John Peterson's Attempt at Elopement Frustrated By the Police.

A Serious Explosion at South St. Paul Attended by Fatal Results.

One Fatal Accident, One Suicide and Minor Happenings in St. Paul.

Touching Resolutions on the Loss to the Schurmeier Family.

John Peterson went to Minneapolis Friday night, evidently intending to desert his wife and family and elope with another woman.

Globe reporter called on Mrs. Peterson at her new loveless home at 472 East Sixth street.

Indicated poverty, though the place was clean and well kept.

Schurmeier and G. J. Miller, who were members of the church. The first resolution extends sympathy with J. H. Schurmeier, a steward of the church, "having been bereft of his only wife, Caroline, with whom he lived forty-one years, and who to him was a helpmate and companion of a high order, and of a noble character. The great loss sustained by the death of his son Charles is mentioned. Mr. Schurmeier, having some of his fondest hopes blasted, inasmuch as he hoped to realize in his son not only a stay in old age, but a competent manager of his extended business. The death is referred to and gratitude expressed for the preservation of the life of J. H. Schurmeier during the terrible cyclone, and that we invoke kind providence to grant him many years of usefulness and happiness in the church and among his fellow members. The death resolution is in memory of Mrs. Schurmeier, and the third one in memory of George Schurmeier, who was a member of the church as laborer so faithfully in the church as officer in the Sunday school and as one of the stewards. Sympathy is extended to his beloved wife and sorrowing parents, brothers and sisters. The resolutions are signed in behalf of the board and congregation by the pastor, E. J. Funk.

At about 3:30 yesterday afternoon a sixteen-year-old boy named Frank Zevan attempted to board a moving car on the Milwaukee road at the foot of Jackson street. He slipped and fell, and one of the wheels passed over his foot. He was taken to the city hospital at once in the patrol wagon from the central station. Dr. Acker accompanied him, and the ankle joint was set immediately. At last accounts he was getting along very nicely. He is the son of Valentin Zevan, who works for Spaniol at the Seven corners. He lives on the upper flats.

A force of workmen yesterday evening and last night took out the brick building between the two transcribing rooms of the Register of deeds office. A frame and glass one will be put in place of the old one.

Insurance Commissioner Bailey yesterday certified the American Employers' Liability Insurance Company of Jersey City, N. J., to do business in this state. The company has capital cash amounting to $150,000, and does an accident business.

William O'Neill, one of the Morris street gang captured by Officer Conroy last Thursday, was given ninety days in the workhouse yesterday for larceny. Frank McCarthy and John Harris, of the same gang, were given thirty days each for vagrancy.

The funeral of Louis Julien will occur on Sunday afternoon, the 26th inst., at 2 p. m., from St. Louis church. The members of the Society Union Francaise, of which he was a member, will meet at their hall, 125 North school, at 2 p. m. of that day, to take action in regard to said funeral.

Christina Haveroid has commenced an action for divorce from L. A. Haveroid. They were married at Decatur, Ill., in 1880. The grounds for divorce are stated to be desertion for three years and cruel treatment. The wife asks leave to resume her maiden name—Christina Tanning.

For the past few days C. W. Little, a clerk in the Northern Pacific office, has shown signs of slight insanity. Yesterday it was thought best by his friends that he be confined, and accordingly, he was placed in charge of Sheriff Bean. His parents reside in New York. They were telegraphed for at once. The case is not considered a serious one.

A careful, observing business man said yesterday, "The wide edge is being worn out of business, and it is beginning to cut its way smoothly. There seems to be employment for all workmen in St. Paul. The prospect for crops in the Northwest is good. Improvements in the way of building in St. Paul are extensive. On the whole St. Paul is in a prosperous condition. It is true the stock market is not in fact, but times are better than they have been for two years or more."

There is an anxiety among St. Paul Democrats to have the state convention called at once, and to be up and at the Republican desk. The feeling among thinking Democrats is that the chances for a state victory are as sure as anything in politics can be, and they believe that with a good state ticket the democrats can win hands down.

"These are not money-making or money saving times for working people," said a St. Paul real estate man yesterday. "It is true there has been activity in real estate deals in St. Paul, and there are a great many buildings going up. But the purchases of real estate are being almost exclusively confined to men of means. The buildings are being erected by men who have made money in past years. There are very few cheap houses being erected. The limited means for homes. The buildings going up are for tenements, stores, offices, or expensive dwellings. There is no real activity in the real estate market."

OH! WHERE ARE THEY?

Every Republican Platform for Protection Save One.

And It Is a Dodge, Concealed in Fear and Iniquity.

How the Rice County Men Marched to Glencoe and Back.

A party of many platforms. For conclusive proof that the Republican party of Minnesota is utterly at sea on the tariff question, there is no need of going further than the state and congressional platforms thus far adopted by the party.

Whether or not later, will be able to "coach" the speakers that they will be able to make protectionist speeches in the second and third districts, and free trade speeches in the fifth, fair traces helped the state committee. Whether or not later, will be able to "coach" the speakers that they will be able to make protectionist speeches in the second and third districts, and free trade speeches in the fifth, fair traces helped the state committee.

But how will this mode of procedure please Messrs. Dunnell, Lind, Hall, Snider and Comstock, who walked right up to the rack and voted for the infamous, outrageous and indefensible McKinley bill? Will these congressmen take kindly to the programme of the new state platform in the coming contest? They realize that their fight must be made on national issues, and two of them have already been placed in the "hot" protection. Are they to be left to paddle their own canoes? Congressmen Hall and Snider, who voted for the McKinley bill, and they came home and secured an endorsement from their constituents. Of course the posture of protectionists. Of course the posture of protectionists.

Clarkson Gives World's Fair Boomers a Straight Tip. CHICAGO, July 26.—If the site be divided I predict that the world's fair will be a failure. James S. Clarkson, first assistant postmaster general, delivered this prophecy at the Auditorium hotel to-day, in summing up the result of his observations made during his just-completed three months' trip to Europe. Clarkson said that he was "And," he continued after a moment's pause to permit the weight of his remarks to be absorbed, "I say as an American citizen, I am not going to go to Chicago—a position to which I do not think anybody acquainted with me will dispute my claim. I am not going to go to Chicago. I am not going to go to Chicago. I am not going to go to Chicago."

measures should be taken to prevent such an idea gaining strength. Mr. Clarkson continued, "And though I am not acquainted with the arguments that have been made in favor of division, I cannot, in view of what I have heard, believe it will do anything but work to the disadvantage of the fair. It will increase, too, as the proposition has already stated, the idea that draw interest in the value of town lots, an actuated principle instead of sole desire to work for the general prosperity of the fair.
