Carver are reappointed to the library board for terms of three years each, dating from April 30, 1890. The mission of each gentleman named was made out and presented yesterday. The appointments to the board of education will be made, probably, in a few days, although the mayor is proceeding very carefully in the selection of material for vacancies in that body.

A RACY CASE.

Some Interesting Testimony Relative to Police Appointments.

The record was broken in Judge Kerr's court yesterday in the case of The Second National Bank against Howe Bros. when twenty-seven witnesses were called. The questions that these witnesses addressed themselves to were: 1. What can you say as to the character of Officer Hanev as to truth and veracity? 2. Would you believe him under oath? 3. Would you believe him under oath? 4. Would you believe him under oath?

W. Lawler, J. J. McCafferty and others testified that Hanev's character was bad and that they would not believe him under oath. The defense called in rebuttal James Cleary, John Foss, J. M. Bohner, J. H. Hulsick, James Spooner and Frank and Charles Wilson. The testimony of these witnesses was negative in its character. The weight of their testimony only went as far as the statement that they had never heard anything either good or bad of Hanev's character of course they would believe him under oath. An incident occurred during the trial a little out of the common, when Mr. Warner, attorney for the defendants, insisted that the name of C. D. O'Brien be put in the indictment, and the latter, blushing like a wild rose, meandered to the stand, when the following colloquy ensued:

Mr. Warner—Mr. O'Brien, did you, while acting mayor of this city, appoint Mr. Hanev to the police force?

Mr. O'Brien—No, sir, I did not.

Mr. Warner—Did you not, in company with Chief Clark, go to the residence of Mr. Hanev and request him to name a member of the force?

Mr. O'Brien—No, sir, emphatically. I appointed him to the force, and I never knew the man.

Mr. Warner—That will do, Mr. O'Brien. I would like to say, in cross-examination, that you were the first instance I have ever known or heard of where the mayor of the city was obliged to go about from house to house seeking candidates for the police force.

The argument of Mr. O'Brien, in closing for the plaintiff, was a masterpiece of logic. He numerically scored Howe Bros., Officer Hanev and Attorney Warner, stigmatizing the suit, so far as the defendants were concerned, as an impious plot, which, if it succeeded, would blacken the character of two of St. Paul's best and worthiest citizens.
