Imprisoned for Hours Pending the Discovery of a Missing Girl.

English Capitalists Seek to Secure Control of Tacoma Sawmills.

North Dakota Saloonists Take a Test Case to the Supreme Court.

Special to the Globe.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 21.—Following closely upon the sensational Herfield-Brosden horsewhipping, another episode of the same sort occurred today, the wretched of the law in this case being Mrs. Mary McMillan, and the victim George Crowell. The latter is only about fifteen years old, and has been sparking the fifteen-year-old daughter of Mrs. McMillan for some time. On Friday the girl left home and after an anxious search by the mother, who was unable to find her daughter, she sent for Crowell. On his appearance at the McMillan residence he was invited into the parlor. The door was locked and Mrs. McMillan, a powerful woman, proceeded to seize Crowell a sound whipping. She then retired, leaving Crowell locked up and telling him he would not be released until her daughter returned home. Today the officers found the girl, who had been visiting a friend of the family, and feared her mother's wrath if she returned home. She was finally persuaded to return home, and Crowell was set at liberty. Crowell says the girl has been running after him continually, and he had nothing to do with her disappearance. The daughter is now under lock and key, where her mother says she proposes to keep her for some time.

THEY WILL BUY ANYTHING.

English Capitalists Dickering for Tacoma Milling Property.

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 21.—An agent of an English syndicate, with a capital of ten million pounds sterling, is here to invest in the great lumber manufacturing plants here and at other points on Puget sound. He first called on C. W. Griggs, formerly of St. Paul, now president of the St. Paul and Tacoma Lumber company, saying he was from London, England, and represented a syndicate of English capitalists. He expressed a desire to enter into negotiations for the purchase of the sawmill plant, but the syndicate declined to entertain any proposition. George E. Atkinson, superintendent of the Gig Harbor Lumber company, received a letter from the syndicate, offering to purchase the majority of stock and engage Atkinson to manage the business. The stockholders of the Gig Harbor company would not enter into any such proposition. The representative of the syndicate also called on the Pacific mill people, but with what result could not be learned. Surveyors are here, when questioned with reference to the proposed purchase of mills and stumps, to state that they have no interest in the subject. The agent of the syndicate went to Seattle tonight to purchase property there.

THIS WILL SETTLE IT.

North Dakota Saloonists Will Test Old Territorial Laws.

GRAND FORK, N. D., Jan. 21.—The Northwood saloonkeepers who were arrested yesterday, have decided to make a test case, and accordingly Frank Olquist, one of the number, appeared before Judge C. S. Day and pleaded guilty to the other charges. Olquist went to jail. The saloonkeepers of this city have raised several hundred dollars to employ a defense attorney. T. R. Bangs will take the case before the supreme court, which is now in session at Fargo, formerly of St. Paul, has been appointed to argue the habeas corpus. The court has agreed to take the matter up at once, and its decision will settle the question whether the sale of liquor is prohibited by the new prohibition law goes into effect. Many of our best lawyers do not agree with attorney Gen. H. H. Wood, who holds that the sale of liquor can be punished under the old territorial law, and the decision of the court in this case is looked forward to with great interest by both saloonists and prohibitionists.

BISHOP HARE PROTESTS.

The Proposed Prohibition Bill in South Dakota is Too Stringent.

PITTSBURGH, S. D., Jan. 21.—A petition of Bishop W. H. Hare, of Sioux Falls, head of the Episcopal church in Dakota, was presented to both branches of the legislature today and caused considerable excitement, especially among the females who are lobbying for prohibition. Bishop Hare emphatically protests against the adoption of the prohibition bill now before the legislature, which has every provision of the territorial law, stating that it is too stringent in its provisions, and stricter than any other law in the world. He says the bill interferes between the state and church, and he prohibits the use of wine for sacramental purposes. The bishop cites the Bible and other authorities to show that the use of fermented wine for sacramental purposes is right. He therefore, prays that the bill may not become a law, or at least that the obnoxious feature be stricken out. The petition bill is said to be the most stringent prohibition measure ever drawn up. The combined influence of the state prohibition league and W. C. T. U. is being exerted to procure its passage.

Hunter Badly Frozen.

