The Challenging of a Voter at Butte Results in a Row.

Politicians of Both Parties Flourish Weapons Under Each Others' Noses.

Serious Trouble, if Not Bloodshed, Expected at Monday's Election.

Susan B. Anthony Talks Back at Traders in South Dakota.

Special to the Globe.
BUTTE, Mont., April 12.—Today was the last day of registration for Monday's municipal election, and the matter was attended with great excitement on the part of both Republicans and Democrats. It is considered by each side that the election will be regarded outside the state as a sort of vindication of its constitution, and both sides bent every energy to get all the voters possible registered. There were charges to-day on each side of bringing voters from outlying towns and registering them in Butte. About 3 o'clock this afternoon a Democrat named Ed Nevins tried to register, but was challenged for the Republicans by W. W. Deeney. Immediately Nevins resented the challenge, claiming that he had lived in this city several years. Words passed and the men grappled. Miles Finlan, sergeant-at-arms of the local Democratic house of representatives, jumped over the railing and a half-dozen revolvers were drawn, including one by Deeney. Finlan was making good, and Deeney, and just drawing his revolver when ex-Chief of Police Lou P. Smith, also a Democrat, grabbed Finlan round behind and held him. Finlan's revolver was discharged in the melee, he snatched Smith's right arm, and Deeney and Deeney were arrested and placed under $1,000 bonds. There is much excitement to-night, and apprehension of trouble Monday. A long line of men were unregistered when the registers books were closed.

SUSAN B. IS SAUCY.

She Refuses to Keep Her Hands Off of South Dakota.

Special to the Globe.
BERKELEY, S. D., April 12.—Susan B. Anthony evidently regards South Dakota as the permanent battleground of the woman's rights movement, and refuses to keep her hands off. In a letter published in the Saturday Pioneer to-night she says: "I have seen Mrs. Bones' and Mrs. Gaffar's items about Susan B. Anthony's visit to South Dakota suffrage affairs. Aren't they too amusing? And the financial statements; what a record! They were all answered by the entire woman suffrage united associations voting Susan B. Anthony vice president at large unanimously, and Chairman of the South Dakota committee, with power to appoint her associates. Miss Alice Stone Blackwell and Clara B. Colby, to receive and disburse the $3,000 subscribed at the convention and all other moneys sent to the national association treasurer for the year, and the campaign? Well, never mind. It isn't the man, mess, rye, rotten apples that the boys play is it?"

Mr. Holmes received $20,000 in cash, and receives from the Grassy Point Land company $100,000 in cash. He is to move his Ferguson Falls establishment, which employs about sixty hands, to West Duluth, where he is to erect a mill which will employ about the same force as at Ferguson Falls. GOOD WEATHER FOR CROPS.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The weather crop bulletin for the week ending today says: The weather during the past week has been the most favorable of the season for growing crops and general farm work throughout the central valley and Northwest, the conditions extending southward to the west and Gulf states, and seeding is progressing rapidly as far north as Minnesota and Dakota, where the dry weather in Kansas has not unfavorably affected crops in that state, where corn planting is in progress, and wheat and grass are being planted rapidly. Corn prospects have improved in the South, where the planting of cotton and corn is in progress. While crops were generally in Louisiana, Mississippi and Missouri, and in the Mississippi valley, the light frosts which occurred in the South Atlantic states on the 11th, slightly injured early vegetables, but caused no damage to staple crops. In the middle Atlantic states the weather was generally unfavorable, farm work being much retarded by continued rain and wet grounds. In Virginia, however, the weather was favorable for wheat and grass and the seeding of oats. Reports from New England show that planting and seeding are well advanced, and that the condition of the ground, and to a considerable extent, the condition of the soil, is such as to have caused no material damage.

FOUR MILLIONS AT STAKE.

Evidence Closed in the Celebrated Blythe Will Case.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—Yesterday's evidence was closed in the celebrated Blythe will case. The contest was begun for a $1,000,000 estate on the 15th of last July, and yesterday was the 17th day of actual trial. The strongest case has been made by Florence Blythe, Blythe's young girl, whose mother was seduced by old Blythe on one of his visits to England. He acknowledged his relationship to her, and corresponded with her, but did not adopt her according to California law. The other chief claimant is Alva Edith Dickson who claims to have been married to Blythe, but who only proved that she was his mistress. One of the best pieces of evidence in the case was given by Mrs. Blythe, who traced their descent from Betty Salvage, who married Blythe's grandfather, and traced the descent of the claimants to her. She will give a chance for argument, which will consume fully a month or more.

