Jessup, driving away the guards. In a few minutes the doors were battered in and four men went inside and shot and killed Peter Johnson and Bill Hopps. The former was the man who had been wounded and

CAPTURED IN THE FIGHT.

The military were stationed about a half mile from the jail, but by the time a detachment arrived there everything was quiet, and all that there was to indicate what had happened were the bodies of the dead negroes. The commander of the military had suggested to the mayor that a detail of soldiers should be put on duty at the jail, but the latter said the sheriff and his deputies would protect the prisoners. The Georgia hussars, dismounted, the company ordered to the scene of the trouble by the governor, returned to this city this afternoon. The Brunswick company was retained on duty by the mayor. The returned soldiers reported the trouble over. Their presence was only required to quiet the excitement of the citizens of Jessup, who remained in their houses last night to protect their families, and their kitchens and outhouses were filled with colored people of the town who sought the protection of their white friends. Mayor Hobbs has called a public meeting to take steps to defend the town tonight. It is believed that Brewer is near here with a large force of negroes. The citizens are to aid the Brunswick rifles in case of an outbreak. A special train was run out to the brick yards, where Brewer is reported to have been seen, and a detachment of armed men sent out as scouts. Mayor Hobbs is in receipt of a telegram from Brunswick, saying that Ryan, the white man who is supposed to have instigated the trouble, is in that city, but the mayor will not take steps to have Ryan brought back. There is still great excitement throughout the country around Jessup, but affairs will doubtless quiet down in a few days. It is the region of turpentine distilleries and saw mills. Here thousands of negroes are employed, and the Jessup trouble is apt to disorganize labor for some time to come.

ALL QUIET IN JESSUP.

Everything is quiet there to-night, and a company of forty citizens has been organized to guard the town against invasion. The coronor held an inquest this afternoon and the jury returned a verdict charging the negroes Brewer and Rafford with the murder of Marshal Barnhill and young Woods. As to the killing of the negroes in jail, the jury returned a verdict of death by parties unknown.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 26.—The most reliable information is that ten persons have been killed at Jessup, namely: Barnhill and Woods, by Brewer; Anderson (white), accidentally; Johnson and Hoops, in jail; Fluett, on the street (colored), and two whites and two negroes whose names are not given.

JEALOUS WITHOUT CAUSE.

A Massachusetts Crank Kills His Wife and Attempts Suicide.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Dec. 26.—A most revolting crime was committed this morning at Ludlow, John Bassett, a mill hand employed by the Ludlow Manufacturing company, killing his wife and attempting suicide. Bassett was insanely jealous of his wife, and, so far as known, without reason, and had frequently threatened her life, though little attention was paid to his talk. He bought a revolver a few weeks ago with the avowed purpose of killing her, and set her Sunday bonnet up on a pole as a target, shooting it to pieces and closing his performance with the remark that he wished her head was in it. At 3 o'clock this morning he called to his eldest son Horace to come down stairs and sit with his mother who was sick, while he went for the doctor and then went out while the young man went down and sat in the kitchen. His parents slept in a room off the kitchen. He called his mother once or twice, but as she did not answer, he supposed she was sleeping and did not enter the room. Meanwhile Hassett had gone to Officer Trombly's house and surrendered himself, saying that he had killed his wife and evincing much satisfaction with his crime. He said he was suffering from wounds she had inflicted on him, but said he had "finished her up in good shape." On examination six wounds were found, two stabs near the heart, two in the left side, and two deep, jagged gashes over the stomach, from which he has little, if any, chance of recovery. Leaving him in a doctor's hands, the officer went to Bassett's house, where he found the son waiting for the doctor. Telling him of his father's confession and arrest, they entered the bedroom and found the woman, Sophie Bassett, lying in an easy posture, on her left side, the right side of her head crushed in and blood and brains oozing from nose, ears and mouth, with the violence of the blow. There was no sign of a struggle and everything showed that the blow must have been given while she was asleep. An axe was found in the cellar, stained with blood. There was no sign of blood from Bassett's wounds, and as his clothing was not cut, it is thought that he raised his clothing and inflicted them while on the street. The woman was a dressmaker, aged about forty-three, would weigh over 200 and was well spoken. Her husband was from St. Johns, P. Q., and was forty-three years old. He was not drunk when he committed the crime. They had six children, two sons and four daughters, all grown up.

Slugged and Robbed.

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Dec. 26.—Alexander Blackburn, formerly a private in Company I, Seventh United States infantry, now an inmate of the Soldiers' Home at this place, was found in an outhouse near the home to-day, with top of his head crushed in, as if by some blunt instrument. The attending physician says he cannot recover. Blackburn was probably enticed to the outhouse, knocked in the head and robbed.

Must Serve His Sentence.

BOSTON, Dec. 26.—A report was received to-day by the governor and council from the prison commissioners recommending that no action be taken in the matter of the pardon of James Dunlap, the Northampton bank robber, sentenced in 1877 to twenty years' imprisonment. The commissioners recommend, however, that favorable action be taken in the matter by the council of 1890.

Defended Her Home.