WABASHA, Minn., Jan. 21.—Alfred Odel, of this city, was nearly frozen to death near a table in Wis., last week. With a number of other he camped near Cable for a winter's hunt. He came into Cable from camp for supplies and was attacked with in grippe. He rashly attempted to walk to camp alone, but became exhausted before reaching it and fell in the snow, where he was unconscious for twelve hours with the thermometer twenty degrees below zero. A trapper accidentally found him and brought him to a lumber camp, where he was restored to consciousness. Hands, feet and face were terribly frozen. He was brought home to this city on Monday, and it is thought that most of the frozen members may be saved.

SAVED BY SMALL THINGS.

The Lives of Two Mountaineers Spared as if by a Miracle.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 21.—The lives of two people in Helena were miraculously spared last night, one by her corset steel and the other by a suspender buckle. In each case a woman was concerned, and an attempt was made to hush both affairs. The first case was that of Blanche Abbott, who, learning that the man with whom she was in love was playing a trick to snare her else, started to look for him. Finding him she made an attack, when the man, James Atchison, pulled a pistol and fired, the ball striking the woman's corset steel and glancing off. Atchison made his escape and has not yet been arrested. The second case happened about 2 o'clock this morning, when a Gagnon, an employe of the motor line, was shot on his way home by James Gagnon. The latter was assassinating the pistol so close to Clark that the latter's clothes were burned by powder, but the bullet struck his suspender button and flattened. This attack was also occasioned by jealousy, the woman in question being Louise Shotwell, who had thrown Gagnon aside for Clark. Gagnon is in jail.

A SENSATIONAL SQUAT.

Badgers File Pre-emption Claims on Land Worth $100,000.

ASH LAND, Wis., Jan. 21.—This morning a sensational filing occurred in the land office. It was for sec. 35 and half of sec. 3, which adjoins the city limits, and is worth $100,000. There are six quarters and on these six prominent young men of the city made an attempt to have their names already at work building their claim shacks. They are Maj. H. H. Beaser, A. R. O'Connell, A. L. Osburn, Peter Lamont, Frank Sinar and Luther Dorfee. They announce their intention of living close in their shacks for six months and then to have the land sold. The land is owned by John H. Knight, and the pine has all been cut from it. It was decided to him by the Wisconsin Central railway, which claimed that the land is in conflicting grants of the Omaha in 1856 and the Wisconsin in 1861. Many property owners were present, and various plans for defeating the squatters were proposed. The meeting was spirited, and some warm remarks were indulged in. The property claimed by Prentice is in the heart of the residential part of the city, and is worth hundreds of thousands of dollars. A number of leading citizens have settled lately without suit.

Farmers Institute at Waseca.

WASECA, Minn., Jan. 21.—A farmers institute was held at the management of Supt. Greig, opened in this city today, and will continue through tomorrow. The attendance today was good, notwithstanding the extreme cold weather. This is the second meeting of the institute to this vicinity, brings new workers and new topics, and awakens interest in the minds of the farmers. The experience, entertained a large audience today. John Gould, of Aurora, Minn., spoke on the growing of fodder, etc. His talk was interesting throughout. Experts on horses and other stock are present and will speak.

Bishop Hare Objects to the Opening of the Sioux Reservation.

Promises Made by the Sioux Commission Should First Be Fulfilled.

Speaker Reed's Head Swells and He Develops into an Autocrat.

President Harrison Gives a State Dinner to the Diplomatic Corps.

Special to the Globe.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Bishop Hare, of North Dakota, has addressed a letter to Herbert Welsh, chairman of the Indian Rights association at Philadelphia, protesting against the issue of a proclamation opening the Sioux reservation and asking Welsh to see the president and remonstrate. Senator Pettigrew received a copy of the letter today. Bishop Hare says that congress should pass a bill confirming the statement made by the Sioux commissioners before the proclamation is issued, alleging as a reason that the Indians understood that they signed the treaty on condition that the promises made by the commissioners would be ratified. He, himself, shares this view and says it would be a gross injustice to open the reservation before such a bill is passed, in case it did not pass, the Indians would be disappointed. Senator Pettigrew says Bishop Hare is in error. The Indian chiefs who were down here certainly did not regard the fulfillment of the promises as a condition of their signing the treaty. Their speeches to the committee show that they evinced no distrust of the commissioners' responsibility, but that they would use the reservation to give the Indians an agricultural community, and said that there was a general conviction to take them to Pendleton, and to give them the responsibility of the reservation. In case this is not done, the Indians will be disappointed. The speaker declared the motion lost. Mr. Blair therefore demanded tellers, and according to the Record this morning, the speaker declared the motion lost. REED IS AN AUTOCRAT.