DUBLIN, April 12.—Owing to the late arrival of Messrs. O'Brien and Davitt and the English visitor the ceremonies attending the opening of the town of New Tipperary were delayed until the afternoon. Deputations from all parts of Ireland attended, but owing to some neglect in notifying the people of the attendance of peasants from the outlying districts was smaller than had been expected. Messrs. Pleton, Stewart, Brunner, Leake and Schwann, members of parliament, Lady Sandhurst, Countess of the Marquis Orme and Bryant, Messrs. Davitt, the Hon. Mr. and Mrs. Ponsbury and others arrived with Mr. O'Brien and other Irish members of parliament. A procession was formed with the visiting mayors and the members of municipal councils in uniform at the head. Accompanied by bands of music with flags and banners flying, the paraders marched from Limerick Junction to New Tipperary. The scene was one of great enthusiasm. Houses were gayly decorated with flags and evergreens, and pictures of Gladstone, Parnell, O'Brien, Davitt, Emmett and other patriots were displayed. Upon arriving at a platform which had been erected opposite the mart the procession halted. A meeting was purely organized with Canon Cahill in the chair. Upon taking the chair Canon Cahill presented addresses to the English visitors, and the members of the tenants' defense committee. Mr. Pleton and Lady Sandhurst returned thanks and complimented the

MESSAGES TO STANLEY.

People of the New Town upon the spirit shown by them. After a few words by the lord mayor of Dublin Mr. Davitt was introduced. He was greeted with loud cheers. He said that the first care of the evicted tenants had been to provide for their poorer brethren. That fact would redound to the honor of the Irish nation and to the advantage of the national cause. Mr. Davitt then read the welcome to the English visitors, who were warmly greeted by the English visitors. Mr. O'Brien, who was the next speaker, received an ovation. He said that the English visitors had never witnessed outside of Ireland. It was the greatest demonstration he had ever witnessed outside of Ireland. In eloquent terms he described the situation of the evicted tenants, which has roused the whole Irish race. When the national fight was ended it would be their proudest thought that they had witnessed the Tipperary had risked their homes and property, their liberties and lives for justice and the rights of the evicted tenants. An announcement was taken for luncheon. A grand banquet was given this evening, at which 600 guests were present. Canon Cahill presided. The banquet was held in the new William O'Brien arcade, which was greatly decorated. Letters of apology for their absence were read from numerous English Liberals. Mr. Schwann, member of parliament, President of New Tipperary. On Mr. O'Brien rising to respond to the sentiment, the company sang "He's Jolly Well Along." Mr. O'Brien said he had lived a thousand years he would never be able to repay the kindness he had received. He said that he was unable to express the thoughts that swelled from his heart. He could not express his overwhelming gratitude to the Tipperary. An announcement that Englishmen were coming sent a shiver through the crowd. The Rev. W. F. Pog performed the ceremony, and when he had finished the bride burst into tears and cried: "I have married the wrong man." On being asked who he indicated the young man who had acted as best man. It has been learned that both the groom and his best man were suitors for her hand, and although she did not like Moore as well as the other, in a fit of pique she accepted him, and then did not dare to back out. When the irrevocable words were pronounced that bound her for life, however, her emotions overpowered her, and she was unable to restrain the tearful words which rushed to her lips. The affair has created great excitement among the friends of the contracting parties. They are now in Washington, presumably trying to forget it.

A Detroit Speculator Caught by the Ruin in Wheat.
DETROIT, Mich., April 12.—When wheat began advancing so suddenly on Friday some failures were naturally looked for in the local market, and all eyes were turned towards Charles V. Bryan, who was known to be short of wheat, but to what extent is mere guess work. Mr. Bryan saw at once that an attempt on his part to buy in the wheat would not protect their deals. This was taken to mean a failure by some, and rumors that Bryan had gone under were scattered abroad, but assurances have been given that every obligation will be met, and the firm will continue in business as usual. One report says Bryan is short from 2,000,000 to 4,000,000 bushels, but that amount is considered to be far in excess of the actual deficiency. Mr. Bryan has been operating at New York, Chicago and Toledo, and is understood to be short in all the markets.