NORTHVILLE, Mich., Dec. 26.—Mrs. John Roach, wife of a cooper in this village, shot and killed John A. Taylor, a married man and a near neighbor of the Roach's. Taylor, accompanied by a man named Miller, both intoxicated, demanded admittance to the Roach home, which was denied them. They persisted, however, and Mrs. Roach jumped out of bed, seized a thirty-two-caliber revolver and fired with the above result.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 26.—Edward Gumbs Jr., the confidential bookkeeper and accountant for the Cincinnati, Washington & Baltimore and Ohio & Mississippi Railway companies, was arrested yesterday on the charge of embezzlement. Details of the tragedy are not at hand to-night.

Mescal Smugglers Run Down.

LAREDO, Tex., Dec. 26.—A running fight took place between Deputy United States Marshals Kilgore and Cuellon and five mescal smugglers near Mendito yesterday afternoon. Octaviano Chappa, one of the smugglers, was killed. The other four were lodged in jail at San Diego. None of the officers were hurt.

Pleaded Not Guilty As Usual.

BUFFALO, Dec. 26.—Three new indictments against Stephen F. Sherman were reported by the grand jury of the court of Oyer and Terminer to-day. They charge him with grand larceny in appropriating grain, the aggregate theft charged being about $29,000 worth of wheat. Mr. Sherman pleaded not guilty, and his bail of $25,000 previously given in other cases against him was permitted to stand in these.

Thieves Make a Rich Haul.

BUFFALO, Dec. 26.—Between 6 and 6:30 o'clock this evening, while the family of John Bush, a prominent citizen residing at No. 165 Sumner street, were at their evening meal, thieves climbed the outside porch of the house and entered the second-story window, opened the private apartments of Mrs. Bush and secured $3,000 worth of jewelry. The thieves are still at large.

DYING BY HUNDREDS.

Europeans Succumb to the Ravages of La Grippe.

PARIS, Dec. 26.—The epidemic has assumed a graver type and many cases are now complicated with pneumonia. In consequence of the constantly increasing crowd at the hospitals, the authorities are erecting tents for the sufferers. The undertakers are overworked and many of their employes are down. In consequence of the increase in the number of funerals the system of draping the churches with enormous hangings of black and the expensive parade of various emblems of woe has been dispensed with by authority. The official return of deaths for the week gives 200 more deaths than for the preceding week.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—The United States steamer Enterprise arrived at Gibralter. She had several cases of influenza on board and was quarantined. She did not wait to enter, therefore, but proceeded westward. It will be interesting to note whether quarantine protects Gibraltar from the epidemic.

BERLIN, Dec. 26.—The epidemic is decreasing here. It is spreading at Bremen, and the managers of the gas works have notified consumers that the supply will be short for a time in consequence of the sickness of many employes. At Darmstadt it is very severe, and at Vienna there are many cases in children, followed by measles. The Christmas festivities were made very dull, as few families celebrated the day. Reports from the Austrian provinces are that the malady prevails among the horses.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—The prevalence of influenza on the continent has seriously interrupted the usual Christmas festivities at the various capitals, and retail trade everywhere is suffering in consequence.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—The influenza epidemic continues to spread. At Frankfort there have been two deaths from the disease. Numerous cases are reported among English visitors at Engadine. In Madrid there are over 60,000 cases and many persons have died.

Creditors of the Republican League Sue for a Settlement.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—The examination of James P. Foster, ex-president of the Republican League of the United States, was continued to-day before a referee in the suit of Tallmadge & Martin against P. C. Lownsberry, as treasurer of the league, to recover the sum of $11,500 for stationery supplies and printing furnished during the presidential campaign of 1888. Mr. Foster was called on behalf of the plaintiffs to show that the league authorized the contract. The general drift of his testimony was to prove that such was the case. The plaintiffs offered in evidence a report of the auditing committee appointed by the executive committee at Baltimore, but the defendant objected on the ground that the committee was appointed for the sole purpose of passing upon the accounts of Mr. Foster. It was alleged by the defendant that the bill of the plaintiffs had been smuggled into this committee and passed upon without authority. The referee reserved decision upon admission of the report as evidence.

CHICAGO, Dec. 26.—The Wabash Manufacturing company made an assignment to-day for the benefit of its creditors. Its liabilities are estimated at about $200,000, and the assets at a little less than that. The failure grows out of the recent failure of the affiliated firms of J. Q. Preble & Co. and Sheffield & Co., who are in the same line of business in New York.

The Charleston in Commission.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—The United states cruiser Charleston went into commission to-day at the navy yard, Capt. C. C. Reney taking command. At 12 o'clock, noon, and the result, with the several bids, will be made public within three days thereafter.

These notes and accounts are divided into several lots, and bids can be made for any one or more lots, or the whole or all lots in bulk. Persons wishing to bid can apply (by letter) to the undersigned for circular showing who these accounts and claims are against, and into what lots they are divided for bidding.

All bids—as a guarantee of good faith—must be accompanied with a certified check upon some reputable bank, or draft, payable to the undersigned, for ten per cent of the amount of such bid, which will be returned to the bidder whose bid is rejected as soon as bids are awarded. The full amount of all bids awarded shall be paid to the assignee within two days after notice has been mailed to the successful bidder, and if the same is not so paid the ten per cent deposited with his bid is to be forfeited, and the next highest bidder shall be awarded the notes, claims or book accounts at their bid.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids, and to, in the meantime, receive payment of any note, claim or account which may be tendered. Any such payment will be deducted from the total amount of the lot in which it has been classed. No bid will be considered which is received after the time above fixed.