The Speaker of the House Patrons After the Car.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The house spent a greater part of the day debating a decision of the speaker, which was finally sustained. Yesterday Mr. Blair, of Missouri, moved that the speaker be declared an autocrat. Many property owners were present, and various plans for defeating the squatters were proposed. The meeting was spirited, and some warm remarks were indulged in. The property claimed by Prentice is in the heart of the residential part of the city, and is worth hundreds of thousands of dollars. A number of leading citizens have settled lately without suit.

COULD CORRECT A DECISION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Patents issued to the Northwestern Eastown and Legacy association held here today, the following officers were elected: President, H. B. Wilson; vice president, John Nelson; secretary, A. Meacham; treasurer, L. A. Hancock; attorney, W. H. H. Medical Examiner, B. Jahnig, M. D.

Simmons May Go Free.

During the sessions of the house, Senate resolution was passed, authorizing the marshal of the United States supreme court to loan to the New York State Bar Association a number of copies of the report for exhibition at the judicial festival at New York, Feb. 4. A number of bills and resolutions were introduced and referred. The house then resumed in committee of the whole the Oklahoma town site bill, but no progress was made in the calendar committee rose, and the house adjourned.

BEN BANQUETS THE DIP.

A Swell State Dinner at the White House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The president and Mrs. Harrison gave a state dinner to-night to the diplomatic corps. Covers were laid for forty-seven persons. Besides the president and Mrs. Harrison, all the ministers and charge d'affaires from the United States were present, making up the diplomatic corps, some of them accompanied by their wives; Assistant Secretary Wharton, representing the United States, and the wives of R. Hitt, Gen. L. T. Mienner, of Indiana, and Mrs. Allen were present. The dinner was a beautiful affair, and the tables were profusely and beautifully decorated with potted plants and flowers, as usual on such occasions, while the music was furnished by the orchestra. The occasion was concluded with appropriate strains of music.

NO DEMOCRAT NEED APPLY.

Hide-Bound Republicans Will Collect Census Statistics.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The senate devoted the greater part of a brief session today to the census bill. The bill was introduced by Mr. Berry, of Missouri, and was referred to the committee on the census. The bill is a measure to give the Indians an agricultural community, and said that there was a general conviction to take them to Pendleton, and to give them the responsibility of the reservation. In case this is not done, the Indians will be disappointed. The speaker declared the motion lost. Mr. Blair therefore demanded tellers, and according to the Record this morning, the speaker declared the motion lost. WERE TO BE REPUBLICANS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The house committee on Indian affairs met today and authorized its chairman to frame and report a bill embodying the recommendations of the secretary of the interior made in his letter to the house on Jan. 13. This letter recommending the appropriation of $100,000 for the immediate relief of the Chipewya Indians of Lake Superior, located at the La Pointe agency in Wisconsin.

RAISING THE SNOW BLOCKADE

Thousands of Shovelers at Work in the Sierras Digging Out.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—The prospects are that the great snow blockade on the Central Pacific will be cleared to-night or to-morrow to the delight of the snow-bound passengers. Clear weather is reported at all stations from Rocklin to Truckee, save at Colfax and Cisco, where the weather is still cloudy. At each of these places one inch of snow fell last night. There is now a foot of snow on the ground at Colfax, while at Cisco the country is covered to a depth of over fifteen feet on the level and in the drifts the snow is five or four times as deep. Last evening the four Central Pacific was enabled to open the road in the Sierras to the north of the divide. The rotary plow was pushed by eleven engines, and the snow was thrown into the ditch on either side of the track. One hundred and fifty snow shovelers, who were engaged in digging a trench, were surprised when the rotary plow was pushed by the snow from the plow. They were badly scared, but the only injury sustained was a broken eye. Five engines and plows were taken out of Truckee, and the way is clear to Tunnel 13, with the exception of a few minor drifts on the Blue Canyon side. The passengers in Blue Canyon and Cascade, where the rotary is again at work, and it is said by the railroad officials that the road will be open, possibly to-night. The rotary is a plow with sufficient power to back it will plow to Reno.

HEAVY SLIDES AND DRIFTS are reported between Truckee and Boca. A rotary plow is clearing the road. Blue Canyon, and during the night it is expected to clear the track to the west of the divide. A passenger named P. A. Lanford died of pneumonia, superinduced by an attack of a gripple, and was buried yesterday. The men on snow shoes at Truckee yesterday, it being impossible to break the road to the west of the divide. A snow shoveler, was killed at Colfax yesterday by being struck by a car. Most of the passengers in Blue Canyon are well provided for. There are a few second-class passengers who had only enough money to buy tickets and did not figure on the blockade. Neither had they prepared for the cold weather that comes when the storm ceases. The Eastern passengers on the imprisoned trains are the following: E. J. Dalber, Pootella, Ill.; J. C. Franer and family, William Navit, Bozeman, Mont.; Miss Hannah De, Ogden; H. Shaw and family, McKeesport, Pa.; C. E. Waugh, Denver; Oliver D. R. Jor, Rochester; E. P. Roberts, Maple Park, Ill.; W. H. C. Hatte, Hay City; James Doyle, Omaha; C. E. Weir, Chicago; S. Bernstein, New York; Miss J. S. Brendall, Galena, Ill.; J. D. Mason, Denver; F. D. Bose, Kansas; Miss Bader, New Hampshire; H. C. Coleman, Morrissett, Pa. At Dutch Flat on the western slope of the Sierras there are seven feet of snow on the level, or two feet more than ever before recorded. The wagon roads and ditches are blocked. Many houses have been

Thousands of Men Trying to Raise the Blockade in the Sierras.

Special to the Globe.

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 21.—One of the passengers who arrived on the Northern Pacific train from Portland this morning was Chester A. Condon, of St. Paul. He was snowed in on the Union Pacific for a week. He says the arrival at Baker City Sunday morning, and the train was run by to North Powder, where it was blocked by snow, and was subsequently run back to Baker City, twenty miles, where it still is, for a week. That night the fast train came in from the East and stopped, and they kept coming at the rate of two trains a day as long as he was in Baker City, until five hundred passengers had accumulated there when he left Thursday night. Mr. Condon had important legal business to attend to here and was anxious to get through. So on Thursday, after a wait of five days, he prepared to go back, but found he could not get back. He hired a four-horse team and four men to take him to Pendleton, where he arrived at La Grande, fifty miles from Baker City. Once or twice they had to hitch the horses and drag the sleds over the sides of the mountains, as the cuts were filled up; but they arrived at La Grande Saturday afternoon. Here they were told that mortal man could not cross the mountains to Pendleton, but Mr. Condon was determined to do it. He tried to hire a man to take him to Pendleton, but he could not find one, and he finally hired a man to work by the day. That night an engine went over and the appointment of supervisors, preference would be given to Republicans. The engineers, of course, would be in political sympathy with them. Who, then, could blame him if he asked that congress should make mandatory upon the railroad companies to give the Indians in agricultural communities, and said that there was a general conviction to take them to Pendleton, and to give them the responsibility of the reservation. In case this is not done, the Indians will be disappointed. The speaker declared the motion lost. Mr. Blair therefore demanded tellers, and according to the Record this morning, the speaker declared the motion lost.

Disastrous Collision on the Belt Line at Omaha.

OMAHA, Jan. 21.—There was a collision of a suburban train on the Belt line division of the Missouri Pacific about 8 o'clock this morning within the city limits. William Boye, a local Democrat politician, was killed, and J. Schwickler, deputy county treasurer, was injured internally. J. A. Harvey came to death at La Grande, and was badly crushed, and probably fatally injured. S. Frazer and Frank Church had a broken leg, and were seriously injured. The conductor, William Mitchell, had an arm broken and was badly crushed.

SIX BIG BLOCKS BURNED.

OTTAWA, Ill., Jan. 21.—The little town of Utica, numbering 2,000 people, which was usually wintered out by fire last summer, was again visited by a terrible burst of flames this morning. The fire started at 2 o'clock, and burned with great fury for several hours. The flames went out in Conklin's barber shop at a few miles before the fire broke down, and the fire became general, everybody hammering right and left, regardless of who he struck. The fire ended the general all-around fire, while the pugilists were rushed into the cars and locked up.
